Letter from the Chairman

4 March 2022

I am pleased to invite you to participate in ECP Emerging Growth Limited's (ECP) convertible note offer. The listed, redeemable, unsecured convertible notes (ECP Notes) are an invitation for new investors to take an interest in our business and to provide existing Shareholders with a further avenue to benefit from their ownership in our Company. The Offer is subject to Shareholder Approval which will be sought at an extraordinary general meeting of the Company and a notice of meeting will be sent to Shareholders shortly.

This Prospectus contains further details of the Offer, the terms of the ECP Notes and a description of the risks associated with an investment in the ECP Notes and ECP in general. I encourage you to read the entire Prospectus carefully and consider the risks before deciding whether to participate in the Offer.

ECP – Background

Listed in August 2014, ECP has continued to grow each year due to the investment performance delivered by the Investment Manager. Since the expiry of the options issued upon listing, the Company has not conducted any additional capital raising. However, as shown below, the Company's net assets have grown after paying operating expenses, taxes and half-yearly dividends to Shareholders due to the investment performance.

Despite the performance track record, the relative size of ECP compared to other LIC's remains a hurdle to acceptance by some research houses and advisors and therefore it is essential that the Company continues to investigate avenues of growth. Given the persistent share price discount to Net Tangible Assets (NTA) any capital raising at a discount to the share price would be dilutive to our existing shareholders, a scenario that the Board considers unacceptable.

Benefits to Shareholders

The Board are incredibly grateful for our loyal and engaged Shareholders and will seek opportunities to reward our Shareholder base. The ECP Notes will provide an immediate injection of capital which will be utilised by the Investment Manager in accordance with the Company's existing investment mandate. Based on the since inception portfolio performance there should be respectable uplift in NTA over the period after payment of note interest. An uplift in NTA generally culminates in an uplift in ECP's share price and typically allows for increased dividends over time.

Benefits to Investors

The ECP Notes are a product that could form a defensive component of an investment portfolio. Currently the returns on cash are negligible and therefore many investors are looking for fixed income alternatives. The ECP Notes will provide a return of 5.5% per annum with liquidity subject to market pricing should you wish to exit early. Additionally, the note holder has the conversion option that provides an opportunity to capitalise on any share price appreciation after the second anniversary date and 10 days before the 5-year maturity date. Shares in ECP have been tightly held by a loyal Shareholder base, the ECP Notes provide an opportunity for a fixed price entry to the Company's diversified portfolio.

ECP currently does not have any other debt and makes a commitment not to extend indebtedness beyond the $12.5 million raising. This provides investors with relatively low-risk access to a 5.5% return with additional upsides.

The Board fully support the ECP Notes offer and, subject to Shareholder approval being obtained in respect of such, intend to participate on the following basis:

	Value $	Number of Notes
Murray d'Almeida	$5,000	3,497
David Crombie	$250,000	174,826
Jared Pohl	$100,000	69,931
Scott Barrett	$50,000	34,966

We encourage interested parties to consider the Target Market Determination available from our website www.ecpam.com/emerging/notes-offer/. If you are unsure whether the ECP Notes are a suitable investment for you, you should consult your stockbroker, accountant or other professional adviser.

I look forward to welcoming new Investors to our Company and providing existing Shareholders another avenue to enjoy the performance of ECP. On behalf of the Board, I encourage you to consider this investment opportunity and thank you for your ongoing support.

Yours faithfully

Mr Murray d'Almeida

Chairman

Guidance for retail Investors

The Notes are 'unsecured notes' for the purposes of section 283BH of the Corporations Act.

If you are considering applying for any ECP Notes under the Offer, this Prospectus is important and should be read in its entirety before making an Application. In particular, you should have regard to:

- ❖ 'Key features of the Offer' and the 'Key terms of the ECP Notes' in section 1 and information about 'ECP' in section 2;
- ❖ 'Risk factors' in section 4; and
- ❖ 'ECP Note Terms' in section 9.

You should carefully consider the risks and other information regarding an investment in ECP Notes and ECP in light of your investment objectives, financial situation and particular needs (including financial and taxation issues).

Speak to your professional adviser

ECP Notes are a complex investment and may be difficult to understand, even for experienced investors, and involve different risks from a simple debt or ordinary equity security. You should ensure that you understand the ECP Note Terms and risks of investing in ECP Notes and consider whether ECP Notes are an appropriate investment for your particular circumstances.

ECP recommends that you seek guidance from your licensed financial adviser or other professional adviser before deciding whether to invest. ASIC has published guidance on how to choose a licensed adviser on its MoneySmart website. You can read this guidance by searching for the term 'choosing a financial adviser' at www.moneysmart.gov.au.

Consider the ASIC guidance for retail investors

ASIC has published guidance on its MoneySmart website which may be relevant to your consideration of whether to invest in ECP Notes – namely, information for retail investors who are considering investing in hybrid securities. You can find this guidance by searching 'hybrid securities' at www.moneysmart.gov.au. ASIC's guidance includes a series of questions you should ask before you invest in hybrid securities, and a short quiz you can complete to check your understanding of how hybrids work, their features and the risks of investing in them.

Obtain further information about ECP

ECP is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations under the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules. ECP must notify ASX immediately (subject to certain exceptions) if it becomes aware of information about it that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of its securities. While the ECP Notes are on issue, ECP will also produce quarterly reports about the ECP Notes that are provided to ASIC and the Trustee in accordance with the requirements of section 283BF of the Corporations Act (283BF Report).

Copies of documents lodged with ASIC, which are publicly available, can be obtained from ASIC's website at www.asic.gov.au (a fee may apply) and ECP's ASX announcements may be viewed at www.asx.com.au.

2 ECP EMERGING GROWTH – THE BUSINESS

2.1 Company overview

ECP Emerging Growth Limited (the Company) (ASX:ECP) (formerly known as 'Barrack St Investments Limited', ASX:BSI) listed on the Australian Securities Exchange in August 2014 is a Listed Investment Company (LIC) providing investors with access to an expertly crafted quality portfolio of Australian small and mid-cap growth companies.

