LEAD MANAGER ARRANGEMENTS (Refer to Section 5.5)

CPS will receive the following fees for its Lead Manager and offer management services:

The material terms & conditions of the Lead Manager Arrangement are set out in Section 5.5 of this Prospectus.

RISK FACTORS (Refer to sections 1.13 and 2)

Stonehenge Metals Limited

Refer to sections 1.12 and 2 for details of the risks associated with an investment in the Company. As with any securities investment, there are risks associated with investing in the Company. Investors should be aware that an investment in the Company involves risks that may be greater than risks associated with an investment in some other companies. The principal risks that could affect the financial and market performance of the Company are detailed in Section 2 of this Prospectus. The Securities on offer under this Prospectus should be considered speculative. Accordingly, before deciding to invest in the Company, investors should read this Prospectus in its entirety and should consider all factors in light of their individual circumstances and seek appropriate professional advice.

The Board aims to manage these risks by carefully planning its activities and implementing risk control measures. Some of the risks are, however, highly unpredictable and the extent to which they can be effectively managed is limited.

The following table sets out a summary of transaction specific risks that the Company is exposed to and other key risks associated with the acquisition of PEA. This list of risks is not exhaustive. Risks of investing in the Company's existing assets and general risks are set out in Sections 1.12 and 2 of this Prospectus.

Risk area	Risks
Capital Raising and Transaction Settlement	If the Company does not raise at least $1,200,000 under the Offer then it will not be able to satisfy a condition of settlement under the Term Sheet. Whilst, in the event this occurs, the Company will make every effort to proceed with the Term Sheet, this may result in the failure of the transaction. Failure of the transaction may impact the success of the Company. If the transaction fails then the Company will use any proceeds from the Offer to continue to fund the development of its South Korean projects and it will continue to evaluate further new investment opportunities.
Re-compliance with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules	The ASX has informed the Company that the exercise of the option to acquire PEA under the Term Sheet will constitute a change to the nature of the Company's activities. Pursuant to ASX Listing Rule 11.1.3, the ASX would therefore require the Company to re-comply with the admission requirements of Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules, as if applying for admission to the Official List. Accordingly, if the Company does exercise the Option to acquire PEA then the Company expects that a Shareholder meeting will be convened to gain Shareholder approval to perform all of the necessary actions in order for a prospectus to be issued for the purpose of satisfying Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules. In this event, there is no guarantee that Shareholders will approve the required actions or that the Company will successfully re-comply with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules.
Commercialisation, technology, third party service provider reliance, competition	During the Option Period the Company will rely on third parties including Moore Commerce Pty Ltd, to successfully deliver the Protean Pilot Project. Furthermore, if the Company exercises its option under the Term Sheet, the Company's success will depend, in part, on its ability to commercialise the Protean Technology. Failure to either deliver the Protean Pilot Project or commercialise the Protean WEC Technology may impact the success of the Company.
Protean (PEL) insolvency or administration	Protean has agreed to allow the Company to register a security interest over the Protean WEC Technology to protect the Company's interest under the Term Sheet. The Company intends to register this security interest in the coming weeks. However, in the event that Protean becomes insolvent or enters administration during the Option Period, the Company may not be able to enforce its rights to acquire PEA under the Term Sheet.
Limited Operating History	If the Company exercises its option under the Term Sheet, PEA has limited relevant operating history and the unproven potential of its technology and any proposed business model makes any evaluation of the business or its prospects difficult.
Reliance on Key Management	The Company will be heavily reliant upon the technical abilities of the inventor of the Protean Technology, Mr Sean Moore. Mr Moore will be (subject to completion under the Term Sheet) engaged by the Company as a consultant to develop the Protean

