2 Purpose and Effect of the Offer

2.1 Purpose of the Offer

The purpose of the Offer is to recognise the Company's supportive share base. No funds will be raised by the Offer unless and until the New Options are exercised. The Offer is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's financial position other than the decrease in cash reserves of approximately $23,206 resulting from the expenses of the Offer as set out in section 4.15.

A maximum of $29,478,064 (before costs) would be raised if all New Options are exercised. The Company intends that any capital raised through the exercise of New Options will be used to strengthen the Company's balance sheet, to provide flexibility to support its future growth and for general working capital.

2.2 Pro-forma Balance Sheet

Please refer to Section 4.15 for further details on the estimated expenses of the Offer.

2.4 Effect of the Offer and Placement on control of the Company

The Company is of the view that the Offer and Placement will not affect the control (as defined by section 50AA of the Corporations Act) of the Company. No new investor or existing Shareholder will have a voting power greater than 20% as a result of the completion of the Offer (refer to Section 4.9).

3 Risk Factors

The New Options offered under this Prospectus should be considered speculative because of the nature of the business activities of the Company and no assurances can be made that the Company's particular interests or projects will be successful. Potential investors should consider whether the New Options offered are a suitable investment having regard to their own personal investment objectives and financial circumstances and the risk factors detailed below.

This list is not exhaustive and potential investors should read this Prospectus in its entirety and if in any doubt consult their professional adviser before deciding whether to participate in the Offer.

3.1 Specific Risks Associated with the Company

Applicants should be aware of the risks specific to an investment in the Company, which may include, but are not limited to those risks detailed below:

(a) Operating and Budget Risks

The proposed activities, costs and use of the Company's cash resources are based on certain assumptions with respect to the method and timing of exploration, metallurgy and other technical tests, analysis and feasibility studies. By their nature, these estimates and assumptions are subject to significant uncertainties and, accordingly, the actual costs may materially differ from the Company's estimates and assumptions. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that the cost estimates and the underlying assumptions will be realised in practice, which may materially and adversely affect the Company's viability.

The proposed activities of the Company including economic studies are dependent on economic inputs from commodity prices, metallurgical tests, electrochemical testing and market tests of which there is no guarantee of positive economics. It is a risk that studies may not be completed or may be delayed indefinitely where key inputs show negative economic outcomes. No assurances can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the successful exploration and/or mining and processing of its mineral interests. Until the Company is able to realise value from its projects, it is likely to incur ongoing operating losses.

The Company has successfully piloted core aspects of its production flow sheet. It continues to conduct value improvement refinements of its flow sheet at laboratory and pilot plant level working in conjunction with key (or preferred) OEM equipment suppliers and technology providers.

Investment in the Company should be considered in light of the risks, expenses and difficulties frequently encountered by companies at this stage of development, including factors such as design and construction of efficient mining and processing facilities within capital expenditure budgets.

With all mining operations there can be a level of uncertainty and, therefore, risk associated with operating parameters and costs. This is also true with the scaling up of processing technology tested in pilot conditions. The nature of the technology risk is the cost of developing an economically viable commercial operation and production facility.

The Company has and will continue to enter into various agreements for the Vittangi Anode Project. Risks associated with agreements include rising contract prices as well as disputes regarding variations, extensions of time and costs, and global events impacting contractual performance and liability, all of which may give rise to delays and/or increased costs.

Production guidance and targets are, as always, subject to assumptions and contingencies which are subject to change as operational performance and market conditions change or other unexpected events arise. Any production guidance is dependent on a number of factors including maintenance and operation of the mine and plant without material equipment failure, loss of continuity of experienced personnel and achievement of recovery rates from the resource. These risks are discussed in more detail elsewhere in this section.

(b) Additional Requirements for Capital

The Company's capital requirements depend on numerous factors. Depending on the Company's ability to generate income from its operations, the Company may seek to raise further funds through equity or debt financing, joint ventures, production sharing arrangements or other means. Failure to obtain sufficient financing for the Company's activities and future projects may result in delay and indefinite postponement of exploration, development or production on the Company's properties, or even loss of a property interest. There can be no assurance that additional finance will be available when needed or, if available, the terms of the financing might not be favourable to the Company and might involve substantial dilution to shareholders.

The Company announced the completion of the DFS for its Vittangi Anode Project in northern Sweden in July 2021 (and subsequent completion of Feed Study 15 April 2024). If the Company agrees on any near term future offtake arrangements, fast track commercial ramp up development may occur which will require additional funding to be obtained. Whilst the Company is in discussions with respect to offtake, there is no guarantee such discussions will result in binding agreements (see 'Offtake Arrangements risk' below).

