1.4 Investment highlights

(a) Myoff Creek Acquisition

On 22 July 2024 the Company announced that it had entered into an option agreement to acquire 100% of the Myoff Creek niobium/REE exploration project in British Columbia, Canada. The proposed acquisition involves eight (8) mineral claims with the following highlights:

- (1) Carbonatite Mineralisation: Near-surface carbonatite mineralisation spans an extensive area of 1.4 km by 0.4 km, based on historical exploration.
- (2) High Grade Intercepts: Notable high-grade intercepts include 0.93% niobium (Nb) and 2.06% total rare earth oxides (TREO).¹
- (3) Significant Exploration Potential: The mineralisation remains open (subject to verification) at depth and along strike, indicating significant potential for further mineral discovery and expansion. Maximum detection limits of Nb and Ce were detected in rock chips ~2km away from the historically drilled zone.
- (4) Strategic Location: The claims are strategically situated in the South-Central mining region of British Columbia, known for its rich mineral deposits.
- (5) Excellent Accessibility: The site offers excellent accessibility with well-maintained road infrastructure leading directly to the area.
- (6) Upcoming Exploration: Drill targets have been identified, setting the stage for an extensive upcoming work program aimed at further exploration and development.

The Company has since announced completion of the Myoff Creek Acquisition and arrangements are being made for the commencement of a detailed soil and rock chip sampling program across the tenure package, to be followed by a drilling program, where targeted sites have already been identified.

(b) Mkuju Uranium Drilling

The Company has completed all the necessary regulatory approvals to be able to commence its proposed maximum 11,000m drilling program at its Mkuju uranium project in southern Tanzania. The program has been designed based on last year's sampling and drilling program which yielded results including:

MKAU23_020 (auger) 3m @ 1,273ppm U₃O₈ incl 1m @ 3,350ppm U₃O₈²

¹ As set out in the Company's announcement dated 22 July 2024. The Company confirms the supporting information provided in the announcement of 22 July 2024 continues to apply and has not materially changed and that it is not aware of any new information or data relating to the historical results that materially impacts on the reliability of the results or the Company's ability to verify the historical results in accordance with the JORC Code 2012. In relation to these historical exploration results:

- these historical results have not been reported in accordance with the JORC Code 2012;
- a competent person has not done sufficient work to disclose the exploration results in accordance with the JORC Code 2012;
- it is possible that following further evaluation and/or exploration work that the confidence in the prior reported exploration results may be reduced when reported under the JORC Code 2012;
- that nothing has come to the attention of the Company that causes it to question the accuracy or reliability of the former owners' exploration results; and
- the Company has not independently validated the former owners' exploration results and therefore is not to be regarded as reporting, adopting or endorsing those results.

² As set out in the Company's announcement dated 31 January 2024. The Company confirms that it is not aware of any new information or data that materially affects the information included in the Company's announcement of 31 January 2024.

MKSS016 (soil) 8,800ppm U₃O₈¹

MKRS011 (rock) 2,250ppm U₃O₈²

Road access grading and preparation will commence shortly and be followed by the drilling.

(c) Sandiego North Drilling

The Company announced in April 2024 its intention to carry out a 1,000m drilling program to test the extent of copper mineralisation across a 700m zone to the north of the existing Sandiego deposit at the Koongie Park Project near Halls Creek in north-eastern Western Australia. Drilling is planned to commence as soon as possible after completion of the Entitlement Offer and when a suitable rig can be secured for the activity.

(d) Grand Codroy

The Company announced on 11 September 2024 the acquisition of the Grand Codroy uranium project in south-western Newfoundland, Canada. Historical rock and soil samples have indicated the presence of potentially significant uranium and copper mineralisation but generally, the area is significantly under-explored. Another ASX-listed company Infini Resources Limited (ASX:I88) owns the Portland Creek uranium project several hundred kms to the north of Grand Codroy and is achieving some significant results from current soil geochemistry program. The Company itself plans to conduct an initial soil sampling program at Grand Codroy prior to the onset of the Northern Hemisphere winter.

1.5 Further Placement

As announced on 11 September 2024, the Company has secured commitments to raise approximately $130,000 pursuant to the Further Placement. The Further Placement is for up to 16,883,116 Shares to be issued at $0.0077 each, together with three free-attaching Options exercisable at $0.03 each expiring on 30 April 2027 for every two (2) Shares issued under the Further Placement. The Further Placement Shares will not participate in the Entitlement Offer. The Further Placement Options are subject to the Company obtaining shareholder approval for the issue of those Options. Funds from the Further Placement will be applied by the Company on account of working capital purposes and due diligence costs associated with the Grand Codroy acquisition. .

Peak Asset Management has agreed to act as lead manager for the Further Placement (as well as Co-Lead Manager for the Entitlement Offer). Details of the Peak Asset Management Mandate are set out in section 7.10. Peak Asset Management will be paid a fee equal to 6% of funds raised under the Further Placement for acting as lead manager to the Further Placement (comprising a 1% management fee and a 5% capital raising fee).

1.6 Risk factors

Investing in the Company involves risk. There are factors, both specific to the Company and of a general nature, which may affect the future operating and financial performance of the Company. Some of these factors can be mitigated by appropriate commercial action. However, many are outside the control of the Company, dependent on the policies adopted and approaches taken by regulatory authorities, or cannot otherwise be mitigated. If you are unsure about subscribing for New Shares and New Options, you should first seek advice from your stockbroker, accountant, financial or other professional adviser.

In addition to the general market and economic risks noted in section 6.2, the following sets out a summary of some of the key risks relevant to the Company and its operations:

Risk	Details
Reliance on Key Management	The responsibility of overseeing the day-to-day operations and the strategic management of the Company depends substantially on its senior management and directors. In the event that any of the key personnel leaves the Company and the Company is unable to recruit suitable replacements, such loss could have a materially adverse effect on the Company.
No history of production	The Company's projects are all in the exploration stage. The Company has never had any direct material interest in mining producing properties. There is no assurance that commercial quantities of resources will be discovered at any of the tenements in which the Company will have an interest or any future tenements in which the Company may acquire an interest, nor is there any assurance that the exploration or development programs of the Company thereon will yield any positive results. Even if commercial quantities of resources are discovered, there can be no assurance that any property in which the Company has an interest will ever be brought to a stage where resources can profitably be produced.
Material arrangements	The Company is party to various contracts, including the Lithium Rabbit Transaction agreement. While the Company will have various contractual rights in the event of non-compliance by a contracting party, no assurance can be given that all contracts to which the Company is a party will be fully performed by all contracting parties or that the Company will be successful in securing compliance with contractual terms. Given there is currently no mining production at any of the Company's projects, the Company does not currently have supply agreements in place with respect to product that may be extracted from the projects and may not be able to negotiate supply agreements on terms that permit the Company to finance and commence development on any project.
Exploration and evaluation risk	The future value of the Company will depend on its ability to find and develop resources that are economically recoverable within the tenements in which the Company has acquired an interest. Mineral exploration and development is inherently highly speculative and involves a significant degree of risk. There is no guarantee that economic mineralisation will be found, and if found, that it will be economic to extract these resources or that there will be commercial opportunities available to monetise these resources. This may result in projects not being developed, or operations becoming unprofitable. Furthermore, the exploration costs of the Company are based on certain assumptions with respect to the method and timing of exploration. By their nature, these estimates and assumptions are subject to significant uncertainties and, accordingly, the actual costs may materially differ from these estimates and assumptions. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that the cost estimates and

