ASX Code - FRE

Firebrick Pharma listed on the ASX on 28 January 2022 – with a bang. We listed at a price of 20 cents per share but opened much higher and closed above 60 cents on the first day of trading, with an extraordinary 16 million shares traded on the opening day. By the close of the fifth day of trading, our share price was 59.5 cents – nearly 3 times the IPO price – and a total of 52 million shares had changed hands. Clearly, we underestimated the broad appeal of the Firebrick story.

As expected, our share price and trading volume have come back to earth over the last several months, but I am pleased to say that the share price has continued to trade above our IPO price, which must be considered a meritorious achievement given the fact that most ASX healthcare companies have seen their market values decline significantly over the same period.

On behalf of the Firebrick Board, I want to thank all those investors who have come onboard since our ASX listing. I can assure you that our journey together has just began and sincerely hope that you will stay with us for what I believe will be an exciting and rewarding journey ahead. I also would like to thank those investors who supported Firebrick during our earlier life as a private company. Without your faith, funding and support over the years, Firebrick would not be in its current position.

And that position is strong. We are well-resourced, with adequate funding to see us beyond the end of the FY23 financial year based on our current budgetary expectations. We have already started the two clinical trials that we telegraphed as key goals for the Company in the listing prospectus: A Phase 2 trial of Nasodine® Nasal Spray ("Nasodine") in the management of COVID-19, and a confirmatory Phase 3 trial in the treatment of the common cold.

I can assure you that launching and managing late-stage clinical trials is a huge undertaking, and we have launched two of them in the last six months. The trials are 'blinded' so we will not be able to report results until recruitment has been completed and the results analysed.

In the meantime, we are appealing TGA's decision not to approve Nasodine based on the first Phase 3 common cold study which was completed in 2019. By way of background, that study showed that Nasodine had a consistent and positive clinical effect and that the benefit on 'overall cold severity' – a well-validated measure – was statistically significant in people with stronger colds, those with PCR-confirmed viral infections, and those who started treatment within 24 hours after onset of cold symptoms. However, the trial did not demonstrate a statistically significant benefit on nasal symptoms alone, which (for various reasons) we chose as the primary endpoint for the trial.

Given that TGA has acknowledged that Nasodine is safe and meets all their stringent manufacturing and quality requirements, we continue to believe that Nasodine should be approved immediately, without the need to wait for a new submission following the results of a second Phase 3 trial. To that end we have appealed to the AAT (Administrative Appeals Tribunal) for an independent adjudication. The timeline for a result from the AAT process remains fluid, but rest assured we will keep the market informed of all material developments.

One way or another we remain confident that Nasodine will be approved in Australia, either in the near term from the appeal process, or in the medium term through a resubmission to TGA following the current Phase 3 trial. Once approved, our market research indicates that Nasodine will be enthusiastically adopted by doctors, pharmacists and consumers as a new breakthrough treatment for the common cold.

REVIEW OF OPERATIONS

Successful ASX listing

On 18 October 2021 at the Company's Annual General Meeting, shareholders approved the undertaking of a 3:1 share split in anticipation of an ASX (Australian Securities Exchange) listing at a price of $0.20 per share. The split subsequently took place on 2 November 2021.

On 21 October 2021, following the announcement of the Board's intention to proceed to the ASX listing, the Company received $2.18 million from the exercise of 4,355,000 Series D Options. Then on 28 October 2021, the Company completed the placement of the shortfall from the Series D Option exercise, bringing the total cash injection from the Series D Option exercise to approximately $3.6 million.

On 26 November 2021, Firebrick lodged its Prospectus with ASIC pursuant to the listing on the ASX, and successfully raised the maximum amount of $7 million. Then on 28 January 2022, the Company completed its ASX listing and commenced trading on the Australian Securities Exchange under the ASX code of "FRE".

The Prospectus had telegraphed the Company's intention to undertake two key clinical trials during calendar 2022: (1) a confirmatory Phase 3 common cold clinical trial to aid international registrations of Nasodine Nasal Spray ("Nasodine") and (2) a Phase 2 proof-of-concept clinical trial for Nasodine in COVID-19. The progress with these key outcomes is described below.