Whilst the Company's cash as at 30 June 2024 of $14.1 million, coupled with the $9.5 million Placement completed on 7 August and $9 million Share Purchase Offer completed on 23 August 2024, will provide for on-going business activities, the Company will need to seek funding options to advance the Vittangi Anode Project. To date, the Company has announced that the European Investment Bank (EIB) board has approved €150 million senior debt funding to underpin the Project (ASX:TLG 20 June 2023). Following this approval, loan documentation is being agreed between EIB and the Company, including customary terms and conditions for a financing facility of this nature. While the Company will seek to expedite these negotiations, there can be no guarantee that they will result in a binding agreement. With the assistance of financial and transaction advisors BurnVoor, the Company will identify and evaluate potential outcomes which may emerge from ongoing project development partnership, customer and financing discussions with other European and international parties. Management has strategies to tailor budgeted cashflows based on future funding received. However, without regular income outside interest proceeds or assets sales, it will rely on continuing access to capital markets (including the exercise of unlisted Company options) to fund further development in Sweden, Germany and the UK.

More generally, the Company is continually assessing its 'all in' funding costs for development of the Vittangi Anode Project through to expected first production. There are a wide range of factors that have the potential to influence the Company's funding needs, a number of which are beyond the control of the Company. As a consequence, and to ensure that the Company is reacting appropriately to changing events, market conditions, and broader economic circumstances, the Company will continue to refine its funding needs on an ongoing basis and in real time. The Company remains committed to delivering the Vittangi Anode Project in a cost-effective manner, consistent with previously stated safety and schedule priorities, and will continue to apply prudent and efficient capital expenditure processes.

Further, the Company, in the ordinary course of its operations and developments, may be required to issue financial assurances, particularly insurances and bond/bank guarantee instruments to secure statutory and environmental performance undertakings and commercial arrangements. The Company's ability to provide such assurances is subject to external financial and credit market assessment, and its own financial position.

Loan agreements and other financing rearrangements such as debt facilities, convertible note issues and finance leases (and any related guarantee and security) that may be entered into by the Company may contain covenants, undertakings and other provisions which, if breached, may entitle lenders to accelerate repayment of loans and there is no assurance that the Company would be able to repay such loans in the event of an acceleration. Enforcement of any security granted by the Company or default under a finance lease could also result in the loss of assets.

If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce the scope of its operations and scale back its programs or enter into joint venture arrangements to reduce expenditure and this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's activities. Unfavourable market conditions may adversely affect the Company's ability to raise additional funding regardless of the Company's operating performance.

Both now and in the future, higher than expected inflation rates generally, specific to the mining industry, or specific to Sweden, may increase operating and capital expenditure costs and potentially reduce the value of future project developments. While, in some cases, such costs increases might be offset by increased selling prices, there is no assurance that this would be possible. To the extent that such offset is not possible, this could adversely impact the Company financial performance.

(c) Offtake Arrangements

The Company has entered into a non-binding offtake term sheet with Automotive Cells Company SE (ACC) (ASX:TLG 27 September 2022) and a non-binding letter of intent with EV battery manufacturer Verkor SA (Verkor) (ASX:TLG 11 January 2023) regarding the supply of graphite anode from the Company's Vittangi Anode Project in Sweden. While the Company will seek to execute definitive documentation as soon as reasonably practicable, there can be no guarantee the documentation will be finalised.

Further, while the Company will seek to secure other offtake agreements in respect of any excess production capacity not proposed to be taken by ACC or Verkor, there is no certainty that the Company will be able to enter into such agreements in a timely manner, with acceptable parties, for sufficient volumes or on reasonable terms with new customers. Any of these circumstances may adversely impact the Company's financial performance and position including the Company generating less revenue than anticipated.

In addition, the Company expects that the sale of graphite battery anode material will (at least under some sales contracts) be subject to commercial verification and qualification processes to ensure any material produced meets the specifications for supply required by customers (including the industrial graphite markets and the battery anode sector).

The qualification process may require approval from multiple parties in the supply chain and not just those parties with whom the Company has contractual arrangements. Failure of the Company's material to qualify for purchase, or any unanticipated delay in qualifying the Company's material may adversely impact the Company's financial performance and position (including by resulting in the Company generating less revenue or profit than anticipated and/or incurring higher costs than anticipated).

(d) Licences, Permits, Processing and Approvals Risks

The Company's current and future operations are subject to receiving and maintaining licences, permits and approvals from appropriate governmental authorities. In particular, the Company will require processing, exploitation and environmental permits in Sweden from time to time in connection with mining and processing. There is no assurance that any required licences, permits or approvals will be granted or that delays will not occur in connection with obtaining or renewing the licences, permits or approvals necessary for the Company's proposed operations.