	the underlying assumptions will be realised in practice, which may materially and adversely affect the Company's viability. Should the Company's projects prove unviable and the Company is unable to secure new exploration areas and resources, there could be a material adverse effect on the Company's prospects for minerals exploration and its success in the future.
Mining Tenements	The Company's future exploration and development activities are dependent upon the grant, or as the case may be, the maintenance of appropriate licences, concessions, leases, permits and regulatory consents which may be withdrawn or made subject to limitations, which often depends on the Company being successful in obtaining the required statutory approvals and renewals. As announced previously by the Company, two of its tenements in Tanzania at the Manyoni project were revoked by the Mining Commission in February 2023. All efforts by the Company to have this matter resolved to the Company's satisfaction to date have been unsuccessful. The Company intends to continue pursuing its rights in respect of the revocation of these licences but there is no guarantee that this will occur - whether in the near term or at all. If the Company fails to regain the licences, there may be material adverse effects on the Company. If the Company was successful in obtaining the licences, there is a risk that other interested parties, may take action to protect their position, which may include litigation. There is no guarantee that current or future tenements applications or existing renewals will be granted, that they will be granted without undue delay, that new conditions will not be imposed in connection with any renewal or that the Company can economically comply with any conditions imposed on any granted exploration tenements. To the extent that required authorisations are not obtained or are delayed, the Company's operational and financial performance may be materially adversely affected.
Failure to satisfy expenditure commitments and licence conditions	Interests in tenements in Canada, Western Australia and Tanzania are governed by the mining acts and regulations that are current in those jurisdictions and are evidenced by the granting of licences or leases. Each licence or lease is for a specific term and carries with it annual expenditure and reporting commitments, as well as other conditions requiring compliance. If the Company does not meet the minimum expenditure requirements for each tenement, each tenement is at risk of forfeiture from the appropriate Ministry or a third party. If a tenement is forfeited there is no guarantee the Company will be able to regain title to the tenement and, if the Company loses a tenement, it will have a significant impact on the Company's ability to discover and develop mineral resources on that tenement.
Title Risk	The exploration and prospecting licences in which the Company has an interest in now, or may, in the future, acquire an interest, are subject to the applicable local laws and regulations. There is no guarantee that any licences, applications or conversions in which the Company has a current or potential interest will be granted or ministerial approvals for the transfer of the relevant tenements will be obtained. All of the projects in which the Company has an interest will be subject to application for licence renewal from time

	to time, which is subject to applicable legislation. If the licence is not renewed for any reason, the Company may suffer significant damage. Although the Company has taken steps to verify the title to the resource properties in which it has or has a right to acquire an interest, in accordance with industry standards for the current stage of exploration of such properties, these procedures do not guarantee title. Title to resource properties may be subject to unregistered prior agreements or transfers and may be affected by undetected defects or other stakeholder rights.
Resource Estimation	Mineral resource estimates and exploration targets are expressions of judgement based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. There are inherent risks associated with such estimates, including that ore eventually recovered may be of a different grade, tonnage or strip ratio from those adopted in the model used. These estimates also depend to some extent on interpretations and geological assumptions which may ultimately prove to be unreliable. As further information becomes available through additional drilling and analysis, the estimates are likely to change. Any adjustments to mineral resource estimates could affect the Company's exploration and development which may, in turn, affect the Company's performance. Fluctuations in commodity prices, costs and other market factors may subsequently alter a resource estimation. Accordingly, adverse changes to the assumptions underpinning mineral resource estimates or exploration targets would likely negatively impact the value of the tenements and thereby the Company's prospects.
Climate Change	The operations and activities of the Company are subject to changes to local or international compliance regulations related to climate change mitigation efforts, specific taxation or penalties for carbon emissions or environmental damage and other possible restraints on industry that may further impact the Company. While the Company will endeavour to manage these risks and limit any consequential impacts, there can be no guarantee that the Company will not be impacted by these occurrences. Climate change may also cause certain physical and environmental risks that cannot be predicted by the Company, including events such as increased severity of weather patterns, incidence of extreme weather events and longer-term physical risks such as shifting climate patterns. All these risks associated with climate change may significantly change the industry in which the Company operates.
Community and Environmental risks	The Company welcomes the opportunity to consult with local communities. Any community opposition to the Company's activities may have an adverse effect on the Company's activities and may result in the Company incurring additional cost and experiencing delay in the timely progression of its projects. The operations and proposed activities of the Company will be subject to environmental laws and regulations. These laws and regulations set standards regulating certain aspects of health and environmental quality and provide for penalties and other liabilities

	for the violation of such standards as well as establishing obligations to rehabilitate current and former facilities and locations where operations are or were conducted. As with most exploration projects and mining operations, the Company's activities are expected to have an impact on the environment. Significant liability could be imposed on the Company for damages, clean-up costs, or penalties in the event of certain discharges into the environment, environment damage caused by previous owners or property acquired by the Company, or non-compliance with environmental laws or regulations. The Company will attempt to minimise these risks by conducting its activities to the highest standard of environmental obligation and where possible, by carrying appropriate insurance coverage. Amendments to current laws, regulations, policies and permits governing operations and activities of mining and mineral resources companies, or more stringent implementation, could have a material adverse impact on the Company and cause increases in exploration expenses, capital expenditures or, in the event the Company develops its current or future projects to the production stage, cause increases in production costs or a reduction in level of producing properties or require abandonment or delays in development of new properties.
Native Title Risk	In relation to tenements which the Company has an interest in or will in the future acquire such an interest, there may be areas over which legitimate common law native title or First Nations rights exist. If native title or First Nations rights do exist, the ability of the Company to gain access to tenements (through obtaining consent of any relevant landowner), or to progress from the exploration phase to the development and mining phases of operations may be adversely affected.
Commodity Price Risk	The Company's possible future revenues may be derived mainly from commodities and/or royalties gained from potential joint ventures or other arrangements. Consequently, the Company's potential future earnings will likely be closely related to the prices of various commodities. The prices of commodities fluctuate and are affected by numerous industry factors including demand for the commodity, forward selling by producers, production cost levels in major producing regions and macroeconomic factors such as inflation, interest rates currency exchange rates and global and regional demand for, and supply of, commodities.
Exchange rate risk	The revenues, earnings, assets and liabilities of the Company may be exposed adversely to exchange rate fluctuations. Fluctuations in exchange rates could result in unanticipated and material fluctuations in the financial results of the Company.
Industrial risk	Industrial disruptions, work stoppages and accidents in the course of the Company's operations could result in losses and delays, which may adversely affect a tenement's development and profitability. The operations of the Company are subject to strict health and safety laws and regulations. The Company may become liable for past and current conduct which violates such laws and regulations. Penalties for breaching health and safety laws can be significant and include criminal penalties. Victims of workplace

	accidents may also commence civil proceedings against the Company. These events might not be insured by the Company or may be uninsurable. In addition, any changes in health and safety laws and regulations may increase compliance costs for the Company. Such an event would negatively impact the financial results of the Company.
Land Access Risk	Land access is critical for exploration and evaluation to succeed. In all cases the acquisition of prospective tenements is a competitive business, in which propriety knowledge or information is critical and the ability to negotiate satisfactory commercial arrangements with other parties is often essential. There are various restrictions operating to exclude, limit or impose conditions upon the Company's ability to conduct activities on parts of the tenements that the Company holds an interest in. These restrictions include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • exclusions from pursuing exploration activities on certain areas of land that may be the subject of the Company's tenures; • requirements arising from Native Title and First Nations legislation and claims; • requirements arising from state legislation relating to Aboriginal or First Nations' heritage, culture and objects; and • access procedures and compensation requirements in relation to privately held land. The Company will formulate its development plans and activities to accommodate and work within the access restrictions outlined, however the requirements can be complex and sometimes require approvals, consents or negotiations involving government or third parties. As such, there is a risk one or more of these access issues may prevent or delay the Company from implementing its intended activities which may thereby adversely affect the Company's financial position and prospects.
Insurance arrangements	The Company intends to ensure that insurance is maintained with ranges of coverage that the Company believes to be consistent with industry practice and having regard to the nature of activities being conducted. No assurance, however, can be given that the Company will be able to obtain such insurance coverage at reasonable rates or that any coverage it arranges will be adequate and available to cover any such claims. Moreover, insurance against risks such as environmental protection or other hazards as a result of exploration, development and production activities is not generally available to the Company or to other companies in the mineral resources industry on acceptable terms. The Company might also become subject to liability for pollution or other hazards that may not be insured against or which the Company may elect not to insure against because of premium costs or other reasons. Losses from these events may cause the Company to incur significant costs that could have a material adverse effect upon its financial performance and results of operations.
Financing Risk	The Company has finite financial resources and no cash flow from producing assets and therefore will likely require additional financing in order to carry out its exploration and development activities. The Company also has an existing loan facility with a repayment date of 30 November 2024. The Company's ability to effectively implement its business strategy over time will depend in