The portfolio is managed by ECP Asset Management, which has a specialist, equities focused investment team renowned for its stability, track record and sound investment process.

The Manager's investment philosophy is built on the belief that the economics of business drives long-term investment returns. Investing in high quality businesses that have the ability to generate predictable, above average economic returns, will produce superior investment performance over the long-term.

2.4 Description of Investment Manager

The management of the Company's investment portfolio is undertaken by ECP Asset Management. Jared Pohl is a founder and Director of ECP Asset Management and has been responsible for managing the ECP portfolio since inception.

ECP Asset Management is an active manager focused on investing in a careful, considered and committed way to grow wealth that is resilient and sustainable. Making long-term investment decisions means investing as an owner and not a trader of shares. This means understanding both the narrative of an investment, and the numbers that support it. Investing on narrative alone, ignores reality. Investing on numbers alone, ignores potential. By combining the two, the Manager can best capture long-term potential at fair prices.

Information on the Investment Manager is available from www.ecpam.com.

2.2 Investment objectives and process

The investment objectives of ECP are to:

- ❖ achieve medium to long-term capital growth and income through investing in a diversified portfolio of small and mid-cap Australian companies;
- ❖ preserve and enhance the net tangible assets backing per share; and
- ❖ provide Shareholders with a fully franked dividend, which, over time, will grow at a rate in excess of the rate of inflation.

2.5 Investment philosophy

While traditionally thought of as a quality growth manager, ECP would characterise itself as an idiosyncratic stock picker. All companies included in the portfolio are required to exhibit specific characteristics, both qualitative and quantitative. Companies that do not exhibit those characteristics, are not included in the portfolio.

In summary, quality franchises exhibit the following qualitative characteristics:

1. A clear business model with a growth profile and defensible market position;
2. Managed by a team who have been able to execute on their stated strategic objectives over time; and
3. The business has maintained a strong financial position.

These companies also generally exhibit the following accounting based measures:

1. They are highly profitable - they exhibit sustained high returns on equity and invested capital;
2. They are growing - They have an ability to consistently grow revenues above system growth; and
3. They are not leveraged - they do not hold large amounts of debt on their balance sheet (low capital intensity).

Our investment philosophy best expressed through the exploitation the following inefficiencies:

- 1 Growth Anomaly - the market perpetually under prices growth companies; and
- 2 Short Termism - prevailing market sentiment is generally more volatile than the underlying business value.

2.6 The Board

Mr Murray d'Almeida

Chairman

Mr D'Almeida has Over 38 years of diverse national and international business experience. He Founded the Retail Food Group and developed a presence in seven overseas countries and subsequently maintained operating and board positions within a range of financial services, mining, commercial, academic, government and sporting businesses and organisations. Mr Crombie has business experience as founding partner in Palladium Group (formerly GRM International) across a range of sectors including health, education, agricultural services and capacity building for AusAid, DIFID and USAid plus multilateral and Government /private sector clients. Formerly President of the National Farmers Federation, Chairman Meat and Livestock Australia and President of Australian Rugby Union. He is Member of Advisory Board QAAFI (Queensland Alliance for Agriculture and Food Innovation) and a Director of Alliance Aviation Services.

Our approach to exploiting these inefficiencies is codified in our investment process. The process ensures we maximise the probability of positive outcomes in the portfolio; it ensures that we seek and take risk in areas where we have a proven skill; and it enables us to repeatedly identify and capitalise on opportunities. Most importantly, it requires us to identify and articulate how effective we've been.

Mr Jared Pohl

- (a) ECP had no outstanding interest bearing loans and borrowings; and

4 RISK FACTORS

4.1 Risks associated with ECP Notes

ECP Notes are complex instruments and may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the ECP Notes must determine the suitability of that investment in light of their own circumstances. A potential investor should not invest in the ECP Notes unless they have the expertise (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) to evaluate how the ECP Notes will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of such ECP Notes and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

ECP may not be able to redeem the ECP Notes when due

ECP expects to be able to redeem the ECP Notes using the proceeds from cash flows from operations (if available) or proceeds from the sale of investments. While unlikely, there is a risk that ECP would be unable to procure or raise sufficient cash resources from the sale of investments and would, in that case, have insufficient cash flows to redeem the ECP Notes at the Maturity Date.

ECP must redeem the ECP Notes on the request of a Noteholder if a Change of Control Event or a Delisting Event (each as defined in the ECP Note Terms) occurs. While unlikely, ECP cannot assure Noteholders that, if required, it would have sufficient cash or other financial resources at the time such a redemption obligation arises or would be able to arrange financing to redeem the ECP Notes in cash.

Neither ECP, nor the Trustee, nor any other entity have guaranteed the redemption of the ECP Notes.

ECP may redeem the ECP Notes before the Maturity Date

ECP Notes may or may not be redeemed early by ECP in certain circumstances. There is a risk that the redemption amount may be less than the previously prevailing market value of ECP Notes or the timing of such redemption may not accord with a Noteholder's individual financial circumstances or tax position.

Additionally, in the event of an early redemption of ECP Notes, Noteholders may not receive the returns they expected to achieve on ECP Notes (if held until maturity) by investing the proceeds in alternative investment opportunities available at that time.

Interest rate risk

Interest on the ECP Notes is fixed and payable quarterly in arrears in accordance with the ECP Note Terms. Other than where a First Step-Up Event occurs, no adjustment will be made to the rate of interest paid to Noteholders as other market-based interest rates rise or fall.

The market price of ECP Notes on the ASX may fluctuate due to changes in interest rates generally, credit spreads on other corporate securities or investor sentiment towards ECP.

