Update on Scheme Booklet and convening of Scheme Meeting

AVJennings Limited (ASX: AVJ) (AVJennings or AVJ) is pleased to provide the following update in relation to the proposed acquisition of AVJennings by PM Nominees C Pty Ltd (an investment vehicle of Proprium Capital Partners (Australia) Pty Ltd and AVID (comprising Bidder Cayman HoldCo, the AVID Sibling Entities and all of their respective Subsidiaries), by way of a scheme of arrangement (the Scheme).

The Supreme Court of New South Wales (Court) has made orders:

- that AVJennings convene a meeting of AVJennings shareholders to consider and vote on the proposed Scheme (Scheme Meeting); and
- approving the despatch of an explanatory statement providing information about the Scheme and notice of the Scheme Meeting (Scheme Booklet).

The Scheme Booklet has been registered with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission.

Scheme Booklet and Independent Expert's Report

A copy of the Scheme Booklet, which includes the Independent Expert's Report and a Notice of Scheme Meeting, is attached to this announcement.

The Scheme Booklet provides AVJennings shareholders with information about the Scheme. AVJennings shareholders are advised to read the Scheme Booklet in its entirety before making a decision on whether or not to vote in favour of the Scheme.

The Scheme Booklet includes a copy of the Independent Expert's Report prepared by Kroll Australia Pty Ltd (Independent Expert). The Independent Expert has concluded that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings shareholders, in the absence of a Superior Proposal. The Independent Expert has assessed the value of an AVJennings Share to be in the range of $0.54 to $0.61 on a fully diluted basis. This range of assessed values reflects 100% ownership of AVJennings and, therefore, incorporates a control premium. The Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per AVJennings Share is above this range.

The Independent Expert's conclusions should be read in context with the full Independent Expert's Report and the Scheme Booklet.

Directors' recommendation

The AVJennings Board continues to unanimously recommend that AVJennings shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme at the Scheme Meeting in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings shareholders.

Each AVJennings Director intends to vote all the AVJennings Shares held or controlled by them in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings shareholders.

Letter from the Chairman of AVJennings

9 May 2025

Dear AVJennings Shareholder,

On behalf of the Board of AVJennings Limited (AVJennings), I am pleased to provide you with this Scheme Booklet, which contains important information for your consideration relating to the proposed acquisition of AVJennings by PM Nominees C Pty Ltd (the Bidder), an investment vehicle of Proprium Capital Partners (Australia) Pty Ltd (Proprium) and AVID (comprising Bidder Cayman HoldCo, the AVID Sibling Entities and all of their respective Subsidiaries).

The AVJennings Board unanimously recommends that you vote in favour of the Scheme to be considered at the Scheme Meeting, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders.¹

Background to the Scheme

On 1 April 2025, AVJennings announced it had entered into a binding Scheme Implementation Deed with the Bidder under which it is agreed that the Bidder will acquire all of the shares in AVJennings via a scheme of arrangement (the Scheme).

In order for the Scheme to proceed, it must be approved at a meeting of AVJennings Shareholders (the Scheme Meeting), and then by the Court. The Scheme is also subject to approval being obtained from the Australian Foreign Investment Review Board and the New Zealand Overseas Investment Office, in addition to certain other conditions described in sections 3.9 and 9.9(a) of this Scheme Booklet.

The purpose of this Scheme Booklet is to provide you with information about the Scheme to assist you in voting on the Scheme Resolution at the Scheme Meeting. This Scheme Booklet also provides you with information about the Share Issue Resolution to be voted on at the Extraordinary General Meeting, scheduled to be held as soon as practicable following the Scheme Meeting.

Overview of the Scheme Consideration

If the Scheme is Implemented, AVJennings Shareholders will receive a total of $0.655 for each AVJennings Share they hold as at the Scheme Record Date (Scheme Consideration).

In addition, the AVJennings Board may declare and pay a fully franked special dividend of up to $0.167 per AVJennings Share as at the Special Dividend Record Date (Special Dividend) with the intention to maximise as far as reasonably possible the distribution of franking credits. The AVJennings Board will determine (in its absolute discretion) whether to pay any Special Dividend. This determination will depend upon a number of factors, including the availability of funds at the applicable time, the availability of a favourable ATO class ruling and receipt of relevant lender consents or waivers. The amount of any Special Dividend (if declared and paid prior to Implementation) will be deducted from the Scheme Consideration.²

In addition, if any Special Dividend is paid, those AVJennings Shareholders who are entitled to the Special Dividend may be entitled to franking credits of up to approximately $0.072 per AVJennings Share.³ Your eligibility to claim the benefit of franking credits attached to any Special Dividend will depend on your personal circumstances and whether a favourable class ruling is obtained from the Australian Taxation Office.⁴ Further information is set out in section 8 of this Scheme Booklet.

The Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per Scheme Share represents a:

- premium of 98.5% to the undisturbed closing price of AVJennings Shares on 27 November 2024 of $0.33 per AVJennings Share (being the last trading day prior to the announcement of the non-binding indicative proposal from the Bidder on 28 November 2024);
- premium of 97.5% to the 1-month volume weighted average price (VWAP) of AVJennings Shares to 27 November of 2024 of $0.3317 per AVJennings Share; and
- premium of 103.4% to the 3-month VWAP of AVJennings Shares to 27 November 2024 of $0.3221 per AVJennings Share.

⁴ AVJennings Shareholders should seek independent professional taxation advice as to whether or not the receipt of any Special Dividend and any associated entitlement to a tax offset in respect of such franking credits will apply to them based on their own individual circumstances. Refer to sections 2 and 8.3 of this Scheme Booklet for further information.

Recommendation of the AVJennings Board

The AVJennings Board unanimously recommends that you vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders. Each AVJennings Director intends to vote all of the AVJennings Shares that they hold or control in favour of the Scheme, subject to that same qualification.

Your Directors recommend the Transaction for the following reasons.

- The Scheme Consideration represents a highly attractive premium for AVJennings Shareholders to undisturbed trading prices.
- The Scheme Consideration is 100% cash, which provides AVJennings Shareholders with certain value for their AVJennings Shares.
- The Independent Expert has concluded that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders, in the absence of a Superior Proposal.
- AVJennings Shareholders who can realise benefits from the franking credits attached to any Special Dividend (if declared and provided a favourable class ruling is obtained from the ATO) may receive additional benefit from the value of those franking credits.⁵
- The AVJennings Share price will continue to be subject to market volatility and may fall if the Scheme is not Implemented.
- You will not pay brokerage fees on the transfer of your AVJennings Shares if the Scheme proceeds.

In recommending the Transaction, the AVJennings Board considered the potential disadvantages of the Scheme proceeding including:

- you will not be able to participate in any improvement in the performance of the AVJennings business, which may occur in the future;
- you may prefer to maintain your investment profile and exposure to AVJennings' portfolio and the benefits and risks of being invested in AVJennings;

- the tax consequences of the Scheme for you may not suit your individual financial or tax position; and
- you may consider that there is potential for a Superior Proposal to emerge. However, since the announcement of the Scheme on 1 April 2025 no such proposal has emerged.

Further details on the Recommendation given by the AVJennings Board is provided in section 1.1 of this Scheme Booklet.

SC Global shareholder support

The largest shareholder in AVJennings, SC Global Developments Pte Ltd (SC Global)⁶, who through its wholly owned Subsidiaries holds and controls shares in AVJennings representing approximately 54.02%⁷ of the issued share capital, has confirmed that it intends to vote all AVJennings Shares it holds and controls as at the date of the Scheme Meeting in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders.

Independent Expert

The AVJennings Board appointed Kroll Australia Pty Ltd as the Independent Expert to assess the merits of the Scheme. The Independent Expert has concluded that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders, in the absence of a Superior Proposal.

The Independent Expert has assessed the value of an AVJennings Share to be in the range of $0.54 to $0.61 on a fully diluted basis.⁸ This range of assessed values reflects 100% ownership of AVJennings and, therefore, incorporates a control premium. The Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per AVJennings Share is above this range. Consequently, the Independent Expert has assessed the Scheme to be fair and as a result, the Independent Expert has assessed the Scheme to be reasonable.

A complete copy of the Independent Expert's Report is set out in Annexure A to this Scheme Booklet, and you are encouraged to read it in full.

⁶ Mr Simon Cheong, the Chairman and a non-executive Director of AVJennings, is also the founder and Chairman of SC Global and Mr Mak Lye Mun, a non-executive Director of AVJennings, is also an independent non-executive director of SC Global.

⁸ This includes the 558,270,857 ordinary shares on issue and assumes the vesting of the outstanding 7,178,503 Performance and Retention Rights on issue.

Extraordinary General Meeting

As soon as practicable following the Scheme Meeting, AVJennings will hold an Extraordinary General Meeting to approve the Share Issue Resolution permitting AVJennings to issue shares to the Managing Director and CEO, Philip Kearns in connection with the vesting of 3,285,750 Performance Rights, subject to the Scheme becoming Effective.

The directors, other than Mr Kearns who has recused himself, unanimously recommend that AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Share Issue Resolution.

The Scheme is not conditional on the Share Issue Resolution passing and may proceed even if AVJennings Shareholder approval is not granted for the issuance of additional shares to Mr Kearns pursuant to the Share Issue Resolution. In these circumstances, AVJennings will consider acquiring AVJennings Shares on-market or satisfying the vested Performance Rights by way of a cash payment.

If the Scheme Resolution does not pass by the Requisite Majorities, the Extraordinary General Meeting will proceed to consider the Share Issue Resolution. However, no shares will be issued pursuant to the Share Issue Resolution unless the criteria for accelerating the vesting and conversion of the AVJennings Equity Incentives are met, which include the Scheme becoming Effective.

Key considerations relevant to your vote on the Scheme Resolution

For personal use only

1 Key considerations relevant to your vote

This section provides a summary of some of the reasons why the AVJennings Board unanimously recommends that AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders.¹ It also sets out other reasons why you may wish to vote against the Scheme.

Each AVJennings Director intends to vote all of the AVJennings Share they own or control in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders.

The Scheme has a number of advantages and disadvantages that may affect AVJennings Shareholders in different ways. The AVJennings Board encourages you to read this Scheme Booklet and the Independent Expert's Report in full before deciding whether or not to vote in favour of the Scheme Resolution at the Scheme Meeting. You should seek professional advice on how the Scheme will affect you, as appropriate.

1.1 Why you should vote in favour of the Scheme

The AVJennings Directors unanimously recommend that AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders. A summary of some of the reasons why is set out below.

(a) The Scheme Consideration represents a highly attractive premium for AVJennings Shareholders to undisturbed trading prices

If the Scheme Resolution is approved by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting and the Scheme becomes Effective, Scheme Shareholders will be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration, comprising:

- cash consideration under the Scheme of $0.655 per AVJennings Share they hold as at the Scheme Record Date, less the amount of any Special Dividend that may be declared and paid by AVJennings before the Scheme is Implemented; and
- if declared by the AVJennings Directors (in their absolute discretion) a fully franked Special Dividend of up to $0.167 per AVJennings Share for each AVJennings Share they hold as at the Special Dividend Record Date that may be declared and paid by AVJennings before the Scheme is Implemented.

The Scheme Consideration represents a highly attractive premium for AVJennings Shareholders to undisturbed trading prices. As shown below, since 27 November 2019 to the announcement of the non-binding indicative proposal from the Bidder on 28 November 2024, AVJennings Shares have not traded at a price above the Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per AVJennings Share.

The Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per AVJennings Share represents a:

- premium of 98.5% to the undisturbed closing price of AVJennings Shares on 27 November 2024 of $0.33 per AVJennings Share (being the last trading day prior to the announcement of the non-binding indicative proposal from the Bidder on 28 November 2024);
- premium of 97.5% to the 1-month VWAP of AVJennings Shares to 27 November 2024 of $0.3317 per AVJennings Share; and
- premium of 103.4% to the 3-month VWAP of AVJennings Shares to 27 November 2024 of $0.3221 per AVJennings Share.

¹ You should note when considering this recommendation that Mr Philip Kearns AM (AVJennings' Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director) may be entitled to certain Performance Rights in connection with the Scheme, described in more detail in section 4.1 of this Scheme Booklet. Despite this interest in the outcome of the Scheme, Mr Kearns considers that, given the importance of the Scheme, and his role as an AVJennings Director, it is important and appropriate for him to provide a recommendation to AVJennings Shareholders in relation to voting on the Scheme. The AVJennings Board (excluding Mr Kearns) also consider that it is appropriate for Mr Kearns to make a recommendation on the Scheme given his role in the operation and management of AVJennings and his deep industry knowledge.

AVJennings Shares closing price – last 5 years to 27 November 2024

Offer metrics of the Scheme Consideration

(b) The Scheme Consideration provides certain value to AVJennings Shareholders

The Scheme Consideration contemplated under the Scheme is 100% cash, providing AVJennings Shareholders with certain value for their AVJennings Shares. The certainty of the 100% cash consideration should be compared with the potential risks and uncertainties of continuing to hold AVJennings Shares (which existed before the Scheme) which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- fluctuation of value and returns due to property market conditions (including geographic and sectoral factors), general economic conditions and property-specific factors;
- interest rate risks which can impact the value of AVJennings’ debt; and
- equity market volatility which can impact the value of AVJennings Shares on the ASX and SGX GlobalQuote.

(c) The Independent Expert has concluded that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders, in the absence of a Superior Proposal

The AVJennings Board appointed Kroll Australia Pty Ltd as the Independent Expert to assess the merits of the Scheme. The Independent Expert has concluded that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders, in the absence of a Superior Proposal. The Independent Expert has assessed the value of an AVJennings Share to be in the range of $0.54 to $0.61 on a fully diluted basis.² This range of assessed values reflects 100% ownership of AVJennings and, therefore, incorporates a control premium. The Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per AVJennings Share is above this range. Consequently, the Independent Expert has assessed the Scheme to be fair and as a result, the Independent Expert has assessed the Scheme to be reasonable.

A complete copy of the Independent Expert's Report is set out in Annexure A to this Scheme Booklet. The AVJennings Board encourages you to read the Independent Expert's Report in full before deciding whether or not to vote in favour of the Scheme Resolution at the Scheme Meeting.

(d) AVJennings Shareholders who can realise the benefit of the franking credits attached to any Special Dividend (if declared and paid prior to Implementation and a favourable class ruling is obtained by the ATO) may receive further benefit from the value of those franking credits

The AVJennings Board may declare (in its absolute discretion) a fully franked Special Dividend of up to $0.167 per AVJennings Share prior to Implementation of the Scheme, conditional on the Scheme being approved and becoming Effective, which will be paid on the Special Dividend Payment Date to AVJennings Shareholders who hold AVJennings Shares on the Special Dividend Record Date.

The AVJennings Board will determine (in its absolute discretion) whether to pay any Special Dividend. This determination will depend upon a number of factors, including the availability of funds at the applicable time, the availability of a favourable ATO class ruling and receipt of relevant lender consents or waivers. Any Special Dividend declaration of the AVJennings Board will be communicated to AVJennings Shareholders by way of an announcement to the ASX and to the SGX.

If a Special Dividend is declared, those AVJennings Shareholders who are entitled to the Special Dividend may be entitled to franking credits of up to approximately $0.072 per AVJennings Share.³ Whether you will be able to receive benefit of the franking credits attached to any Special Dividend will depend on your personal circumstances and whether a favourable class ruling is obtained from the ATO.⁴

Section 8 of this Scheme Booklet sets out a general summary regarding taxation implications of the Scheme for AVJennings Shareholders. To determine the tax consequences relevant to your circumstances, you should consult your own taxation adviser.

