The Greater Duchess Project was specifically identified as a key site visit during a tour of the Mount Isa region by the delegation.

The Company's Managing Director, Rob Watkins commented:

The Carnaby team was delighted to welcome the Resources Minister, Mr Stewart MP as well as Mr Agnew and Mr Holden to the Greater Duchess Project. This visit marks the second by Queensland Government officials in as many weeks. Their interest in Carnaby and the wider Mount Isa region is an encouraging endorsement of the potential of the Project and its significance as a key development opportunity at a time when battery and critical mineral expansion is required for the energy transition.
