The payment from PNS represents balance of license fees and follows the deployment of an additional 500 3DICOM MD® licences, fulfilling contractual rollout obligations and further expanding the scale and reach across the PNS network.

PNS is a U.S.-based healthcare services organisation that manages care for approximately 4.2 million covered lives across its provider network, with a focus on delivering cost efficiencies and improved patient outcomes.

Singular Health's Managing Director and CEO Denning Chong said:

"The receipt of this payment and the deployment of the next tranche of licences represents confirmation by PNS of the value of the 3DICOM MD® platform and are important milestones in scaling our commercial reach thought PNS and its network and beyond.

We are encouraged by the ongoing performance of the platform, which is demonstrating its ability to deliver tangible cost savings and workflow efficiencies in a real-world healthcare environment.

We look forward to continuing to work closely with PNS as we progress discussions around renewal and expansion opportunities with PNS and its network."

Dr Jose Pelayo, CEO of Provider Network Solutions said:

"We view a savings rate of 3%–5% of the US$35 per member per month duplicate imaging costs as material savings, and we are currently exceeding all our expectations. This validates our belief in the strong future for the 3DICOM™ platform and its delivery of material reductions in duplicate imaging costs and enhanced efficiencies and interoperability across our network.

Based on the results we are seeing, the 3DICOM™ platform is well positioned to attract broader interest from more U.S. healthcare plans as outcomes from our usage are utilized. PNS remains committed in its strong belief in the future financial and commercial scaleablity of the 3DICOM MD® platform."