(e) AVJennings' share price will continue to be subject to market volatility and may fall if the Scheme is not Implemented or in the absence of a Superior Proposal

If the Scheme is not Implemented, AVJennings Shares will remain quoted on the ASX and SGX GlobalQuote and will continue to be subject to market volatility and the impact of general economic conditions. These factors may have an impact on the AVJennings Share price in the short, medium and long term.

If the Scheme is not Implemented, and in the absence of a Superior Proposal, the price at which AVJennings Shares trade may fall, including to a price that is below the Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per AVJennings Share.

The closing price on 27 November 2024, being the last trading day before the announcement of the non-binding indicative proposal from the Bidder on 28 November 2024, was $0.33 per AVJennings Share. Refer to section 1.1(a) above for the VWAP of AVJennings Shares over the one- and three-month periods up to and including 27 November 2024.

Since 27 November 2024, the price of AVJennings Shares has increased by 97.0% up to $0.65 on 5 May 2025 (being the Last Practicable Trading Date). If the Scheme is not Implemented, and no Superior Proposal emerges, it is possible that the price of AVJennings Shares could fall below the price at which it has traded since the announcement of the non-binding indicative proposal from the Bidder on 28 November 2024.

² This includes the 558,270,857 ordinary shares on issue and assumes the vesting of the outstanding 7,178,503 Performance and Retention Rights on issue.

³ The maximum benefit associated with the franking credits will be less if the Special Dividend is less than $0.167 per AVJennings Share.

(f) You will not pay brokerage fees on the transfer of your AVJennings Shares if the Scheme proceeds

No brokerage fees will be payable by you for the transfer of your AVJennings Shares to the Bidder under the Scheme. If you sell your AVJennings Shares on the ASX or through SGX GlobalQuote (rather than disposing of them via the Scheme), you may incur brokerage charges (and, potentially, GST on those charges).

1.2 Why you may wish to vote against the Scheme

(a) You may disagree with the AVJennings Board's unanimous Recommendation and the Independent Expert's conclusion

Despite the unanimous Recommendation of the AVJennings Board that you vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interest of AVJennings Shareholders and the Independent Expert's conclusion that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders in the absence of a Superior Proposal, you may believe that the Scheme is not in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders and/or not in your individual interest.

(b) You may wish to be able to participate in any improvement in the performance of the AVJennings business, which may occur in the future

If the Scheme is approved and Implemented, you will cease to be an AVJennings Shareholder. As such, you will no longer be able to participate in any improvement in the performance of the AVJennings business, which may occur in the future, or the future prospects of the ongoing AVJennings business, including any benefits that may result from being an AVJennings Shareholder. However, there is no guarantee as to AVJennings' future performance, as with all investments in listed equities.

You should be aware that the Scheme may proceed even if you do not vote on the Scheme or vote against it. In these circumstances if the Scheme becomes Effective and is Implemented, you will be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration and the Special Dividend, if such a dividend is declared and paid by the Directors of AVJennings (in their absolute discretion) but will not maintain an interest in AVJennings.

(c) You may prefer to maintain your investment profile and exposure to AVJennings' portfolio and the benefits and risks of being invested in AVJennings

You may prefer to keep your AVJennings Shares to maintain your investment in a public company with AVJennings' specific characteristics, including but not limited to risk and return. You may consider that it would be difficult to identify and invest in alternative investments that have a similar profile to AVJennings or may incur transaction costs in undertaking any new investment.

In addition, despite the risk factors relevant to AVJennings' future operations as a standalone entity (including those noted in section 7.4 of this Scheme Booklet) and the AVJennings Board's unanimous Recommendation that you vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interest of AVJennings Shareholders, you may consider that AVJennings may be able to generate greater returns for its assets as a standalone entity, or by exploring alternative corporate transactions in the future.

(d) The tax consequences of the Scheme for you may not suit your individual financial or tax position

Implementation of the Scheme may trigger taxation consequences for Scheme Shareholders, such as the realisation of a capital gain or capital loss. The tax consequences of the Scheme for you will depend on your own individual financial and tax circumstances. A general guide to the taxation implications of the Scheme is set out in section 8 of this Scheme Booklet for certain AVJennings Shareholders. This guide is expressed in general terms only and AVJennings Shareholders should seek professional taxation advice regarding the tax consequences applicable to their own circumstances.

(e) You may consider that there is the potential for a Superior Proposal to emerge

It is possible that, if AVJennings were to continue as an independent listed entity, a change of control proposal could materialise in the future, such as a takeover bid with a higher price. Implementation of the Scheme will mean that AVJennings Shareholders will not receive the benefit of any such proposal that could occur.

However, since the announcement of entering into the Scheme Implementation Deed with the Bidder on 1 April 2025, no Superior Proposal has emerged and, as at the date of this Scheme Booklet, the AVJennings Board is not aware of any Superior Proposal that is likely to emerge.

A summary of the key terms in the Scheme Implementation Deed is contained in section 9.9 of this Scheme Booklet, a full copy of which is attached to AVJennings' announcement to the ASX and to the SGX on 1 April 2025 which can be obtained from the ASX website (www.asx.com.au), the SGX website (www.sgx.com) or from the AVJennings Website. A copy of the Scheme is set out in Annexure B to this Scheme Booklet.

For the Scheme to proceed and become Effective, the following conditions must be met (amongst others):

- AVJennings Shareholders must vote in favour of the Scheme at the Scheme Meeting by the Requisite Majorities set out in section 3.8(c) of this Scheme Booklet;
- the Scheme must be approved by the Court;
- FIRB Approval and OIO Approval must be obtained; and
- the other Conditions Precedent outlined in sections 3.9 and 9.9(a) of this Scheme Booklet must also be satisfied or waived (where capable).

If the above conditions are met and the Scheme becomes Effective, all Scheme Shares will be acquired by the Bidder, AVJennings will become a wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Bidder and AVJennings will be removed from the official list of the ASX and quotation on SGX GlobalQuote will be terminated.

If the Scheme is not approved or the Conditions Precedent are not satisfied or waived (where capable), AVJennings Shareholders will retain their AVJennings Shares and will not be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration or any Special Dividend. In this case, AVJennings will, in the absence of another proposal, maintain operations as a stand-alone entity listed on the ASX and quoted through SGX GlobalQuote, and AVJennings Shareholders will continue to hold their AVJennings Shares and continue to be exposed to risks and opportunities associated with their investment in AVJennings.

3.2 Scheme Shareholders

For the purposes of the Scheme, a "Scheme Shareholder" is an AVJennings Shareholder who, as at 7:00pm (AEST) on the Scheme Record Date (currently expected to be 11 August 2025), is:

- registered on the AVJennings Share Register as the holder of one or more Scheme Shares; or
- where the person registered on the AVJennings Share Register is CDP, depositors who have Scheme Shares entered against their names in the Depository Register.

3.3 Scheme Consideration

(a) Scheme Consideration

Under the Scheme, AVJennings Shareholders are being offered Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per Scheme Share, comprising cash consideration of $0.655 per Scheme Share they hold as at the Scheme Record Date, less the cash amount of any Special Dividend that may be declared and paid by AVJennings before the Scheme is Implemented.

The AVJennings Board (in its absolute discretion) may determine to declare and pay a fully franked Special Dividend of up to $0.167 per AVJennings Share held by AVJennings Shareholders as at the Special Dividend Record Date. The cash amount of any Special Dividend (if declared and paid prior to Implementation) will be deducted from the Scheme Consideration.¹

If any Special Dividend is declared, those AVJennings Shareholders who are entitled to the Special Dividend may be entitled to franking credits of up to approximately $0.072 per AVJennings Share.² Whether you will be able to receive benefits from the franking credits attached to any Special Dividend will depend on your personal circumstances and whether a favourable class ruling is obtained from the ATO.³

A determination of the AVJennings Directors will be communicated to AVJennings Shareholders by way of an announcement to the ASX and the SGX.

(b) Payment of Scheme Consideration

If the Scheme becomes Effective:

- Scheme Shareholders will be sent the Scheme Consideration on the Implementation Date (currently expected to be 14 August 2025); and
- if the AVJennings Directors determine to declare and pay a Special Dividend, AVJennings Shareholders on the AVJennings Share Register as at the Special Dividend Record Date will be paid the Special Dividend on the Special Dividend Payment Date (currently expected to be 6 August 2025).

In respect of those Scheme Shareholders who have their Scheme Shares quoted on the ASX:

- All payments will be made by electronic funds transfer into the Scheme Shareholder's nominated bank account, as advised to the AVJennings Share Registry. If the Scheme Shareholder has not nominated a bank account, payment will be made by Australian dollar cheque, sent by pre-paid post to the Scheme Shareholder's registered address as shown on the AVJennings Share Register.
- If the Scheme Shareholder does not have a registered address, or AVJennings considers the Scheme Shareholder is not known at its registered address and no bank account has been nominated, payments due to the Scheme Shareholder will be transferred from the trust account held in the name of AVJennings and held by MUFG Corporate Markets on trust on behalf of the relevant Scheme Shareholder until claimed or applied under the relevant laws dealing with unclaimed money.
- Scheme Shareholders are encouraged to ensure that their contact details and banking instructions are up to date. Scheme Shareholders can review their shareholder information either online at <https://au.investorcentre.mpms.mufg.com> or by calling the AVJennings Shareholder Information Line on 1800 425 578 (within Australia) or +61 1800 425 578 (outside Australia), Monday to Friday between 8:30am and 5:30pm (AEST).

In respect of those Scheme Shareholders who have their Scheme Shares quoted on SGX GlobalQuote:

- Scheme Shareholders with Direct Crediting Service (DCS) with CDP will receive the payments in SGD pursuant to the Currency Conversion Service (CCY) which is automatically provided. As long as the Scheme Shareholder has not opted out of CCY, the payment will be paid in SGD based on the currency exchange rate as determined by CDP's partner bank in accordance with the CCY. For details on DCS and CCY, please visit <https://www.sgx.com/cdpfaqs>.
- Scheme Shareholders who wish to receive the payment in AUD must opt out of CCY at least three Business Days before the payment date.
- Scheme Shareholders who do not have DCS or who have opted out of CCY will have the payment credited to their Depositor Cash Ledger which shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as Cash Distributions under the CDP Terms and Conditions. Such Scheme Shareholder may make a request to CDP for a one-time telegraphic transfer of the payment to any designated bank account in SGD (based on a currency exchange rate as determined by CDP's partner bank) or AUD, subject to CDP's administrative fee and applicable bank charges. Please visit <https://www.sgx.com/cdpfaqs> for more details.

3.4 Scheme

In the event that the Scheme is approved by AVJennings Shareholders and the Court then:

- the Scheme will become Effective on the Effective Date;
- AVJennings Shares will cease trading on the ASX and cease to be quoted on SGX GlobalQuote at the close of trading on the Effective Date;
- any Special Dividend (if declared) will be paid to AVJennings Shareholders on the Special Dividend Payment Date for each AVJennings Share held by them on the Special Dividend Record Date; and
- on the Implementation Date, all Scheme Shares will be transferred to the Bidder (without any need for action by Scheme Shareholders) and Scheme Shareholders will be paid the Scheme Consideration for each Scheme Share held by them as at the Scheme Record Date.

Following Implementation of the Scheme, Scheme Shares previously held by AVJennings Shareholders will be transferred to the Bidder, at which point AVJennings will become a wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Bidder and will be delisted from the ASX and quotation on SGX GlobalQuote will be terminated.

A copy of the Scheme is set out in Annexure B to this Scheme Booklet.

3.5 Entitlement to participate in the Scheme and to receive any Special Dividend (if declared)

If you are registered on the AVJennings Share Register as an AVJennings Shareholder at the Voting Record Date (currently expected to be 7:00pm (AEST) on 9 July 2025), you will be entitled to attend and vote on the Scheme at the Scheme Meeting, unless otherwise noted in the Notice of Scheme Meeting, which is set out in Annexure D to this Scheme Booklet.

If the AVJennings Directors determine to declare a Special Dividend, AVJennings Shareholders on the AVJennings Share Register as at the Special Dividend Record Date (currently expected to be 5:00pm (AEST) on 29 July 2025) will be paid the Special Dividend on the Special Dividend Payment Date (currently expected to be 6 August 2025).

3.6 Determination of persons entitled to Scheme Consideration

(a) Voting Record Date

If you are registered on the AVJennings Share Register as an AVJennings Shareholder at the Voting Record Date (currently expected to be 7:00pm (AEST) on 9 July 2025), you will be entitled to attend and vote on the Scheme at the Scheme Meeting, unless otherwise noted in the Notice of Scheme Meeting, which is set out in Annexure D to this Scheme Booklet.

If the Scheme is approved by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting, and the Court approves the Scheme at the Second Court Hearing, you will be entitled to the Scheme Consideration.

(b) Dealings on or prior to the Scheme Record Date

For the purpose of establishing the identity of Scheme Shareholders, dealings in AVJennings Shares will be recognised only if:

- in the case of dealings of the type to be effected using CHES, the transferee is registered on the AVJennings Share Register as the holder of the relevant AVJennings Shares as at 7:00pm (AEST) on the Scheme Record Date;
- in the case of Scheme Shares held by CDP, depositors who have Scheme Shares entered against their names in the Depository Register as at 7:00pm (AEST) on the Scheme Record Date; and

If the Scheme becomes Effective, AVJennings must register registrable transmission applications or transfers of the kind recognised above on or before the Implementation Date.

AVJennings will not accept for registration, nor recognise for the purpose of establishing the persons who are Scheme Shareholders, nor for any other purpose pursuant to the Scheme, any transfer or transmission application in respect of AVJennings Shares received after such times, or received prior to such times but not in actionable or registrable form (as appropriate).

(c) Dealings after the Scheme Record Date

For the purposes of determining entitlements to the Scheme Consideration, AVJennings will, until the Scheme Consideration has been paid to the Scheme Shareholders on the Implementation Date, maintain the AVJennings Share Register in its form as at the Scheme Record Date. The AVJennings Share Register in this form will solely determine entitlements to the Scheme Consideration.

From the Scheme Record Date, except as evidence of entitlement to the Scheme Consideration in respect of the Scheme Shares relating to that entry:

- all statements of holding in respect of AVJennings Shares cease to have effect as documents of title in respect of such AVJennings Shares; and
- each entry on the AVJennings Share Register will cease to be of any effect.

3.7 Determination of persons entitled to any Special Dividend (if declared)

3.8 Scheme Meeting

(a) Date and time of the Scheme Meeting

The Scheme Meeting is proposed to be held at 3:00pm (AEST) on 11 July 2025 at The Hyde Park Room, Sheraton Grand Sydney Hyde Park, 161 Elizabeth Street, Sydney 2000 and through an online platform at <https://meetings.openbriefing.com/AVJScheme25> for the purposes of approving the Scheme. The Notice of Scheme Meeting is set out in Annexure D to this Scheme Booklet.

Although the Court has ordered the Scheme Meeting, this does not mean the Court has formed a view on the merits of the Scheme or is providing any indication of how AVJennings Shareholders should vote on the Scheme Resolution. It is important that AVJennings Shareholders reach their own decision on these matters.

In any event, the Court must approve the Scheme at the Second Court Hearing before the Scheme can become Effective.

(b) Scheme Resolution

At the Scheme Meeting, AVJennings Shareholders will be asked to consider and, if thought fit, to pass the Scheme Resolution to approve the Scheme. The form of the Scheme Resolution is set out in the Notice of Scheme Meeting set out in Annexure D to this Scheme Booklet.

(c) Requisite Majorities required to pass resolution

The Scheme Resolution must be approved by:

AVJennings will apply to the Court to approve the Scheme in accordance with section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act at the Second Court Hearing (currently expected to be 23 July 2025). The Corporation Act and the relevant Court rules provide a procedure for AVJennings Shareholders to oppose the approval of the Scheme by the Court.