The primary permits required to enable development of the mine are an Exploitation Concession (under the Minerals Act) and an Environmental Permit (under the Environmental Code). Applications for the Vittangi Project Exploitation Concession and Environmental Permit were submitted in May 2020. On 22 June 2023, the Company received its Environmental Permit for its commercial battery anode refinery plant (to be located at Lulea) and on 17 July 2023 it received a Certificate of Finality to confirm the Environmental Permit is in force. The Swedish Land and Environment Court approved the Environmental Permit for the Vittangi Project mine at Vittangi) on 5 April 2023. A number of parties subsequently sought leave from the Swedish Land and Environment Court of Appeal (Court of Appeal) to appeal the decision. On 31 August 2023 the Court of Appeal confirmed that it had determined that there are no grounds to grant leave to appeal to any of the parties. Subsequent to the rejection of the appeals, a limited number of the previously mentioned parties appealed the decision by the Swedish Land and Environment Court of Appeal to the Swedish Supreme Court. Talga is currently awaiting the outcome from this last step of the environmental permit process.. If the Supreme Court rejects the appeal, the Environmental Permit will then come into force. A decision in relation to the Exploitation Concession will not be made until the Environmental Permit is in force. The Company believes that it has strong arguments to support the Exploitation Concession being granted.

Delays in the permitting and approvals process are an inherent risk to all mining and industrial manufacturing projects. Sweden has an established mining industry with a structured permitting process. The Company completed the extraction of the permitted 25,000 tonne graphite ore from its trial mine at the Niska South deposit (Vittangi graphite project) in October 2022. Whilst the track record speaks to past and current successful permitting approvals, potential delays in commercial scale mining and processing permits could impact planned and/or expanded production schedules and delay customer contracts. In the event that delays are incurred in obtaining a mining permit, the Company intends to utilise the ore extracted from the trial mine.

Failure to obtain or renew one or more required licences, permits or approvals on a timely basis may adversely affect the Company's operations.

(e) Intellectual Property Risks

The success of the Company's graphite processing business depends, in part, on its continued ability to protect its intellectual property (IP) including trademarks to increase brand awareness, its trade secrets and patents on its products and production processes. The Company has 16 active patent families encompassing 66 active cases (28 proceeded to grant and 38 pending/under examination) that relate to processing graphite for Li-ion batteries as well as graphene products.

Given the dependence of the Company on intellectual property and the quality of its products and brands, and whilst the Company has IP management systems and processes in place, in the event that the Company is unable to protect its intellectual property adequately, then the value of the Company's products and brands could be adversely affected. This may further impact over all business, with respect to its financial position and overall profitability and operational output.

Within the industry that the anode processing business operates, there exists an ongoing risk of third parties claiming involvement in technological discoveries. The Company has taken steps to protect and confirm its interest in its intellectual property and will endeavour to implement all reasonable processes to protect its intellectual property. The Company is not aware of any third-party interests in relation to its intellectual property rights, however as stated above, the risk of third parties claiming involvement exists, which may result in litigation risks (see 'Litigation and Infringement risk' below), and there can be no assurance that the measures in place by the Company will be sufficient.

(f) Mineral and Exploration Risk

The business of exploration, project development and mining contain risks by its very nature. To prosper, it depends on the successful exploration and/or acquisition of reserves, design and construction of efficient production/processing facilities, competent operation and managerial performance and proficient marketing of the product. In particular, exploration is a speculative endeavour and certain circumstances, cost over runs and other unforeseen events can hamper exploration and mining operations.

Mining of the Vittangi deposits is currently proposed to be via conventional drill and blast (open-cut for Nunasvaara South and underground operation for Niska). The well-established mining industry in Sweden ensures good drill and blast and mining contractor capability, mobile and fixed plant supply, mining supplies and operator training and the mining project risk is considered low.

There is also a risk that unforeseen geological or geotechnical issues may be encountered when developing and mining ore reserves, such unusual or unexpected geological conditions. As a consequence of any such event, a loss of revenue may be caused due to the lower than expected production or higher than anticipated operation and maintenance costs and/or ongoing unplanned capital expenditure in order to meet production targets.

(g) Development and Commercialisation

The Company's ability to generate revenues from its multiple anode and graphene products in the future will be subject to a number of factors, including but not limited to the technologies performing to a level sufficient to warrant commercialisation. The development, testing and manufacture of novel technologies is a high risk industry and whilst the Company has confidence in the development and results to date there is no guarantee that the Company will be able to successfully commercialise the products (including in a profitable sense).