Phase 2 Clinical Trial in COVID-19

On 1 February 2022, Firebrick announced that the Phase 2 trial in COVID-19 patients in South Africa had received approval to proceed from the South African Health Products Regulatory Authority (SAHPRA). It was not until 26 April 2022, when the fifth wave of COVID-19 started in South Africa, that the first patient was recruited.

The study is a randomised, placebo-controlled Phase 2 trial, titled: "Reduction of nasal shedding of SARS-CoV-2 in COVID-19 positive patients by the use of Nasodine® (povidone-iodine 0.5%) Nasal Spray."

The trial is scheduled to recruit up to 210 adults who are COVID-positive by Rapid Antigen Test (RAT) to achieve a target primary endpoint population of 144 subjects who will be confirmed by viral culture to be shedding SARS-CoV-2 virus.

In 2021, Firebrick Pharma sponsored a pilot human study that showed that a single Nasodine dose (4 sprays per nostril, 1.12 mL per dose) led to an overall 79% reduction in viral shedding at one hour after the dose in six COVID-19 patients who were shedding the virus from the nose. The current trial significantly extends that research by undertaking a multi-dose, placebo-controlled, Phase 2 trial looking at impact on viral load and other outcomes over several days.

The primary aim of the trial will be to show that frequent Nasodine application (every 2 hours, up to eight-times-daily) over three days leads to a significant reduction in nasal shedding of SARS-CoV-2 virus, compared with a placebo nasal spray. Secondary aims will include whether Nasodine treatment (compared with placebo) reduces the number of days to a negative RAT and increases the percentage of subjects who have cleared the virus from the upper respiratory tract within 5 days, based on a combined throat and nasal swab.

The fifth wave of COVID-19 in South Africa was shallower than expected and ended in mid-June, at which time recruitment was paused pending the next wave, which was expected to start in August. In the meantime, the pause gave the South African sites the opportunity to focus on recruiting for the Company's Phase 3 common cold study. The company expects to provide a comprehensive recruitment update before the end of the calendar year.

Phase 3 Clinical Trial for the Common Cold

On 3 May 2022, the Phase 3 common cold trial started with the first patient recruited at the CMAX recruitment site in Adelaide. The Phase 3 trial is a double-blinded, randomised, placebo-controlled Phase 3 trial, titled: "Confirmatory Phase III study of Nasodine Nasal Spray (povidone-iodine 0.5%) as a symptomatic treatment for early stage common cold in the natural setting."

The trial is the Company's second Phase 3 study of Nasodine in the treatment of the common cold and is intended primarily to support international regulatory approvals. However, if the Australian appeal (see below) is unsuccessful, it may also be used to support approval in Australia.

The primary endpoint of the trial will be the impact of Nasodine treatment (3 sprays per nostril, 4 times daily for 5 days) on overall cold severity in the viral-infected population. Overall cold severity will be measured using the Global Severity Score (GSS) from the WURSS-21 cold severity survey. This is the same endpoint that showed a positive result for Nasodine in the first Phase 3 study.

The trial is targeted to recruit up to 450 adult subjects with early cold symptoms to achieve a target treatment population of 196 subjects who are confirmed by PCR to have a viral cold. Any subjects shown by PCR testing to have SARS-CoV-2 infection (COVID-19) will be excluded from the primary endpoint population but retained in the overall study population for some secondary endpoints. The trial is a multi-centre international study, with recruitment expected at three sites in Australia (Adelaide, Geelong, Ballarat) and two sites in South Africa.

There is no doubt that the current heightened awareness and concern about upper respiratory symptoms and the potential for it to be COVID-19, has made it more difficult to recruit symptomatic subjects for a common cold clinical trial. This has constrained early recruitment to this trial in some sites, but trial recruitment is now advancing satisfactorily. The company expects to provide a comprehensive recruitment update before the end of the calendar year.

Appeal against TGA Decision on Nasodine

The Prospectus indicated that Firebrick would consider appealing TGA's expected initial decision not to approve Nasodine in Australia based on the first Phase 3 trial.

The basis for TGA's initial decision was that despite having no concerns with the quality or safety of Nasodine, the TGA remained unconvinced about the efficacy based on the first Phase 3 trial not meeting its primary endpoint.