	part on its ability to raise additional funds. There can be no assurance that any such equity or debt funding will be available to the Company on favourable terms or at all. Failure to obtain appropriate financing on a timely basis could cause the Company to have an impaired ability to expend the capital necessary to undertake or complete drilling programs, forfeit its exploration interests in certain properties, and reduce or terminate its operations entirely. If the Company raises additional funds through the issue of equity securities, this may result in dilution to the existing shareholders and/or a change of control at the Company.
Competition Risk	The Company will compete with other companies, including major mineral resources companies. Some of these companies have greater financial and other resources than the Company and, as a result, may be in a better position to compete for business opportunities. There can be no assurance that the Company can compete effectively with these companies.
Operational Risk	If the Company decides to progress into production in the future, the operations of the Company including exploration and processing may be affected by a range of factors. These include failure to achieve the predicted grade in exploration, processing technical difficulties encountered in commissioning and plant and equipment, mechanical failure, problems which affect extraction, rates and costs, adverse weather conditions, industrial and environmental accidents, industrial disputes, unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of consumables, spare parts, plant and equipment.
Mine Development Risks	Possible future development of a mining operation at any of the Company's current or future projects is dependent on a number of factors including, but not limited to, the acquisition and/or delineation of economically recoverable mineralisation, favourable geological conditions, receiving the necessary approvals from all relevant authorities and parties, seasonal weather patterns, unanticipated technical and operational difficulties encountered in extraction and production activities, mechanical failure of operating plant and equipment, shortages or increases in the price of consumables, spare parts and plant and equipment, cost overruns, access to the required level of funding and contracting risk from third parties providing essential services. If the Company discovers an economically viable mineral deposit that it intends to develop, it will, among other things, require various approvals, licences and permits before it will be able to mine the deposit. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to obtain all required approvals, licences and permits. To the extent that required authorisations are not obtained or are delayed, the Company's operational and financial performance may be materially adversely affected. If the Company commences production, its operations may be disrupted by a variety of risks and hazards which are beyond its control, including environmental hazards, industrial accidents, technical failures, labour disputes, unusual or unexpected rock formations, flooding and extended interruptions due to inclement or hazardous weather conditions and fires, explosions, pandemics or accidents.

Further details regarding risks which may affect the Company in the future are set out in section 6.

The New Shares and New Options offered under this Prospectus carry no guarantee of profitability, dividends, return of capital or the price at which they may trade on ASX. The past performance of the Company should not necessarily be considered a guide to their future performance.

1.9 Application for Additional Entitlement Offer Shares and Shortfall Offer

Any Entitlement not taken up pursuant to the Entitlement Offer will form part of the Shortfall Offer.

The Shortfall Offer is a separate offer pursuant to this Prospectus. The issue price of any Additional Entitlement Offer Shares offered pursuant to the Shortfall Offer will be $0.007, which is the Offer Price at which the Entitlement Offer has been made to Eligible Shareholders.

Shareholders who apply for their full Entitlement may also apply for additional New Shares (Additional Entitlement Offer Shares) in excess of their Entitlement at the Issue Price, to be issued from any Shortfall (at the Company's discretion). Directors of the Company (and any other related parties of the Company including for the purposes of Listing Rule 10.11) are not permitted to apply for Additional Entitlement Offer Shares but may take up their Entitlement, if any.

Additional Entitlement Offer Shares and attaching New Options will be issued under the Shortfall Offer. The allocation of any New Shares in excess of an Entitlement will be at the absolute discretion of the Company and its Directors and as such there is no guarantee that any Additional Entitlement Offer Shares applied for will be issued to Eligible Shareholders. The Company will have no liability to any Applicant who receives less than the number of Additional Entitlement Offer Shares they applied for under the Shortfall Offer. The Company reserves the right to scale back any applications for Additional Entitlement Offer Shares under the Shortfall Offer. If this occurs, Application Monies will be returned (without interest) to the extent of the scale back.

In the event that there is a further Shortfall in subscriptions under the Entitlement Offer following the issuance of the Additional Entitlement Offer Shares under the Shortfall Offer, the Company and the Directors reserve the right, as contemplated within the ASX Listing Rules, to allocate any further Shortfall of New Shares in their absolute discretion and to conduct an offer of the remaining Shortfall to ensure a maximum amount of funds are raised. They will do so in a manner which will ensure that no Shareholder or other investor will, as a consequence of being issued any Shortfall, hold a relevant interest of more than 20% of all of the Shares in the Company after the Entitlement Offer (except as permitted under the Corporations Act or FATA) (see sections 7.18 and 7.17).

Eligible Shareholders should be aware that to the extent that they do not accept their Entitlements in full a Shortfall will arise, and all or part of that Shortfall may be placed by the Company to third parties, in which case the interest of relevant Eligible Shareholders in the Company may be significantly diluted (see section 5.3 for further details). Any Shortfall to third parties will be issued within three months after the Closing Date at an issue price being not less than the Issue Price.

Eligible Shareholders may apply for Additional Entitlement Offer Shares by completing the Additional Entitlement Offer Shares section of the Entitlement and Acceptance Form, in accordance with the instructions on the form, and including the appropriate Application Monies for these Additional Entitlement Offer Shares with the payment for your Entitlement.

1.10 Directors intentions in respect of Entitlements

As at the date of this Prospectus, all of the Directors of AKN have either a direct or indirect interest in Shares. Set out below is a table summarising the Entitlement of each Director (based on their current holding) and how they intend to treat their Entitlement.

Director	Shares ²	Entitlement	Intentions
Peter Tighe	6,150,222	4,100,148	To take up Entitlement in full
Paul Williams	1,667,981	1,111,987	To take up Entitlement in full
ShiZhou Yin ¹	9,245,092	6,163,395	See Note 1 below

Note:

1 Mr Yin does not hold any Shares, however is an associate of Bienitial International Industrial Co Ltd. Bienitial International Industrial Co Ltd holds 9,245,092 Shares and therefore has an Entitlement of 6,163,395 New Shares. Bienitial International Industrial Co Ltd has notified the Company that it will likely not take up its Entitlement, due to the requirement of Bienitial International Industrial Co Ltd having to obtain foreign regulatory approvals for it to be able to apply for New Shares.

2 Details of Options held by the Directors are set out in section 7.6.

1.11 Co-Lead Managers

Empire Capital Partners Pty Ltd and Peak Asset Management have been appointed as the Co-Lead Managers of the Entitlement Offer. Further details of the terms of appointment of Empire Capital Partners Pty Ltd are set out in section 7.10 and Peak Asset Management are set out in section 7.11.

1.12 Dilution of Shareholder's interests

Shareholders should be aware that to the extent that they do not accept their Entitlements in full, a Shortfall will arise and all or part of any Shortfall may be placed by the Company to other parties in which case their interest in the Company may be significantly diluted (see section 5.3 for further details). Further the Entitlement Offer is not being extended to Shareholders with registered addresses outside of Australia and New Zealand and the holdings of those Shareholders in the Company will be diluted by the Entitlement Offer. Given the terms of the Entitlement Offer and the Further Placement, the interests of a Shareholder in the Company may be diluted by the Entitlement Offer by up to 42% in the event that they are not eligible to participate or elect not to accept their Entitlement in full if the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed or alternatively, any Shortfall is fully placed.