Additionally, the Company's business depends on technology and is subject to technological change. Any failure or delay in developing or adopting new technology competitively may result in a reduction in customer demand and in turn reduced financial and operation growth. The Talga Group includes R&D departments to address these technological changes and is specifically working on next generation Li-ion batteries technologies including well advanced development plans for silicon anode.

(h) Reliance on Key Management

The responsibility of overseeing the day-to-day operations and the strategic management of the Company depends substantially on its senior management and its key personnel. Whilst the key management team has been well established with on-going stability, there can be no assurance given that there will be no detrimental impact on the Company if one or more of these employees cease their employment or are incapacitated for any length of time. Key Management have been incentivised with employment-based performance rights to mitigate this risk.

(i) Environmental and Social Impact Constraints

The Company's exploration, mining and processing activities will, in general, be subject to approval by governmental authorities and influence from other key stakeholders such as local communities. Development of any of the Company's properties will be dependent on the relevant project meeting environmental guidelines and, where required, being approved by governmental authorities. In addition to the Company's Environmental Policy, the Company has developed an integrated formal Environmental and Social Management system to document the process for managing environmental and social risks, (Talga Integrated Management System – TIMS) is certified to ISO 9001, 14001 and 45001 standards. This was implemented at the Company's first operating facility, the EVA plant in Luleå, Sweden, the ISO 14001:2015 certification included onsite battery laboratories, and office in Luleå (ASX:TLG 19 October 2022).

A draft Environmental and Social risk register is being prepared, which identifies, assesses and documents mitigation measures for the proposed Sweden operations.

The Company has a Social Performance Policy and developing Social Performance systems which will provide the structure for cascading the Company's commitment to protect labour and human rights. The Company is well aware of its environmental obligations across its operational activities in Germany, the UK and in particular Sweden, where there are various environmental requirements to complete and apply for an exploitation permit and continues to monitor compliance.

The Company must comply with all known standards, existing laws, and regulations in each case which may entail greater or lesser costs and delays depending on the nature of the activity to be permitted and how vigorously and consistently the regulations are administered by the local authorities. There are inherent environmental risks in conducting exploration and mining activities, or industrial materials processing, giving rise to potentially substantial costs for environmental rehabilitation, damage control and losses.

Changes in environmental laws and regulations or their interpretation or enforcement may adversely affect the Company's operations, including the potential profitability of the operations. Further, environmental legislation evolving in a manner which may require stricter standards and enforcement (with associated additional compliance costs) and expose relevant operations to the increased risk of fines and penalties for non-compliance, more stringent environmental assessment of proposed projects and a heightened degree of responsibility for companies and their officers, directors and employees. There is no assurance that future changes in environmental regulations, if any, will not adversely affect the Company's operations.

(j) Community Relations

The Company's mining and industrial materials processing activities may cause issues or concerns with the local community (including local indigenous groups) in connection with, amongst other things, the potential effect on the environment as well as other social impacts relating to employment, use of infrastructure and community development.

The Company has established ongoing engagement and management programs focussed on optimising positive impacts and minimising the risk of negative impacts on the community, particularly in those parts of Sweden where the Company operates.

A stakeholder engagement plan was developed in 2017, has been implemented and continuously updated. Talga undertakes a range of community engagement activities at Vittangi, Kiruna and Luleå open houses, open days, community sponsorships and participation in local fairs. As described within the Stakeholder engagement plan Talga regularly discloses information about the project development through newsletters, web-based information and direct engagement. Talga conducted (via an independent company) its first community sentiment survey in December 2021, which has since been deployed yearly to collect feedback and insights supporting ongoing activities and engagement. Talga also seeks opinions of the local communities during permit consultations and via key informant interviews. Talga has a grievance mechanism which is communicated directly to local stakeholders, by reference during public meetings, in key informant interviews, within email newsletters (through invitation for feedback) and presence in multiple sections on Talga's website. Talga invites stakeholders to also contact the company with concern, feedback or questions via its local email addresses, phone numbers or postal addresses. A Social Impact Assessment is being undertaken with the aim to further understand impacts on local stakeholders.

However, these programs are not a guarantee that other issues or concerns will not arise with local communities. If such issues or concerns were to arise, this may have an adverse effect on the Company's reputation and relationships with key stakeholders, which may in turn negatively impact its financial and operational performance.

(k) Mineral Title Risks

Mining and exploration permits are subject to periodic renewal. There is no guarantee that current or future permits or future applications for production concessions will be approved. Permits are subject to numerous legislation conditions. The imposition of any new conditions or the inability to meet those conditions may adversely affect the operations, financial position and/or performance of the Company. Furthermore, the Company could lose title to, or its interest in, tenements if licence conditions are not met or if insufficient funds are available to meet expenditure commitments.