However, Firebrick maintained that Nasodine did demonstrate statistical significance in reducing overall cold severity – a validated clinical endpoint – in people with stronger cold symptoms, who started treatment within 24 hours of symptom onset, and those with a confirmed viral infection; Firebrick believed that this should be adequate to support the approval of Nasodine as a new treatment for the common cold, especially given it would be the only available treatment that targets the viral cause of colds.

On 1 March, having received the letter from TGA confirming the agency's decision not to approve Nasodine, the Company announced that it would proceed with an appeal against the decision. The first step was an appeal under section 60 of the Therapeutic Goods Act seeking reconsideration of a decision by the TGA. The section 60 appeal was filed in early May and the outcome reported to the market on 7 July 2022. That outcome was a confirmation of the initial decision by the TGA. The next available step was an appeal to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) for an independent review of TGA's decision. The Company filed the application with AAT in early August 2022. The AAT process will allow Firebrick to present its position to an independent tribunal, including presentation of new data that might become available from the second Phase 3 trial. The AAT process does not have a fixed timetable and the Company will report key outcomes as they occur.

Patents

On 17 February 2022, the Company announced that its patent application covering the use of Nasodine in the management of COVID-19 had been granted in the US. Subsequently, on 25 May 2022, the Company announced that its patent covering the use of Nasodine for the common cold had been granted in Malaysia, bringing the number of countries where the patent had been granted to 26*:

Australia	Great Britain	Portugal
Austria	Greece	Sweden
Belgium	Hong Kong	Turkey
Switzerland	Hungary	Malaysia
Germany	Ireland	New Zealand
Denmark	Italy	Philippines
Spain	Netherlands	South Africa
Finland	Norway	United States
France	Poland

*The patent is still pending in Canada, Japan and Singapore.

The patent, which expires in most countries in 2035, is titled: "Treatment and prevention of the common cold using povidone-iodine," and protects the intranasal use of povidone-iodine (in any form) for the treatment or prevention of the common cold. Granted claims include treating and preventing colds, as well as reducing the viral load of common cold viruses, prevention of secondary complications of colds, such as bronchitis, otitis media and sinusitis, and reducing the risk of more serious complications in at-risk population.

New Director

On 25 May 2022, the Company was pleased to announce the appointment of Dr Richard Treagus as a non-executive director on the Firebrick board of directors, with effect from 1 June 2022.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS, PROSPECTS AND BUSINESS STRATEGIES

Having recently listed on the ASX, the Company is at the beginning of its journey towards achieving long-term shareholder value growth, most of which is likely to occur after Nasodine is approved in Australia and sales commence. Market research indicates that the prospects for Nasodine in Australia are excellent. Currently, the Company has adequate funding to meet its operational needs up to the approval of Nasodine in Australia. Once approved in Australia, Nasodine is expected to be rolled out commercially through distribution partners in all major markets.

4. Group performance and shareholder wealth

As the Group has not yet commenced product sales the Board does not consider the Group's earnings, or earnings-related measures to be an appropriate key performance indicator (KPI). In considering the relationship between the Group's remuneration policy and the consequences for the Group's shareholder wealth, changes in share price are analysed as well as measures such as successful completion of business development, clinical and corporate activities.

Group Performance

The table below shows the performance of the Group over the last 5 reporting periods:

Financial Year	30 June 22	30 June 21	30 June 20	30 June 19	30 June 18

5. Non-executive Director fee arrangements

The Board policy is to remunerate Non-executive Directors at a level to comparable companies for time, commitment, and responsibilities. Directors' fees cover all main Board activities, and Non-executive Directors may receive additional remuneration for other services (including being a member of any separate Board committee) provided to the Group. The Board has not established retirement or redundancy schemes in relation to Non-executive Directors.

All Non-executive Directors enter into a service agreement with the Company in the form of a Letter of Appointment. The letter summarises the board policies and terms, including remuneration, relevant to the office of director.

The maximum aggregate amount of fees that can be paid to Non-executive Directors is presently limited to an aggregate of $200,000 per annum and any change is subject to approval by shareholders at the General Meeting.