ECP Notes are unsecured and will rank behind the claims of ECP's secured creditors

Neither the ECP Trust Deed nor the ECP Notes create any Security Interest in favour of Noteholders to secure the payment obligations arising under the ECP Notes. The Company does not currently have any secured creditor arrangements in place. Subject to security being granted through the negative pledge detailed in clause 9.6.1 of the ECP Note Terms, if ECP is wound-up, Noteholders will rank equally with other unsecured and unsubordinated creditors of ECP and ahead of Shareholders.

Volatility of market price for Ordinary Shares

The Ordinary Shares held by Noteholders following Conversion of their ECP Notes will have the same rights as other Ordinary Shares, which are different from the rights attached to ECP Notes.

The trading price of the Ordinary Shares may directly affect the trading price of the ECP Notes. The market price of the Ordinary Shares may be volatile and may cause volatility in the price of ECP Notes and affect the ability of Noteholders to sell the ECP Notes at an acceptable price. There may be no liquid market for Ordinary Shares at the time of Conversion or the market for Ordinary Shares may be less liquid than that for comparable securities issued by other entities at the time of Conversion.

Interest payments are not guaranteed

ECP expects to make interest payments using available cash balances and cash flow from ECP's investments.

ECP's ability to generate cash flows from ECP's operations will depend substantially on the dividends and interest received from its investments. If the dividends and interest from the investments are insufficient to make the interest payments, then ECP will generate cash from the realisation of investments. The early realisation of investments could have a long term detrimental effect on the portfolio and on the long-term performance of ECP as a whole.

The interest payments on the ECP Notes are not guaranteed by the Investment Manager, the Trustee or any other entity.

Future issues of securities may result in Shareholder dilution

ECP may undertake additional offerings of securities in the future. While ECP is subject to the constraints of the Listing Rules regarding the percentage of its capital that it is able to issue within a 12-month period, any issuance of equity securities by ECP after the offer of the ECP Notes could dilute the interest of the existing shareholders and could substantially decrease the market price of the Ordinary Shares. The ECP Note Terms provide for an adjustment to the Conversion Price in relation to some but not all future offerings of securities or in situations where it is lawful to do so.

Payment of dividends on Conversion of ECP Notes to Ordinary Shares is not guaranteed

Payment of any dividends on Ordinary Shares issued on Conversion of the ECP Notes is at the discretion of Directors. Noteholders whose ECP Notes are converted after the record date for a dividend will have no entitlement to that dividend.

Directors may only declare or determine a dividend if there are funds legally available to pay dividends. ECP Notes will not be entitled to participate in any dividends on the Ordinary Shares.

The amount of future dividends actually paid will be determined by the Board of ECP having regard, amongst other things, to ECP's operating results, financial position, and available profit reserves from which to pay a dividend. A change in dividend policy or dividend levels may impact the market value of ECP Notes.

Payment of franked dividends on Conversion of ECP Notes to Ordinary Shares is not guaranteed

There is no guarantee that dividends on Ordinary Shares will be franked. ECP's ability to continue to pay franked dividends is dependent upon the receipt of franked dividends from investments and the payment of tax. Changes to the corporate tax rate may also affect the franking rate attached to any dividends on Ordinary Shares and also the franking rate attached to dividends received from investments. If dividends are franked, the value and availability of any franking credits to a Shareholder will differ depending on the Shareholder's particular tax circumstances.

Shareholders should be aware that the ability to use any franking credits, either as an offset to a tax liability or by claiming a refund after the end of the income year, will depend on the individual tax position of each Shareholder and could change if there is a change in applicable law.

Noteholders have limited anti-dilution protection

As a result of any issue of Ordinary Shares, the voting power and proportionate economic interest of ECP's existing shareholders (and, indirectly, of Noteholders) would be diluted.

ECP may undertake additional offerings of securities in the future. The ECP Note Terms provide for an adjustment to the Conversion Price in relation to only a limited class of future offerings of securities or in situations where it is lawful to do so (refer to ECP Note Terms described in section 9).

The ECP Notes are subject to changes in Australian tax law

Any future changes in Australian tax law, including changes in interpretation or application of the law by the courts or taxation authorities in Australia, may affect the taxation treatment of the acquisition, holding, Conversion or disposal of ECP Notes.

Noteholders have no voting rights

There is a risk that Noteholders may be affected by corporate decisions made by ECP. Noteholders have no voting or other rights in relation to the Ordinary Shares until Ordinary Shares are issued to them. In addition, ECP Notes do not confer on Noteholders any right to subscribe for new securities in ECP or to participate in any bonus issue of securities. The rights attaching to Ordinary Shares, if Ordinary Shares are issued, will be the rights attaching to Ordinary Shares at that time. Noteholders have no right to vote on or otherwise to approve any changes to the Constitution in relation to the Ordinary Shares that may be issued to them upon Conversion. Therefore, Noteholders will not be able to influence decisions that may have adverse consequences for them.

Modifications and waivers

ECP may in certain circumstances amend the ECP Note Terms and the ECP Trust Deed without the consent of Noteholders (refer to clause 9.11 of the ECP Note Terms).

ECP may only amend the ECP Note Terms or the ECP Trust Deed in other circumstances if the amendment has been approved by a Noteholder Resolution or (where required under the Meeting Provisions) a Special Resolution of Noteholders. There is a risk that an amendment of the ECP Note Terms or the ECP Trust Deed will be made, and with which Noteholders may not agree.

Noteholders have limited means to enforce their rights under the ECP Notes and ECP Trust Deed

The ECP Note Terms provide that rights under the ECP Notes and the ECP Trust Deed may generally only be enforced by the Trustee and not by the Noteholders directly. Noteholders must therefore rely on enforcement by the Trustee, except in certain circumstances where the Trustee has failed to take action after being requested by Noteholders to do so.

Noteholders may, by Noteholder or Special Resolution, waive breaches or amend the ECP Trust Deed. A Noteholder with a large holding of ECP Notes may influence the outcome of any such vote.