It is also possible that, in relation to mineral titles in which the Company has an interest or will in the future acquire such an interest, there may be areas over which legitimate rights of Indigenous and property owners exist. In this case, the ability of the Company to gain access to permits (through obtaining consent of any relevant Indigenous owner, body, group or landowner), or to progress from the exploration phase to the development and mining phases of operations may be adversely affect. The Company's mineral titles may also be subject to access by third parties including, but not limited to, the areas' Indigenous people and landowners. This access could potentially impact the Company's activities and/or may involve payment of compensation to parties whose existing access to the land may be affected by the Company's activities. The Company adopts a pro-active approach in engagement/consultation with local indigenous groups and landowners. The Company has successfully negotiated property rights with various landowners covering the current Vittangi Project.

(l) Resource Estimates

Resource estimates are expressions of judgment based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates which were valid when originally calculated may alter significantly when new information or techniques become available. In addition, by their very nature, resource estimates are imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove to be inaccurate. As further information becomes available through additional fieldwork and analysis, estimates are likely to change. This may result in alterations to development and mining plans which may, in turn, adversely affect the Company's operations.

The Company engages external, independent, Competent Persons to prepare public Mineral Resource and Ore Reserve reports according to and conforming to the 2012 Joint Ore Reserves Committee (JORC) Reporting Code and Chapter 5 of the ASX listing rules. These follow standard industry guidelines on public disclosure and thus the process of determining its reserves and resources.

(m) Reserve Estimates

The Reserve estimates have been carefully prepared by an appropriately qualified person in compliance with the JORC guidelines and in appropriate instances are verified by independent mining experts. Estimated valuations are dependent on market prices for the targeted ore.

(n) Commodity Price Volatility and Exchange Rate Risk

If the Company achieves success leading to mineral production, the revenue it will derive through the sale of product exposes the potential income of the Company to commodity prices and exchange rate risks. Commodity prices fluctuate and are affected by many factors beyond the control of the Company. Such factors include supply and demand for minerals, technological advancements, forward selling activities, the price and availability of substitutes, the approach to pricing by competitors (i.e., aggressive pricing at or below the cost of production), and other macro-economic factors. Depressed graphite prices and/or the failure by the Company to negotiate favourable pricing terms (which terms may provide for fixed or market-based pricing) may materially affect the profitability and financial performance of the Company. Any sustained low prices for graphite (or low sale price achieved by the Company (however achieved) may adversely effect the Company's business and financial results and/or its ability to finance its current or planned operations and capital expenditure commitments.

Unlike the majority of base and precious metals, there is no internationally recognised market for graphite battery anode material nor is graphite battery anode material an exchange traded commodity; it is determined by actual transactions between buyers and sellers. As a result, there is a lack of market transparency associated with the price of graphite battery anode material. However there are a few major independent price reporting agencies that track the graphite anode market. Given the range of factors which contribute to the price of graphite battery anode material, and the fact that pricing is subject to negotiation, it is particularly difficult for the Company to predict with any certainty the prices at which the Company will sell graphite battery anode material. The effect of changes in assumptions about future prices may include, amongst other things, changes to Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves estimates and the assessment of the recoverable amount of the Company's assets.

In relation to graphene, the value of graphene is affected by numerous factors and events that are external to and beyond the control of the Company and similarly this is not an exchange traded commodity. The graphene price has fluctuated, such that periods of significant decline have impacted graphene businesses. These factors have and may in the future include: the level of general economic activity and demand; forward selling activity; and economic conditions and political trends. Whilst graphene is not currently a major focus for the Company it does not have a material effect on the Company's performance.

Furthermore foreign exchange risk arises from future commercial transactions and recognised assets and liabilities denominated in a currency that is not the entity's functional currency. Prices of various commodities and services may be denominated in Swedish Krona, Euros or US dollars, whereas the income and expenditure of the Company are and will be taken into account in Australian currency, exposing the Company to the fluctuations and volatility of the rate of exchange between the Australian dollar and these currencies as determined in international markets. To mitigate the Company's exposure, currency rates are monitored regularly and funds are transferred to the foreign operations when rates are more favourable. The Company also plans to curtail this impact by paying foreign currency invoices in a timely fashion.

(o) Pandemic Risk

Supply chain disruptions resulting from the transmission of pandemics such as COVID-19 in the community and measures implemented by governments around the world to limit the transmission of the virus may adversely impact the Company's operations, financial position, prospects and ability to raise capital. Travel bans may also lead to shortages of skilled personnel. Further outbreaks of COVID-19 or other pandemics and the implementation of travel restrictions also have the potential to restrict access to sites. The Company may also be subject to the severity of future lockdowns and relevant operators / supplier personnel not becoming infected which could result in delays.