Fees for Non-executive Directors are not linked to the performance of the Group, however, to align Directors' interests with shareholder interests, the Directors are encouraged to hold shares in the Company. Non-executive Directors may also receive equity-based compensation in the form of shares or options.

Total fees for the Non-executive Directors for the financial year were $35,000 (2021: Nil).

9. Other transactions and balances with KMP and their related parties

Transactions with related parties are entered into on terms equivalent to those that prevail in arm's length transactions.

The Group had the following transactions with members of the Group's key management personnel and/or their related parties during the year.

Referral arrangements

The Company entered into an agreement dated 1 July 2018 with FFD LLC ("FFD"), a private US entity owned by Drs Peter Kash and Linda Friedland to make introductions to prospective distribution partners ("FFD Agreement"). Peter Kash is a former director of the Company and Linda Friedland is a consultant to the Company.

The term of the FFD Agreement was four years, which expired on 1 July 2022 for FFD to complete all introductions, although the opportunity to exclusively make introductions on behalf of the Company expired on 1 July 2021. The FFD Agreement does not contain any renewal provisions.

Under the FFD Agreement, FFD makes introductions to prospective distribution partners, outside Australia and New Zealand in relation to Nasodine branded products, in return for a share of the Company's net revenues ("FFD Fees") from firm agreements arising from those introductions. The FFD Fees are 10% of net revenues earned by the Company from a distribution partner where the Company has a granted patent, or 20% where there is no granted patent.

Relevant granted patents currently exist in US, Europe, South Africa, Philippines and Hong Kong. For calculating the FFD Fees, where applicable, revenues are net of a range of deductions for costs incurred by the Company, including cooperative advertising, local marketing expenses, registration costs, taxes, freight, insurance, duties and other importation costs, any bonus stock, rebates, discounts, reimbursements or other payments made to a distribution partner or to wholesalers or retailers in the country that are related to generating the revenues in the country.

The Company's obligation to pay FFD Fees on an introduced distribution partner continues beyond the term of the FFD Agreement for the life of the distribution partnership. The Company has no obligation to pay FFD Fees on any distribution partners not introduced directly by FFD and the Company has no obligation to use FFD introductions as distribution partners in any country. As at 30 June 2022, FFD had made introductions to parties in a number of countries, but only two introductions (SV More and AICC) had resulted in binding agreements, in both cases in countries where the Company holds granted patents (South Africa and Philippines respectively); the Company considers that some of the other introductions are unlikely to proceed to binding agreements. The Board believes that the agreement with FFD has been valuable in accelerating the internationally partnering of the Company at no material cost to the Company and earlier than if the Company had waited until after the launch of Nasodine in Australia.

Offer Participation

Pursuant to the Offer of up to 35 million shares on the terms set out in the Prospectus lodged with ASIC on 26 November 2021 and as at 31 December 2021, Dr Peter Molloy (on behalf of family members) applied for 400,000 Offer Shares with a value of $80,000 and Dr Stephen Goodall (on behalf of family members) applied for 100,000 Offer Shares with a value of $20,000. The related parties of Dr Molloy and Dr Goodall were issued the number of shares applied for on 18 January 2022.

10. Voting of shareholders at last year's annual general meeting

30 June 2022 is the first year the Company has presented a Remuneration Report. The Company did not receive any specific feedback at the 2021 AGM regarding its remuneration practices.

The above Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows should be read in conjunction with the accompanying notes

These consolidated financial statements cover Firebrick Pharma Limited ("Company" or "Firebrick") and its controlled entities as a consolidated entity (also referred to as Group). Firebrick Pharma Limited is a company limited by shares, incorporated and domiciled in Australia. The Company is a for-profit entity.

The financial statements were issued on 23 August 2022 by the directors of the Company.

The following is a summary of the material accounting policies adopted by the Group in the preparation and presentation of the financial report. The accounting policies have been consistently applied, unless otherwise stated.

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Statement of Compliance

These financial statements are general purpose financial statements which have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards (AASBs) (including Australian interpretations) adopted by the Australian Accounting Standard Board (AASB) and the Corporations Act 2001.

