The strategic partnership agreement contains a restriction on Waterhouse Contractor or Waterhouse VC short-selling shares in RAS.

Furthermore, Waterhouse Contractor has agreed to provide RAS with a right of first refusal during the term on all relevant opportunities or transactions it intends to pursue with a third party, or has a right to refer a third party thereto, which fall within the RAS capability in the racing, sports and gaming sector (other than an opportunity to participate in the initial investment in the third party by Waterhouse VC). RAS is entitled to participate in place of the third party in such opportunities or transactions in its absolute discretion.

RAS CEO, Stephen Crispe, said:

"Racing and Sports has experienced unprecedented growth over the past 3 years since we undertook the IPO. The business has evolved significantly and is extremely well placed to support the global racing industry in both established and emerging markets. We continue to see strong growth ahead for the business with a record pipeline of opportunities across all geographies, which we believe will have a positive impact on the overall business and all stakeholders.

"We further believe that the relationship between RAS and Waterhouse VC will be a strong partnership and seek to unlock value across many opportunities around the globe. We consider the deal structure to represent a fair way for both parties to realise this value.

"The strong Waterhouse brand combined with the power of Racing and Sports data, technology and digital capabilities is expected to unlock new opportunities across all parts of the business, supported by new commercial models and complimentary verticals."

Waterhouse VC Managing Director, Tom Waterhouse, said:

"Waterhouse VC identified Racing and Sports as a leader in the racing and sports data industry with a management team that has lived and breathed this sector for decades.

"We see significant opportunities to leverage the Waterhouse VC network, built through 20 years in the industry and managing a wagering industry fund for five years, to deliver commercial partnerships and potential significant revenue for RAS.

"We're incredibly excited for both the Waterhouse VC fund and the future of Racing and Sports."
