To Our Shareholders:

Thank you.

Fundamentally, that is the core message of reaching out to the ones who have supported us from the very beginning.

All of us at Kingsland Global embrace long-term thinking to better square the circle, we make it our top priority to deepen these relationships that matter. Proactively going above and beyond in all our dealings with business partners, contractors and sub-contractors, and just about any professional experience that anyone might have with us – this earns us trust, which earns more business, even in new business arenas. Taking this long-term view, the interests of everyone begin to align.

As I write this, I am proud of our progress thus far. Our energy comes from the desire to leave lasting impressions rather than the zeal to best the competition, which at this point is a defining element of our culture. Since our inception, we have looked to push ourselves to greater heights, firmly establishing a foothold in Cambodia with key developments such as our recently-sold Oknha Peich boutique hotel, and our serviced apartments the One18 Residences.

I am incredibly lucky to be part of a large team of outstanding people who believe in my vision, and value our mission as much as I do and who demonstrate that every day with their hard work. As always, I look forward to continue to break new ground, to create more possibilities and realise greater dreams.