Australian Accounting Standards set out accounting policies that the Australian Accounting Standards Board has concluded would result in financial statements containing relevant and reliable information about transactions, events and conditions. Compliance with Australian Accounting Standards ensures that the financial statements and notes also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards.

b) Basis of preparation of the financial report

Historical Cost Convention

The financial report has been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by revaluations to fair value for certain classes of assets as described in the accounting policies.

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the company's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements are disclosed in note 1(v).

c) Adoption of New and Amended Accounting Standards

The Group has reviewed all of the new and revised Standards and Interpretations issued by the AASB that are relevant to its operations and effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 July 2021. It has been determined by the Group that there is no impact, material or otherwise, of the new and revised standards and interpretations on its business and therefore no change is necessary to Company accounting policies. No retrospective changes in accounting policy or material reclassification has occurred during the year.

d) Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of the Group and its subsidiaries as at 30 June 2022. Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Specifically, the Group controls an investee if and only if the Group has:

- Power over the investee (i.e. existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee);
- Exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and
- The ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

- The contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee,
- Rights arising from other contractual arrangements,
- The Group's voting rights and potential voting rights.

The Group re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Group gains control until the date the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income (OCI) are attributed to the equity holders of the parent of the Group and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

A change in ownership interest of a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction. If the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it:

- De-recognises the assets (including goodwill) and liabilities of the subsidiary
- De-recognises the carrying amount of any non-controlling interests
- De-recognises the cumulative translation differences recorded in equity
- Recognises the fair value of the consideration received
- Recognises the fair value of any investments retained
- Recognises any surplus or deficit in profit and loss
- Reclassifies the parent's share of components previously recognised in OCI to profit or loss or retained earnings, as appropriate, as would be required if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

e) Revenue and Other Income

Revenue is measured at the transaction price agreed.

Interest revenue is brought to account on an accruals basis using the effective interest rate method and, if not received at the end of the reporting period, is reflected in the statement of financial position as a receivable.

Research and Development (R&D) Tax Incentive

R&D tax incentives from the government are recognised when received or when the right to receive payment is established.

f) Income Tax

Current income tax expense charged to profit or loss is the tax payable on taxable income calculated using applicable income tax rates enacted, or substantially enacted, as at reporting date. Current tax liabilities (assets) are therefore measured at the amounts expected to be paid to (recovered from) the relevant taxation authority.

Deferred income tax expense reflects movements in deferred tax asset and deferred tax liability balances during the year as well as unused tax losses.

Current and deferred income tax expense (income) is charged or credited directly to equity instead of profit or loss when the tax relates to items that are credited or charged directly to equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are ascertained based on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets also result where amounts have been fully expensed but future tax deductions are available. No deferred income tax will be recognised from the initial recognition of an asset or liability, excluding a business combination, where there is no effect on accounting or taxable profit or loss.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at reporting date. Their measurement also reflects the manner in which management expects to recover or settle the carrying amount of the related asset or liability.

Deferred tax assets relating to temporary differences and unused tax losses are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the benefits of the deferred tax asset can be utilised.

Where temporary differences exist in relation to investments in subsidiaries, branches, associates, and joint ventures, deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is not probable that the reversal will occur in the foreseeable future.

Current tax assets and liabilities are offset where a legally enforceable right of set-off exists and it is intended that net settlement or simultaneous realisation and settlement of the respective asset and liability will occur. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset where a legally enforceable right of set-off exists, the deferred tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities where it is intended that net settlement or simultaneous realisation and settlement of the respective asset and liability will occur in future periods in which significant amounts of deferred tax assets or liabilities are expected to be recovered or settled.

g) Financial Instruments*Classification*

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through OCI, or through profit or loss), and
- those to be measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on how the Company manages the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows. At year end, all of the Group's financial assets have been classified as those to be measured at amortised cost.

Measurement

At initial recognition, the Company measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss (FVPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at FVPL are expensed in profit or loss.

Impairment

The Company assesses expected credit losses associated with its financial assets measured at amortised cost and those measured at fair value through OCI. For trade receivables, the Company applies the simplified approach permitted by AASB 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables.

h) Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Directors assesses whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. The assessment will include the consideration of external and internal sources of information.