Risk area	Risks
	Technology and also as the Company's Chief Technology Officer (WEC). The departure of Mr Moore in the short term would be likely to have an adverse effect on the Company's performance and its ability to achieve its objectives. In order to mitigate this risk, the Company has agreed to provide Mr Moore with significant incentives (for example the issue of Performance Rights which will only convert into Shares once the Company achieves certain Milestones. For more information please refer to section 5.5.3 of this Prospectus) to remain with the Company and has also executed a Consultancy Agreement with Mr Moore's company Moore Commerce Pty Ltd. Please refer to section 5.5.2 for the material terms of the service agreement between the Company and Moore Commerce Pty Ltd. Furthermore, there can be no assurance given that there will be no detrimental impact on the Company if one or more of its senior management and its key personnel cease their employment.
Market Risk	There is a risk that even after the Protean Technology has been successfully developed that it is not taken up by customers to the degree the Company anticipates.
Development and Commercialisation of Technologies	There are many risks inherent in the development of technology products like the Protean Technology, particularly as these products are in the early stages of development. The development of the Protean Technology can be delayed or fail to demonstrate any benefit, or research may cease to be viable for a range of scientific and commercial reasons. The Company can make no representation that any of its research into or development of the full scale prototype will be successful, that the development milestones will be achieved, or that the Protean Technology will be developed into products that are commercially exploitable. A failure to successfully develop and commercialise its Protean Technology is likely to lead to a loss of opportunities and adversely impact on the Company's operating results and financial position.
Technology rights	During the Option Period and if the Company exercises its option under the Term Sheet; securing rights to technologies, and in particular patents, is an integral part of securing potential product value in the outcomes of technology research and development. Competition in retaining and sustaining protection of technologies and the complex nature of technologies can lead to expensive and lengthy patent disputes for which there can be no guaranteed outcome. The granting of a patent does not guarantee that the rights of others are not infringed or that competitors will not develop competing technologies that circumvents such patents. The Company's success depends, in part, on its and or PEA's ability to obtain patents, maintain trade secret protection and operate without infringing the proprietary rights of third parties. Because the patent position of technology companies can be highly uncertain and frequently involve complex legal and scientific evaluation, neither the breadth of claims allowed in technology patents nor their enforceability can be predicted. There can be no assurance that any patents that PEA may own or control or licence now and in the future will afford the Company commercially significant protection of the technologies, or that any of the projects that may arise from the technologies will have commercial applications. Although the Company is not aware of any third party interests in relation to the rights to PEA's technologies, and has taken steps to protect and confirm its interest in these rights, there is always a risk of third parties claiming involvement in technological discoveries, and if any disputes arise, they could adversely affect the Company. Although the Company will implement all reasonable endeavours to protect PEA's technologies, there can be no assurance that these measures have been, or will be sufficient.

For personal use only

Stonehenge Metals Limited

Risk area	Risks
	Furthermore, PEA has numerous patents pending (i.e. an application for a patent has been made but the patent has not yet been granted). There is no guarantee that all applications for patents will be successful.
Research and development	The Company can make no representation that any of its research into or development of the Protean Technology will be successful or that the Protean Technology will be developed into products that are commercially exploitable. There are many risks inherent in the development of renewable energy technologies, particularly where the products are in the early stages of development. Projects can be delayed or fail to demonstrate any benefit, or research may cease to be viable for a range of scientific and commercial reasons.
Technology risks	There is a risk of technology failure in the technologies used in a wave power project. If this occurs, it could have a material adverse effect on that project and in turn on the Company. There is also a risk of technology redundancy due to the long-term nature of the Company's projects. This risk is mitigated by the use of technology and materials from leading international suppliers and manufacturers; this ensures that regular maintenance is undertaken and contracting operations and maintenance is undertaken by experienced industry practitioners.
Other renewable energy technologies	Other renewable energy technologies may be developed or emerge which supersede the Protean Technology or make it obsolete, which may cause loss to the Company.
Wave Variability	Although wave energy projects may be more predictable than other renewable energy projects like wind or solar energy projects, fluctuations in the level of waves occur on a short term basis (examples include daily, monthly and seasonal variations). These fluctuations will affect the amount of energy produced by the Protean Technology and the revenue generated by it, and if the amount of energy produced is reduced, this is likely to be to the detriment of the Company.
Public attitude	Public attitude towards the visual and environmental impact of renewable energy projects, including wave technology, affects the renewable energy targets set by governments and other interested parties which may in turn affect the location and number of WEC units in any given area. The attitude of communities to these and other aspects of renewable energy projects, including wave technology, may change over time. These changes, and any consequential changes to government policy and the regulatory environment, may be positive or negative for the Company.
Product Liability and Uninsured Risks	Through its intended business, the Company may be exposed to potential product liability risks which are inherent in the research and development, manufacturing, marketing and use of its products or products developed with future co-development alliance partners. It will be necessary to secure insurance to help manage such risks. The Company may not be able to maintain insurance for product or service liability on reasonable terms in the future and, in addition, the Company's insurance may not be sufficient to cover large claims, or the insurer could disclaim coverage on claims. Although the Company will work to rigorous standards, there is still the potential for the Protean Technology to contain defects which may result in system failures. These defects or problems could result in the loss of or delay in generating revenue, loss of market share, failure to achieve market acceptance, diversion of development resources, injury to the Company's reputation or increased insurance costs. If the Company fails to meet its clients' expectations, the Company's reputation could suffer and it could be liable for damages. Further, the Company is exposed to the risk of catastrophic loss to necessary equipment, computer equipment or other facilities which would have a serious impact on the Company's operations. The Company gives no assurance that all such risks