Further, the conduct of the Further Placement in conjunction with the Entitlement Offer means that all Eligible Shareholders will have their percentage interest in the Company diluted if they only accept their Entitlement and do not apply for (and receive) a sufficient number of Additional Entitlement Offer Shares from the Entitlement Shortfall Facility.

Acceptance of Entitlements or the placement of any Shortfall may also result in existing Shareholders or new investors significantly increasing their interest in the Company or obtaining a substantial interest in the Company. However, the Shortfall will only be placed to the extent that such placement is in compliance with the takeover provisions of the Corporations Act, which restrict a person and their associates from having a relevant interest in the Company of not more than 19.9%, subject to a number of exemptions.

This would increase the Company's total Shares on issue after completion of the Entitlement Offer to 725,575,622 Shares, excluding the Shares to be issued pursuant to the Further Placement (or 742,575,622 Shares including the Further Placement Shares to be issued).

 - (c) The Directors of the Company (and any other related parties of the Company) are not permitted to apply for Additional Entitlement Offer Shares but may take up their Entitlement, if any.
 - (d) Additional Entitlement Offer Shares and attaching New Options will be issued at the same time as all other New Shares and New Options are issued under the Entitlement Offer.
 - (e) Eligible Shareholders wishing to apply for Additional Entitlement Offer Shares must consider whether or not the issue of the Additional Entitlement Offer Shares applied for would breach the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules or Foreign Acquisitions and Takeovers Act 1975 (Cth), having regard to their own circumstances.

The Company will have no liability to any Eligible Shareholders who receives less than the number of Additional Entitlement Offer Shares they applied for.

Further, the Company will not issue any Additional Entitlement Offer Shares to any person, if that would result in a breach by the Takeover Provisions or the FATA.

2.5 ASX quotation

New Shares

The Company will apply to the ASX within 7 days of the date of this Prospectus for the New Shares to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus to be listed for Official Quotation by the ASX. If granted, Quotation of the New Shares will commence as soon as practicable after allotment of the New Shares to Applicants and is expected to occur on or about 17 October 2024 in respect of the Entitlement Offer. It is the responsibility of the Applicants to determine their allocation of New Shares prior to trading. ASX Participating Organisations (as defined in the ASX Business Rules) cannot deal in the New Shares either as principal or agent until Official Quotation is granted.

Should the New Shares not be granted Official Quotation on the ASX within three months after the date of this Prospectus, none of the New Shares offered to Eligible Shareholders under this Prospectus will be issued and all Acceptance Money will be refunded without interest to Applicants within the time prescribed by the Corporations Act.

New Options

The New Options will be issued as unquoted securities. Accordingly, no application for quotation of the New Options will be made to the ASX following lodgement of this Prospectus. The Company may, in its discretion, at some time in the future, apply for quotation of the New Options if it is satisfied that the class of securities will meet the requirements for quotation under the ASX Listing Rules.

Eligible Shareholders intending to apply for some or all of their Entitlement under the Offer, should do so on the basis that the New Options will be unquoted securities and will not be tradeable on the ASX, notwithstanding the terms of the New Options.

2.6 CHESS

The Company will apply to ASX Settlement for the New Shares to participate in the Securities Clearing House Electronic Subregister System known as CHESS in accordance with the ASX Listing Rules and ASX Settlement Operating Rules.

The Company will not issue certificates to Shareholders with respect to the New Shares. After allotment of the New Shares, Eligible Shareholders who are issuer sponsored holders will receive an issuer sponsored statement and those who are CHESS holders will receive an allotment advice for the New Shares.

The CHESS statements, which are similar in style to bank account statements, will set out the number of New Shares allotted to each successful applicant pursuant to this Prospectus. The statement will also advise holders of their holder identification number. Further statements will be provided to holders which reflect any changes in their holding in the Company during a particular month.

2.7 No rights trading

Entitlements to New Shares and attaching New Options pursuant to the Entitlement Offer are non-renounceable and accordingly will not be traded on the ASX.

2.8 Minimum subscription

There is no minimum subscription to the Entitlement Offer.

2.9 Co-Lead Managers

Empire Capital Partners Pty Ltd and Peak Asset Management have been appointed as the Co-Lead Managers of the Entitlement Offer. Further details of the terms of appointment of Empire Capital Partners Pty Ltd are set out in section 7.10 and Peak Asset Management are set out in section 7.11.

2.10 Option Holders

Option Holders will not be entitled to participate in the Entitlement Offer unless they:

- (a) have become entitled to exercise their Existing Options under the terms of their issue and do so prior to the Record Date; and
- (b) participate in the Entitlement Offer as a result of being an Eligible Shareholder at 7.00pm (Brisbane time) on the Record Date.

If all holders of Existing Options elect to exercise their Options prior to the Record Date, and are eligible to participate in the Entitlement Offer, a further 77,772,222 (approximately) New Shares and 38,886,111 (approximately) New Options may be issued under this Prospectus. Details of the Existing Options are set out in section 5.1. However, having regard to the exercise price of the Existing Options and the Entitlement Offer Price, the Directors believe that it is unlikely that any Existing Options will be exercised prior to the Record Date.

2.11 Eligibility of Shareholders

2.12 Overseas shareholders

The Company has not made investigations as to the regulatory requirements that may prevail in the countries outside of Australia and New Zealand in which the Company's Shareholders reside.

This Prospectus and accompanying forms do not, and are not intended to, constitute an offer of New Shares and New Options in any place outside of Australia and New Zealand in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer or to issue this Entitlement Offer or that Form.

In particular this Entitlement Offer is not made in the United States or to persons (including nominees or custodians) acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States, or to any person who is ineligible under applicable securities laws in any country to receive an offer under the Prospectus without any requirement for a prospectus to be lodged or registered.

4. Company Information

4.1 Company Information

The Company has exploration assets in Canada (Myoff Creek – niobium/REEs), Western Australia (Koongie Park – copper/zinc) and Tanzania (Mkuju/Manyoni – uranium, Monaco – copper). More details about the current status of these projects is set out below.

Myoff Creek, British Columbia, Canada

On 22 July 2024, AuKing announced that it had entered into an option agreement for the proposed acquisition of a 100% interest in the Myoff Creek project which comprises eight mineral claims in south-eastern British Columbia. The Company has since completed that acquisition. Highlights of the project include the following:

Carbonatite Mineralisation: Near-surface carbonatite mineralisation spans an extensive area of 1.4 km by 0.4 km, based on historical exploration.

High Grade Intercepts: Notable high-grade intercepts include 0.93% niobium (Nb) and 2.06% total rare earth oxides (TREO)¹.

Significant Exploration Potential: The mineralisation remains open (subject to verification) at depth and along strike, indicating significant potential for further mineral discovery and expansion. Maximum detection limits of Nb and Ce were detected in rock chips ~2km away from the historically drilled zone.

Strategic Location: The claims are strategically situated in the South-Central mining region of British Columbia, known for its rich mineral deposits.

Excellent Accessibility: The site offers excellent accessibility with well-maintained road infrastructure leading directly to the area.

Upcoming Exploration: Drill targets have been identified, setting the stage for an extensive upcoming work program aimed at further exploration and development.

Representatives of the Company will be conducting a site visit in early August to initiate the next phase of exploration at Myoff Creek. During this visit, potential drill sites will be assessed and the logistics of an upcoming work program will be finalised. This is expected to include a comprehensive sampling program paired with a drilling campaign aimed at further evaluating the mineral potential at depth and along strike. The site visit will include an assessment of the region where a small sampling program in 2019 returned maximum detection of Nb and Ce in rock chips which was ~2km away from the historically drilled area.