Lack of a public market for the ECP Notes

The ECP Notes are a new issue of securities for which there is currently no established trading market and one may never develop. ECP will seek quotation of the ECP Notes on the ASX to permit on-market trading of the ECP Notes in Australia.

Any trading market for ECP Notes may be less liquid than the market for Ordinary Shares. Illiquidity may have an adverse effect on the market value of ECP Notes.

If an active trading market were to develop, the ECP Notes could trade at a price that may be lower than the Issue Price of the ECP Notes. Whether or not the ECP Notes will trade at lower prices depends on many factors, including:

- (a) prevailing interest rates and the market for similar securities;
- (b) general economic, market and political conditions;
- (c) ECP's financial condition, financial performance and future prospects as well as the market price and volatility of the Ordinary Shares;

- (d) the publication of earnings estimates or other research reports and speculation in the press or investment community;
- (e) trading activity of individual Noteholders; and
- (f) changes in the industry and competition affecting ECP.

There can be no assurance that investors will be able to buy or sell ECP Notes on the ASX at a price acceptable to them, or at all.

ECP Notes are unrated

ECP Notes are unrated. The market price and liquidity of an unrated security may be adversely affected compared to securities that are rated.

Market price of the ECP Notes may fluctuate

ECP will apply for quotation of ECP Notes on ASX, but ECP is unable to forecast the market price and liquidity of the market for ECP Notes. The market price for the ECP Notes may fluctuate due to various factors, including:

- (a) operating results of ECP that vary from expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- (b) changes in expectations as to ECP's future financial performance, including financial estimates by securities analysts and investors;
- (c) announcement of acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures or capital commitments by ECP or its competitors;
- (d) changes in the market price of Ordinary Shares;
- (e) macroeconomic conditions, interest rates, credit spreads on other corporate securities, general movements in the Australian and international equity markets;
- (f) other major Australian and international events such as hostilities and tensions, health pandemics and acts of terrorism; and
- (g) other factors beyond the control of ECP and its Directors.

It is possible that ECP Notes will trade at a market price above or below the Face Value as a result of these and other factors. As a result, Noteholders who wish to sell their ECP Notes may be unable to do so at an acceptable price (if at all). Additionally, this may result in greater volatility in the market price of the ECP Notes than would be expected for non-convertible debt securities. Where markets are volatile, there is the potential for fluctuations in the price of securities, sometimes markedly and over a short period. Investing in volatile conditions implies a greater level of volatility risk for investors than an investment in a more stable market.

Inflation risk

An increase in the inflation rate may erode in real terms the value of the capital invested in ECP Notes. It may also negatively impact the profitability of the companies in which ECP invests and the market value of the shares of those companies.

4.2 Risks associated with ECP

Key risks relating to ECP are set out below. It is not, however, possible to describe all the risks to which ECP may become subject and which may impact adversely on ECP's prospects and performance.

Market risk

There is a risk that investments that form part of ECP's investment portfolio may fall in value over short or extended periods of time due to movements in the broader equity market. Noteholders are exposed to this risk both through their holdings as well as through ECP's investment portfolio. A prolonged decline in macroeconomic conditions (such as increased and sustained unemployment, subdued consumer confidence, economic recessions, downturns or extended periods of uncertainty or volatility) may adversely impact the value and liquidity of ECP's securities (including the ECP Notes) and may also adversely affect the value of shares held by ECP in any of its portfolio companies which may adversely impact the value of ECP's NTA per Ordinary Share.

Equity investment risks

As ECP is a LIC that seeks to invest in Australian listed companies, ECP is exposed to risks inherently associated with investing in listed securities, including:

- (a) the performance of the companies in which ECP invests;
- (b) the level of dividend payments made by the companies in which ECP invests;
- (c) the market prices of the securities in which ECP invests;
- (d) the market liquidity of the securities in which ECP invests;
- (e) the size of ECP's investment portfolio; and
- (f) the ability to diversify risk.

Economic risk

The investment returns of ECP's investment portfolio are influenced by market factors including changes in the economic conditions (e.g. changes in interest rates and inflation), changes in the financial markets, changes to the legislative and political environment, as well as changes in investor sentiment.

In addition, unexpected and unpredictable events affecting the economy (for example, natural disasters, pandemic outbreaks, acts of terrorism and war) could add to wider equity market volatility.

Regulatory risk

ECP is exposed to the risk of changes to applicable laws and regulations or their interpretation, which could have a negative effect on ECP, its investments or returns to shareholders and ECP is also exposed to risks of non-compliance with reporting or other legal obligations.

Investment strategy risk

The success and profitability of ECP significantly depends on the ability of the Investment Manager to successfully and profitably manage ECP's investment portfolio and invest in securities that have the ability to generate a return for ECP. There is a risk that the Investment Manager may fail to make investments that generate a return and may make investments that lose money.

Reputational risk

There is a risk of impairment of ECP's reputation arising from factors which could include poor performance, failure to meet regulatory obligations, involvement in public controversy in companies in which it invests or other high-profile issues, shareholder dissatisfaction, inappropriate director remuneration or contagion from reputational concerns of other LICs.

Industry risk

There are industry risk factors that may affect the future operations or performance of ECP. These factors are outside the control of ECP. Such factors include increased regulatory and compliance costs and variations in legislation and government policies generally.

Key person risk

ECP is exposed to the risk that the Investment Manager may cease to manage ECP's investment portfolio. The ability of the Investment Manager to continue to manage the Company's investment portfolio is dependent on a range of factors including, the maintenance of its AFSL authorisation, its continued solvency and the retention of its investment team. The loss of key personnel within the Investment Manager could have a negative effect on the performance of the Investment Manager and ECP.

5 AUSTRALIAN TAXATION IMPLICATIONS

This section contains a general description of the Australian tax consequences of acquiring, holding, converting or disposing of the ECP Notes.