(p) Access to Infrastructure Risk

Mining, processing, development and exploration activities depend, to a significant degree, on adequate infrastructure. In the course of developing future mines, the Company may need to construct and/or update existing infrastructure, which includes permanent water supplies, dewatering, tailings storage facilities, power, maintenance facilities and logistics services and access roads. Reliable roads, bridges, power sources and water supply are important determinants, which affect capital and operating costs. Unusual or infrequent weather phenomena, sabotage, government or other interference in the maintenance or provision of such infrastructure could materially adversely affect the Company's operations, financial condition and results of operations. Any such issues arising in respect of the supporting infrastructure or on the Company's sites could materially adversely affect the Company's results of operations or financial condition. Furthermore, any failure or unavailability of the Company's operational infrastructure (for example, through equipment failure or disruption to its transportation arrangements) could materially adversely affect its exploration activities or development of a mine or project.

(q) Competition

Competition from other international graphite producers and explorers may affect the potential future cash flow and earnings which the Company may realise from its Vittangi Anode Project. This includes competition from existing production and new entrants into the market. The introduction of new mining and processing facilities and any increase in competition and supply in the global graphite market could lower the price of this commodity. The Company may also encounter competition from other mining and exploration companies for the acquisition of new projects required to sustain or increase its potential future production levels. The Company's downstream operation may also be impacted by new entrants to the market, or existing graphite producers, pursuing a similar strategy.

3.2 General Risks

A summary of the major general risks are detailed below:

(a) Infrastructure

Mining, processing, development, and exploration activities depend, to one degree or another, on adequate infrastructure. Reliable roads, bridges, power sources, and water supplies, as well as the location of population centres and pools of labour, are important determinants, which affect capital and operating costs. Unusual or infrequent weather phenomena, sabotage, government or other interference in the maintenance or provision of such infrastructure could impact the Company's ability to explore its properties, thereby adversely affecting its business and financial condition.

(b) General Economic Conditions

The operating and financial performance of the Company is influenced by a variety of general economic and business conditions, including levels of consumer spending, commodity prices, inflation, interest rates and exchange rates, supply and demand, industrial disruption, access to debt and capital markets and government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies. Changes in general economic conditions may result from many factors including government policy, international economic conditions, significant acts of terrorism, hostilities or war or natural disasters. A prolonged deterioration in general economic conditions, including an increase in interest rates or a decrease in consumer and business demand, may have an adverse impact on the Company's operating and financial performance and financial position. The Company's future possible revenues and Share prices may be affected by these factors, which are beyond the control of the Company.

(c) Volatility of Share Price

The price of the shares of resource companies tends to be volatile. Fluctuations in the world price of graphite and many other elements beyond the control of the Company could materially affect the price of the Shares of the Company.

There can be no assurance that an active market for the Shares would be sustained after any offering of securities. Securities of companies with smaller capitalizations have experienced substantial volatility in the past, often based on factors unrelated to the financial performance or prospects of the companies involved. These factors include global economic developments and market perceptions of the attractiveness of certain industries. There can be no assurance that continuing fluctuations in price will not occur. If an active market for the Shares does not continue, the liquidity of a purchaser's investment may be limited. If such a market does not develop, purchasers may lose their entire investment in the Shares of the Company.

As a result of any of these factors, the market price of the Shares at any given point in time may not accurately reflect the long-term value of the Company. Securities class-action litigation often has been brought against companies following periods of volatility in the market price of their securities. The Company may in the future be the target of similar litigation. Securities litigation could result in substantial costs and damages, and also divert management's attention and resources.

(d) Risks relating to holding New Options

The Company's Share price may not exceed the Exercise Price of the New Options during the exercise period. In such circumstances an Option holder is likely to let the New Options lapse without any value being realised.

The Company must issue or transfer to the Option holder one (1) Share on exercise of a New Option within 5 Business Days of the date on which the New Option exercise took effect. There is a risk that the Company's Share price may fall below the Exercise Price during the period between exercise of the New Option and issue or transfer of Shares. In addition, where an Option holder exercises a New Option within 5 Business Days of a record date for a future dividend or other corporate action undertaken by the Company, there is a risk that the Option holder may not be issued or transferred Shares until after the relevant record date for determining entitlements has passed and will therefore be unable to participate in the future dividend or other corporate action.