Refer to section 7.11 for further information on the Myoff Creek Acquisition terms.

¹ As set out in the Company's announcement dated 22 July 2024. The Company confirms the supporting information provided in the announcement of 22 July 2024 continues to apply and has not materially changed and that it is not aware of any new information or data relating to the historical estimates that materially impacts on the reliability of the estimates or the Company's ability to verify the historical estimates in accordance with the JORC Code 2012. In relation to these historical exploration results:

- these historical results have not been reported in accordance with the JORC Code 2012;
- a competent person has not done sufficient work to disclose the exploration results in accordance with the JORC Code 2012;
- it is possible that following further evaluation and/or exploration work that the confidence in the prior reported exploration results may be reduced when reported under the JORC Code 2012;
- that nothing has come to the attention of the Company that causes it to question the accuracy or reliability of the former owners' exploration results; and
- the Company has not independently validated the former owners' exploration results and therefore is not to be regarded as reporting, adopting or endorsing those results.

Tanzania Projects

In January 2023, AuKing announced completion of the acquisition of its 100% interest in six projects in Tanzania (Ref ASX Release 31 January 2023).

Four of the projects are prospective for uranium (Manyoni, Mkuju, Itigi and Magaga) and the other two are prospective for copper (Mpanda and Karema). Mkuju is currently the priority focus of exploration activities in Tanzania.

2024 Mkuju Exploration Program (Stage 2)

The Company has previously announced details of its proposed Stage 2 drilling program at Mkuju, comprising an estimated maximum 75 drill hole (11,000m) air core/RC drilling program. Since then AuKing has obtained the necessary "local content" regulatory approvals from the Tanzanian Mining Commission after the conduct of a tender process for the drilling program. In addition, an unprecedented amount of rainfall was received in the region – 2100mm of rain between March and June (previous three years 450mm for 2023, 650mm for 2022, and 430mm for 2021) which has not only delayed commencement of the drilling program but created the need for fairly significant road grading and repair works to provide access to the proposed drilling sites. Those roadworks are expected to start shortly with the drilling program to follow as soon as possible after those works are completed.

Revocation of Manyoni Licences

When the Company announced to ASX on 31 January 2023 completion of its acquisition of twelve (12) granted Prospecting Licences ("PLs"), this included five (5) PLs that comprised the Manyoni uranium project in central Tanzania. A significant portion of the historical Manyoni uranium resource estimate was contained within two of the 92U PLs – licences 12193/2023 and 12194/2023. These PLs were subsequently revoked and accordingly are no longer held by the Company. Another Tanzanian company unrelated to AuKing or 92U (Galo Capital) was then issued PLs on 3 February 2023 over the exact same areas as those two AuKing Manyoni PLs. The Company has since been taking steps with a view to protecting its position. The Company is currently discussing with the entity which currently controls these two PLs with a view to resolving the position, which may result in the Company reaching an agreement in respect of the remaining four non-core PLs held by the Company in this area. As at the date of this Prospectus, the issue has not been resolved.

Monaco Copper Project, Western Tanzania

This is an early-stage exploration project based on historical exploration in the region as well as the conduct of small-scale and artisanal copper mining activities. The Company has no current plans for further work at this project at the present time.

Koongie Park, Western Australia

The Company owns 100% of this copper/zinc project (subject to a 1% net production royalty in favour of a previous joint venture partner) near Halls Creek in north-eastern Western Australia. That former joint venture partner also retains rights to explore for gold and PGE minerals across the Koongie Park tenure package but not the two mineral licences where the Sandiego and Onedin deposits are situated.

The focus of the Company with respect to the Koongie Park Project is to identify additional resources and utilise that additional data for the commencement of a pre-feasibility study at Koongie Park. With that focus in mind, the Company is proposing an initial 1,000m reverse circulation (RC) drilling program across an estimated 6-8 drill holes to test the potential extent of copper mineralization along a 700m target zone to the north of the existing Sandiego deposit. During the course of 2023, the Company completed a soil sampling program over the Sandiego North area to follow up on mineralisation identified in and around the drill hole ASWB001. The purpose of the soil program was to identify any geochemical continuity between Sandiego and Sandiego North.

Drill holes will be designed to a maximum average depth of 150m. Depending on the initial drilling results, additional drill holes will be undertaken. An estimated $100,000 in costs has been budgeted for this drilling activity. The Company is currently seeking to identify a drilling contractor that may already be operating in the northern region of Western Australia, so as to minimize costs associated with mobilizing and demobilizing the drilling rig.

Grand Codroy, Newfoundland, Canada

The Company announced on 11 September 2024 the acquisition of the Grand Codroy uranium project in south-western Newfoundland, Canada. Historical rock and soil samples have indicated the presence of potentially significant uranium and copper mineralisation but generally, the area is significantly under-explored. Another ASX-listed company Infini Resources Limited (ASX:I88) owns the Portland Creek uranium project several hundred kms to the north of Grand Codroy and is achieving some significant results from current soil geochemistry program. The Company itself plans to conduct an initial soil sampling program at Grand Codroy prior to the onset of the Northern Hemisphere winter.

5.3 Effect of the Entitlement Offer on control of the Company

General effect and consequences

The Entitlement Offer is a pro-rata offer so that if all Eligible Shareholders take up their Entitlements and none of the Option Holders exercise their Existing Options and participate in the Entitlement Offer, the Voting Power of all Eligible Shareholders will remain the same. In that event, there will be no actual or potential effect or consequences arising from the Entitlement Offer on the control of the Company.

Whilst the Entitlement Offer is a pro-rata offer, the conduct of the Further Placement in conjunction with the Entitlement Offer means that all Eligible Shareholders will have their percentage interest in the Company diluted if they only accept their Entitlement and do not apply for (and receive) a sufficient number of Additional Entitlement Offer Shares from the Entitlement Shortfall Facility. If Eligible Shareholders take up their Entitlements in full without receiving Additional Entitlement Offer Shares, the voting power of Eligible Shareholders will be reduced by 3% as a result of the Further Placement (assuming the maximum number of Shares are issued pursuant to the Further Placement).

If an Eligible Shareholder does not take up their Entitlement in full it will result in their percentage holding in the Company being diluted by the Entitlement Offer. Given the terms of the Entitlement Offer and the Further Placement, the maximum possible dilution arising from the Entitlement Offer to an Eligible Shareholder's interest in the Company would be 42%. Additionally, the Entitlement Offer is not being extended to Shareholders with registered addresses outside of Australia and New Zealand and the holdings of those Shareholders in the Company will be diluted by a maximum of 42% in the event that the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed.

Accordingly, Eligible Shareholders can reduce the extent of the dilution of their voting power in the Company by accepting their Entitlement in full and applying for Additional Entitlement Offer Shares under the Entitlement Shortfall Facility.

The final percentage interests held by Shareholders of the Company is entirely dependent on the extent to which they are Eligible Shareholders and to the extent to which the other Shareholders take up their Entitlements.

Where Entitlements not taken up

In the event that there are still New Shares not applied for following the issuance of the Additional Entitlement Offer Shares under the Shortfall, the Company and the Directors reserve the right, as contemplated within the Listing Rules, to allocate any remaining Shortfall in their absolute discretion to conduct a placement of the remaining Shortfall to ensure a maximum amount of funds are raised. They will do so in a manner which will ensure that no Shareholder or other investor will, as a consequence of being issued any Shortfall, hold a Relevant Interest in more than 19.9% of all of the Shares in the Company after these offers where such holding would be contrary to the Corporations Act or FATA (see sections 7.18 and 7.17).

Dispersion strategies

In order to manage and disperse any potential control effect of the Entitlement Offer:

- (a) Mr Peter Tighe and Mr Paul Williams (Participating Directors), directors who directly hold shares in the Company have indicated their intention of taking up their Entitlement (which together will reduce any potential Entitlement Shortfall); and
- (b) the Company has elected to include the Entitlement Shortfall Facility in this Prospectus.