The description applies only to Noteholders who are individuals who are not otherwise associates of ECP and who acquire, hold and dispose of the ECP Notes on capital account. It does not apply to Noteholders which are companies, trusts or other types of entities and it does not apply to Noteholders who acquire, hold or dispose of the ECP Notes as part of the conduct or carrying on of a business (in any jurisdiction), or who otherwise hold the ECP Notes on revenue account or as trading stock nor to Noteholders who are subject to the taxation of financial arrangements rules contained in Division 230 of the Tax Act in relation to gains and losses on their ECP Notes.

The actual taxation consequences of acquiring, holding and disposing of the ECP Notes will vary depending upon the particular circumstances of each Noteholder. Therefore, prospective Noteholders should obtain independent professional advice relating to their own specific circumstances and they should not rely on the summary below.

This summary assumes that all relevant transactions are carried out in the manner described in this Prospectus and is based upon the law and the commonly understood administrative practices of the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) as in effect at the date of this Prospectus. Prospective investors should note that taxation law and its interpretation is subject to change and is open to challenge. Prospective investors should treat the following comments as a guide only. No ruling has been sought from the ATO to confirm the views below.

5.1 ECP Notes as debt interests

The ECP Notes should be 'debt interests' issued by ECP, notwithstanding that the Noteholders will have the right to convert their ECP Notes into Ordinary Shares in ECP in accordance with the ECP Note Terms. Therefore, interest payable on the ECP Notes should not be frankable distributions for tax purposes but treated as interest, as discussed below.

5.2 Australian resident individuals

Payments of interest

Payments of interest in respect of the ECP Notes should be included in the assessable income of Noteholders who are residents of Australia for Australian income tax purposes, generally in the year of income in which the payments are received and will be subject to tax at the Noteholders' marginal rate.

Noteholders are not required to quote their tax file number to ECP in connection with their acquisition of the ECP Notes, but ECP may be required to withhold and remit to the ATO a portion (as at the date of this Prospectus, 47%) of any interest payable on the ECP Notes to a Noteholder who has not validly quoted their tax file number in connection with their acquisition of the ECP Notes (or provided evidence of an applicable exemption from withholding). Where withholding is required, the Noteholder would be entitled to claim from the ATO a credit for the amount which ECP withheld from that Noteholder and remitted to the ATO.

No additional amounts are payable to a Noteholder if withholding is required because that Noteholder did not validly quote a tax file number or provide evidence of an applicable exemption.

Sale or redemption of ECP Notes

The ECP Notes held by Australian resident individuals should be subject to the rules applicable to traditional securities because the ECP Notes will not be issued at a discount to their face value, nor do they have any deferred income features such as indexation of invested capital.

Therefore, any gain made on the sale or redemption of the ECP Notes (where the amount received on sale or redemption exceeds the cost of subscribing for or purchasing the ECP Notes), should be included in the assessable income of the Australian resident Noteholder, usually in the year of income in which the Noteholder becomes entitled to receive the proceeds of sale or the redemption amount. In those circumstances, the gain would generally not be subject to the capital gains tax (CGT) provisions and the CGT discount would not apply, even if the ECP Notes were held for more than 12 months.

Any loss made by an Australian resident individual Noteholder from the sale or redemption of the ECP Notes (where the amount received on sale or redemption is less than the cost of subscribing for or purchasing the ECP Notes) should generally be an allowable deduction, subject to certain exceptions, usually in the year of income in which the Noteholder becomes entitled to receive the proceeds of sale or the redemption amount. Noteholders should seek their own advice regarding their entitlement to a deduction for any loss made from the sale or redemption of the ECP Notes.

Conversion to Ordinary Shares

A Noteholder of an ECP Note may request Conversion of the ECP Note into Ordinary Shares. The Conversion would generally be ignored for the purposes of both the traditional securities rules described above and the CGT rules, such that there will be no taxing point (and no gain or loss) at the time of Conversion under those rules. Instead, the Ordinary Shares acquired pursuant to the Conversion will be treated as having a cost base that is, in broad terms, equal to the cost base of the ECP Notes at the time of Conversion, plus any amount paid on Conversion (where applicable).

Any gain or loss on the ultimate disposal of the Ordinary Shares held on capital account will be subject to the CGT provisions.

A Noteholder will be taken to have acquired the Ordinary Shares acquired pursuant to a Conversion at the time of the Conversion.

The acquisition date of the Ordinary Shares for CGT purposes will not be determined by reference to the date of the acquisition of the ECP Notes. Therefore, the Ordinary Shares would need to be held for a further 12 months from the time of Conversion in order to be eligible for any available CGT discount. Noteholders should seek their own advice regarding their entitlement to the CGT discount upon an ultimate disposal of any Ordinary Shares acquired pursuant to a Conversion.

5.3 Other taxes

Noteholders will generally not be subject to any Australian goods and services tax or stamp duties in any Australian State or Territory in respect of their acquisition, holding, sale, redemption or Conversion of ECP Notes or the receipt of interest payable on ECP Notes.

6 MATERIAL AGREEMENTS

6.1 Key documents

The Board considers that certain agreements relating to ECP are significant to the Offer, the operations of ECP or may be relevant to investors. A description of material agreements or arrangements, together with a summary of the more important details of each of these agreements is set out below.

6.2 Investment management agreement

The management of ECP's investment portfolio is undertaken by ECP Asset Management.

The Company's portfolio of investments comprises companies whose operations cover a wide spectrum of business activities and the portfolio is constructed from the perspective of a business owner, by investing in well managed companies and not simply by tracking the index weighting of various component stocks.

There is a management fee of 1% p.a. on the portfolio net asset value of the Company, payable monthly. In addition, the Investment Manager receives a performance based fee payable annually in arrears if the Company's investments outperform an absolute return of 8% based on annual returns and subject to a high-water mark. If the Company's net performance is less than 8%, no performance fee is payable ensuring the Investment Manager is focused on absolute returns to Shareholders.