If any such indication exists, an impairment test is carried out on the asset by comparing the asset's recoverable amount, being the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and its value in use, to the asset's carrying amount. Any excess of the asset's carrying amount over its recoverable amount is recognised immediately in profit or loss. Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs.

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)i) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits available on demand with banks with original maturity of three months or less.

j) Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables and other receivables, including distribution receivables, are recognised at the nominal transaction value without taking into account the time value of money.

k) Inventory

Raw materials are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises direct materials. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

l) Plant and Equipment

Plant and equipment is carried at cost. All assets are depreciated over their useful lives to the Group.

The carrying amount of plant and equipment is reviewed annually by Directors to ensure it is not in excess of what is recoverable from these assets. The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of the expected net cash flows that will be received from the assets' employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have not been discounted in determining recoverable amounts.

m) Depreciation

Depreciation is a systematic allocation of the depreciable amount of an asset over its useful life. The depreciable amount is the cost of the asset, less its residual value.

An asset is depreciated from the date it is ready for use, meaning the date it reaches the location and condition required for it to operate in the manner intended by management.

Depreciation is recognised in profit or loss on a diminishing value basis over the estimated useful lives of each part of the fixed asset item, since this most closely reflects the expected pattern of consumption of the future economic benefits embodied in the assets.

The estimated useful lives for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

- Computers – 3 years
- Laboratory equipment – 3 – 7 years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted if appropriate.

n) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses, and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Tax Office (ATO). In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of GST. The net amount of GST receivable from or payable to the ATO is included within other receivables or other payables in the statement of financial position.

Cash flows are presented in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis, except for the GST component of investing and financing activities, which are disclosed as operating cash flows.

o) Trade and other payables

Liabilities for trade creditors and other amounts carried at cost which is the fair value of the consideration to be paid in the future for good and services received, whether or not billed to the Company.

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)p) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured. Provisions are measured using the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.

q) Employee BenefitsShort term employee benefits

Liabilities for wages and salaries and annual leave expected to be settled wholly within 12 months of the reporting date are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

Defined contribution superannuation expense

Contributions to defined contribution superannuation plans are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

Equity-settled compensation

The Group operates an employee share and option plan. Share-based payments to employees are measured at the fair value of the instruments issued and amortised over the vesting periods. The number of share options expected to vest is reviewed and adjusted at the end of each reporting period such that the amount recognised for services received as consideration for the equity instruments granted is based on the number of equity instruments that eventually vest. The fair value is determined using Black Scholes simulation model.

r) Borrowings

Borrowings are initially recognised at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost. Borrowings are removed from the statement of financial position when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

s) Equity and reserves

Share capital represents the fair value of shares that have been issued. Any transaction costs associated with the issuing of shares are deducted from share capital, net of any related income tax benefits. The option reserve records the value of share-based payments.

t) Share Based Payments

Share-based payments, other than to employees as equity settled compensation, are measured at the fair value of goods or services received or the fair value of the equity instruments issued, if it is determined the fair value of the goods or services cannot be reliably measured, and are recorded at the date the goods or services are received. The fair value of options is calculated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The number of shares and options expected to vest is reviewed and adjusted at the end of each reporting period such that the amount recognised for services received as consideration for the equity instruments granted is based on the number of equity instruments that eventually vest.

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)u) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- the profit attributable to members of the Company, excluding any costs of servicing equity other than ordinary shares
- by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the financial year.

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential ordinary shares; and
- the weighted average number of additional ordinary shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential ordinary shares.

v) Research and Development Expense

Research and development costs that do not meet the criteria of an intangible asset are expensed as incurred.

w) Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgements

The directors evaluate estimates and judgements incorporated into the consolidated financial statements based on historical knowledge and best available current information. Estimates assume a reasonable expectation of future events and are based on current trends and economic data, obtained both externally and within the Company.

Key Estimates and judgementsR&D Tax Rebate

The Company has registered its research and development activities with the Department of Industry, Innovation and Science. Therefore, the Company is entitled to claim a tax incentive each year based on eligible research and development costs it incurs. Based on successful claims in previous years, the Company expects that it will receive the amount calculated.