(b) Court order

If the Court approves the Scheme, and all conditions to the Scheme have been satisfied or waived, AVJennings will lodge with ASIC an office copy of the Court order approving the Scheme, at which point the Scheme will become Effective (currently expected to be 24 July 2025).

If the Scheme becomes Effective, then AVJennings and the Bidder will become bound to Implement the Scheme in accordance with the terms of the Scheme and the Deed Poll.

4 Overview of the Extraordinary General Meeting

4.1 Background

As soon as practicable following the Scheme Meeting, AVJennings proposes to hold an Extraordinary General Meeting to vote on the Share Issue Resolution to approve, by way of an ordinary resolution, the issuance of new AVJennings Shares to Mr Philip Kearns AM in connection with the acceleration of his entitlement to Performance Rights in connection with the Scheme for nil cash consideration. The Extraordinary General Meeting is scheduled to be held at the same venue and through an online platform at <https://meetings.openbriefing.com/AVJEGM25>.

Approval is required for the issue of new AVJennings Shares to Mr Kearns as he is a related party of AVJennings as a result of his role as an AVJennings Director.

The Share Issue Resolution is required as AVJennings, in the usual course, has previously satisfied the vesting of Performance Rights by way of purchase of AVJennings Shares on-market and therefore has not sought AVJennings Shareholder approval to each issuance of Performance Rights or other AVJennings Equity Incentives.

However, as the AVJennings Board has determined to accelerate and vest 93.9% of the AVJennings Equity Incentives across in aggregate across all participants, the AVJennings Board has also determined to issue new AVJennings Shares to avoid potential liquidity issues. Further information is set out in 9.11 of this Scheme Booklet.

The implied value of the AVJennings Shares that are proposed to vest in Mr Kearns pursuant to the Share Issuance Resolution is $2,152,166.25, based on the Scheme Consideration of $0.655 per AVJennings Share.

Each AVJennings Shareholder who is registered as the holder of AVJennings Shares on the AVJennings Share Register as at 7:00pm (AEST) on the Voting Record Date, other than Mr Philip Kearns AM and associates including closely related parties, will be entitled to vote on the Share Issue Resolution at the Extraordinary General Meeting.¹

Subject to receipt of approval of the Share Issue Resolution at the Extraordinary General Meeting, and approval of the Scheme Resolution at the Scheme Meeting and Court approval, the Scheme will become Effective and AVJennings intends to issue additional AVJennings Shares to Mr Kearns in the period after the Scheme Effective Date and before the Scheme Record Date.

Further information regarding the Extraordinary General Meeting is set out in the Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting, which is set out in Annexure E to this Scheme Booklet.

4.2 AVJennings Board Recommendation

The AVJennings Board (with Mr Kearns abstaining) recommends that AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Share Issue Resolution.

The Share Issue Resolution is not a condition of the Scheme or the Scheme Resolution. If the Share Issue Resolution does not pass with the required majority, the AVJennings Board will explore alternative options including acquisitions on-market or cash payments with the same implied value as the new AVJennings Shares proposed to be issued pursuant to this resolution. However, regardless of the outcome of the vote on the Share Issue Resolution, if the Scheme Resolution is passed, the Conditions Precedent are satisfied or waived (as applicable) and the Scheme becomes Effective, the Scheme will be Implemented.

4.3 Form of the Share Issue Resolution

The proposed form of the Share Issue Resolution to be voted on at the Extraordinary General Meeting is as follows:

To approve for all purposes, including ASX Listing Rule 10.11, the issue to Philip Kearns of 3,285,750 AVJennings Shares as satisfaction for the accelerating, exercise and vesting of 3,285,750 Performance Rights on the terms set out in the Explanatory Memorandum to the Notice of Meeting.

¹ Please refer to the voting exclusion statement set out in the Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting, which is set out in Annexure E to this Scheme Booklet for more details.

6.4 Rationale for the Bidder's proposed acquisition of AVJennings

As detailed in section 6.1, AVID and the Proprium Group are experienced, market-based acquirers of residential development assets in direct markets and via corporate transactions. As a prominent residential property developer with a diverse portfolio of properties, projects, and developments throughout Australia and New Zealand, the Bidder believes AVJennings will meaningfully strengthen AVID's portfolio and inject new momentum into AVID's ongoing growth journey. The Bidder sees strong alignment between the two businesses.

6.5 Funding arrangements for the Scheme Consideration

(a) Scheme Consideration

If the Scheme is Implemented, Scheme Shareholders will be entitled to receive Scheme Consideration.

The Scheme is not conditional on the Bidder obtaining debt or equity finance to fund the payment of the Scheme Consideration. The Bidder has access to sufficient funds and intends to fund the Scheme Consideration with a combination debt funding and equity funding from its shareholders, as detailed below.

(b) Equity funding

The Bidder has received a legally binding equity commitment letter from Bidder FinCo dated 31 March 2025 pursuant to which Bidder FinCo has agreed to provide funding to the Bidder, in an aggregate amount of A$230,000,000 (Equity Commitment) to assist the Bidder in meeting its obligations to fund the Scheme Consideration as and when it becomes payable (or where the Break Fee becomes payable in accordance with the terms of the Scheme Implementation Deed). This Equity Commitment is cash-backed. The obligation to provide the Equity Commitment to the Bidder to fund the Scheme Consideration is conditional only upon the satisfaction or waiver of each of the Conditions Precedent set out in the Scheme Implementation Deed. The obligation to provide the Equity Commitment to fund the Break Fee is not conditional and must be satisfied where the Break Fee becomes payable in accordance with the Scheme Implementation Deed.

(c) Debt funding

Senior Funding

The Bidder has entered into a debt commitment letter dated 27 March 2025 (the ANZ Debt Commitment Letter) under which Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited (ABN 11 005 357 522) (ANZ) will enter into a senior secured syndicated facilities agreement with the Bidder (ANZ Facilities Agreement). Pursuant to the ANZ Debt Commitment Letter, ANZ has agreed to provide a term facility with a facility limit of up to A$100,000,000 (Term Facility) and revolving credit facilities with an aggregate facility limit of up to A$194,500,000 and NZ$65,000,000 (Revolving Facilities and together with the Term Facility, the ANZ Facilities).

The ANZ Debt Commitment Letter also includes bank guarantee and performance guarantee facilities with an aggregate facility limit of up to A$34,500,000, which may be used to finance bank guarantee requirements of the AVJennings Group and for the replacement and/or refinancing of existing indebtedness of the AVJennings Group under its surety bond financing arrangements.

On or before the Second Court Date, the Bidder intends to enter into the ANZ Facilities Agreement and related definitive financing documentation required to be entered into as a condition precedent to the initial borrowings under the ANZ Facilities Agreement, the material terms and conditions of which are specified in the ANZ Debt Commitment letter. The ANZ Facilities Agreement will supersede the ANZ Debt Commitment Letter.

The ANZ Facilities are available to the Bidder for the purposes of, among other things:

- funding the purchase price for the acquisition of the Scheme Shares;
- refinancing existing indebtedness of AVJennings;
- paying costs and expenses incurred in connection with the Scheme and associated transaction; and
- funding working capital and general corporate purposes of the Bidder and (after implementation of the Scheme) the AVJennings Group.

The ANZ Facilities will be provided on a customary “certain funds” basis and are subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent which are customary for facilities of this nature and which include confirmation that:

- a minimum amount of equity funding has been provided to the Bidder;
- subject only to the payment of the purchase consideration due and payable under the Scheme Implementation Deed and satisfaction of any other steps contemplated to occur as part of the completion process under the Scheme Implementation Deed, completion of the acquisition will occur in accordance with the Scheme Implementation Deed; and
- all authorisations necessary for completion of the acquisition of the Scheme Shares have been obtained, including the FIRB Approval.

The Bidder expects that all conditions precedent under the ANZ Facilities will be satisfied before the Second Court Date (other than certain procedural conditions precedent which are intended to be satisfied concurrently with, or prior to, the first drawdown under the ANZ Facilities as required by the Scheme Implementation Deed, including payment of fees and expenses).

If all of the conditions precedent under the ANZ Facilities are satisfied or waived, then (subject to the provisions set out in the paragraph below and provided it is not unlawful for ANZ to do so) ANZ must provide funding under the ANZ Facilities.

Mezzanine Funding

In addition to the Equity Commitment, Bidder FinCo has also entered into a debt commitment letter dated 27 March 2025 under which Perpetual Corporate Trust Limited (ABN 99 000 341 533) as custodian for the Metrics Credit Partners Diversified Australian Senior Loan Fund (Metrics) will enter into a mezzanine secured syndicated facilities agreement with Bidder FinCo (Mezzanine Facility Agreement) and provide a term facility with a facility limit of up to $142,000,000 (Mezzanine Facility). The Mezzanine Facility will be structurally subordinated to the ANZ Facilities.

The proceeds of the Mezzanine Facility may be used to assist in:

- funding the purchase price for the acquisition of the Scheme Shares;
- refinancing existing indebtedness of AVJennings; and
- paying costs and expenses incurred in connection with the Scheme and associated transaction, including, in each case, by on-lending or otherwise contributing such proceeds to the Bidder.

On or before the Second Court Date, the Bidder will enter into the Mezzanine Facility Agreement and related definitive financing documentation required to be entered into as a condition precedent to the initial borrowings under the Mezzanine Facility Agreement, the material terms and conditions of which are specified in the Mezzanine Debt Commitment letter. The Mezzanine Facility Agreement will supersede the Mezzanine Debt Commitment Letter. The material terms and conditions (other than economic terms) specified in the Mezzanine Debt Commitment Letter are largely consistent with the terms and conditions in the ANZ Debt Commitment Letter.

The Mezzanine Facility will be provided on a customary “certain funds” basis and is subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent which are customary for facilities of this nature and are largely consistent with conditions precedent under the ANZ Facilities Agreement. Bidder FinCo expects that all conditions precedent will be satisfied before the Second Court Date (other than certain procedural conditions precedent which are intended to be satisfied concurrently with, or prior to, the first drawdown under the Mezzanine Facility as required by the Scheme Implementation Deed, including payment of fees and expenses).

If all of the conditions are satisfied or waived, then (subject to the provisions set out in the paragraph below and provided it is not unlawful for Metrics to do so) Metrics must provide funding under the Mezzanine Facility.

The provision of the ANZ Facilities and the Mezzanine Facility are each subject to the correctness of certain representations (which are customary for facilities of this nature) and that certain events of default have not occurred and are not subsisting.

As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, neither the Bidder nor Bidder FinCo is aware of:

- any reason why any of the conditions precedent to the ANZ Facilities or the Mezzanine Facility will not be satisfied, and are confident they will be satisfied, in time to allow payment in full of the aggregate Scheme Consideration as and when due under the terms of the Scheme;
- any reason why the ANZ Facilities or the Mezzanine Facility will not be available to be drawn down for the purpose of funding the purchase price for the acquisition of the Scheme Shares as contemplated under the terms of the Scheme; or

- the occurrence of any misrepresentation or event of default or any circumstance that would lead to any misrepresentation or an event of default or which would give rise to a right of ANZ or Metrics to terminate the ANZ Facilities or the Metric Facility.

The proceeds that will be available to the Bidder under the ANZ Facilities Agreement, together with the proceeds of the Equity Commitment and the proceeds that will be available to Bidder FinCo (and will in turn be contributed to the Bidder) under the Mezzanine Facilities Agreement, are in excess of the amount that is required to fund the Scheme Consideration.

6.6 Bidder's intentions if the Scheme is Implemented

This section 6.6 sets out the Bidder's current intentions on the basis of facts and information concerning AVJennings and the general business environment known to the Bidder, in each case, as at the time of the preparation of this Scheme Booklet. Final decisions will only be reached by the Bidder in light of increased knowledge through exposure to the business and material information and circumstances at the relevant time. Any major decisions regarding the business of AVJennings will only be made following receipt of appropriate legal, taxation and financial advice and a detailed review of AVJennings' strategic, financial and commercial operational matters to determine the optimum manner of operating and managing the business. Accordingly, the statements set out in this section 6.6 are statements of current intention only, which may change as new information becomes available or circumstances change.

If the Scheme is Implemented, the Bidder intends to fully integrate the AVJennings business into its existing operations.

(a) Operations

The Bidder views the acquisition of the AVJennings business as consistent with AVID's existing strategy. The Bidder intends to integrate the AVJennings business into its existing operations, corporate and governance structure.

(b) Directors

If the Scheme is Implemented, the Bidder intends to reconstitute the AVJennings Group directors to include nominees of AVID (who are yet to be identified at the date of this Scheme Booklet).

(c) Management and employees

The Bidder considers that the AVJennings' business operations and culture are well aligned with AVID's own business operations and culture.

The Bidder's intention is to best utilise the talent and skill sets across the combined platform, capitalising on the knowledge and experience within AVJennings and AVID.

(d) Head office

If the Scheme is Implemented, the Bidder intends for AVJennings' head office to be located in Sydney, New South Wales.

(e) Delisting

If the Scheme is Implemented, it is intended that quotation of the AVJennings Shares on the ASX and SGX GlobalQuote will be terminated and AVJennings will be removed from the official list of the ASX and SGX GlobalQuote on or around the Business Day immediately following the Implementation Date.

6.7 Bidder's interests in AVJennings Shares

(a) Interest in AVJennings Shares

As at the Last Practicable Trading Date, none of the Bidder or any of its associates had any Relevant Interest or voting power in AVJennings Shares.

(b) Dealing in AVJennings Shares in previous four months

None of the Bidder or any of its associates has provided or agreed to provide consideration for any AVJennings Shares under any other transaction during the period of 4 months before the date of this Scheme Booklet.

(c) Benefits to holders of AVJennings Shares

During the 4 months immediately prior to the date of this Scheme Booklet, none of the Bidder or any of its associates has given or offered to give or agreed to give a benefit to another person where the benefit was likely to induce the other person or an associate to:

- vote in favour of the Scheme; or
- dispose of AVJennings Shares,

where the benefit was not offered to all AVJennings Shareholders.

(d) Benefits to AVJennings officers

None of the Bidder or any of its associates will be making any payment or giving any benefit to any current officers of AVJennings as consideration for, or otherwise in connection with, their resignation or retirement from their respective offices if the Scheme is Implemented.

6.8 Other material information

The Bidder confirms that there is no other material information regarding the Bidder or its intentions regarding AVJennings that is material to the making of a decision by an AVJennings Shareholder on whether or not to vote in favour of the Scheme that is within the knowledge of any director of the Bidder as at the date of this Scheme Booklet that has not been previously disclosed to AVJennings Shareholders.

Risks

For personal use only

7 Risks

7.1 Introduction

The AVJennings Board considers that it is appropriate for AVJennings Shareholders, in considering the Scheme, to be aware that there are a number of specific risks associated with the Scheme, any Special Dividend that may be declared and paid and your current investment in AVJennings, as well as general investment risks which could materially adversely affect the future operating and financial performance of AVJennings, as well as the value of AVJennings Shares and the potential for any future dividends.

This section outlines:

- specific risks associated with the Scheme (refer to section 7.2 below);
- specific risks associated with any Special Dividend (refer to section 7.3 below);
- specific risks associated with your current investment in AVJennings (refer to section 7.4 below); and
- general investment risks (refer to section 7.5 below).

The risk factors described in this section are not an exhaustive list and should be read in conjunction with the other information contained in this Scheme Booklet. There may be additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to AVJennings which may also have a material adverse effect on AVJennings' financial and operational performance now or in the future.