Risk area	Risks
	will be adequately managed through its insurance policies to ensure that catastrophic loss does not have an adverse effect on its performance.
Renewable Energy Regulatory Risks	Wave energy projects may be dependent on mandatory or voluntary renewable energy or emissions trading schemes and other government initiatives for economic viability. Typically these government initiatives or programmes are available for a specified period of time, at the end of which there is no guarantee that the relevant initiative or programme will be extended. Equally, during the term of the initiative or programme, changes in political or other activities may result in changes to, suspension or abolition of those initiatives or programmes, which could have a positive or negative effect on the Company.
General Working capital	The Directors believe the funds raised from the Offer will give the Company sufficient working capital to achieve its immediate objectives as stated in this Investment Overview section. However, funds raised under this Prospectus are unlikely to be sufficient to enable the Company to satisfy its longer term objective to fully commercialise its projects and technologies.
Funding Risk	There is the risk that if or when the Company requires additional funding that it may not be able to raise these funds. This would likely have a detrimental effect on the Company.
General Operation Risk	Renewable energy projects are exposed to numerous operational risks including the impact of force majeure events, plant breakdowns, electricity network and other utility service failures, and other unanticipated events. The cost of repairing or replacing damaged assets may be considerable, while repeated or prolonged interruption may result in termination of contracts, substantial litigation and damages or penalties for regulatory or contractual non-compliance, reduced cash flows and increased funding costs. Moreover, such amounts may not be recoverable under insurances and, in relation to network failures, network service providers and market operators may also benefit from limitations of liability reducing the quantum of any recovery of damages from them. If the operation expenditure is different from that projected for the wave power project, it will affect the cash flow available from the project which may have a detrimental impact on the Company.
Market Price of Electricity and Renewable Energy Rights is Volatile	Demand for electricity is dependent on numerous factors including economic conditions, population growth, government policy, weather, availability and price of alternative fuels or energy sources. Demand for products such as the Protean WEC may be dependent on mandatory requirements for electricity to come from renewable energy sources, market demand for electricity and renewable energy, and their availability. Given the kinds of factors which affect demand, demand has inherent volatility. This may impact on the price of electricity and renewable energy positively or negatively.
Management of Growth	There is a risk that management of the Company will not be able to implement the Company's strategy. The capacity of management to properly implement and manage the strategic direction of the Company may affect the Company's financial performance.

Careful consideration should be given to all matters raised in this Prospectus and the relative risk factors prior to applying for Securities offered for subscription under this Prospectus. Investors should consider the risk factors described above and outlined in more detail in Section 2, together with the information contained elsewhere in this Prospectus, before deciding whether to apply for Securities.