(e) Public Company Obligations

As a publicly listed corporate entity, the Company is subject to evolving rules and regulations promulgated by a number of governmental and self-regulated organizations, including the ASX, which govern corporate governance and public disclosure regulations. These rules and regulations continue to evolve in scope and complexity creating many new requirements, which increase compliance costs and the risk of non-compliance. The Company's efforts to comply with these rules and obligations could result in increased general and administration expenses and a diversion of management time and attention from financing, development, operations and, eventually, revenue-generating activities.

(f) Litigation and Infringement Risk

The Company may be involved in claims, litigation and disputes from time to time including in relation to contractual disputes, claims from local indigenous groups, tenure disputes, environmental claims, occupational health and safety claims, intellectual property disputes and employee claims. Claims, litigation and disputes can be costly, including amounts payable in respect of judgments and settlements made against, or agreed to by, the Company. They can also take up significant time and attention from management and the Board. Accordingly, the Company's involvement in claims, litigation and disputes may have an adverse impact on its financial performance.

(g) Policies and Legislation

Any material adverse changes in government policies or legislation of Australia or Sweden or any other country that the Company has economic interests may affect the prospects and profitability of the Company.

(h) Force Majeure

Force majeure is a term used to refer to an event beyond the control of a party claiming that the event has occurred. Significant catastrophic events – such as war, acts of terrorism, pandemics, loss of power, cyber security breaches or global threats – or natural disasters - such as earthquakes, fires (including forest fires) or floods or the outbreak of epidemic disease – could disrupt the Company's operations and interrupt critical functions, or otherwise harm the business. To the extent that such disruptions or uncertainties result in delays or cancellations of the deployment of the Company's products and solutions, its business, results of operations and financial condition could be harmed

(i) Taxation

The acquisition and disposal of Shares will have tax consequences, which will differ depending on the individual financial affairs of each Investor. All potential investors in the Company are urged to obtain independent financial and tax advice about the consequences of acquiring Shares from a taxation viewpoint and generally.

3.3 Investment Speculative

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors and others not specifically referred to above, may, in the future, materially affect the financial performance of the Company, the Shares, the value of the New Options offered under this Prospectus and any Share which is issued as result of exercise of a New Option. Therefore, no assurances or guarantees can be provided by the Company with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of the New Options or any Share which is issued as result of exercise of a New Option.

Potential investors should consider that any investment in the Company is highly speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for New Options.

- (r) (US securities laws restrictions): The New Options and the underlying ordinary shares have not been registered under the US Securities Act of 1933 or any US state securities laws. The holder hereof, by purchasing such securities, agrees for the benefit of the Company that these securities and the underlying ordinary shares may be offered, sold, pledged or otherwise transferred only (a) to the Company; (b) outside the United States in compliance with Regulation S under the US Securities Act and local laws, including sales of securities in ordinary transactions on the ASX that are not pre-arranged with a person in the United States; (c) in a transaction that does not require registration under the US Securities Act and in compliance with applicable US state securities laws; or (d) pursuant to an effective registration statement under the US Securities Act.

4.2 Rights and Liabilities Attaching to Shares on Exercise of the New Options

A summary of the rights attaching to Shares issued upon exercise of the Options is detailed below. This summary is qualified by the full terms of the Constitution (a full copy of the Constitution is available from the Company on request free of charge) and does not purport to be exhaustive or to constitute a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of Shareholders. These rights and liabilities can involve complex questions of law arising from an interaction of the Constitution with statutory and common law requirements. For a Shareholder to obtain a definitive assessment of the rights and liabilities that attach to Shares in any specific circumstances, the Shareholder should seek legal advice.

(a) General Meetings

Shareholders are entitled to be present in person, or by proxy, attorney or representative to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company.

Shareholders may requisition meetings in accordance with section 249D of the Corporations Act and the Constitution.

(b) Voting Rights

Subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any class or classes of Shares, at general meetings of Shareholders or classes of Shareholders:

- (i) each Shareholder entitled to vote may vote in person or by proxy, attorney or representative;
- (ii) on a show of hands, every person present who is a Shareholder or a proxy, attorney or representative of a Shareholder has one vote; and
- (iii) on a poll, every person present who is a Shareholder or a proxy, attorney or representative of a Shareholder shall, in respect of each fully paid Share held by him, or in respect of which he is appointed a proxy, attorney or representative, have one vote for the Share, but in respect of partly paid Shares shall have such number of votes as bears the same proportion to the total of such Shares registered in the Shareholder's name as the amount paid (not credited) bears to the total amounts paid and payable (excluding amounts credited).