If the Scheme becomes Effective, Scheme Shareholders will be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration, cease to be an AVJennings Shareholder and will also no longer be exposed to the risks set out in sections 7.2, 7.4 and 7.5 below (and other risks to which AVJennings may be exposed). If the Scheme does not proceed, AVJennings will continue to operate as a stand-alone entity listed on the ASX and with quotation through SGX GlobalQuote, you will continue to hold your AVJennings Shares, you will not be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration or the Special Dividend (if declared or paid by the AVJennings Board (in its absolute discretion)) and you will continue to be exposed to risks and opportunities associated with that investment.

In making your decision how to vote on the Scheme Resolution, you should read this Scheme Booklet carefully. You should carefully consider the risk factors outlined below and your individual circumstances. This section 7 is general in nature only and does not take into account your individual objectives, financial situation, taxation position or particular needs.

While the AVJennings Board recommends that eligible AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders, AVJennings Shareholders are encouraged to make their own independent assessment as to whether to vote in favour of the Scheme.

7.2 Risks associated with the Scheme

(a) Implications for AVJennings and AVJennings Shareholders if the Scheme is not Implemented

If the Scheme is not Implemented, Scheme Shareholders will not be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration and, if no comparable proposal to the Scheme or Superior Proposal is received by the AVJennings Board (or otherwise emerges) that is ultimately completed, AVJennings will continue to operate as a standalone entity listed on the ASX and with quotation through SGX GlobalQuote. See section 5.12 of this Scheme Booklet for further information on the strategy and intentions of AVJennings if the Scheme does not proceed. Unless AVJennings Shareholders choose to sell their AVJennings Shares on the ASX and/or through SGX GlobalQuote, AVJennings Shareholders will continue to hold AVJennings Shares and will be exposed to both risks (including those set out sections 7.4 and 7.5 of this Scheme Booklet) and potential future benefits in retaining exposure to AVJennings' business and assets.

The AVJennings Share price will also remain subject to market volatility and, if no comparable proposal to the Scheme or Superior Proposal is received by the AVJennings Board (or otherwise emerges), the AVJennings Share price may fall or trade at a price below the Scheme Consideration (including, potentially, to a price that is close to or below the AVJennings Share price on 27 November 2024, being the last trading day prior to the announcement of the non-binding indicative proposal from the Bidder on 28 November 2024), at least in the near term.

While it is not possible to predict the future performance of AVJennings or the AVJennings Share price, in deciding whether or not to vote in favour of the Scheme, you should have regard to the prospects of AVJennings on a stand-alone basis (that is, if the Scheme is not approved and Implemented).

If the Scheme is not Implemented, there may also be adverse consequences for AVJennings' operating cashflow as a result of implementing the restrictions on AVJennings' business in the ordinary course of business agreed in the Scheme Implementation Deed. These include the deferral of certain phases of new projects and retention of cash on balance sheet to fund any Special Dividend.

(b) The Scheme Implementation Deed may be terminated by AVJennings or the Bidder in certain circumstances and the Scheme is also subject to certain Conditions Precedent

Each of AVJennings and the Bidder has the right to terminate the Scheme Implementation Deed in certain circumstances, in which case the Scheme will not proceed. These termination rights are summarised in section 9.9(e) of this Scheme Booklet. The Scheme is also subject to certain Conditions Precedent that must be satisfied (or, if applicable, waived) for the Scheme to become Effective. These Conditions Precedent are summarised in section 9.9(a) of this Scheme Booklet.

The failure of a Condition Precedent to be satisfied (or, if applicable, waived) may also give rise to a right for either AVJennings or the Bidder to terminate the Scheme Implementation Deed. As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, the AVJennings Board is not aware of any circumstances which would cause any outstanding Condition Precedent not to be satisfied. Despite this, there is a possibility that one or more of the Conditions Precedent will not be satisfied (or, if applicable, waived) and that the Scheme will not proceed. There are a number of Conditions Precedent which are outside the control of AVJennings.

If, for any reason, the Conditions Precedent are not satisfied (or, if applicable, waived) and the Scheme does not proceed, or if the Scheme Implementation Deed is otherwise terminated, the AVJennings Share price will continue to be subject to market volatility and may fall.

(c) Tax consequences for Scheme Shareholders

If the Scheme becomes Effective, there will be tax consequences for Scheme Shareholders, which may include tax being payable. For further information regarding general Australian tax consequences of the Scheme for Scheme Shareholders, see section 8 of this Scheme Booklet. The taxation consequences of the Scheme for Scheme Shareholders may vary depending on the nature and characteristics of Scheme Shareholders and their specific circumstances. Accordingly, you should seek professional tax advice in relation to your circumstances.

(d) Risks if the Scheme is Implemented

If the Scheme is Implemented, you will no longer be an AVJennings Shareholder and will forgo any future benefits that may result from being an AVJennings Shareholder. In particular, if the Scheme is Implemented, you will not be able to participate in the future financial and share price performance of AVJennings, retain any exposure to AVJennings' business or assets or have the opportunity to share in any value that could be generated by AVJennings in the future. However, there is no guarantee as to AVJennings' future performance, or its future share price and financial performance, as is the case with all investments in companies listed on the ASX and the SGX. AVJennings Shareholders may also consider that it would be difficult to identify or invest in alternative investments that have a similar investment profile to that of AVJennings, or may incur transaction costs in undertaking any new investment.

7.3 Risks associated with any Special Dividend

(a) Payment of any Special Dividend

The AVJennings Board may declare a fully franked Special Dividend of up to $0.167 per AVJennings Share prior to Implementation of the Scheme, with the payment of this dividend if declared by the AVJennings Directors (in their absolute discretion) is conditional on the Scheme being approved by AVJennings Shareholders and becoming Effective.

The AVJennings Board will determine (in its absolute discretion) whether to pay any Special Dividend. This determination will depend upon a number of factors, including the availability of funds at the applicable time, the availability of a favourable ATO class ruling and receipt of relevant lender consents or waivers.

(b) Ability to receive the benefit of the franking credits attached to any Special Dividend

If AVJennings pays a Special Dividend of the maximum amount of $0.167 per AVJennings Share, those AVJennings Shareholders who are entitled to the franking credits attached to any Special Dividend may be entitled to franking credits of up to approximately $0.072 per AVJennings Share.¹ Whether you will be able to receive benefits from the franking credits attached to any Special Dividend will depend on your personal circumstances and whether a favourable class ruling is obtained from the ATO.²

There is a risk that the ATO Commissioner may use certain powers established under tax law to deny an AVJennings Shareholder the benefit of the franking credits attaching to any Special Dividend. AVJennings has sought a class ruling on behalf of AVJennings Shareholders in relation to, among other things, whether the ATO Commissioner will exercise his discretion to deny access to the franking credits. However, the final class ruling has not been issued as at the date of this Scheme Booklet and will not be issued prior to the Special Dividend Payment Date. You should consult your own taxation adviser to determine the tax consequences relevant to your specific circumstances. Refer to section 8 of this Scheme Booklet for further information regarding the tax implications in respect of any Special Dividend.

7.4 Risks associated with your current investment in AVJennings Shares

There are a range of business-specific risks associated with your current investment in AVJennings, as set out below. You will only continue to be exposed to these risks if the Scheme is not Implemented, in which case AVJennings will continue to operate as a stand-alone entity listed on the ASX and with quotation through SGX GlobalQuote.

(a) Property market risk

AVJennings' asset values and earnings are subject to property market conditions. Increases in supply or falls in demand in any of the sectors of the property market in which AVJennings operates could influence the acquisition of sites, the timing and value of AVJennings' sales and the carrying value of projects and any income producing assets as well as earnings. A downturn in the property markets due to deterioration in the economic climate could result in reduced asset values and earnings, as could a decline in sales.

General and specific market conditions, including the availability of mortgage finance and interest rates, among other things, may also have an impact on the ability of buyers to complete sales contracts and may negatively impact consumer confidence.

A number of contracts for the sale of residential lots are entered into on a "conditional" basis (e.g. subject to finance). Should market conditions remain challenging or deteriorate, the level of conditional contract terminations may increase. There may also be an increase in the rate of buyers defaulting under unconditional contracts.

Where there are terminations due to default, AVJennings will be entitled to retain the deposits paid by the buyers in most cases, but the properties may be resold at lower prices depending on-market conditions.

Market sentiment may also be influenced by media commentary and observations by industry analysts and may have a significant influence on the confidence of and the propensity of purchasers to buy properties. Such sentiment may have a more significant short-term influence on project enquiry levels and rates of sale than medium term factors such as the likelihood of oversupply or undersupply in some market segments. A decline in market sentiment which reduces rates of sales could adversely influence the amount of profit that can be brought to account in a particular financial period and can impact on AVJennings' liquidity.

² When assessing the benefit of franking credits attached to any Special Dividend, AVJennings Shareholders should seek independent professional taxation advice as to whether or not the receipt of the Special Dividend and any associated entitlement to a tax offset in respect of such franking credits will be of benefit to them based on their own individual circumstances. Refer to sections 2 and 8.3 of this Scheme Booklet for further information.

(b) Property valuation risk

Unanticipated factors influencing the realisable value of AVJennings' projects, such as those listed below, could impact on future earnings:

- a sustained downturn in the property market, such as the under-performance of residential property markets, may result in the diminution in the value of assets, a lower reported profit and a higher debt/equity;
- changes in the conditions of town planning consents applicable to AVJennings projects as a consequence of the unpredictable nature of council policies;
- variances in the cost of development as a consequence of the imposition of levies by state and local government agencies;
- environmental issues and changes to government regulations relating to real estate;
- any failure to deliver on or to effectively execute AVJennings' stated strategy or a failure to redefine the strategy to meet changing market conditions;
- the profit and risk factors, including discount rates applied, that are considered appropriate by professional valuers, for any properties held by AVJennings in response to changes in market conditions;
- development cost increases including, but not limited to, land, construction materials, consultants, labour, imposition of taxes and increases to state and local government charges will reduce the profitability of AVJennings;
- general cost increases;
- a failure of a significant portion of purchasers to settle on unconditional contracts;
- the presence of previously unidentified threatened flora and fauna species, which may influence the amount of developable land on major projects;
- archaeological or ethnographic claims, including native title claims;
- the activities of resident action and lobby groups; and
- land resumptions for roads and major infrastructure, which cannot be adequately offset by the amount of compensation eventually paid.

(c) Project development risk

The majority of AVJennings' business is to identify, analyse and purchase land for future development as residential communities which have a number of inherent risks in addition to those associated with property development generally, including:

- a risk that appropriate planning consents are not obtained or, if obtained, are not properly adhered to;
- a risk that development costs escalate beyond those originally anticipated;
- a risk of project delays due to factors beyond the control of AVJennings;
- a risk that any property development team and/or subcontractor appointed to implement a development project does not perform their role to a satisfactory standard or acts or fails to act in breach of contract;
- a risk that competing residential development projects adversely affect the overall return achieved by a residential development project undertaken by AVJennings because they provide competitive alternatives for potential purchasers and potential lessees;
- a risk that one or more residential properties does not sell; and
- a risk that market conditions change during any development project more materially than allowed for within the development project's assumptions.

Although some of these risks can be mitigated, it is not possible to remove entirely the risks inherent in residential development projects.

In addition, although AVJennings plans to apply many of the development and marketing strategies that it has employed in the past, new projects may pose unforeseen challenges and demands on its managerial and financial resources. Non-completion of such developments, or any of AVJennings' other developments, may have a material and adverse effect on AVJennings' business, financial condition, prospects and results of operations.

(d) Ability to acquire new land sites for developments

AVJennings is required to constantly identify land sites for property development to maintain the growth of its property development business. AVJennings usually replenishes and sources for new plots of land by participating in expressions of interest and other competitive processes to acquire land, acquiring plots of land from private owners as well as sourcing for suitable development sites through government land sales programmes or external property agents.

As AVJennings competes with other property developers for new land sites and there is no assurance that suitable sites will always be available at acceptable costs, AVJennings may not be able to secure a sufficient number of desired new land sites to maintain a pipeline of potential property development projects as planned. In such case, AVJennings may be forced to undertake fewer property development projects or projects with lower margins. Such circumstances may adversely affect AVJennings' profitability and financial performance.

(e) Construction activity risk

AVJennings is subject to risks associated with construction activities, including:

- the ability of third parties such as designers and sub-contractors to perform their work in accordance with their obligations;
- defective work and latent defects arising from incorrect design and poor sub-contractor workmanship and related third party claims;
- liquidated damages from delays in delivery on projects;
- cost overruns as a consequence of inadequate design, change in pricing conditions, industrial disputes, unforeseen conditions including inclement weather or under-performance of third parties;
- professional liability claims arising from allegations of negligence; and
- the availability and cost of labour and materials.

The nature of construction means that at any one time there are claims where the outcome remains uncertain for many years and is dependent on the ability to recover from third parties and insurance policies. The business is managed as a portfolio of projects and assets in which there is variation of performance, with some projects and assets over-performing whilst others under-perform, including loss-making projects, under-yielding assets and projects and assets subject to litigation.

(f) Compulsory acquisition risk

Land and real property comprise a significant part of AVJennings' property development business. Properties of AVJennings, or the land on which the properties therein are located, may be compulsorily acquired by the respective governments of the countries in which they are located for, among other things, public use or due to public interest.

In the case of compulsory acquisition by government authorities in Australia, the compensation payout has historically been based on the market value of the land which is determined by an independent valuer. However, there is no assurance that such practice will not change or that AVJennings will be able to further acquire land of comparable location or value. Accordingly, if it would not be in the interests of AVJennings to have the land compulsorily acquired for any other reason, AVJennings' business, financial condition, prospects and results of operations may be adversely affected.

(g) Illiquidity of property assets

Property investments are generally illiquid. Such illiquidity limits the ability of an owner or a developer to convert property assets into cash on short notice or may require a substantial reduction in the price that may otherwise be sought for such asset to ensure a quick sale. Such illiquidity also limits the ability of AVJennings to vary its portfolio in response to changes in economic, real estate market or other conditions in the short term. For instance, AVJennings may be unable to liquidate its assets on short notice or may be forced to give a substantial reduction in the price that may otherwise be sought for such assets in order to ensure a quick sale. This could have an adverse effect on AVJennings' financial condition and results of operations, with a consequential adverse effect on AVJennings' ability to make forecast returns.

(h) Investment pipeline risk

The performance of AVJennings is, to a large extent, dependent on the ability of the senior management team and the AVJennings acquisition teams to identify and source suitable acquisition opportunities. Such opportunities are subject to market conditions and other factors, many of which are outside the control of AVJennings.

(i) Interest rates and bank lending criteria

Increases in interest rates and/or the persistence of tight lending criteria for the provision of purchasers' mortgage financing could have the effect of reducing the affordability and availability of funding for buyers, therefore reducing demand and the number of sales made by AVJennings. Interest rates also impact AVJennings' costs of funds.

(j) Sales prices

Lower than expected sales prices across AVJennings' portfolio of projects would generally result in lower profits by reducing the settlement revenue from AVJennings' development business and the fee income from the joint venture businesses.

(k) Inflation and construction costs

Higher than expected inflation rates generally, or specifically to the broader residential development industry, could be expected to increase operating costs and development costs and potentially reduce the value of land owned by AVJennings. Additionally, there may be upward pressure on the costs of materials and labour required for housing construction. These cost increases may be offset by increased selling prices, although there can be no certainty that increased selling prices will be achieved.

(l) Supply chain risk

AVJennings may be unable to procure delivery of key supplies and services within timeframes and at prices required to meet current project feasibilities. AVJennings also faces the risk of a civil contractor or other major supplier or service provider encountering financial difficulty or experiencing other delays and being unable to complete or deliver contracted works or materials either in a timely fashion or at all. In such cases, the timing of settlement of lots may be delayed, resulting in a greater risk of sale contracts for contracted lots terminating, additional holding costs and/or a delay in the receipt of settlements proceeds or fees.