Share based payments

Share based payments are measured at the fair value of the instruments issued and amortised over the vesting periods. The fair value of options is calculated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The number of options expected to vest is reviewed and adjusted at the end of each reporting period based on the number of equity instruments that may eventually vest. The corresponding amount for options recorded to the options reserve. Details of share-based payment assumptions can be found on at Note 16.

Capital Management

Due to the nature of the Group's activities, the Group does not have ready access to credit facilities, with the primary source of funding being equity raisings. Therefore, the focus of the Group's capital risk management is the current working capital position against the requirements of the Group to meet due diligence programs and corporate overheads. The Group's strategy is to ensure appropriate liquidity is maintained to meet anticipated operating requirements, with a view to initiating appropriate capital raisings as required. Any surplus funds are held with major financial institutions.

NOTE 17: OPERATING SEGMENTS
Segment Information
Identification of reportable segments

The Group has identified its operating segments based on the internal reports that are reviewed and used by the Board of Directors (the chief operating decision makers) in assessing performance and in determining the allocation of resources. The financial information presented to the chief operating decision maker is consistent with that presented in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of financial position and consolidated statement of cash flows.

NOTE 18: FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial Risk Management Policies

The Group's financial instruments consist mainly of deposits with banks, trade and other debtors, and trade and other payables.

Specific Financial Risk Exposures and Management

The main risks the Group is exposed to through its financial instruments are market risk (including fair value and interest rate risk) and cash flow interest rate risk, credit risk and liquidity risk.

(a) Interest Rate Risk

From time to time the Group has significant interest bearing assets, but they are as a result of the timing of equity raising and capital expenditure rather than a reliance on interest income. The interest rate risk arises on the rise and fall of interest rates. The Group's income and operating cash flows are not expected to be materially exposed to changes in market interest rates in the future. The exposure to interest rates arises from cash and cash equivalents.

The Company's exposure to interest rate risk, which is the risk that a financial instrument's value will fluctuate as a result of changes in market interest rates and the effective weighted average interest rates on classes of financial assets and financial liabilities, is not considered to be material.

(b) Credit risk

The maximum exposure to credit risk is limited to the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the consolidated statement of financial position and consolidated notes to the financial statements.

Credit risk relates to balances with banks and other financial institutions and trade and other receivables, and is managed by the Company in accordance with approved Board policy. The following table provides information regarding the credit risk relating to cash and cash equivalents based on Standard and Poor's counterparty credit ratings.

	Note	30 June 2022	30 June 2021
Cash and cash equivalents – AA Rated	7a	7,142,900	1,151,751
Trade and other receivables – AAA rated	8	1,081,624	503,136
		8,224,524	1,654,887

(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the possibility that the Group might encounter difficulty in settling its debts or otherwise meeting its obligations related to financial liabilities. The Group's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Group's reputation.

The Group manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows.

The following are the contractual maturities of financial liabilities based on the actual rates at the reporting date excluding interest payments:

2022	Interest rate	Less than 6 months	6-12 months	1-2 years	2-5 years	Over 5 years	Total contractual cash flows	Carrying amount
Financial liabilities at amortised cost
Trade and other payables	-	334,027	-	-	-	-	334,027	334,027
		334,027	-	-	-	-	334,027	334,027

NOTE 18: FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (CONTINUED)

2021	Interest rate	Less than 6 months	6-12 months	1-2 years	2-5 years	Over 5 years	Total contractual cash flows	Carrying amount
		$	$	$	$	$	$	$
Financial liabilities at amortised cost
Trade and other payables	-	138,700	-	-	-	-	138,700	138,700
		138,700	-	-	-	-	138,700	138,700

(d) Net fair Value of financial assets and liabilities
Fair value estimation

Due to the short term nature of the receivables and payables the carrying value approximates fair value.

NOTE 19: COMMITMENTS

The Group has a commitment in respect of a supply agreement with one of its vendors. The vendor has customised a tool for Nasodine bottle production for which the Group has not been charged at 30 June 2022. The cost of the tool is to be amortised at a rate of $0.06 per bottle over the first one million bottles supplied.

There are no other commitments as at the end of the reporting period (2021: nil).

NOTE 20: CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

A liability exists with respect to the Group's future obligations to FFD LLC ("FFD") as described at Note 23.