CHAIRMAN'S LETTER

On behalf of the directors of Stonehenge Metals Limited I am pleased to offer you the opportunity to participate in this 7 for 10 non-renounceable pro-rata rights issue to raise approximately $1,503,643 before costs.

This capital raising will enable the Company to continue exploration and development of its Korean uranium & vanadium projects whilst supporting an assessment of the commercialisation potential of Protean's innovative wave energy conversion technology. The new funds will also allow the Company to continue evaluating new acquisitions and opportunities in the resources sector.

The opportunity to acquire Protean is an exciting step forward for Stonehenge and diversifies the Company within the energy sector. It is a pre-commercialisation opportunity that we can pursue whilst we continue with efforts to develop our Korean energy projects in partnership with KORID and others that will offer synergies as we build a broader based energy company.

We believe that the Protean wave energy conversion system is a unique and practical renewable energy technology with significant global potential. We are excited by the prospect of rapidly commercialising the Protean technology at a time when the world is seeking a viable renewable energy source to rival solar and wind.

Eligible Shareholders will have the opportunity under the Offer to subscribe for 7 New Shares for every 10 Shares held on the Record Date, at the issue price of $0.005 per New Share.

Shareholders wishing to subscribe for Shares in excess of their Entitlement are invited to subscribe for any Shortfall.

The details of the Offer are set out in this Prospectus together with your personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form.

The Board of Stonehenge recommends this rights issue to you and we thank shareholders for their ongoing support.

Yours faithfully,

Richard Henning
Chairman

Stonehenge Metals Limited

1.13 Overseas Shareholders

The Company is of the view that it is unreasonable to make an offer under the Entitlement Issue under this Prospectus to Shareholders outside of Australia and New Zealand having regard to:

- the number of Shareholders registered outside of Australia and New Zealand;
- the number and value of the New Shares that would be offered to Shareholders registered outside of Australia and New Zealand; and

Accordingly, the Company is not required to offer the New Shares under the Prospectus to Shareholders registered outside of Australia and New Zealand.

SECTION 2 RISK FACTORS

2.1 Introduction

The Securities offered under this Prospectus should be considered speculative because of the nature of the Company's business.

Whilst the Directors recommend that Shareholders take up their Entitlement, there are however numerous risk factors involved. Some of these risks can be mitigated by the use of safeguards and appropriate systems and controls, but some are outside the control of the Company and cannot be mitigated. Accordingly, an investment in the Company carries no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, return of capital or price at which the New Shares will trade.

The following is a summary of the more material matters to be considered and should be read in conjunction with specific matters referred to in the Company's announcements and reports. However, the summary is not exhaustive and potential investors should examine the contents of this Prospectus in its entirety and consult their professional advisors before deciding whether to apply for the Securities.

2.2 Specific Risks – Acquisition of PEA

A number of specific risk factors that may impact the future performance of the Company in relation to its proposed acquisition of PEA pursuant to the Term Sheet. During the option period of the Term Sheet and in the event that the Company exercises its option under the Term Sheet to acquire PEA, the specific risks in relation to PEA and its technology are described in the Important Information section at the front of this Prospectus. Shareholders should note that this list is not exhaustive and some additional risks are outlined below.

2.2.1 Brand Establishment and Maintenance

The Company believes that establishing and maintaining Protean's brand in the nascent wave energy market is critical to attracting and growing a user base and creating technology acceptance. This will depend largely on the Company's ability to provide useful and innovative technology. The actions of external industry participants may affect the brand if users do not have a positive experience using Protean's technology. If the Company fails to successfully establish and maintain its brand its business and operating results could be adversely affected.

2.2.2 A number of the Company's technology and possible future technologies may contain or rely on open source software, which may pose particular risks to its proprietary software and technology in a manner that could have a negative effect on its business

The Company may utilise open source software in its technology. The terms of many open source licenses to which the Company will be subject have not been interpreted by Australian or foreign courts, and there is a risk that open source software licenses could be construed in a manner that imposes unanticipated conditions or restrictions on the Company's ability to provide or distribute its technology.