In addition to the above, if AVJennings is required to appoint an alternative service provider or materials supplier to complete outstanding works or deliver outstanding materials, AVJennings may incur additional expenses than would otherwise have been the case. Insurance may not be available to cover such additional expenses (for example, in situations where insurance held by AVJennings, or the civil contractor, service provider or supplier may not cover those events).

(m) Need for capital

Significant expenditures associated with each project or asset, such as site costs, mortgage or landholder payments, maintenance costs, employee costs and taxes, are generally not reduced when circumstances cause a reduction in return for those projects and assets. The value of a project or an asset owned by AVJennings may be adversely affected if the income from the asset declines and other related expenses remain unchanged. In addition, circumstances or events may occur in relation to one or more projects which are unforeseen but which may result in AVJennings being required to undertake greater capital expenditure than was originally planned, giving rise to potentially lower margins.

AVJennings may also require additional financing to fund working current and future capital requirements, to support the future growth of its business and/or to refinance existing debt obligations. There can be no assurance that additional financing, either on a short-term or a long-term basis, will be made available or, if available, that such financing will be obtained on terms favourable to AVJennings. AVJennings' ability to arrange adequate financing (if at all) on terms which are acceptable to AVJennings depends on a number of factors that are beyond its control, including general economic and political conditions, the cyclicity of the property market and market disruption risks which could adversely affect the liquidity, interest rates and the availability of funding sources, the terms on which financial institutions are willing to extend credit to AVJennings and the availability of other sources of debt or equity financing.

Uncertainty in the capital and credit markets may adversely affect AVJennings' ability to obtain financing on terms which are acceptable to AVJennings. If AVJennings is unable to obtain financing on terms which are acceptable to AVJennings, it may have to curtail its capital expenditure and/or defer its property development projects and/or divest assets. Such an event may have a material and adverse impact on AVJennings' business, financial condition and results of operations.

(n) Changes in government policy

Changes in government policy (including taxation, fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies at federal, state and local levels), including policies on government land development, public housing, immigration, negative gearing and first home buyer assistance and delays in the granting of approvals (including rezoning approvals) or the registration of subdivision plans may affect the amount and timing of AVJennings' future profits. State government and/or council development contributions may be introduced or increased, impacting land values and the profitability of projects.

(o) Breach of financial covenants

As at 31 March 2025, AVJennings is in compliance with all covenants under its debt facilities. The financial covenants in AVJennings' debt facilities relate to, among other things, AVJennings cash flow and asset values. A material adverse movement in any of these may cause covenants under AVJennings' debt facilities to be breached.

AVJennings has sought certain consents and waivers in connection with the potential payment of the Special Dividend (if declared by the AVJennings Board (in its absolute discretion)).

If a breach which cannot be cured occurs, this is likely to have negative consequences for AVJennings, including the possibility of early repayment of drawn debt. Property assets are by their nature illiquid investments. This may make it difficult to sell assets quickly to repay debt.

(p) Counterparty risk

AVJennings deals with many counterparties, including customers who purchase individual lots, builders who purchase multiple lots, parties who purchase englobo sites, suppliers, subcontractors, and other service providers. If any of these parties fail to meet their contractual obligations, the result could have an adverse impact on AVJennings' business and financial performance.

(q) Key personnel risk

AVJennings is reliant on a number of key personnel employed by AVJennings and will need to retain and attract suitably qualified and skilled personnel to support its strategic objectives. Loss of such personnel, or inability to attract suitably qualified personnel, may have a material adverse impact on AVJennings' business and financial performance. AVJennings' efforts to retain and develop key personnel may also result in additional expenses which could adversely affect its profitability.

(r) Joint venture risks

AVJennings currently undertakes joint ventures on development projects and asset ownership as well as in relation to the Pro9 Joint Venture. At times, major decisions are required to be made in respect of these joint venture arrangements (for example, redevelopment and refurbishment, refinancing, the sale of assets or surplus land, design and construction, the purchase of additional land and bid pricing). AVJennings' interests may not always be the same as those joint venture partners in relation to these matters and conflicts can have adverse time and cost implications.

Some of these agreements contain buy/sell provisions which may be triggered by a joint venture party and may require AVJennings to determine whether to retain or sell its interest in the joint venture. In addition, pre-emptive provisions or first rights of refusal may apply to sales or transfers of interests in co-owned assets and businesses.

These provisions may work to the disadvantage of AVJennings because, among other things, AVJennings might be required to make decisions about buying or selling interests in these assets and businesses at a time that is disadvantageous to it. While the majority of AVJennings' joint venture partners are large corporates or institutional investors, there is also the risk that they may default on their obligations or otherwise act in a manner which adversely affects AVJennings.

(s) Environmental and cultural heritage matters

AVJennings will, from time to time, be exposed to a range of environmental risks including: soil and water contamination, construction (lead paint, asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyl (PCBs)), cultural heritage (Aboriginal), flora and fauna (native vegetation, endangered species) and greenhouse gases. In addition, there is a risk that assets owned or projects undertaken by the AVJennings Group from time to time may be contaminated by materials harmful to human health (such as asbestos and other hazardous materials).

The discovery of, or incorrect assessment of costs associated with, environmental matters, cultural heritage or contamination on any of AVJennings' projects could have an adverse effect on the profitability and timing of receipt of revenue from that project.

(t) Climate change risks

Should AVJennings fail to adequately respond to the impact of climate change and associated legislative requirements, this could result in litigation (if reporting requirements are not met), reduced profit due to the impact of increased costs associated with energy efficiency and other costs associated with upgrading existing buildings to comply with new building standards or contractual obligations.

AVJennings may also be adversely impacted by a loss of market share if building designs do not address community expectations or match competitor products on sustainability issues. Prolonged adverse or unpredictable weather conditions (such as those experienced in Australia and New Zealand in recent times, including the persistent wet weather experienced in parts of Australia and in Auckland over 2022, early 2023 and early 2025) may result in delays in construction, giving rise to possible project losses, liquidated damages claims and/or deferral of revenue or profit recognition.

(u) Licensing

AVJennings, via one or more of its wholly owned Subsidiaries, holds building licences and real estate agency licences where required in the jurisdictions in which it operates. Failure to comply with the requirements of those licences, or failure to maintain those licences, may have a significant impact on AVJennings' financial performance.

(v) Capital expenditure

The risk of unforeseen capital or other expenditure requirements for AVJennings may impact its financial performance.

(w) Legal and other proceedings

AVJennings may be involved from time to time in disputes, including with various parties involved in the development and sale of AVJennings' properties (such as contractors, sub-contractors, suppliers, construction companies, purchasers and other partners) and the management and operations of AVJennings' properties. These disputes may lead to legal and other proceedings, and may cause AVJennings to suffer additional costs and delays to the relevant property development(s). In addition, AVJennings may have disagreements with regulatory bodies, including in the course of its operations, which may subject AVJennings to administrative proceedings and unfavourable decrees that result in financial losses and/or a delay in the construction or completion of AVJennings' projects.

(x) Insurance

AVJennings carries a range of insurance products for, among other things, workers compensation, public liability, professional indemnity, industrial special risks, and directors and officers. However, AVJennings' insurance will not cover every potential risk associated with its operations.

The occurrence of a significant adverse event, the risks of which are not, or are not fully, covered by insurance, could have a material adverse effect on AVJennings' financial condition or performance. Depending on the type of coverage, AVJennings may have to incur an excess prior to any payment by the insurer or pay for any difference between the full replacement cost and insured amount. AVJennings may also incur increases to its insurance premium applicable to other areas of cover as a result of the event.

AVJennings may not be able to recover under its insurance if the company or companies providing the insurance (or any reinsurance) are under financial distress or fail.

(y) Workplace health and safety

AVJennings may face the risk of workplace injuries, which may result in production or industrial stoppages, workers' compensation claims, related common law claims and potential work health and safety prosecutions. This may have a material adverse impact on AVJennings' financial performance.

(z) Competition risk

AVJennings may face the risk of loss of market share in the various residential corridors in which it operates as a result of the launch of competitors' residential estates. Such competition may adversely affect AVJennings' ability to acquire development sites or may result in the reduction of sales of residential lots or reduction in sales prices of residential lots or both. This may adversely affect AVJennings' financial condition or performance and the ability of AVJennings to meet its interest payment and debt repayment obligations.

(aa) Investment in Pro9

Pro9 is a Joint Venture established in June 2023 between AVJennings and Pro9 Global Limited. Its primary objective is to manufacture the highly durable and energy efficient Pro9 prefabricated walling system in Australia. The Pro9 Joint Venture is at an early stage of operational activities and only commenced production in the last financial year. As a result, there is a risk that the commercial operations take longer than anticipated to return a profit; that there are further manufacturing delays; that further capital contributions are required from AVJennings and Pro9 Global Limited or that our joint venture partner may otherwise act in a manner which adversely affects AVJennings.

AVJennings' information technology systems (including those provided by third party technology vendors) are vulnerable to service interruptions, degradation, damage or interruption from a number of sources, including natural disasters, power losses, computer systems failures, hardware and software defects or malfunctions, hardware and software updates, distributed denial-of-service, internet and telecommunications or data network failures, operator negligence, improper operation by or supervision of employees, physical and electronic losses of data and similar events, computer viruses, other malware or other cyber-attacks, penetration by hackers seeking to disrupt operations or misappropriate information, break-ins, sabotage, intentional acts of vandalism and other breaches of security.

Any damage or interruption to, or reduction in speed or functionality of, AVJennings' information systems or those provided by third party technology vendors could significantly curtail, directly and indirectly, AVJennings' ability to conduct its business and generate revenue and could result in significant costs being incurred, for example to rebuild systems, respond to regulatory inquiries or actions, pay damages, or take other remedial steps with respect to third parties.

(cc) Foreign exchange risk

AVJennings consolidates the results of overseas businesses into AVJennings Group results and the performance of overseas businesses in Australian dollars, when reported in AVJennings Group financial statements may vary due to the movement of foreign exchange rates, subject to any currency hedging arrangements AVJennings has in place. This could have an adverse effect on AVJennings' financial performance.

7.5 General investment risks

Like many listed companies, the market price of AVJennings Shares and the potential for any future dividends to AVJennings Shareholders are influenced by a number of factors, including the following:

- changes in investor sentiment and overall performance of the Australian, Singaporean and other international stock markets;
- changes in sentiment in credit markets;
- changes in general economic and business conditions, including changes in business and industry cycles, inflation, interest rates, exchange rates, prices of commodities and raw materials, the cost of energy and other utility costs, access to debt and capital markets, employment levels, sentiment in credit markets and consumer demand;
- changes in government fiscal, monetary, taxation and regulatory policies, including legislative and regulatory regimes for corporations, taxation laws and foreign investment policies;
- government or political intervention in Australia or other countries in export and import markets (including sanction controls, tariffs and import duties) and the disruptions this causes to supply and demand dynamics;
- changes to the rate of company income tax or the tax arrangements between Australia and other jurisdictions in which AVJennings operates;
- loss of key personnel;
- interruptions at AVJennings' workplaces arising from industrial disputes, work stoppages and accidents, which may result in business operations delays;
- weather conditions, natural disasters, wars or catastrophes (including pandemics), whether on a global, regional or local scale;
- changes to accounting standards and reporting standards which affect the financial performance and position reported by AVJennings; and
- reputational risks, particularly in connection with the property development industry.

8 Taxation implications

8.1 Introduction

The following is a general summary of the Australian income tax, goods and services tax (GST), and stamp duty implications for AVJennings Shareholders in relation to any Special Dividend that may be paid by AVJennings prior to the Implementation of the Scheme, and their disposal of AVJennings Shares under the Scheme (assuming it becomes Effective).

This summary is general in nature and does not purport to be an authoritative or complete analysis of the tax consequences arising from the Scheme. It does not constitute tax advice and should not be relied upon as such. AVJennings Shareholders are advised to seek professional tax advice in relation to their particular circumstances.

The description is based upon the Australian taxation law and administrative practice in effect as at the date of this Scheme Booklet. The laws are complex and subject to change periodically, as is their interpretation by the courts and the tax authorities.

The information provided below is not applicable to all AVJennings Shareholders. This tax summary applies to Australian tax resident and foreign resident shareholders who hold their shares on capital account. This summary does not apply to AVJennings Shareholders who:

- hold their AVJennings Shares on “revenue account” for taxation purposes (such as share trading entities or entities who acquired their AVJennings Shares for the purposes of resale at a profit) or as “trading stock”;
- acquired their AVJennings Shares pursuant to an employee share, option or rights plan;
- may be under a legal disability (e.g. under the age of 18 at 30 June 2025 or 2026 (as applicable), bankrupt or declared legally incapable due to a mental condition) or subject to certain special tax rules, including insurance companies, partnerships, tax-exempt organisations, dealers in shares or shareholders who change their tax residency while holding their AVJennings Shares or entities subject to the Investment Manager Regime under Subdivision 842-1 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (ITAA 1997) in respect of their AVJennings Shares;
- are not Australian tax residents and who hold their shares at or through an Australian permanent establishment;
- have a functional currency for Australian tax purposes other than an Australian functional currency;
- are taken to have acquired their AVJennings Shares before 20 September 1985; and/or
- are subject to the taxation of financial arrangements rules in Division 230 of the ITAA 1997 in relation to gains and losses on their AVJennings Shares.

AVJennings Shareholders who are tax residents of a country other than Australia (whether or not they are also residents, or are temporary residents, of Australia for tax purposes) should take into account the tax consequences of the Scheme under the laws of their country of residence, as well as under Australian law.

8.2 Class Ruling

AVJennings has applied to the ATO requesting a class ruling to obtain the Commissioner of Taxation’s views on specific Australian income tax implications for certain AVJennings Shareholders for any Special Dividend that may be declared and paid by AVJennings prior to the Implementation of the Scheme and their disposal of AVJennings Shares under the Scheme.

The Scheme is not conditional on the receipt of the class ruling.

The class ruling has not been issued by the ATO as at the date of this Scheme Booklet. AVJennings anticipates that the ATO will provide a draft of the class ruling prior to the Scheme becoming Effective. AVJennings will make an announcement to the ASX and the SGX if it receives a draft of the class ruling before the Scheme Meeting or the Second Court Hearing. A final class ruling is not expected to be issued until after the Implementation of the Scheme.

AVJennings Shareholders should refer to the class ruling once it is published. The class ruling will be available at www.ato.gov.au. It is anticipated that the Commissioner’s views in the class ruling will be generally consistent with the description of the Australian tax consequences in this summary. However, it is possible that the Commissioner may reach a different conclusion. Accordingly, it is important that this summary be read in conjunction with the class ruling.

8.3 Special Dividend

(a) Overview of proposed Special Dividend

If the Scheme becomes Effective, AVJennings is permitted to pay a Special Dividend to all AVJennings Shareholders who are registered as a holder of AVJennings Shares on the Special Dividend Record Date. The Special Dividend (if declared by the AVJennings Directors in their absolute discretion) is expected to be fully franked and will be paid on the Special Dividend Payment Date.

Under Australian tax law, certain Australian tax resident AVJennings Shareholders who receive a franked Special Dividend may be entitled to a “tax offset” equal to the amount of the franking credit attaching to the dividend, provided they are not prevented from claiming the benefit of the franking credit (see further below).

If an AVJennings Shareholder is entitled to a “tax offset”, the shareholder may offset or reduce the amount of tax payable on their taxable income. However, certain AVJennings Shareholders may not be eligible to receive a “tax offset” for their franking credits. This is explained further below.

The Australian tax legislation prescribes a number of rules which may prevent AVJennings Shareholders from claiming the benefit of franking credits on a Special Dividend, including the requirement that an AVJennings Shareholder is not a “qualified person” (see further below).