Effect on Relevant Interest of Substantial Shareholders

As at the date of this Prospectus the Company has received substantial shareholding notices from the following parties:

Shareholder	Number of Shares	%
Kabungu Holdings Pty Ltd	41,000,000	12.87%
Ven Capital Pty Ltd	24,680,000	7.74%

Set out below are the potential interests of each of the two substantial shareholders of the Company after the Entitlement Offer and after the Entitlement Offer and the Further Placement based on the substantial shareholder participating in the Entitlement Offer in each of the following scenarios:

- (a) the substantial shareholder takes up its full Entitlement but no other Shareholders take up their Entitlement;
- (b) the substantial shareholder takes up its full Entitlement and only the Participating Directors take up their Entitlement;
- (c) the substantial shareholder takes up its full Entitlement and 50% of the Entitlement Offer is subscribed;
- (d) the substantial shareholder takes up its full Entitlement and the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed.

Neither of the substantial shareholders are participating in the Further Placement.

Ven Capital Pty Ltd Possible scenarios under the Entitlement Offer	Current shareholding %	Shareholding % after Entitlement Offer	Shareholding % after Entitlement Offer and Further Placement
Ven Capital Pty Ltd takes up its Entitlement but no other Shareholders take up their Entitlement	7.74%	12.27%	11.68%
Ven Capital Pty Ltd takes up its Entitlement and Participating Directors take up their Entitlement but no other Shareholders take up their Entitlement	7.74%	12.09%	11.51%
Ven Capital Pty Ltd takes up its Entitlement and the Entitlement Offer is 50% subscribed	7.74%	9.68%	9.31%
Ven Capital Pty Ltd takes up its Entitlement and the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed	7.74%	7.74%	7.50%

Kabunga Holdings Pty Ltd Possible scenarios under the Entitlement Offer	Current shareholding %	Shareholding % after Entitlement Offer	Shareholding % after Entitlement Offer and Further Placement
Kabunga Holdings Pty Ltd takes up its Entitlement but no other Shareholders take up their Entitlement	12.87%	19.75%	18.82%
Kabunga Holdings Pty Ltd takes up its Entitlement and Participating Directors take up their Entitlement but no other Shareholders take up their Entitlement	12.87%	19.46%	18.56%
Kabunga Holdings Pty Ltd takes up its Entitlement and the Entitlement Offer is 50% subscribed	12.87%	16.08%	15.46%
Kabunga Holdings Pty Ltd takes up its Entitlement and the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed	12.87%	12.87%	12.47%

The Directors do not expect that the potential effects on control outlined above will result in any material change to the Company's current objectives and proposed actions.

5.4 Takeovers provisions

Having regard to the dispersion strategies adopted by the Company, the Company does not expect that any shareholder will have a relevant interest in more than 20% of the issued capital upon completion of the Entitlement Offer.

5.5 FATA

The Company notes that if any foreign shareholder acquires an interest of 20% or more in the Company, it may require approval pursuant to the FATA. Accordingly, the Company will not allow any foreign shareholder to acquire more than 19.99% of the Company's issued share capital without evidence of any required approval under the FATA or where a relevant exemption applies such that approval under the FATA is not required. See section 7.17 for more details.

6. Risk factors

6.1 Introduction

There are risks which may impact on the operating and financial performance of the Group and, therefore, on the value of the New Shares and New Options offered under this Prospectus. Some of these risks can be mitigated by the Group's systems and internal controls, but many are outside of the control of the Group and the Board. There can be no guarantee that the Company will achieve its stated objectives or that any forward-looking statements will eventuate. An investment in a business with limited operating history, such as AKN, is considered speculative and an investor could lose most or all of any investment. There are also general risks associated with any investment in shares.

More specifically, the risks are that:

- (a) the price at which the Applicant is able to sell the New Shares is less than the price paid due to changes in market circumstances;
- (b) the Applicant is unable to sell the New Shares; and
- (c) the Company is placed in receivership or liquidation making it reasonably foreseeable that Shareholders could receive none, or only some of their initial investment.

In the event of insolvency, the holders of fully paid ordinary shares would not normally be liable to pay money to any person. An exception could occur where a distribution, such as a dividend, has been made to Shareholders in circumstances where the Company was unable at that time to meet the solvency test set out in the Corporations Act. In that case, a liquidator may call for a return of such distributions.

Potential investors should therefore carefully consider all associated risks before applying for New Shares and New Options under this Prospectus and should consider their personal circumstances (including financial and taxation issues) and seek advice from their stockbroker, accountant, solicitor or other professional advisers before deciding whether to invest.

A number of material risk factors which may adversely affect the Group and the value of the New Shares and New Options offered under this Prospectus are set out in this section. This is not an exhaustive list and there may be other factors which have an adverse effect on the Group and the value of the Shares offered under this Prospectus.

6.2 General Risks

The New Shares and New Options that are to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus are speculative because of the nature of the business of the Company. The Company has interests in the resources exploration and mining industry which is highly speculative and no assurances can be made that the Company's particular interests or projects will be successful.

A summary of the major general risks are described below:

- (a) Dilution

Shareholders should be aware that to the extent that they do not accept their Entitlements in full, a Shortfall will arise and all or part of any Shortfall may be applied by the Company in the Shortfall Facility or placed by the Company, to other parties in which case their interest in the Company may be significantly diluted (see section 5.3 for further details). Further the Entitlement Offer is not being extended to Shareholders with registered addresses outside of Australia and New Zealand and the holdings of those Shareholders in the Company will be diluted by the Entitlement Offer. Given the terms of the Entitlement Offer and the Further Placement, the interests of a Shareholder in the Company may be diluted by up to 42% in the event that they are not eligible to participate or elect not to accept their Entitlement in full if the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed or alternatively, any Shortfall is fully placed.

Acceptance of Entitlements or the placement of any Shortfall may also result in existing Shareholders or new investors significantly increasing their interest in the Company or obtaining a substantial interest in the Company. However, the Shortfall will only be placed to the extent that such placement is in compliance with the takeover provisions of the Corporations Act, which restrict a person and their associates from having a relevant interest in the Company of not more than 19.9%, subject to a number of exemptions.

The Company intends to actively work with the Co-Lead Managers during, and after, the Entitlement Offer in order to secure commitments to place, and subsequently to place, any Shortfall of New Shares not subscribed for by Eligible Shareholders.

(b) Share Market Risk

The market price of listed securities can be expected to rise and fall in accordance with general market conditions and factors specifically affecting the Australian resources sector and exploration companies in particular. The New Shares and New Options carry no guarantee in respect of profitability, dividends, return on capital, or the price at which they may trade on the ASX.

There are a number of factors (both national and international) that may affect the share market price and neither the Company nor its Directors have control of those factors.

(c) General Economic Conditions

Changes in the general economic climate in which the Company operates may adversely affect the financial performance of the Company. Factors that may contribute to that economic climate include the general level of economic activity, interest rates, inflation, supply and demand, industrial disruption and other economic factors. The price of commodities will also be of particular relevance to the Company. These factors are beyond the control of the Company and the Company cannot, with any degree of certainty, predict how they will impact on the Company.

(d) Share price fluctuations

The market price of the Company's securities will be subject to varied and often unpredictable influences in the share market. Both domestic and world economic conditions may affect the performance of the Company. Factors such as the level of industrial production, inflation and interest rates impact all commodity prices.

(e) Legislative change

Changes in government regulations and policies may adversely affect the financial performance or the current and proposed operations generally of the Company.

(f) Unforeseen expenses

While the Company is not aware of any expenses that may need to be incurred that have not been taken into account, if such expenses were subsequently incurred, the expenditure proposals of the Company may be adversely affected.