2.2.3 The Company's technology may contain programming errors, which could harm its brand and operating results

The Company's technology will contain complicated programming and its objectives are to quickly develop and launch new and innovative technology and features. The Company's technology may therefore contain now or in the future, errors, bugs or vulnerabilities. Any errors, bugs or vulnerabilities discovered could result in (among other consequences) damage to Protean's brand, loss of users, loss of platform partners, fall in revenues or liability for damages, any of which could adversely affect the Company's business and operating results.

Stonehenge Metals Limited

2.2.4 Competition

The Company will compete with other businesses and companies. Some of these companies are at different stages of development, have greater financial and other resources than the Company and, as a result, may be in a better position to compete for future business opportunities. There can be no assurance that the Company can compete effectively with these companies.

2.2.5 Insurance

The Company will maintain insurance where it is considered appropriate for its needs however it will not be insured against all risks either because appropriate cover is not available or because the Directors consider the required premiums to be excessive having regard to the benefits that would accrue.

Accordingly, the Company may not be fully insured against all losses and liabilities that could unintentionally arise from its operations. If the Company incurs uninsured losses or liabilities, the value of the Company's assets may be at risk.

2.2.6 Additional Requirements for Capital

The Company's capital requirements depend on numerous factors. Additionally, the Company has committed to various capital requirements as a result of the Term Sheet. Depending on the Company's ability to generate income from its operations, the Company may require further financing in the future. Any additional equity financing will dilute shareholdings, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce the scope of its operations and scale back its technology development as the case may be.

2.2.7 Potential Acquisitions

As part of its business strategy, the Company may make acquisitions of, or significant investments in, complementary companies or prospects although no such acquisitions or investments are currently planned. Any such transactions will be accompanied by risks commonly encountered in making such acquisitions.

2.2.8 If securities or industry analysts do not publish or cease publishing research or reports about the Company, its business or its market, or if they change their recommendations regarding the Company's Securities adversely, the price of its Securities and trading volumes could be adversely affected

The market for the Company's Securities trading on ASX may be influenced by any research or reports compiled by securities or industry analysts. If any of the analysts who may cover the Company and its technology change previously disclosed recommendations on the Company or for that matter its competitors, the price of its Securities may be adversely affected.

2.2.9 The Company does not expect to declare any dividends in the foreseeable future

The Company does not anticipate declaring or paying any dividends to Shareholders in the foreseeable future. Consequently, investors may need to rely on sales of their Securities to realise any future gains on their investment.

2.2.10 If the Company's goodwill or intangible assets become impaired, it may be required to record a significant charge to earnings

Under generally accepted accounting principles, the Company reviews its intangible assets for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable. Goodwill is required to be tested for impairment at least annually. The Company has on record a total of $7,836,035 of intangible assets. Any change to the estimation of fair value could result in an impairment charge to the Company's intangible assets. Any such material charges may have a material negative impact on the Company's operating results.

Stonehenge Metals Limited

2.3 Specific Risks – Current Assets

A number of specific risk factors that may impact the future performance of the Company are described below. Shareholders should note that this list is not exhaustive.

2.3.1 Operational Risks

The business of mineral exploration, project development and production, by its nature, contains elements of significant risk with no guarantee of success. Ultimate and continuous success of these activities is dependent on, amongst other things:

- (a) the discovery and-or acquisition of economically recoverable reserves;
- (b) access to adequate capital for project development;
- (c) design and construction of efficient development and production infrastructure within capital expenditure budgets;
- (d) securing and maintaining title to interests;
- (e) obtaining consents and approvals necessary for the conduct of mineral exploration, development and production; and
- (f) access to competent operational management and prudent financial administration, including the availability and reliability of appropriately skilled and experienced employees, contractors and consultants.

Whether or not income will result from projects undergoing exploration and development programs depends on successful exploration and establishment of production facilities.