Mr Jared Pohl is a Director of ECP Asset Management Pty Ltd. ECP Asset Management is an authorised representative of EC Pohl & Co Pty Ltd, which holds an AFSL.

(e) Right to refuse registration of transfer

Every Director is entitled to be paid from Company funds all reasonable travel, accommodation and other expenses incurred by the Director in attending meetings of the Company or of the Board or of any committees or while engaged on the business of the Company. (g) Partial takeover bids

Subject to the Law and Listing Rules, the Company may prohibit registration of transfers purporting to accept partial takeover offers unless and until a resolution of the Company has been passed approving the offers in accordance with the provisions of the constitution.

6.4 Offer Management Mandate

ECP and the Lead Manager have entered into the Offer Management Mandate dated 24 February 2022 pursuant to which the Lead Manager will manage and act as sole book runner for the Offer. ECP has also appointed Taylor Collison Limited as the Authorised Intermediary (for the purposes of section 911A(2)(b) of the Corporations Act) to make offers to arrange for the issue of the ECP Notes under the Offer.

Fees and expenses

In consideration for management services provided to the Company in relation to the Offer, the Company will pay the Lead Manager $100,000 (plus GST).

In addition, the Lead Manager will be paid an application fee of 1.25% (plus GST) of the total proceeds of the Broker Firm Offer raised by the Lead Manager and its associated Brokers from participating Wholesale and Sophisticated Clients and Retail Clients.

The Company has agreed to pay or reimburse the Lead Manager for all reasonable legal costs and expenses incurred by them in connection with the Offer, of up to $2,000 (plus GST and disbursements), as well as other additional out of pocket expenses.

6.5 ECP Trust Deed

ECP will enter into the ECP Trust Deed with Equity Trustees Limited ACN 004 031 298 (as Trustee) on or about the date of this Prospectus. The Trustee has agreed to act as trustee of the assets and rights held on trust for the benefit for itself and the Noteholders pursuant to the terms of the ECP Trust Deed.

The ECP Trust Deed governs the terms and conditions on which the ECP Notes are to be issued and is subject to the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules. Schedule 2 to the ECP Trust Deed contains the ECP Note Terms. The ECP Note Terms are also set out in section 9 of this prospectus.

The following is a summary of the material provisions of the ECP Trust Deed. To obtain a complete understanding of the ECP Trust Deed it is necessary to read it in full. A complete copy of the ECP Trust Deed is available for inspection, without charge, during normal office hours at the registered office of ECP at Level 4, 388 George Street, Sydney, New South Wales 2000 within 7 days after lodgement of this Prospectus.

Legal nature of the ECP Notes

The ECP Trust Deed provides that the ECP Notes:

- (a) constitute separate and independent acknowledgments of the indebtedness of ECP;
- (b) are direct, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of ECP;
- (c) are convertible into Ordinary Shares on and in accordance with the ECP Note Terms;
- (d) confer no rights on Noteholders to participate in the profits or property of ECP, except as set out in the ECP Note Terms and the ECP Trust Deed;

- (e) rank equally and without any preference amongst themselves and at least equally with all other present and future unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of ECP as described in the ECP Note Terms;
- (f) are 'unsecured notes' for the purposes of section 283BH of the Corporations Act; and
- (g) do not carry a right to vote at any general meeting, unless provided for by the Listing Rules or the Corporations Act.

ECP's obligations in relation to the ECP Notes, as constituted by and specified in the ECP Trust Deed, are to the Trustee and to those persons who are registered as Noteholders. Certificates in respect of the ECP Notes will not be issued unless ECP determines that certificates should be made available or are required to be made available by law.

To the extent of any inconsistency between the ECP Note Terms and the ECP Trust Deed, the ECP Note Terms will prevail to the extent permitted by law.

ECP's undertakings

Under the ECP Trust Deed, ECP undertakes that it will among other things:

- (a) comply with the ECP Trust Deed and the ECP Note Terms;
- (b) comply with its reporting obligations to the Trustee, the Noteholders and ASIC under the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules and the ASX Settlement Operating Rules (as applicable);
- (c) carry on and conduct its business in a proper and efficient manner;
- (d) notify the Trustee after it becomes aware of an Event of Default or a breach by ECP of Chapter 2L of the Corporations Act;
- (e) pay all Moneys Owing (as defined in the ECP Trust Deed) to the Noteholders from time to time as and when due in accordance with the ECP Trust Deed and ECP Note Terms;
- (f) provide to the Trustee and to each Noteholder who requests it, a copy of ECP's audited financial statements in respect of each financial year;
- (g) make all of its financial and other records available for inspection by the Trustee, and provide the Trustee, and any auditors appointed by the Trustee to carry out the inspection, any information, explanations or other assistance which they may reasonably require about matters relating to those records;
- (h) promptly give the Trustee copies of all documents and notices given to Noteholders and any annual reports produced;
- (i) use all reasonable endeavours and furnish any documents, information and undertakings as may be reasonably necessary in order to ensure that the ECP Notes are, and until redeemed, converted or purchased by ECP and cancelled, remain, quoted on ASX; and

- (j) do anything reasonably requested by the Trustee to enable the Trustee to comply with its obligations under the ECP Trust Deed, the Corporations Act (or any other laws binding on the Trustee with respect to the ECP Note Trust or the ECP Notes) and the Listing Rules.

Trustee's undertakings

Under the ECP Trust Deed, the Trustee undertakes that it will, among other things:

- (a) fulfil its duties under Chapter 2L of the Corporations Act;
- (b) act honestly and in good faith and comply with all applicable laws in performing its duties and in the exercise of its discretions under the ECP Trust Deed and the ECP Note Terms;
- (c) exercise such diligence and prudence as a person carrying on the business of a professional trustee would exercise in performing its duties and in the exercise of its discretions under the ECP Trust Deed and the ECP Note Terms.