Broadly, these rules are designed to, amongst other things, discourage trading in franking credits, and may deny the benefit of franking credits to AVJennings Shareholders generally, or because of their particular circumstances. It is expected that these issues will be addressed in the class ruling requested by AVJennings. AVJennings Shareholders should refer to the class ruling once published. The commentary below is subject to the Commissioner’s determination in respect of these matters.

(b) Taxation treatment of any Special Dividend

(i). Australian resident individuals, companies and complying superannuation funds

If the “qualified person” requirements are met (see further below), Australian tax resident AVJennings Shareholders who are individuals, or that are companies or complying superannuation entities:

- should include any Special Dividend in their assessable income in the income year in which the dividend is paid, together with any franking credits attached to that dividend; and
- should be entitled to a tax offset equal to the franking credits attached to any Special Dividend.

A franking credit tax offset that is received by an individual or complying superannuation entity can be applied to offset or reduce the tax payable on their taxable income. Where the tax offset exceeds the tax payable on their taxable income, these AVJennings Shareholders should be entitled to a tax refund.

Where the AVJennings Shareholder is a corporate shareholder, franked dividends will generally give rise to a franking credit in the company’s franking account.

To the extent that any Special Dividend is unfranked, an AVJennings Shareholder should generally be taxed at their applicable tax rate on the Special Dividend, with no entitlement to any tax offset.

(ii). Australian resident trusts and partnerships

Australian tax resident AVJennings Shareholders who are trustees (other than trustees of complying superannuation entities) or partnerships should include any Special Dividend in the net income of the partnership or trust in the income year in which the dividend is paid, together with any franking credits attached to that dividend.

The tax laws that apply to the treatment of dividends, and in particular franked dividends, for trusts and partnerships are complex. However, subject to satisfying certain conditions, the liability to pay tax on any Special Dividend (and any franking credits) and the tax offset provided by any franking credits can flow through to the eligible beneficiaries or partners.

(iii). Non- Australian resident individuals and corporate AVJennings Shareholders

A Special Dividend paid to AVJennings Shareholders who are non-residents of Australia should not be subject to Australian dividend withholding tax to the extent that the Special Dividend has been franked.

To the extent that a Special Dividend is unfranked, Australian dividend withholding tax will be imposed at a rate not exceeding 30% by AVJennings on behalf of the AVJennings Shareholder.

In certain circumstances, it is possible for the rate of dividend withholding tax to be reduced under an applicable double taxation agreement which Australia has with certain countries.

(c) Franking credits – shares held at risk

The benefit of franking credits can be denied where an AVJennings Shareholder is not a “qualified person”. If an AVJennings Shareholder is not a “qualified person”, then the shareholder would not need to include an amount equal to any franking credits attaching to any Special Dividend in their assessable income but would also not be entitled to a tax offset.

Broadly, to be a “qualified person”, a shareholder must satisfy the “holding period rules”.

Under these rules, an AVJennings Shareholder is required to have held their AVJennings Share “at risk” for a continuous period of at least 45 days (not including the date of acquisition and the date of disposal of the shares) within the relevant “qualification period”.

An AVJennings Share will not be taken to have been held “at risk” by an AVJennings Shareholder where they hold positions (such as hedging positions) that materially diminish the risks of loss or opportunities for gain on their shares by more than 70%, although those days do not break the continuity of the ‘at-risk’ period.

In relation to this Scheme, AVJennings Shareholders will cease to be considered to hold their AVJennings Shares ‘at risk’ from the Scheme Record Date.

As the Special Dividend is taken into account in determining the amount of the Scheme Consideration, the so-called ‘related payments’ rule will apply to AVJennings Shareholders. Accordingly, the relevant “qualification period” will commence 45 days before the ex-dividend date and end 45 days after the ex-dividend date (the ex-dividend date being one day after the Special Dividend Record Date).

As a practical matter, and applying the indicative timetable, an AVJennings Shareholder who receives a Special Dividend and holds their AVJennings Shares “at risk” for a continuous period of at least 45 days during the period from 15 June 2025 to 10 August 2025 (inclusive) should satisfy the “holding period rules” and be eligible for the franking credit and tax offset. This issue is expected to be addressed in the class ruling requested by AVJennings. AVJennings Shareholders should refer to the class ruling once published.

8.4 Disposal of AVJennings Shares

(a) Australian tax residents

The disposal of an AVJennings Share by an AVJennings Shareholder will trigger capital gains tax (CGT) event A1.

The CGT event should occur when the change of ownership of the AVJennings Shares occurs. Under the Scheme, the change of ownership will occur on the Implementation Date.

Broadly, an AVJennings Shareholder will:

- make a “capital gain” if the capital proceeds from the disposal of their AVJennings Shares exceeds the cost base of their AVJennings Shares; or
- make a “capital loss” if the capital proceeds from the disposal of their AVJennings Shares are less than the reduced cost base of their AVJennings Shares.

AVJennings Shareholders who make a capital gain on the disposal of their AVJennings Shares will be required to include the net capital gain (if any) for the income year in their assessable income.

A capital loss realised on the disposal of the AVJennings Shares may be used to offset other capital gains derived by an AVJennings Shareholder in the income year in which the capital loss is realised, or may be carried forward to offset capital gains derived by the shareholder in future income years. Specific capital loss recoupment rules apply to companies to restrict their ability to utilise capital losses in future years in some circumstances. AVJennings Shareholders should obtain their own tax advice in relation to the operation of these rules.

(i). Capital Proceeds

The capital proceeds for the CGT event arising from the disposal of AVJennings Shares under the Scheme will consist of the money received, or entitled to be received, by an AVJennings Shareholder. Accordingly, the capital proceeds should include the Scheme Consideration (being $0.655 per AVJennings Share, reduced by the amount of any Special Dividend that may be declared and paid by AVJennings) received under the Scheme.

Based on the facts and circumstances of the Scheme, it is expected that any Special Dividend that may be paid by AVJennings should not constitute capital proceeds from the disposal of the AVJennings Shares. This issue is being addressed in the class ruling requested from the ATO. It is possible that the Commissioner may adopt a contrary view in regard to any Special Dividend and require that it form part of capital proceeds. The ATO has not finalised its position as at the date of this Scheme Booklet. AVJennings Shareholders should refer to the class ruling once published.

(ii). Cost base

The cost base and reduced cost base of AVJennings Shares will generally include the amount paid, or the market value of any property given, to acquire the AVJennings Shares, plus certain incidental costs of acquisition (e.g. brokerage fees). The cost base of each AVJennings Share will depend on the individual circumstances of each AVJennings Shareholder.

If the AVJennings Shares were acquired at or before 11.45am on 21 September 1999, an AVJennings Shareholder who is an individual, a complying superannuation entity or the trustee of a trust may choose to adjust the cost base of their AVJennings Shares to include indexation by reference to changes in the consumer price index from the calendar quarter in which their AVJennings Shares were acquired until the quarter ended 30 September 1999. AVJennings Shareholders that are companies will include that indexation adjustment if their AVJennings Shares were acquired at or before 11.45am on 21 September 1999. Indexation adjustments are taken into account only for the purposes of calculating capital gains; they are ignored when calculating capital losses.

AVJennings Shares acquired in different transactions may have different cost bases and therefore capital gains may arise in respect of some AVJennings Shares while capital losses may arise in respect of other AVJennings Shares.

(iii). CGT discount

Generally, Australian resident AVJennings Shareholders who are individuals, trusts, and complying superannuation funds that have held AVJennings Shares for at least 12 months (but have not chosen to index their cost base – refer above) at the time of disposal should be entitled to a CGT discount in calculating the amount of capital gain on disposal of their AVJennings Shares.

The CGT discount is applied after any available capital losses have been offset to reduce the capital gain.

The applicable CGT discount which would reduce a capital gain arising from the disposal of AVJennings Shares is 50% in the case of individuals and trusts or 33 1/3% in the case of Australian complying superannuation entities. The CGT discount is not available for AVJennings Shareholders that are companies.

As the rules relating to discount capital gains for trusts are complex, AVJennings recommends that AVJennings Shareholders who are trustees seek their own independent advice on how the CGT discount provisions will apply to them and the trusts' beneficiaries.

(b) Non-Australian tax resident AVJennings Shareholders

For an AVJennings Shareholder who:

- is a foreign resident, or the trustee of a foreign trust for CGT purposes; and
- has not used their AVJennings Shares at any time in carrying on a business through a permanent establishment in Australia, the disposal of the AVJennings Shares will generally only result in Australian CGT implications if, in broad terms:

- that AVJennings Shareholder together with their associates held 10% or more of the AVJennings Shares at the time of disposal or for a 12 month period within two years preceding the disposal (referred to as a “non-portfolio interest”); and
- more than 50% of the market value of AVJennings' assets is attributable to direct or indirect interests in “taxable Australian real property” (as defined in the income tax legislation). Taxable Australian real property generally refers to Australian land that is owned or leased.

The Australian Government announced as part of the 2024-25 Federal Budget in May 2024 that for CGT events commencing on or after 1 July 2025, they will seek to introduce law to broaden the definition of “taxable Australian real property”. The Australian Government announced as part of the 2025-26 Federal Budget in March 2025 that the start date of the measure will be deferred from 1 July 2025 to the later of 1 October 2025 or the first 1 January, 1 April, 1 July or 1 October after the amending Act receives Royal Assent.

A foreign resident individual AVJennings Shareholder who has previously been an Australian tax resident and chose to disregard a capital gain or loss in respect of their AVJennings Shares from CGT event I1 on ceasing to be an Australian tax resident may be subject to Australian CGT consequences on disposal of their AVJennings Shares.

AVJennings Shareholders that are non-Australian tax residents should seek their own independent tax advice as to the tax implications of the Scheme, including tax implications in their country of residence.

8.5 Foreign Resident Capital Gains Withholding

The foreign resident capital gains withholding regime may impose a 15% “withholding” obligation (calculated by reference to the Scheme Consideration) on the Bidder if:

- the Bidder considers, or reasonably believes that an AVJennings Shareholder is a foreign resident; and
- the AVJennings Shareholder satisfies the “non-portfolio interest” test referred to above.

The Bidder, in cooperation with AVJennings, may seek to clarify the status of particular AVJennings Shareholders and require these AVJennings Shareholders to provide the Bidder with either:

- a declaration that they are an Australian tax resident or that their AVJennings Shares are not an ‘indirect Australian real property interest’ (Declaration Form); or
- a notice of variation granted by the ATO varying the amount or rate of tax to be withheld (Variation Notice).

Unless a signed Declaration Form or Variation Notice is provided to the Bidder for these particular AVJennings Shareholders, the Bidder may withhold 15% of the Scheme Consideration payable to the AVJennings Shareholder and pay that amount to the Commissioner of Taxation. The Bidder and AVJennings have agreed that they may approach the ATO to obtain clarification as to the application of the foreign resident capital gains withholding regime. The Bidder has advised AVJennings that it expects to only contact a small number of AVJennings Shareholders and that if the Bidder does not contact an AVJennings Shareholder then it does not expect that it will withhold any amount under these provisions.

Foreign resident AVJennings Shareholders should consult with a professional tax adviser regarding their particular circumstances.

8.6 GST

There should be no GST payable in respect of the disposal of AVJennings Shares under the Scheme. Where an AVJennings Shareholder is not registered or required to be registered for GST, the disposal will be outside the scope of the GST. Otherwise, the disposal of the AVJennings Shares will be an input taxed financial supply. Where this is the case, AVJennings Shareholders should obtain independent advice in relation to whether there is an ability to claim any input tax credits for the costs (such as legal or professional fees) associated with the disposal of the AVJennings Shares.

8.7 Stamp Duty

No stamp duty should be payable by AVJennings Shareholders on the disposal of AVJennings Shares in accordance with the Scheme.

A summary of the key elements of the Scheme Implementation Deed is set out below. A full copy of the Scheme Implementation Deed is attached to AVJennings' announcement to the ASX and to the SGX on 1 April 2025 which can be obtained from the ASX website (www.asx.com.au), the SGX website (www.sgx.com) or from the AVJennings Website.

(a) Conditions Precedent

Implementation of the Scheme is subject to the following conditions which must be satisfied or waived (where capable) before the Scheme can be Implemented:

- FIRB Approval: before 8.00am on the Second Court Date either:
 - receiving a written notice under the FATA from the Treasurer (or their delegate) stating that, or to the effect that, the Commonwealth Government does not object to the Transaction (either on an unconditional basis or subject only to (i) certain Tax Conditions issued by FIRB from time to time; or (ii) any other conditions which the Bidder accepts (acting reasonably)); or
 - following the Bidder giving notice of the Transaction under the FATA, the Treasurer becomes precluded by passage of time from making any order or decision under Division 2 of Part 3 of the FATA in respect of the Transaction.
- OIO Approval: before 8.00am on the Second Court Date, the Bidder has received in writing from the OIO all consents required under the Overseas Investment Act 2005 (NZ) for the Implementation of the Scheme (either unconditionally or subject only to (i) any conditions that are materially consistent with the then-current example conditions published by the OIO, or the automatic conditions specified in the Overseas Investment Act 2005 (NZ); and (ii) any other conditions which the Bidder accepts (acting reasonably)).
- Shareholder approval: AVJennings Shareholders approve the Scheme by the Requisite Majorities under the Corporations Act at the Scheme Meeting.

- Independent Expert: the Independent Expert's Report concludes that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders, on or before the date on which the Scheme Booklet is registered with ASIC, and the Independent Expert does not adversely change or withdraw that conclusion before 8:00am on the Second Court Date.
- Court approval: the Court approves the Scheme in accordance with section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act at the Second Court Hearing.
- No restraints: as at 8:00am on the Second Court Date, no applicable law, rule or other material legal restraint or prohibition is in place that restrains, impedes, prevents, makes illegal or prohibits the Implementation of the Scheme.
- AVJennings Equity Incentives: AVJennings has taken all necessary steps by 8.00am on the Second Court Date to ensure that no AVJennings Equity Incentives will be on issue before the Scheme Record Date, in accordance with the treatment of all outstanding AVJennings Equity Incentives as agreed between the parties and contemplated by the Scheme.
- No Material Adverse Change: no Material Adverse Change occurs between 31 March 2025 and 8:00am on the Second Court Date (inclusive).
- No AVJennings Prescribed Occurrence: no AVJennings Prescribed Occurrence occurs between 31 March 2025 and 8:00am on the Second Court Date (inclusive).

These conditions, and the provisions relating to the satisfaction or waiver of these conditions, are set out in full in clause 3 of the Scheme Implementation Deed. The Scheme will not proceed unless all Conditions Precedent are satisfied or waived (as applicable) in accordance with the Scheme Implementation Deed.

If a Condition Precedent fails or cannot be satisfied or waived (where capable of waiver) by the End Date, being the later of 30 September 2025 and such other day agreed in writing between AVJennings and the Bidder, the parties will consult in good faith and failing agreement, the Scheme Implementation Deed may be terminated.