There is no assurance that any exploration on current or future interests will result in the discovery of an economic mineral deposit. Even if an apparently viable deposit is identified, there is no guarantee that it can be economically developed.

2.3.2 Exploration and Mining Risk

The business of mineral exploration and mining involves risks and hazards. For example, in an exploration context no assurance can be given that ore bodies will be detected with preferred or desirable tonnages or grades. High risk and substantial expense can be incurred without the requisite or expected degree of reward. Even if commercial quantities of ore are discovered unforeseen risks can arise in the development and production phase including mining or processing issues, environmental hazards, industrial accidents, labour forced disruption, the unavailability of materials and equipment, unusual or unexpected geological formation, pit failures, changes in the regulatory environment and weather conditions. Such occurrences could result in damage to, or destruction of, mineral properties or production facilities, personal injury or death, environmental damage, delays in mining, monetary losses and possible legal liability.

2.3.3 Uncertainty of Exploration and Development Programs

Exploration for minerals is highly speculative in nature, involves many risks and is frequently unsuccessful. Among the many uncertainties inherent in any exploration and development program are the location of ore bodies, the development of appropriate metallurgical processes, the receipt of necessary governmental permits, access to permits and the construction of mining and processing facilities. Assuming the discovery of an economic deposit, several years may lapse from the initial phases of drilling until commercial operations commence and, during such time, the economic feasibility of production may change. Accordingly, the Company's exploration and development program may not result in any new economically viable mining operations.

2.3.4 Resource Estimates

Resource estimates are expressions of judgment based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates that were valid when made may change significantly when new information or techniques becomes available. In addition, resource estimates are necessarily imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove to be inaccurate. Even if the Company identifies a resource or reserve, actual ore reserves and resources (including grade and quantity) may differ from those estimated at an earlier time which may result in alterations to development and mining plans which may, in turn, adversely affect the Company's operations.

Stonehenge Metals Limited

2.3.5 Ability to Exploit Successful Discoveries

It may not always be possible for the Company to participate in the exploitation of successful discoveries made in areas in which the Company has an interest. Such exploitation will involve the need to obtain the necessary licences or clearances from the relevant authorities, which may require conditions to be satisfied and/or the exercise of discretions by such authorities. It may or may not be possible for such conditions to be satisfied. The infrastructure requirements around a successful discovery may also impact on the exploitation of a discovery. Further the decision to proceed to further exploitation may require the participation of other companies whose interests and objectives may not be the same as the Company. As described above, such work may require the Company to meet or commit to financing obligations for which it may have not planned.

2.3.6 Compliance Risk

The Company holds an interest in various mining tenements. Title to these tenements is subject to the Company, as tenement holder, complying with the terms and conditions of each tenement, including the minimum annual expenditure commitments. There is a risk that if the Company does not comply with the terms and conditions of each tenement, it may lose its interest in the relevant tenement.

The Company has implemented appropriate policies and practices to mitigate the risk that the terms and conditions attaching to each of the tenements it has an interest in are not complied with.

2.3.7 Joint Venture Parties, Agents and Contractors

The Directors are unable to predict the risk of financial failure or default by a participant in any joint venture to which the Company is or may become a party or the insolvency or managerial failure by any of the contractors used by the Company in any of its activities or the insolvency or other managerial failure by any of the other service providers used by the Company for any activity.

2.3.8 Country Risk

The Company holds interest in assets located in South Korea but may acquire assets in foreign countries in the future. Operations by the Company may require approvals from regulatory authorities which include renewals of existing South Korean, service contracts, licences or permits, which may not be forthcoming or which may not be able to be obtained on terms acceptable to the Company.

While the Company has no reason to believe that all requisite approvals will not be forthcoming and while the Company's obligations for expenditure will be predicated on any requisite approvals being obtained it should be understood that the Company cannot guarantee that any requisite approvals will be obtained. A failure to obtain any approvals would mean the ability of the Company to develop or operate any project, or possibly acquire any project, may be limited or restricted either in part or absolutely.

Additionally, there are risks associated with exploration and mining activities and investments generally in foreign countries that may adversely affect the business, costs, expenditure and profitability of the Company. These risks include:

- (a) changes in foreign country government, government policies, regulatory regime, economic change, civil instability, attitudes towards foreigners or their businesses in their country;
- (b) land access and environmental regulation may be adverse or beneficial; and
- (c) the applicable legal regime including investment into and repatriation of revenue out of the foreign country.

2.3.9 Environmental

The Company's activities are subject to the environmental risks inherent in the mining industry. The Company is subject to environmental laws and regulations in connection with operations it may pursue in the mining industry. The Company intends to conduct its activities in an environmentally responsible manner and in accordance with all applicable laws. However, the Company may be the subject of accidents or unforeseen circumstances that could subject the Company to extensive liability.

For personal use only

Further, the Company may require approval from the relevant authorities before it can undertake activities likely to impact the environment. Failure to obtain such approvals will prevent the Company from undertaking its desired activities. The Company is unable to predict the effect of additional environmental laws and regulations that may be adopted in the future, including whether any such laws or regulations would materially increase the Company's cost of doing business or affect its operations on any area.

2.3.10 Future capital needs and additional funding

The funding of any further ongoing capital requirements beyond the requirements as set out in this Prospectus will depend upon a number of factors including the extent of the Company's ability to generate income from activities which the company cannot forecast with any certainty.

Any additional equity financing will be dilutive to shareholders, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. If the Company is unable to obtain additional funding as needed, it may not be able to take advantage of opportunities or develop projects. Further, the Company may be required to reduce the scope of its operations or anticipated expansion and it may affect the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

2.3.11 Insurance

Insurance against all risks associated with mineral exploration is not always available or affordable. The Company will maintain insurance where it is considered appropriate for its needs however it will not be insured against all risks either because appropriate cover is not available or because the Directors consider the required premiums to be excessive having regard to the benefits that would accrue.

The occurrence of an event that is not covered or fully covered by insurance could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of the operations of the Company. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to maintain adequate insurance in the future at rates that it considers is reasonable.

2.4 General Risks

The future prospects of the Company's business may be affected by circumstances and external factors beyond the Company's control. Financial performance of the Company may be affected by a number of business risks that apply to companies generally and may include economic, financial, market or regulatory conditions.

2.4.1 General Economic Climate

Factors such as inflation, currency fluctuation, interest rates and supply and demand have an impact on operating costs, commodity prices and stock market prices. The Company's future revenues and securities price may be affected by these factors, as well as by fluctuations in the price of commodities, which are beyond the Company's control.

2.4.2 Changes in Legislation and Government Regulation

Government legislation in Australia or any other relevant jurisdiction, including changes to the taxation system, may affect future earnings and relative attractiveness of investing in the Company. Changes in government policy or statutory changes may affect the Company and the attractiveness of an investment in it.

Stonehenge Metals Limited

2.4.3 Competition for Projects

The Company competes with other companies, including mineral exploration and production companies. Some of these companies have greater financial and other resources than the Company. As a result, such companies may be in a better position to compete for future business opportunities and there can be no assurance that the Company can effectively compete with these companies. In the event that the Company is not able to secure a new project or business opportunity this may have an adverse effect on the operations of the Company, its possible future profitability and the trading price of its securities, including the Securities offered under this Prospectus.

2.4.4 Commodity Price Volatility and Exchange Rate Risk

If the Company achieves success leading to mineral production, the revenue it will derive through the sale exposes the potential income of the Company to commodity price and exchange rate risks. Commodity prices fluctuate and are affected by many factors beyond the control of the Company. Such factors include supply and demand fluctuations for precious and base metals, technological advancements, forward selling activities and other macro-economic factors.

Furthermore, international prices of various commodities are denominated in United States dollars, whereas the income and expenditure of the Company are and will be taken into account in Australian and South Korean currency, exposing the Company to the fluctuations and volatility of the rate of exchange between the United States dollar, the Australian dollar and Korean Won as determined in international markets.