(c) Dividend Rights

The Directors may from time to time declare and pay or credit a dividend in accordance with the Corporations Act. Subject to any special right as to dividends attaching to a Share, all dividends will be declared and paid according to the proportion which the amount paid on the Share is to the total amount payable in respect of the Shares (but any amount paid during the period in respect of which a dividend is declared only entitles the Shareholder to an apportioned amount of that dividend as from the date of payment). The Directors may from time to time pay or credit to the Shareholders such interim dividends as they may determine. No dividends shall be payable except out of profits. A determination by the Directors as to the profits of the Company shall be conclusive. No dividend shall carry interest as against the Company.

(d) Winding-up

If the Company is wound up, the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution of the Company, divide among the Shareholders in kind the whole or any part of the property of the Company, and may for that purpose set such value as he considers fair upon any property to be so divided, and may determine how the division is to be carried out as between the Shareholders or different classes of Shareholders.

The liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution of the Company, vest the whole or any part of any such property in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of the contributories as the liquidator thinks fit, but so that no Shareholder is compelled to accept any Shares or other securities in respect of which there is any liability.

(e) Shareholder Liability

As the Shares issued under the Offer detailed in this Prospectus are fully paid Shares, they are not subject to any calls for money by the Directors and will therefore not become liable for forfeiture.

(f) Transfer of Shares

Generally, Shares are freely transferable, subject to formal requirements, the registration of the transfer not resulting in a contravention of, or failure to observe the provisions of, a law of Australia and the transfer not being in breach of the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

(g) Variation of Rights

Pursuant to section 246B of the Corporations Act, the Company may, with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a meeting of Shareholders, vary or abrogate the rights attaching to Shares.

If at any time the share capital is divided into different classes of Shares, the rights attached to any class (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the Shares of that class), whether or not the Company is being wound up, may be varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of three-quarters of the issued Shares of that class, or if authorised by a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Shares of that class.

(h) Alteration of Constitution

The Constitution can only be amended by a special resolution passed by at least three quarters of Shareholders present and voting at the general meeting. In addition, at least 28 days written notice specifying the intention to propose the resolution as a special resolution must be given.

4.3 Company is a Disclosing Entity

The Company is a 'disclosing entity' (as defined in section 111AC of the Corporations Act) for the purposes of section 713 of the Corporations Act, and, as such, is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations. Specifically, like all listed companies, the Company is required to continuously disclose any information it has to the market which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or the value of the Company's securities.

This Prospectus is a 'transaction specific prospectus' to which the special content rules under section 713 of the Corporations Act apply. That provision allows the issue of a more concise prospectus in relation to an offer of securities, or operation to acquire securities, in a class which has been continuously quoted by ASX in the three months prior to the date of the prospectus. In general terms 'transaction specific prospectuses' are only required to contain information in relation to the effect of the issue of Shares on the Company and the rights attaching to the Shares. It is not necessary to include general information in relation to all of the assets and liabilities, the financial position, profits and losses or prospects of the Company.

This Prospectus is intended to be read in conjunction with the publicly available information in relation to the Company which has been notified to ASX and does not include all of the information that would be included in a prospectus for an initial public offering of securities in an entity that is not already listed on a stock exchange. Investors should therefore have regard to the other publicly available information in relation to the Company before making a decision whether or not to invest.

Having taken such precautions and having made such enquires as are reasonable, the Company believes that it has complied with the general and specific requirements of ASX as applicable from time to time throughout the three months before the issue of this Prospectus which required the Company to notify ASX of information about specified events or matters as they arise for the purpose of ASX making that information available to the stock market conducted by ASX.

Information that is already in the public domain has not been reported in this Prospectus other than that which is considered necessary to make this Prospectus complete.

The Company, as a disclosing entity under the Corporations Act states that:

- (a) it is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations;
- (b) copies of documents lodged with ASIC in relation to the Company (not being documents referred to in section 1274(2)(a) of the Corporations Act) may be obtained from, or inspected at, the offices of ASIC; and
- (c) it will provide a copy of each of the following documents, free of charge, to any person on request between the date of issue of this Prospectus and the Closing Date:
 - (i) the Annual Report being the most recent annual financial report of the Company lodged with ASIC before the date of issue of this Prospectus; and
 - (ii) any documents used to notify ASX of information relating to the Company in the period from lodgement of the annual financial report referred to in paragraph (i) above until the issue of this Prospectus in accordance with the Listing Rules as referred to in section 674(1) of the Corporations Act.

Copies of documents lodged with the ASIC in relation to the Company may be obtained from, or inspected at an ASIC office (refer to Section 4.4 below).

4.4 Copies of Documents

Copies of documents lodged by the Company in connection with its reporting and disclosure obligations may be obtained from, or inspected at, an office of ASIC. The Company will provide free of charge to any person who requests it during the period of the Offer, a copy of:
