Leadership Commentary:

Mr Andrew Goodwin, Wisr's Chief Executive Officer, said, "We are delighted to deliver our first full quarter of growth since pivoting from moderated growth settings in FY24. These results were headlined by a significant increase in loan originations to $77.3M, reflecting a 54% increase from the prior corresponding period."

"Maintaining the prime quality of Wisr's loan book was a focus during this period, and we were pleased to see improvements in yield while maintaining a strong average credit score of 782. Our continued work enhancing collections processes reduced 90+ day arrears to 1.40%, down from 1.58% in the previous quarter. In addition, we saw a reduction in net losses to 2.06% from 2.75% over the same period."

"Looking ahead, as we focus on growing loan originations and our loan book in FY25 and beyond, we are encouraged by significant improvements in our unit economics. Notably, portfolio yield increased by 79 bps to 11.12% (vs. pcp), led by key pricing initiatives on the front book. The uplift in yield, combined with improvements in warehouse facility pricing, increased our front book NIM by 78 bps to 6.47% (vs. pcp), positioning the Company strongly to continue growth while scaling the business towards profitability and a self-sustaining capital position," concluded Mr Goodwin.

At the end of the quarter, 29,332,888 performance rights issued to employees under the Company's long-term incentive plan, vested. None of these rights have yet been exercised.