Powers of the Trustee

In addition to those powers arising under law, the Trustee has certain powers and discretions as set out in the ECP Trust Deed, including (subject to certain limitations specified in the ECP Trust Deed) the power:

- (a) to waive any breach or proposed breach (including an Event of Default or other default) by ECP under the ECP Trust Deed or the ECP Note Terms, if in the opinion of the Trustee the interests of the Noteholders will not be materially prejudiced by such waiver;
- (b) to delegate the exercise of any right power, authority or discretion conferred on the Trustee by the ECP Trust Deed or by law; and
- (c) to amend the ECP Trust Deed or the ECP Note Terms by agreement with ECP (depending on circumstances set out in the ECP Trust Deed and the ECP Note Terms, with or without the consent of the Noteholders).

Subject to the Corporations Act and always acting in good faith to the Noteholders, the Trustee and any Related Body Corporate of the Trustee may, among other things, without in any such case being liable to account to any trust, ECP or to any Noteholder, hold ECP Notes and may deal in any capacity with ECP or with any Related Body Corporate of ECP.

Limited liability of the Trustee

The liability of the Trustee is limited in the manner set out in the ECP Trust Deed. The Trustee will not be liable to ECP, a Noteholder or any other person except in the case of the Trustee's fraud, negligence or wilful default. The ECP Trust Deed contains various provisions which, subject to the Corporations Act, entitle the Trustee to make assumptions as to various matters, rely on information, statements and opinions provided to it and exercise various other discretions.

Indemnity of the Trustee

The Trustee will be indemnified for all fees, costs, losses, liabilities, claims, demands, Taxes (as defined in the ECP Trust Deed) and expenses incurred by the Trustee in the execution of the ECP Note Trust, the performance of, or the exercise of any of the powers, rights, authorities or discretions vested in the Trustee under the ECP Trust Deed or the ECP Note Terms, except to the extent that such costs, losses, liabilities, claims, demands, Taxes and expenses arise out of the Trustee's fraud, negligence or wilful default or breach of section 283DA of the Corporations Act, or any Taxes (excluding any GST) imposed on the Trustee's remuneration for its services as trustee.

Enforcement by Trustee

Only the Trustee is entitled to enforce the ECP Trust Deed or the ECP Note Terms, except in the circumstances described below. The Trustee is not required to notify any person of the occurrence of any default or breach of the ECP Trust Deed or the ECP Notes.

Enforcement on direction by Noteholders

The Trustee is only obliged to take action in relation to an Event of Default or to otherwise enforce the ECP Trust Deed or the ECP Note Terms where all the following conditions are met:

- (a) the Trustee has been directed to take that action by a Noteholder Resolution (or, if required by, a Special Resolution) (ignoring any ECP Notes held by or on behalf of ECP and not cancelled);
- (b) the Trustee is indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction;
- (c) such action is permitted under the ECP Trust Deed and the ECP Note Terms;
- (d) the Trustee liability for taking such action is limited in a manner consistent with section 283DC of the Corporations Act; and
- (e) the Trustee is not restricted or prohibited from taking such action by any order of any competent court or any applicable law.

Enforcement by Noteholders

No Noteholder is entitled to commence any action or proceedings directly against ECP to enforce any right, power or remedy under the ECP Note Terms or the ECP Trust Deed unless:

- (a) the Trustee, having become bound to proceed in accordance with the ECP Trust Deed and the ECP Note Terms, fails to do so within 14 days and that failure is continuing; or
- (b) 30 Business Days have lapsed since the date on which one or more Noteholders gave notice to the Trustee that they intend to commence such action or proceedings and the Trustee has not commenced such action or proceedings notwithstanding a request from such Noteholders to do so.

Any such action must be brought in the name of the Noteholders and not the Trustee.

Appointment of Trustee and declaration

The Trustee is appointed to hold on trust for Noteholders:

- (a) the right to enforce ECP's duty to repay the ECP Notes;
- (b) the right to enforce ECP's obligation to pay all other Moneys Owed in respect of the ECP Notes;
- (c) the right to enforce any other duties that ECP has under the ECP Trust Deed, the ECP Note Terms or Chapter 2L of the Corporations Act; and
- (d) any other powers and property which the Trustee may receive or which may be vested in the Trustee.

Each Noteholder (and any person claiming through or under a Noteholder) is bound by, and is taken to have notice of, the ECP Trust Deed and the ECP Note Terms and to have irrevocably authorised the Trustee to enter into the ECP Trust Deed and to exercise its rights under the ECP Trust Deed, the ECP Note Terms and Chapter 2L of the Corporations Act, in its capacity as trustee. It is a condition of receiving any of the rights or benefits under a Note that a Noteholder complies with the ECP Trust Deed and the ECP Note Terms.

Meetings of Noteholders

Subject to the Corporations Act, the Trustee or ECP may at any time convene a meeting of Noteholders. ECP must convene such meeting on receipt of a direction in writing by Noteholders of at least 10% or more of the aggregate Face Value of the ECP Notes then outstanding.

A meeting of Noteholders has the power to:

- (a) by Special Resolution, amongst other things, approve certain amendments to the ECP Note Terms or the ECP Trust Deed or subject to the provisions of the ECP Note Terms and the ECP Trust Deed, give any release or waiver in respect of anything done or omitted to be done by ECP or any breach or default by ECP; and
- (b) by a Noteholder Resolution, give directions to the Trustee to do anything for which a Special Resolution is not required by the ECP Note Terms or the ECP Trust Deed.

A resolution duly passed at a meeting of Noteholders held in accordance with the ECP Trust Deed is binding on all Noteholders whether or not they are present or voting at the meeting. The ECP Trust Deed may also be amended without the approval of Noteholders in certain circumstances, as described in the ECP Note Terms.

