ASX Announcement

Titomic enters Manufacturing Partnership Agreement with Stärke Advanced Manufacturing Group

Titomic Limited (ASX: TTT) ("Titomic" or "Company"), a leading manufacturing technology company specialising in advanced manufacturing and coatings, is pleased to announce a strategic manufacturing partnership agreement with Stärke Advanced Manufacturing Group (Stärke), a global, advanced manufacturer headquartered in South Australia.

Stärke represents a group of vertically integrated advanced manufacturing companies, including QPE Advanced Manufacturing, VPG Innovation, Stärke Tooling, McMahon Metal Fabrication, Stärke Incorporated (US), and Precise Machining & Manufacturing.

Stärke's expertise lies in assisting companies across diverse industries to achieve production of complex, high-performance, robust, and reliable components. Stärke provides advanced manufacturing services to multiple companies within high-value industries, such as DSTG, Babcock, Kongsberg, Thales, Boeing, Bosch, and ASC.

The partnership between Stärke and Titomic will aim to leverage the advanced manufacturing technology of both Titomic and Stärke, while also leveraging Stärke's deep industry connections and their renowned expertise in delivering commercial manufacturing solutions.

The partnership also aims to provide further innovative solutions to clients in various high-performance sectors, including defence, aerospace, and automotive, with the partnership aiming to deliver a wide range of novel and competitive manufacturing capabilities.

Herbert Koeck, Managing Director of Titomic, stated:

"We are thrilled about our partnership with Stärke, a global leader in advanced manufacturing, and a partner which shares our commitment to manufacturing innovation. This collaboration is set to accelerate Titomic's growth, thanks to Stärke's deep industry expertise and network. This venture promotes knowledge exchange between Titomic and Stärke, allowing us to blend our strengths and explore new applications. By combining Titomic's advanced manufacturing tech with Stärke's advanced manufacturing and renowned tooling and moulding solutions, we will deliver innovation to clients in sectors like defence, aerospace, and automotive, offering a range of competitive manufacturing capabilities. This partnership positions us to meet the ever-evolving needs of our clients efficiently and effectively, staying at the forefront of innovation in the manufacturing industry.

Al Jawhari, Co-founder & Group Chief Executive Officer of Stärke, stated:

"We are excited with the commercial possibilities arising from our partnership with Titomic. We believe that Titomic's revolutionary cold spray technology will offer our current and future clients an impressively efficient turnkey technology that is faster, easier, and more cost-effective way to produce, maintain parts and products on demand. With the current rising demand on novel solutions for emerging industries this partnership is well suited to lead and deliver unprecedented end to end manufacturing services."

This announcement has been authorised for release by the Board of Titomic Limited.