(b) Exclusivity

The Scheme Implementation Deed contains customary exclusivity provisions in favour of the Bidder. These obligations may be summarised as follows:

- No existing discussions: AVJennings represents and warrants that neither it nor any of its Representatives are in any negotiations or discussions, or party to any agreement or arrangement, in connection with, or that could reasonably be expected to lead to, any Competing Proposal with any Third Party. AVJennings also represents and warrants that it has requested in writing that all Non-public Information previously provided to any Third Party in respect of a Competing Proposal be returned or destroyed in accordance with the terms of any confidentiality agreements in place with each Third Party.
- No-shop: During the Exclusivity Period, AVJennings must not (and must ensure that its Related Bodies Corporate and their respective Representatives do not) directly or indirectly solicit, invite, encourage or initiate any Competing Proposal or any enquiries, expressions of interest, offers, proposals, negotiations or discussions with any Third Party in relation to, or which could reasonably be expected to encourage or lead to the making of, or with a view to obtaining, a Competing Proposal, or communicate any intention to do any of these things.
- No-talk: During the Exclusivity Period, subject to the fiduciary exception (discussed below), AVJennings must not (and must ensure that its Related Bodies Corporate and their respective Representatives do not) facilitate, participate in or continue any negotiations or discussions with any Third Party with respect to any inquiry, expression of interest, offer, proposal or discussion by any Third Party which would reasonably be expected to encourage or lead to the making of a Competing Proposal, or negotiate, accept or enter into, or offer or agree to negotiate, accept or enter into, any agreement, arrangement or understanding regarding a Competing Proposal.
- No due diligence: subject to the fiduciary exception (discussed below), during the Exclusivity Period, AVJennings must not (and must ensure that its Related Bodies Corporate and their respective Representatives do not) disclose or otherwise make available any Non-public Information or provide access to any AVJennings officers or employees to a Third Party with a view to obtaining, or which would reasonably be expected to encourage or lead to receipt of, a Competing Proposal (including providing such information for the purposes of the conduct of due diligence investigations in respect of AVJennings) whether by that Third Party or another person or communicate to any Third Party an intention to do any of these things.

9.9 Summary of Scheme Implementation Deed continued

- Fiduciary exception: the no-talk and no due diligence restrictions do not apply if the AVJennings Board, acting in good faith, has determined:
 - after receiving written advice from its external financial advisers, that the Competing Proposal could reasonably be expected to lead to a Superior Proposal; and
 - after receiving advice from its corporate law advisers, that compliance with the no talk and no due diligence restrictions (as applicable) would, or would be reasonably likely to, constitute a breach of any of the fiduciary or statutory duties of any member of the AVJennings Board, provided that the Competing Proposal was not brought about by a breach of the Scheme Implementation Deed.
- Notification: as soon as reasonably practicable (and in any event within 24 hours), AVJennings must notify the Bidder if it becomes aware of any:
 - negotiations, discussions or other communications, or any other contact or approach, in relation to an actual or potential Competing Proposal;
 - approach or proposal made to AVJennings, its Related Bodies Corporate or Representatives, in connection with an actual or potential Competing Proposal or that may be reasonably expected to lead to a Competing Proposal;
 - request made for any Non-public Information; or
 - provision by AVJennings, its Related Bodies Corporate or Representatives of any material Non-public Information to any Third Party in connection with an actual or potential Competing Proposal.
- Matching right: During the Exclusivity Period if AVJennings receives a Competing Proposal, it must provide all material details of that actual, proposed or potential Competing Proposal to the Bidder. If the AVJennings Board determines, having taken legal and financial advice, that it is or is reasonably likely to be a Superior Proposal, it must give the Bidder five Business Days to make a counterproposal. The AVJennings Board will then determine between the two proposals which one is superior. In these circumstances, if the recommendation from the AVJennings Board or any Director is changed to a different proposal, AVJennings may terminate the Scheme Implementation Deed but must pay the Bidder the Break Fee (being $3,703,600).

(c) Break Fee

AVJennings may be required to pay to the Bidder a Break Fee of $3,703,600 if the Scheme Implementation Deed is terminated.

- Change of recommendation: the Break Fee is payable if the Bidder terminates the Scheme Implementation Deed following a change of recommendation by any AVJennings Director or failure to comply with the undertaking from each AVJennings Director to vote (or procure the voting of) all AVJennings Shares held or controlled by him or her in favour of the Scheme at the Scheme Meeting, unless:
 - the Independent Expert does not conclude or continue to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders (except in circumstances where the sole or predominate reason for that conclusion is the announcement of a Superior Proposal);
 - a court, ASIC or the Takeovers Panel requests that any AVJennings Director change, withdraw, qualify or modify, or abstain from making their Recommendation or Voting Statement;
 - the Scheme Implementation Deed otherwise permits the change; or
 - AVJennings is (or would have been) entitled to terminate the Scheme Implementation Deed for material breach (and has given reasonable notice).
- Tail Period: the obligation to pay the Break Fee will also be triggered if AVJennings validly terminates the Scheme Implementation Deed and in the following 12 months implements a Competing Proposal.

(d) Reverse Break Fee

The Bidder may be required to pay AVJennings a Reverse Break Fee of $3,703,600 if AVJennings terminates the Scheme Implementation Deed before 8:00am on the Second Court Date and either:

- the Bidder is in material breach of any provision of the Scheme Implementation Deed (other than a representation and warranty not being true and correct); or
- a representation and warranty given by the Bidder is not true and correct, where that breach of representation and warranty is material in the context of the Transaction as a whole.

AVJennings must provide the Bidder with written notice of the contravention and allow a cure period of up to five Business Days (less if only identified closer to the Second Court Date).

(e) Termination rights

Either party may terminate the Scheme Implementation Deed by written notice before 8:00am on the Second Court Date if:

- the other party is in material breach of the Scheme Implementation Deed (other than a representation and warranty not being true and correct) or a representation and warranty given by the other party is not true and correct, where that breach is material in the context of the Transaction as a whole;
- the party wishing to terminate has given written notice setting out the relevant circumstances and stating an intention to terminate; and
- if the relevant circumstances continue for five Business Days (or shorter if just before the Second Court Date).

If a Condition Precedent fails or cannot be satisfied or waived (where capable of waiver) by the End Date, being the later of 30 September 2025 and such other day agreed in writing between AVJennings and the Bidder, the parties will consult in good faith and failing agreement, the Scheme Implementation Deed may be terminated.

The Bidder may terminate the Scheme Implementation Deed by written notice before 8:00am on the Second Court Date if:

- any AVJennings Director fails to provide their Recommendation or Voting Statement;
- any AVJennings Director has:
 - changed, withdrawn or adversely modified their Recommendation or Voting Statement;
 - recommended a Competing Proposal;
 - made a public statement to the effect that they no longer recommend the Scheme or supporting, endorsing or recommending a Competing Proposal or recommends that AVJennings Shareholders accept or vote in favour of a Competing Proposal, in each case whether or not permitted by the Scheme Implementation Deed; or

- AVJennings enters into any agreement or arrangement in relation to the implementation of any Competing Proposal.

AVJennings may terminate the Scheme Implementation Deed by written notice before 8:00am on the Second Court Date if a majority of the AVJennings Board withdraws its Recommendation and, if required to pay the Break Fee, has paid this to the Bidder.

The Scheme Implementation Deed will terminate automatically if, at the Scheme Meeting, AVJennings Shareholders do not pass the resolution to approve the Scheme in accordance with the Corporations Act.

The parties may terminate the Scheme Implementation Deed by another written agreement between them.

(f) Representations and Warranties

The Scheme Implementation Deed contains customary representations and warranties given by each of AVJennings and the Bidder to each other. These representations and warranties are set out in Schedule 2 (in the case of AVJennings) and Schedule 1 (in the case of the Bidder) of the Scheme Implementation Deed.

9.10 Status of FIRB Approval and OIO Approval

The Scheme is subject to receipt of FIRB Approval and OIO Approval. Applications for these approvals were made by the Bidder on 1 April 2025 and 9 April 2025, respectively, and, as at the date of this Scheme Booklet, these approvals have not yet been received. As Conditions Precedent and in accordance with the Scheme Implementation Deed, any FIRB Approval and OIO Approval must be received before 8:00am on the date of the Second Court Date for these Conditions Precedent to be satisfied.

While AVJennings is not aware of any circumstances which would cause the FIRB condition precedent or the OIO condition to not be satisfied as at the date of this Scheme Booklet, it is possible that the requirement for approval from FIRB or the OIO may be delayed and that this may result in a delay to the date of the Scheme Meeting. AVJennings Shareholders should note that both the FIRB condition and the OIO condition will need to be satisfied in order for the Scheme to proceed. The Scheme is not conditional on any other regulatory approvals.

Pursuant to rule 5.1.01(1)(b) and clause 8302(h) of Schedule 8 of the Corporations Regulations 2001 (Cth), the explanatory statement required for a Scheme must set out whether, within the knowledge of the AVJennings Directors, the financial position of AVJennings has materially changed since the date of the last balance sheet laid before the company in general meeting or sent to shareholders in accordance with sections 314 or 317 of the Corporations Act, as well as the full particulars of the changes.

ASIC has granted AVJennings relief from this requirement so that this Scheme Booklet only need set out, within the knowledge of the AVJennings Directors, that the financial position of AVJennings has not materially changed since 31 December 2024 (being the last date of the period to which the financial statements for the half year ended 31 December 2024 relate). AVJennings will provide a copy of the financial statements for the half year ended 31 December 2024 free of charge to any AVJennings Shareholder who requests a copy

9.11 AVJennings Equity Incentives

(a) AVJennings Equity Incentives on issue

As set out in AVJennings' 2024 Annual Report, AVJennings offers each key management personnel Performance Rights and Retention Rights, which are designed to align executives' interests with shareholders and to consider themselves like shareholders.

As at the Last Practicable Trading Date, AVJennings has 7,053,575 Performance Rights and 124,928 Retention Rights on issue:

	Outstanding unvested rights	Number of participants
Performance Rights
FY23 LTI Plan Grant	1,882,519	8
FY24 LTVR Plan Grant	2,024,188	5
FY25 LTVR Plan Grant	3,146,868	5
Total	7,053,575	-
Retention Rights
FY23 Grant	124,928	6
Total	124,928	-

AVJennings has also issued short term variable remuneration (STVR) grants for FY2024 with 75% issued in cash which has already been settled and 25% as a deferred cash payment.

Each AVJennings Performance Right and Retention Right confers on its holder the entitlement to acquire AVJennings Shares (or an equivalent cash amount) upon satisfaction of the vesting conditions, as determined by the AVJennings Board at the end of the relevant performance period. No amount is payable by the holder of the AVJennings Performance Right or the AVJennings Retention Right upon vesting.

As set out in section 9.1 of this Scheme Booklet, none of the Non-Executive AVJennings Directors hold any Performance Rights or Retention Rights. AVJennings does not have any options over any AVJennings Shares on issue as at the date of this Scheme Booklet.

(b) Treatment of AVJennings Equity Incentives under the Scheme

Under the Scheme Implementation Deed, AVJennings must put in place arrangements so that, subject to the Scheme becoming Effective, AVJennings ensures that, before the Scheme Record Date, no AVJennings Equity Incentives are on issue.

The AVJennings Board has determined in connection with the Transaction to undertake the following steps:

- in aggregate:
 - 93.9% of the outstanding Performance Rights and Retention Rights outlined above to be vested in full on the Effective Date and exercised ahead of the Scheme Record Date;
 - 6.1% of the outstanding Performance Rights and Retention Rights outlined above will be cancelled on the Effective Date;
 - a summary of the proposed vesting is set out below, on an aggregated basis across all participants, although the vesting may vary for individual participants:

	Outstanding AVJennings Equity Incentives	Number of AVJennings Equity Incentives vesting	Number of AVJennings Equity Incentives lapsing
Performance Rights
FY23 LTI Plan Grant	1,882,519	1,822,024	60,495
FY24 LTVR Plan Grant	2,024,188	1,792,835	231,353
FY25 LTVR Plan Grant	3,146,868	3,003,073	143,795
Total	7,053,575	6,617,932	435,643
Retention Rights
FY23 Grant	124,928	124,928	-
Total	124,928	124,928	-

- of those Performance Rights and Retention Rights that will be accelerated and vested in accordance with the above, such Performance Rights and Retention Rights will be exercised through the issuance of new fully paid ordinary shares in AVJennings (on a 1:1 basis) to participants.
- in connection with the acceleration and vesting through the issuance of new AVJennings Shares, an Extraordinary General Meeting will be held as soon as practicable following the Scheme Meeting to vote on the Share Issue Resolution to approve the issuance of shares to Philip Kearns AM, in his position as a Director and key management personnel. Further information is included in section 4 of this Scheme Booklet.
- all remaining entitlements under the FY2024 short term incentives will vest in full and be cashed out on or after the Scheme Effective Date and before the Scheme Record Date;
- all FY25 short term incentives will be assessed for the full financial year FY2025 and will be vested and cashed out, up to 100% of the entitlements. The timing of these payments is being finalised but it is likely to occur:
 - first 50% of each participant's entitlement is to vest upon approval of the Scheme by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting and be paid, immediately thereafter; and
 - second 50% of each participant's entitlement is to vest on the Effective Date and be paid, after the Effective Date and before the Implementation Date;
- if the Scheme does not become Effective, the Scheme Implementation Deed between the parties is terminated or, in the case of vesting of the first tranche of the short term incentives, shareholder approval for the Transaction as a whole is not obtained, the short term and long term incentives will continue in accordance with their terms;
- if shareholder approval is not received for the issuance of new AVJennings Shares in satisfaction of the awards, AVJennings has the option to buy shares on-market or to cash-out participants; and

9.12 ASIC relief and ASX waivers and confirmations

AVJennings has applied for the following waivers or confirmations in relation to the following ASX Listing Rules as they apply to AVJennings:

- a waiver from ASX Listing Rule 6.23.4 in connection with the acceleration and vesting of the Performance Rights and the Retention Rights. Further detail about the acceleration and vesting is set out in section 9.11 of this Scheme Booklet; and
- confirmation that the timetable for Implementation of the Scheme and payment of any Special Dividend (if declared) is acceptable to the ASX.

Pursuant to rule 5.1.01(1)(b) and clause 8302(h) of Schedule 8 of the Corporations Regulations 2001 (Cth), the explanatory statement required for a Scheme must set out whether, within the knowledge of the AVJennings Directors, the financial position of AVJennings has materially changed since the date of the last balance sheet laid before the company in general meeting or sent to shareholders in accordance with sections 314 or 317 of the Corporations Act, as well as the full particulars of the changes.

ASIC has granted AVJennings relief from this requirement so that this Scheme Booklet only need set out, within the knowledge of the AVJennings Directors, that the financial position of AVJennings has not materially changed since 31 December 2024 (being the last date of the period to which the financial statements for the half year ended 31 December 2024 relate). AVJennings will provide a copy of the financial statements for the half year ended 31 December 2024 free of charge to any AVJennings Shareholder who requests a copy.

9.15 Transaction costs

AVJennings estimates that, if the Scheme is Implemented, it will incur approximately $5.0 million (excluding GST and disbursements) in external transaction costs related to the Scheme, which includes advisory fees, legal fees, valuation fees, Court fees, and registry, printing and mailing costs. Of this, approximately $1.5 million has been incurred already, and will be payable regardless of whether or not the Scheme becomes Effective, excluding any Break Fee that may be payable to the Bidder.

Dear Directors

Part One – Independent Expert's Report

1 Introduction

On 1 April 2025, AVJennings Limited (AVJennings) announced that it had entered into a Scheme Implementation Deed with PM Nominees C Pty Ltd (Bidder), an investment vehicle controlled by Proprium Capital Partners (Australia) Pty Ltd and AVID Property Group (together, AVID) under which the Bidder would acquire all of the outstanding shares in AVJennings (AVJennings Shares) by way of a scheme of arrangement (Scheme) (Transaction).

Under the Scheme, shareholders of AVJennings (AVJennings Shareholders) who hold AVJennings Shares at 7:00pm (AEST) on 4 August 2025 (Scheme Record Date) (Scheme Shareholders) will receive cash consideration of $0.655 for each AVJennings Share held, less any dividend that is declared or paid before the implementation date of the Scheme (Scheme Consideration). The AVJennings Board may declare and pay a fully franked special dividend of up to $0.167 per AVJennings Share as at the Special Dividend Record Date at 5:00pm (AEST) on 22 July 2025 (Special Dividend Record Date) (Special Dividend). The Special Dividend is expected to result in franking credits of up to approximately $0.072 per AVJennings Share.