6.3 Risks specific to an investment in the Company

In addition to the general market and economic risks noted in section 6.2, Applicants should be aware of risks specific to an investment in the Company, which may include, but are not limited to those risks described below.

(a) Reliance on Key Management

The responsibility of overseeing the day-to-day operations and the strategic management of the Company depends substantially on its senior management and directors. The Company will rely heavily on the experience and knowledge of Paul Williams, Paul Marshall and Chris Bittar. In the event that any of these persons or any other key personnel that the Company subsequently recruits leaves the Company and the Company is unable to recruit suitable replacements, such loss could have a materially adverse effect on the Company. There can be no assurance that there will be no detrimental impact on the performance of the Company or its growth potential if one or more of these key management personnel cease their engagement with the Company and suitable replacements are not identified and engaged in a timely manner.

Although the key personnel of the Company have a considerable amount of experience and have been successful in their pursuits of acquiring, exploring and evaluation resources projects, there is no guarantee or assurance that they will be successful in their objectives pursuant to this Prospectus.

(b) No history of production

The Company's projects are all in the exploration stage. The Company has never had any direct material interest in mining producing properties. There is no assurance that commercial quantities of resources will be discovered at any of the tenements in which the Company will have an interest or any future tenements in which the Company may acquire an interest, nor is there any assurance that the exploration or development programs of the Company thereon will yield any positive results. Even if commercial quantities of resources are discovered, there can be no assurance that any property in which the Company has an interest will ever be brought to a stage where resources can profitably be produced. Factors which may limit the ability of the Company to produce resources from its tenements include, but are not limited to, commodity prices, availability of additional capital and financing and the nature of any deposits.

(c) Material arrangements

The Company is party to various contracts, including the Lithium Rabbit Transaction agreement. While the Company will have various contractual rights in the event of non-compliance by a contracting party, no assurance can be given that all contracts to which the Company is a party will be fully performed by all contracting parties. Additionally, no assurances can be given that if a contracting party does not comply with any contractual provisions, that the Company will be successful in securing compliance.

Given there is currently no mining production at any of the Company's projects, the Company does not currently have supply agreements in place with respect to product that may be extracted from the projects and may not be able to negotiate supply agreements on terms that permit the Company to finance and commence development on any project.

(d) Exploration and evaluation risk

The future value of the Company will depend on its ability to find and develop resources that are economically recoverable within the tenements in which the Company has acquired an interest.

Mineral exploration and development is inherently highly speculative and involves a significant degree of risk. There is no guarantee that economic mineralisation will be found, and if found, that it will be economic to extract these resources or that there will be commercial opportunities available to monetise these resources. The circumstances in which a mineral deposit becomes or remains commercially viable depends on a number of factors. These include the particular attributes of the deposits, such as size, grade, metallurgy and proximity to infrastructure as well as external factors such as supply and demand. This, along with other factors such as maintaining title to tenements and consents, successfully designing construction, commissioning and operating of projects and processing facilities may result in projects not being developed, or operations becoming unprofitable.

Furthermore, the exploration costs of the Company are based on certain assumptions with respect to the method and timing of exploration. By their nature, these estimates and assumptions are subject to significant uncertainties and, accordingly, the actual costs may materially differ from these estimates and assumptions. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that the cost estimates and the underlying assumptions will be realised in practice, which may materially and adversely affect the Company's viability.

Should the Company's projects prove unviable and the Company is unable to secure new exploration areas and resources, there could be a material adverse effect on the Company's prospects for minerals exploration and its success in the future.

(e) Mining Tenements

The Company's future exploration and development activities are dependent upon the grant, or as the case may be, the maintenance of appropriate licences, concessions, leases, permits and regulatory consents which may be withdrawn or made subject to limitations. The maintaining of tenements, obtaining renewals, or getting tenements granted, often depends on the Company being successful in obtaining the required statutory approvals for its proposed activities and that the licences, concessions, leases, permits or consents it holds will be renewed as and when required.

As announced previously by the Company, two of its tenements in Tanzania at the Manyoni project were revoked by the Mining Commission in February 2023. All efforts by the Company to have this matter resolved to the Company's satisfaction to date have been unsuccessful. The Company intends to continue pursuing its rights in respect of these licences but there is no guarantee that this will occur - whether in the near term or at all. If the Company fails to regain the licences, there may be material adverse effects on the Company. If the Company was successful in obtaining the licences, there is a risk that other interested parties, may take action to protect their position, which may include litigation.

There is no guarantee that current or future tenements applications or existing renewals will be granted, that they will be granted without undue delay, that new conditions will not be imposed in connection with any renewal or that the Company can economically comply with any conditions imposed on any granted exploration tenements. To the extent that required authorisations are not obtained or are delayed, the Company's operational and financial performance may be materially adversely affected.

(f) Failure to satisfy expenditure commitments and licence conditions

Interests in tenements in Canada, Western Australia and Tanzania are governed by the mining acts and regulations that are current in those jurisdictions and are evidenced by the granting of licences or leases. Each licence or lease is for a specific term and carries with it annual expenditure and reporting commitments, as well as other conditions requiring compliance.

If the Company does not meet the minimum expenditure requirements for each tenement, each tenement is at risk of forfeiture from the appropriate Ministry or a third party. If a tenement is forfeited there is no guarantee the Company will be able to regain title to the tenement and, if the Company loses a tenement, it will have a significant impact on the Company's ability to discover and develop mineral resources on that tenement.

(g) Title Risk

The exploration and prospecting licences in which the Company has an interest in now, or may, in the future, acquire an interest, are subject to the applicable local laws and regulations. There is no guarantee that any licences, applications or conversions in which the Company has a current or potential interest will be granted or ministerial approvals for the transfer of the relevant tenements will be obtained.

All of the projects in which the Company has an interest will be subject to application for licence renewal from time to time, which is subject to applicable legislation. If the licence is not renewed for any reason, the Company may suffer significant damage.

Although the Company has taken steps to verify the title to the resource properties in which it has or has a right to acquire an interest, in accordance with industry standards for the current stage of exploration of such properties, these procedures do not guarantee title. Title to resource properties may be subject to unregistered prior agreements or transfers and may be affected by undetected defects or other stakeholder rights.

(h) Resource Estimation

Mineral resource estimates and exploration targets are expressions of judgement based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. There are inherent risks associated with such estimates, including that ore eventually recovered may be of a different grade, tonnage or strip ratio from those adopted in the model used. These estimates also depend to some extent on interpretations and geological assumptions which may ultimately prove to be unreliable. As further information becomes available through additional drilling and analysis, the estimates are likely to change. Any adjustments to mineral resource estimates could affect the Company's exploration and development which may, in turn, affect the Company's performance.

Fluctuations in commodity prices, costs and other market factors may subsequently alter a resource estimation. Accordingly, adverse changes to the assumptions underpinning mineral resource estimates or exploration targets would likely negatively impact the value of the tenements and thereby the Company's prospects.

(i) Climate Change

The operations and activities of the Company are subject to changes to local or international compliance regulations related to climate change mitigation efforts, specific taxation or penalties for carbon emissions or environmental damage and other possible restraints on industry that may further impact the Company. While the Company will endeavour to manage these risks and limit any consequential impacts, there can be no guarantee that the Company will not be impacted by these occurrences.

Climate change may also cause certain physical and environmental risks that cannot be predicted by the Company, including events such as increased severity of weather patterns, incidence of extreme weather events and longer-term physical risks such as shifting climate patterns. All these risks associated with climate change may significantly change the industry in which the Company operates.

(j) Community and Environmental risks

The Company welcomes the opportunity to consult with local communities, share information about the Company's activities with those communities and give them a reasonable opportunity to express their views about those activities. However, any community opposition to the Company's activities may have an adverse effect on those activities and may result in the Company incurring additional cost and experiencing delay in the timely progression of its projects.