Retirement and removal

The Trustee may retire by giving notice to ECP, which will not be effective until the day upon which the appointment of a new Trustee becomes effective. The Trustee may also be removed by ECP in various circumstances. Any removal of the Trustee will only take effect upon the appointment of a new Trustee.

Registrar

The ECP Trust Deed contains arrangements relating to the maintenance of the Register of Noteholders. ECP, the Trustee and the Registrar may treat Noteholders as the absolute beneficial owners of Notes held by them and despite any notice of ownership, trust or interest in the ECP Note.

Copies of the following documents are available for inspection during normal office hours at the registered office of the Company for 13 months after the date of this Prospectus:

7 ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

7.1 Offer subject to Shareholder Approval

The Offer is conditional on ECP obtaining Shareholder Approval under Listing Rule 7.1.

Listing Rule 7.1 prohibits, subject to certain exceptions, a company from issuing or agreeing to issue equity securities that would represent more than 15% of the company's ordinary securities on issue 12 months prior to the date of issue (or agreement to issue) of such securities, without prior approval of a company's shareholders (Listing Rule 7.1 Capacity).

As the Ordinary Shares that may be issued on conversion of the ECP Notes to be offered under the Offer would exceed ECP's Listing Rule 7.1 Capacity, Shareholder Approval is required to be obtained prior to the issue of the ECP Notes.

If Shareholder Approval is granted, the issue of the ECP Notes will be excluded from ECP's Listing Rule 7.1 Capacity. This will provide ECP with flexibility to issue further securities in the next 12 months, if the Board considers it is in the interests of the Company and its Shareholders to do so.

Shareholder Approval will be sought at an extraordinary general meeting of Shareholders. The notice of meeting will be despatched to Shareholders on or about 4 March 2022.

If Shareholder Approval is not obtained, ECP will not proceed with the Offer, no ECP Notes will be issued and Application Monies will be returned to Applicants without interest.

Shareholder Approval will also be sought under Listing Rule 10.11 to enable the Directors to acquire ECP Notes under the Offer. The Directors' participation in the Offer is subject to such approval being obtained.

7.2 No breaches of loan covenants or debt obligations

ECP has not breached any loan covenants or capital market debt obligations in the two years prior to the date of this Prospectus.

7.3 Compliance with chapter 2M and section 674 of the Corporations Act

As at the date of this Prospectus, ECP has complied with the provisions of Chapter 2M of the Corporations Act as they apply to ECP and with section 674 of the Corporations Act.

7.4 Continuous reporting and disclosure obligations

This Prospectus is a transaction specific prospectus issued by ECP in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Corporations Act for a prospectus for continuously quoted securities. It has been prepared in accordance with section 713 of the Corporations Act and ASIC Corporations (Offers of Convertibles) Instrument 2016/83.

In general terms, a transaction specific prospectus is only required to contain information about the effect of the issue of securities on a company and the rights attaching to the securities. It is not necessary to include general information about all of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses or prospects of the issuing company.

The Company is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations because it is a 'disclosing entity' for the purposes of the Corporations Act. Additionally, as a listed company, ECP Emerging Growth is subject to the Listing Rules which require disclosure to ASX of any information the Company has which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of its Shares.

Section 713 of the Corporations Act (as modified by ASIC Corporations (Offers of Convertibles) Instrument 2016/83) enables a company to issue a transaction specific prospectus where the securities offered are continuously quoted securities (within the meaning of that term in the Corporations Act) or securities convertible into continuously quoted securities. This generally means that the relevant securities are in a class of securities that were quoted enhanced disclosure securities at all times during the 3 months before the date of the prospectus and that, during the 12 months before the date of the prospectus, the issuing company was not exempted from the continuous disclosure regime and disclosing entity requirements provided for under the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules.

The content requirements for a transaction specific prospectus under Section 713 of the Corporations Act require that the prospectus contain:

- (a) information regarding the effect of the Offer on ECP;
- (b) information regarding the rights and liabilities attaching to the ECP Notes and the Ordinary Shares (underlying securities that the ECP Notes may be converted into);
- (c) statements detailing that, as a disclosing entity, ECP is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations, and that copies of documents lodged with ASIC in relation to ECP may be obtained from, or inspected at, an ASIC office; and
- (d) a statement informing people of their right to obtain a copy of certain financial documents and continuous disclosure notices, and noting that copies will be provided free of charge if requested during the application period for the prospectus.

ECP believes, after having made reasonable enquiry, that it has complied in full with, and has not been exempted from, the general and specific requirements of ASX (as applicable throughout the 12-month period prior to the date of this Prospectus) which required the Company to notify ASX of information about specified events or matters as they arise for the purpose of the ASX making that information available to the stock market conducted by ASX.

To meet the specific disclosure requirements for a transaction specific prospectus set out in section 713(5) of the Corporations Act, the prospectus must also incorporate information if such information:

- (a) has been excluded from a continuous disclosure notice in accordance with the Listing Rules; and
- (b) is information that investors and their professional advisors would reasonably require for the purpose of making an informed assessment of:
 - (i) the assets and liabilities, financial position and performance, profits and losses and prospects of the body; and
 - (ii) the rights and liabilities attaching to the securities being offered.

The prospectus must contain this information only to the extent to which it is reasonable for investors and their professional advisors to expect to find such information in the prospectus.

In addition, ECP has committed to publish on its website at the end of each quarter, a copy of each 283BF Report (as soon as practicable after providing to the Trustee) and the LTV Ratio and the Conversion Price in respect of the ECP Notes.

Copies of ASX announcements are available on the ASX website or the Company's website at www.ecpam.com/emerging.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of these clauses, if the Issuer, any agent, or any other person through whom payments on the Notes are made, is required to withhold or deduct amounts under or in connection with applicable law, the Issuer or that other person will be permitted to make such withholding or deduction, and the Noteholders and beneficial owners of Notes will not be entitled to receive any gross up, additional amount or other amount for such withholding or deduction had payment been made on the due date.
