ASX Announcement | 18 April 2023
DomaCom Limited (ASX: DCL)

Broad-based growth takes DomaCom's funds under management above $200 million

Highlights

- Funds under management (FUM) in the DomaCom Fund exceeds $200 million.
- DomaCom's FUM has jumped by nearly 80% over the past 12 months.
- This broad-based FUM increase was sourced from a number of advisory groups and spread across a range of asset classes.

DomaCom Limited (ASX:DCL) ('DomaCom' or 'Company'), is pleased to announce that funds under management (FUM) in the DomaCom Fund now exceeds $200 million.

FUM uplift sourced from multiple clients and market segments

FUM in the DomaCom Fund has pushed up through the $200 million barrier. This key growth metric is nearly 80% above its year-ago level of $114.4 million and is also up by around 10% on the level reported at 31 December 2022.

Importantly, this FUM gain was broad-based. It was spread across both a number of advisory groups and a range of asset classes.

DomaCom will be providing more detail on what underpinned the continued growth in FUM in its March 2023 Quarterly Activity Report, which will soon be released to the market.

DomaCom CEO John Elkovich commented, "We are pleased by the continued uplift in our funds under management. This metric's sustained growth over a run of quarters clearly indicates the inherent value in our fractional investing model. It gives a broader range of opportunities to our investors that were previously unavailable.