The Directors are not aware of any other contingent liabilities at the end of the reporting period (2021: nil).

NOTE 21: CONTROLLED ENTITY CONSOLIDATED

Controlled Entity	Country of Incorporation	Percentage owned
		30 June 2022	30 June 2021
Anti-Viral Innovations Pty Ltd	Australia	100%	100%

Anti-Viral Innovations Pty Ltd is a dormant company with no operations for both 2022 and 2021.

NOTE 22: PARENT ENTITY FINANCIAL INFORMATION

As the Company's subsidiary is dormant the Parent Entity's financial information is consistent with that presented in this consolidated financial report.

NOTE 23: RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The following related party transactions have been entered into as of 30 June 2022:

Referral arrangements

The Company entered into an agreement dated 1 July 2018 with FFD LLC ("FFD"), a private US entity owned by Drs Peter Kash and Linda Friedland to make introductions to prospective distribution partners ("FFD Agreement"). Peter Kash is a former director of the Company and Linda Friedland is a consultant to the Company.

The term of the FFD Agreement was four years, which expired on 1 July 2022 for FFD to complete all introductions, although the opportunity to exclusively make introductions on behalf of the Company expired on 1 July 2021. The FFD Agreement does not contain any renewal provisions.

Under the FFD Agreement, FFD makes introductions to prospective distribution partners, outside Australia and New Zealand in relation to Nasodine branded products, in return for a share of the Company's net revenues ("FFD Fees") from firm agreements arising from those introductions. The FFD Fees are 10% of net revenues earned by the Company from a distribution partner where the Company has a granted patent, or 20% where there is no granted patent.

Relevant granted patents currently exist in US, Europe, South Africa, Philippines and Hong Kong. For calculating the FFD Fees, where applicable, revenues are net of a range of deductions for costs incurred by the Company, including cooperative advertising, local marketing expenses, registration costs, taxes, freight, insurance, duties and other importation costs, any bonus stock, rebates, discounts, reimbursements or other payments made to a distribution partner or to wholesalers or retailers in the country that are related to generating the revenues in the country.

The Company's obligation to pay FFD Fees on an introduced distribution partner continues beyond the term of the FFD Agreement for the life of the distribution partnership. The Company has no obligation to pay FFD Fees on any distribution partners not introduced directly by FFD and the Company has no obligation to use FFD introductions as distribution partners in any country. As at 31 December 2021, FFD had made introductions to parties in a number of countries, but only two introductions (SV More and AICC) had resulted in binding agreements, in both cases in countries where the Company holds granted patents (South Africa and Philippines respectively); the Company considers that some of the other introductions are unlikely to proceed to binding agreements. The Board believes that the agreement with FFD has been valuable in accelerating the internationally partnering of the Company at no material cost to the Company and earlier than if the Company had waited until after the launch of Nasodine in Australia.

Offer Participation

Pursuant to the Offer of up to 35 million shares on the terms set out in the Prospectus lodged with ASIC on 26 November 2021, Dr Peter Molloy (on behalf of family members) applied for 400,000 Offer Shares with a value of $80,000 and Dr Stephen Goodall (on behalf of family members) applied for 100,000 Offer Shares with a value of $20,000. The related parties of Dr Molloy and Dr Goodall were issued the number of shares applied for on 18 January 2022.

NOTE 24: EVENTS SUBSEQUENT TO REPORTING DATE

On 07 July 2022 the Group announced the outcome of the S60 appeal decision for Nasodine, which was a confirmation of the TGA's initial decision.

On 3 August 2022 the Group announced that 360,000 options exercisable at $0.0067 on or before 30 April 2024 were exercised and converted to Ordinary Shares.

There have been no other material events or circumstances that have arisen since the date of this report.

In the Director's opinion:

1. The consolidated financial statements and notes set out on pages 19 to 40 are in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:
 - a) complying with Australian Accounting Standards, Corporations Regulations 2001 and other mandatory professional reporting requirements,
 - b) giving a true and fair view, the consolidated Company's financial position as at 30 June 2022 and of its performance for the year ended on that date; and
2. There are reasonable grounds to believe that the Company will be able to pay its debts as and when they become due and payable.
