Globally Islamic finance is one of the fastest growing areas in the global finance industry. Continuous strong growth is expected as the Islamic finance assets are expected to grow to US$3.69 trillion by 2024 (Source: BNY Mellon).

Fatfish has chosen to launch iHarap in Malaysia as it is among the global leaders of Islamic finance globally, due to its successful development of a complete Islamic financial system including Islamic banking, Islamic capital market and Islamic insurance.

iHarap will be a fintech business that will develop its technology platform that will work with third-party financiers to provide ethical Islamic financing products via digital channels to end-consumers. Fatfish will utilize its access to existing technology and capability in its other digital financing fintech business to accelerate the development of iHarap's technology platform.

Rationale – Complimentary Financial Offering to BNPL

Establishing a new line of fintech business based on Islamic financing principles is in line with Fatfish's plan to further develop its fintech businesses in Southeast Asia. The Islamic financing business will be complimentary to the Buy Now Pay Later services that Fatfish is rolling out, sharing common technology and back-office components and developing economy of scale at marketing differentiated financing products to the target audience in Southeast Asia.

iHarap's operation will be funded from existing working capital of Fatfish.

This announcement has been authorised by the Board of Directors of FFG.