The operations and proposed activities of the Company will be subject to environmental laws and regulations. These laws and regulations set standards regulating certain aspects of health and environmental quality and provide for penalties and other liabilities for the violation of such standards. These laws and regulations also establish, in certain circumstances, obligations to rehabilitate current and former facilities and locations where operations are or were conducted.

As with most exploration projects and mining operations, the Company's activities are expected to have an impact on the environment. Significant liability could be imposed on the Company for damages, clean-up costs, or penalties in the event of certain discharges into the environment, environment damage caused by previous owners or property acquired by the Company, or non-compliance with environmental laws or regulations. The Company will attempt to minimise these risks by conducting its activities to the highest standard of environmental obligation, including compliance with all environmental laws and where possible, by carrying appropriate insurance coverage.

There is also a risk that the environmental laws and regulations may become more onerous, making the Company's operations more expensive. Amendments to current laws, regulations, policies and permits governing operations and activities of mining and mineral resources companies, or more stringent implementation therefore, could have a material adverse impact on the Company and cause increases in exploration expenses, capital expenditures or, in the event the Company develops its current or future projects to the production stage, cause increases in production costs or a reduction in level of producing properties or require abandonment or delays in development of new properties.

(k) Native Title Risk

In relation to tenements which the Company has an interest in or will in the future acquire such an interest, there may be areas over which legitimate common law native or First Nations exist. If native title or First Nations rights do exist, the ability of the Company to gain access to tenements (through obtaining consent of any relevant landowner), or to progress from the exploration phase to the development and mining phases of operations may be adversely affected.

(l) Commodity Price Risk

The Company's possible future revenues may be derived mainly from commodities and/or royalties gained from potential joint ventures or other arrangements.

Consequently, the Company's potential future earnings will likely be closely related to the prices of various commodities.

The prices of commodities fluctuate and are affected by numerous industry factors including demand for the commodity, forward selling by producers, production cost levels in major producing regions and macroeconomic factors such as inflation, interest rates currency exchange rates and global and regional demand for, and supply of, commodities. If the Company is producing commodities and the market price for those resources were to fall below the costs of production and remain at such a level for any sustained period, the Company would experience losses and may have to curtail or suspend some or all of its proposed activities. In such circumstances, the Company would also have to assess the economic impact of any sustained lower commodity prices on recoverability.

The Company gives no assurances that the fluctuations in commodity prices will not affect timing and viability of its projects.

(m) Exchange rate risk

The revenues, earnings, assets and liabilities of the Company may be exposed adversely to exchange rate fluctuations. The Company's revenue may be denominated in Australian Dollars or a foreign currency, such as United States Dollars. As a result, fluctuations in exchange rates could result in unanticipated and material fluctuations in the financial results of the Company.

(n) Industrial risk

Industrial disruptions, work stoppages and accidents in the course of the Company's operations could result in losses and delays, which may adversely affect a tenement's development and profitability.

The operations of the Company are subject to strict health and safety laws and regulations. The Company may become liable for past and current conduct which violates such laws and regulations. Penalties for breaching health and safety laws can be significant and include criminal penalties.

Victims of workplace accidents may also commence civil proceedings against the Company. These events might not be insured by the Company or may be uninsurable. In addition, any changes in health and safety laws and regulations may increase compliance costs for the Company. Such an event would negatively impact the financial results of the Company.

(o) Land Access Risk

Land access is critical for exploration and evaluation to succeed. In all cases the acquisition of prospective tenements is a competitive business, in which propriety knowledge or information is critical and the ability to negotiate satisfactory commercial arrangements with other parties is often essential.

There are various restrictions operating to exclude, limit or impose conditions upon the Company's ability to conduct activities on parts of the tenements that the Company holds an interest in. These restrictions include:

- (1) exclusions from pursuing exploration activities on certain areas of land that may be the subject of the Company's tenures;
- (2) requirements arising from Native Title and First Nations legislation and claims;
- (3) requirements arising from state legislation relating to Aboriginal or First Nations' heritage, culture and objects; and
- (4) access procedures and compensation requirements in relation to privately held land.

The Company will formulate its development plans and activities to accommodate and work within the access restrictions outlined, however the requirements can be complex and sometimes require approvals, consents or negotiations involving government or third parties. As such, there is a risk one or more of these access issues may prevent or delay the Company from implementing its intended activities which may thereby adversely affect the Company's financial position and prospects.

(p) Insurance arrangements

The Company intends to ensure that insurance is maintained with ranges of coverage that the Company believes to be consistent with industry practice and having regard to the nature of activities being conducted. No assurance, however, can be given that the Company will be able to obtain such insurance coverage at reasonable rates or that any coverage it arranges will be adequate and available to cover any such claims.

Moreover, insurance against risks such as environmental protection or other hazards as a result of exploration, development and production activities is not generally available to the Company or to other companies in the mineral resources industry on acceptable terms. The Company might also become subject to liability for pollution or other hazards that may not be insured against or which the Company may elect not to insure against because of premium costs or other reasons. Losses from these events may cause the Company to incur significant costs that could have a material adverse effect upon its financial performance and results of operations.

(q) Financing Risk

The Company has finite financial resources and no cash flow from producing assets and therefore will likely require additional financing in order to carry out its exploration and development activities.

The Company's ability to effectively implement its business strategy over time will depend in part on its ability to raise additional funds. The Company also has an existing loan facility with a repayment date of 30 November 2024. There can be no assurance that any such equity or debt funding will be available to the Company on favourable terms or at all. Failure to obtain appropriate financing on a timely basis could cause the Company to have an impaired ability to expend the capital necessary to undertake or complete drilling programs, forfeit its exploration interests in certain properties, and reduce or terminate its operations entirely. If the Company raises additional funds through the issue of equity securities, this may result in dilution to the existing shareholders and/or a change of control at the Company.

(r) Competition Risk

The Company will compete with other companies, including major mineral resources companies. Some of these companies have greater financial and other resources than the Company and, as a result, may be in a better position to compete for business opportunities. There can be no assurance that the Company can compete effectively with these companies.

(s) Operational Risk

If the Company decides to progress into production in the future, the operations of the Company including exploration and processing may be affected by a range of factors. These include failure to achieve the predicted grade in exploration, processing technical difficulties encountered in commissioning and plant and equipment, mechanical failure, problems which affect extraction, rates and costs, adverse weather conditions, industrial and environmental accidents, industrial disputes, unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of consumables, spare parts, plant and equipment.

(t) Mine Development Risks

Possible future development of a mining operation at any of the Company's current or future projects is dependent on a number of factors including, but not limited to, the acquisition and/or delineation of economically recoverable mineralisation, favourable geological conditions, receiving the necessary approvals from all relevant authorities and parties, seasonal weather patterns, unanticipated technical and operational difficulties encountered in extraction and production activities, mechanical failure of operating plant and equipment, shortages or increases in the price of consumables, spare parts and plant and equipment, cost overruns, access to the required level of funding and contracting risk from third parties providing essential services.

If the Company discovers an economically viable mineral deposit that it intends to develop, it will, among other things, require various approvals, licences and permits before it will be able to mine the deposit. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to obtain all required approvals, licences and permits. To the extent that required authorisations are not obtained or are delayed, the Company's operational and financial performance may be materially adversely affected.

If the Company commences production, its operations may be disrupted by a variety of risks and hazards which are beyond its control, including environmental hazards, industrial accidents, technical failures, labour disputes, unusual or unexpected rock formations, flooding and extended interruptions due to inclement or hazardous weather conditions and fires, explosions, pandemics or accidents.

The risks outlined above mean that there can be no assurances as to the future development of a mining operation in relation to the Koongie Park Project (or other future projects) or that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the development or mining of its projects and treatment of ore.

Shareholders should consider that the investment in the Company is speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for the New Shares.
