Brand Solution technology group Codeifai Limited (ASX: CDE) is pleased to announce a potentially high value strategic integration into the Canva App Marketplace for ConnectQR, CDE's QR code generation and management platform.

The integration greatly boosts market access by allowing Canva users to seamlessly incorporate ConnectQR's dynamic and static codes into their Canva designs from within the Canva App, enriching their creative projects with interactive elements that facilitate direct consumer engagement.

This launch is the most important milestone so far in ConnectQR's development since full commercial launch in April 2024, as it makes ConnectQR readily accessible to a reported 180 million monthly active Canva users.

Seamless Integration: From Canva's App Marketplace, users can create ConnectQR codes and import them directly into Canva.

Effortless Workflow: By connecting CDE's ConnectQR app with their Canva accounts, users can automatically display all their ConnectQR generated codes within Canva, streamlining the design process.

Interactive Designs including AI: The integration supports ConnectQR's dynamic, static and AI codes, enabling users to add engaging, interactive elements to their visual content including ConnectQR's AI codes.

Notably, ConnectQR is the only integrated solution offering serialised QR codes on Canva, supporting more sophisticated and individualised QR applications and as such is expected to act as an inbound sales magnet for key CDE products ProtectCode™ & BrandReporter™.

The Company considers that while there is no immediate revenue associated with the integration into Canva's App Marketplace, this integration is material based on the following:

1. www.connectqr.ai the Company's first fully self-service SaaS website was commercially launched by the Company in March 2024.
2. The integration is a critical business milestone requiring a lengthy and complex technical development which has been successfully completed.
3. The Company considers that by allowing access to around 180 million active users a vital new channel to revenue is created.
4. ConnectQR is expected to prove a key element of the company's profitable growth plan given its global market opportunity, self-serve SaaS model, and high incremental profitability.