2.4.5 Reliance on Key Personnel

The Company's success depends largely on the core competencies of its directors and management, and their familiarisation with, and ability to operate, in the mining industry and the Company's ability to find and retain key executives.

2.4.6 Sharemarket Conditions

The market price of the Company's securities may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and resources stocks in particular.

2.5 Speculative Nature of Investment

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the Securities offered under this Prospectus. Therefore, the Securities offered pursuant to this Prospectus carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of the securities.

Potential investors should consider that the investment in the Company is speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for Securities.

SECTION 5 ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

5.1 Company Update

The Company has entered into the Term Sheet to acquire 100% of the issued capital of PEA as announced on 14 August 2014. PEA has developed the Protean Wave Energy Converter Technology. The Protean Technology is based upon a point-absorber wave energy converter buoy device which floats on the ocean at the water surface and extracts energy from the waves by the extension and retraction of a tether to its anchoring weight on the sea bed. The Company believes that this device is unique in that it optimises the conversion of energy from waves through all six degrees of wave movement or motion. The Protean Technology is designed for:

Scalability; the Protean system is designed to provide low cost energy for a wide range of applications, from small to large scale production; and

Versatility; the Protean system has been designed for dedicated or simultaneous production of electricity and or the desalination of seawater to drinking water quality; and Affordability; the Protean was designed from the ground up to provide cost effect, consistent and reliable renewable energy in lower & higher energy wave resource locations. The Protean WEC is designed for cost effective manufacture, deployment and maintenance.

The future plans for the Protean WEC include the modularisation of the proven prototype size for the purpose of creating a dynamic, configurable and scalable power array prior to moving the technology into early commercialisation.

During the Option Period the Stonehenge assessment program aims to:

1. Refine the tried and proven scale prototype device to produce a suitable pre-commercial model;
2. Create a scalable power array from the pre-commercial model so as to provide the power requirements of a prospective customer;
3. Test the scalable power array for its potential to delivery cost effective power;
4. Verify the results, including commissioning of an independent expert to qualify the testing results; and
5. Commence commercialisation of the scalable array of the trials for small to medium customers.

Pursuant to the terms of the Option and Exclusive Licence to be granted under the Term Sheet, the Company has an initial period 24 months (which can be extended by a further 24 months) to conduct an assessment of the technology by spending at least $500,000 over 18 months to deploy and test a pilot Protean WEC system. During that time the Company must make reasonable endeavours to maintain PEA's intellectual property and register any new IP created. The Company is progressing with preparation of Formal Documentation as contemplated by the Term Sheet and expects to settle these documents, on terms not materially different to the Term Sheet, during the coming weeks. PEL has also agreed to allow the Company to register a security interest over the Protean WEC Technology to protect the Company's interest in the Term Sheet for the period of the Term Sheet and the Option Period.

A summary of the key terms and conditions of the Term Sheet are set out in the Company's ASX announcement of 14 August 2014.

The Company intends to convene a general meeting of Shareholders to obtain the necessary Shareholder approvals for the purpose of issuing securities as a result of entering into the Term Sheet, the conversion of employee entitlements to Shares, the conversion of the outstanding loan monies (pursuant to the Loan Agreements) to Shares and any other matters the Board determines is necessary.

Stonehenge Metals Limited

In the event the Company elects to exercise the Option pursuant to the Terms Sheet within the 24 month option period described above, the Company expects to convene a further general meeting to obtain all necessary Shareholder approvals required under the Corporations Act and ASX Listing Rules for the purpose of acquiring all the issued capital of PEA.

Additionally, as announced on 14 August 2014, subject to completion of the Term Sheet, Mr Sean Moore has been appointed as the Company's Chief Technology Officer for Wave Energy Conversion. The terms of Mr Sean Moore's engagement are provided in Section 5.5.3.

The Company continues to undertake exploration activities on its existing South Korean Projects whilst identifying and reviewing other commercial opportunities for the Company which complement the Company's existing projects and activities.