AVJennings is a residential property development company that acquires, develops and markets residential land, houses and apartments in greenfield growth corridors and urban infill sites on the Eastern seaboard of Australia, South Australia and New Zealand. As at 31 December 2024, AVJennings' pipeline comprised 9,586 lots under control, including 951 lots under development. As at 31 December 2024, SC Global Developments Pte Ltd (SC Global), a company owned by Mr Simon Cheong, through its wholly owned subsidiaries, holds and controls approximately 54.02% of AVJennings Shares. Mr Cheong is the Chairman and a Non-Executive Director of AVJennings. As at 27 November 2024, the last trading day before the announcement of the AVID non-binding indicative offer (AVID Proposal), AVJennings had a market capitalisation of $184.2 million.¹

AVID is one of the largest privately held residential developers in Australia with 35 residential development projects across the eastern seaboard, two industrial projects and 13 land lease resort communities, of which seven are fully operational, and six are in development & planning phase. AVID's portfolio of projects includes a selection of residential master planned communities, industrial land, land lease resort communities, completed homes and apartments across Queensland, New South Wales (NSW) and Victoria. AVID's current portfolio includes more than 7,161 residential sites, 267 hectares of industrial land and 2,448 of identified housing build pipeline, with a gross revenue pipeline of approximately $4.2 billion.

AVID is owned by a number of international institutional investors and is managed and advised by Proprium Capital Partners, L.P. The Proprium Group, which includes Proprium Capital Partners, L.P. and other entities, is a specialist real estate investment manager with approximately US$3.5 billion in assets under management. The Proprium Group manages funds on behalf of institutional investors worldwide and is headquartered in the United States, with offices in the New York area, London, the Netherlands, Hong Kong, Sydney, and Atlanta.

The Scheme is subject to approval by AVJennings Shareholders at a meeting (Scheme Meeting) to be held at 3:00pm (AEST) on 11 July 2025. For the Scheme to proceed, the Scheme Resolution² must be approved by at least 75% of the total number of votes cast by AVJennings Shareholders at the Scheme Meeting (in person or by proxy) and by more than 50% of AVJennings Shareholders present and voting (in person or by proxy) at the Scheme Meeting.

The AVJennings Board unanimously recommends that AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal and subject to an independent expert concluding (and continuing to conclude) that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders.

SC Global has confirmed to AVJennings that, based on the disclosed terms of the Scheme, it intends to vote all AVJennings Shares it holds and controls as at the date of the Scheme Meeting in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal and subject to an independent expert concluding (and continuing to conclude) that the Scheme is in the best interest of AVJennings Shareholders.

The Scheme is subject to a number of conditions as set out in Section 5.3 of this report, including approvals obtained from the Foreign Investment Review Board (FIRB) and the New Zealand Overseas Investment Office (OIO).

In order to assist the AVJennings Shareholders in assessing the Scheme, the Directors of AVJennings (AVJennings Directors) have appointed Kroll Australia Pty Ltd (Kroll) to prepare an independent expert's report setting out whether, in our opinion, the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders in the absence of a superior proposal.

This report will be included in the Scheme Booklet prepared by AVJennings to be sent to the AVJennings Shareholders in relation to the Scheme.

Further information regarding Kroll, as it pertains to the preparation of this report, is set out in Appendix 1.

Kroll's Financial Services Guide is contained in Part Two of this report.

2 Scope of report

The Transaction involves a scheme of arrangement which will be subject to AVJennings Shareholder approval in accordance with Section 411 of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act). Section 412(1) of the Corporations Act requires, among other requirements, that an explanatory statement issued in relation to a proposed scheme of arrangement, includes information that is material to the making of a decision by a member as to whether or not to approve the scheme.

Part 3 Schedule 8 of the Corporations Regulations specifies that the information to be lodged with ASIC must include a report prepared by an expert:

- if the other party to a reconstruction in a scheme of arrangement holds at least 30% of the company; or
- where the parties to the reconstruction have common Directors.

Even where an independent expert's report is not strictly required by the law, it is not uncommon for directors of a company to commission one to ensure they are providing the information that is material to the making of a decision by a creditor or member.

In this regard, as set out in the Scheme Implementation Deed, a condition of the Scheme becoming effective is that an independent expert concludes (and continues to conclude) that the Scheme is in the best interest of AVJennings Shareholders.

² As defined in the Scheme Booklet.

In undertaking our work, we have referred to guidance provided by ASIC in its Regulatory Guides in particular, Regulatory Guide 111 'Content of expert reports' (RG 111) which outlines the principles and matters which it expects a person preparing an independent expert report to consider.

Further details of the relevant technical requirements and the basis of assessment in forming our opinion are set out in Section 6 of this report.

3 Opinion

3.1 Background to the Transaction

In order to curb the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic which commenced in early 2020, the Reserve Bank of Australia lowered the official cash rate to record lows while the Federal Government increased expenditure. As a result, Australian residential property developers performed strongly in 2021, achieving cyclical highs in lot sales. However, from late 2021, a confluence of factors have created extremely challenging trading conditions for Australian residential property developers.

Demand has been impacted as increases in the official cash rate and high inflation have put pressure on affordability indices. Furthermore, lenders have also tightened portfolio controls, individual loan-to-value ratios and servicing thresholds.

On the supply side, development timeframes have expanded as a result of delays in obtaining planning approvals and COVID-19 pandemic-induced supply chain constraints impacting key material and labour inputs. This has meant that developers have needed to hold inventory for longer, reducing returns on equity. At the same time, holding costs have increased as a result of increases in the official cash rate. Increases in funding costs have been particularly challenging for AVJennings as a large share of its inventory balance is not expected to be completed until FY29 or beyond.

After making a number of land acquisitions in order to build scale and diversify, from early 2023, AVJennings paused land acquisitions, curtailed development activities, suspended its share buyback and paused dividends in order to conserve capital amid uncertain market conditions. Despite these measures, cash flow was impacted by substantial land payables remaining from prior periods and continued development expenditure, including as a result of the increases in interest rates. Operating cash flow losses were funded by an increase in borrowings. In its FY23 results released on 21 August 2023, AVJennings announced it was undertaking a proactive review of its capital structure with support from its lenders.

In October 2023, AVJennings raised $30.4 million of equity to fund the production of built-form housing, upgrades to its financial and operating systems and for general working capital, at an issue price of $0.20, a 50.0% discount to the last close and an 80.8% discount to net tangible assets (NTA), reducing its NTA per share by 22.1% from $1.04 to $0.81. Since this equity raising AV Jennings has traded at an average 62.7% discount to NTA.

On 20 May 2024, AVJennings announced the write-off of $17.2 million of capitalised development expenses as a result of the termination of the option at Rocksberg land in Caboolture, Queensland as AVJennings considered that funding the development costs would place further strain on its balance sheet.

As at 31 December 2024 AVJennings' gearing had increased to 24.5%³ and the Board has not reinstated dividends as development costs have not been matched by increases to forecast revenue and it would place further strain on the balance sheet beyond what was originally contemplated.

Despite the official cash rate remaining steady from December 2023, industry conditions remained challenging throughout 2024, with affordability indices at historical lows and inflation continuing to remain above the RBA's target band.

In this environment it is likely that any further equity raising to increase AVJennings' balance sheet capacity would be at a significant discount to NTA, further diluting NTA per share.

It is in this context that we have evaluated the Scheme.

3.2 Summary of opinion

In our opinion, the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

In arriving at this opinion, we have assessed whether the Scheme is:

- fair, by comparing the Scheme Consideration to our assessed value of an AVJennings Share on a controlling interest basis. This approach is in accordance with the guidance set out in RG 111; and
- reasonable, by assessing the implications of the Scheme for AVJennings Shareholders, the alternatives to the Scheme that are available to AVJennings, and the consequences for AVJennings Shareholders of not approving the Scheme.

We have assessed the Scheme to be fair and reasonable. Consequently, consistent with RG 111, we have concluded that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

We have assessed the value of an AVJennings Share to be in the range $0.54 to $0.61. As the Scheme Consideration of $0.655 falls above our assessed value range for an AVJennings Share, the Scheme is fair.

In forming our view as to the value of AVJennings, we have considered a series of factors including the status of AVJennings' current development pipeline, the Company's recent financial performance including the number of lot settlements and the development margin earned from projects, the performance of Pro9 to date, as well as the uncertainty facing AVJennings in the near-term given broader macroeconomic uncertainty around inflation and interest rates. As required under RG 111, we have considered the synergies on the basis of those that would be available to a pool of potential acquirers. Our analysis of the fairness of the Scheme is detailed further in Section 3.3 of this report.

In accordance with RG 111, an offer is reasonable if it is fair. As we have assessed the Scheme to be fair, it is also reasonable. Regardless of this requirement, we have considered a range of other factors that are relevant to an assessment of the reasonableness of the Scheme, including:

- the Scheme Consideration represents a substantial premium to undisturbed trading prices of AVJennings Shares;
- the Scheme Consideration is in cash and provides certainty of the pre-tax amount that AVJennings Shareholders will receive;
- AVJennings Shareholders will not participate in any future increases in the value of AVJennings, however, they will no longer be exposed to the risks facing the business, which are not insignificant;
- there are risks associated with the Special Dividend;
- in the event that the Scheme is not approved or any other conditions precedent prevent the Scheme from being implemented, AVJennings will continue to operate in its current form and its share price is likely to fall to levels consistent with the undisturbed trading price of AVJennings Shares, subject to any future financial achievements in the subsequent period, industry developments and the impact of broader trends in equity markets; and
- no superior proposal has emerged since the announcement of the Transaction.

Other matters which AVJennings Shareholders should consider in assessing the Scheme include:

- AVJennings will incur transaction costs if the Scheme does not proceed;
- the outstanding conditions precedent which, if not satisfied, will result in the Scheme not being implemented; and
- the tax implications of the Scheme.

Our analysis of the reasonableness of the Scheme is detailed further in Section 3.4 of this report. The decision to approve the Scheme is a matter for individual AVJennings Shareholders based on their views as to value, expectations about future market conditions and their particular circumstances, including investment strategy and portfolio, risk profile and tax position. If in doubt, AVJennings Shareholders should consult their own professional adviser regarding the action they should take in relation to the Scheme.

3.3 The Scheme is fair

3.3.1 Valuation of AVJennings

Kroll has assessed the value of AVJennings' equity to be in the range of $304.1 million to $347.7 million, which corresponds with a concluded value per AVJennings Share in the range of $0.54 to $0.61 on a fully diluted basis.⁴ Our range of assessed values reflects 100% ownership of AVJennings and, therefore, incorporates a control premium.

Kroll has valued AVJennings' development projects under a Run-off Scenario. That is, it is assumed that AVJennings' existing development projects run-off and are not replaced with future projects. Kroll has considered a Development Platform Scenario whereby AVJennings' existing development projects run-off and are replaced with future projects into perpetuity. However, as a result of AVJennings' relatively low return on equity, relatively high funding costs and long development cycle, we do not consider that a hypothetical acquirer would attribute value to the Development Platform Scenario greater than that which is assessed under our Run-off Scenario, particularly given that there are a number of potential acquirers that already have their own development platform.

The value of AVJennings' equity on a standalone basis has been determined by estimating the fair value of AVJennings' development projects, Pro9 and capitalised corporate overheads (net of synergies), together with consideration of AVJennings' net tax liability and non-operating liabilities and adjusted net debt (including lease liabilities). Synergies available to a pool of potential acquirers have been included in order to determine the value of AVJennings' equity on a 100% control basis.

	Section Reference	Valuation Range

In assessing the value of AVJennings' development projects, Kroll has adopted a DCF methodology as the primary methodology (refer to Section 9.3.1 of this report). The value derived from the DCF methodology has been cross-checked using a market approach, including price to NTA and EBITDA multiples (refer to Section 9.3.2 of this report).

Comparison of Kroll's valuation to NTA

A reconciliation of AVJennings' diluted NTA per share as at 31 December 2024 to Kroll's mid-point valuation of AVJennings is illustrated as follows.

Reconciliation of AVJennings Diluted NTA per share to Kroll's Mid-point Valuation as at 31 December 2024

Source: Kroll analysis.

Note 1: Numbers may not add due to rounding.

In considering our assessed range of values of $0.54 to $0.61 per AVJennings Share we note the following:

- it represents a discount to diluted NTA⁵ as at 31 December 2024 ($0.81) in the range of $0.19 to $0.27, or 23.6% to 33.2%, which is within the range of discounts to NTA observed for comparable property development companies (which range from a discount of 39.5% to a premium of 27.6%). Premiums/(discounts) to NTA are impacted by the point in the cycle at which the transaction occurs (refer to Appendix 3 of this report). In this regard, the most recent transaction identified, the acquisition of Devine Limited (Devine) in 2021, occurred at a discount to NTA of 39.5%, and four of the eight publicly listed residential property developers identified are currently trading at a discount to NTA (refer to Section 9.3.2 of this report);
- in the month prior to 27 November 2024, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Scheme, AVJennings Shares traded at a VWAP of $0.33, which represents a 59.5% discount to NTA as at 30 June 2024 of $0.81;
- the discount to NTA implied by our assessed range of values can be accounted for by the following offsetting factors;
 - AVJennings' assets mainly comprise inventory that is carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value whereas Kroll's valuation of the development assets reflects our assessment of fair value. A significant portion of AVJennings' inventory is carried at cost. Net realisable value does not represent fair value as it is assessed on the future margin expected to be attributable to the projects on an undiscounted basis (i.e. not considering the timing of when AVJennings may be able to realise this future margin or reflect the risk of achievement) and excluding any tax. In this regard, many of AVJennings' current projects are yet to commence settlement (eight projects representing 43.6% of lots) and a further four projects representing 24.1% of lots as at 31 December 2024 are not expected to commence settlements until beyond FY29. Overall, Kroll's discounted cash flow analysis results in a value of the development projects that is (1.4)% to 6.3% greater than their book value as at 31 December 2024 of $660.3 million;⁶
 - AVJennings' inventory balance does not reflect the impact of the ongoing operating costs required to realise those assets. Kroll has assessed the value of AVJennings' remaining operating costs (net of synergies) in the range of $134.4 million to $141.6 million, or $0.24 to $0.25 per share; and
 - the change in net debt to 31 March 2025 which increased by $7.7 million resulting in a decrease in value by $0.01 per share.

⁵ Calculated as NTA as at 31 December 2024 divided by the diluted number of shares.

⁶ Calculated as the sum of NTA less net debt, Pro9, equity accounted investments and net tax liability as at 31 December 2024.

Comparison of Kroll's valuation to recent share trading

The assessed range of values of $0.54 to $0.61 per AVJennings Share represents a premium to the one-month VWAP to 27 November 2024 ($0.33) in the range of 63.0% to 86.3%. The significant premium for AVJennings likely reflects:

- that Kroll's valuation is inclusive of a control premium whereas the prices at which AVJennings Shares are traded on the share market reflect trading in minority (and fairly illiquid) parcels. Premiums observed in control transactions are typically in the range of 25% to 40%;
- premiums paid in transactions involving Australian residential property developers are in a wide range ((4.8%) to 100%). There are a number of transactions where significant premiums were observed e.g. Devine/ CIMIC Residential Investments Pty Ltd (CIMIC) (2021), 100.0%, Payce Consolidated Limited (Payce) /Bellawest Pty Ltd (Bellawest) (2016), 80.0%, and Tian An Australia Ltd (Tian An)/Oasis Star Limited (Oasis Star) (2017), 47.7%, noting that trading in these target companies was also illiquid with limited free float (free float of 30.5% for Devine, 1.9% for Payce and 13.6% for Tian An and percentage of shares traded in the preceding 12 months of 8.5% for Devine, 7.2% of Payce and 20.6% for Tian An); and
- that the AVJennings share price during this period was adversely impacted by factors such as the presence of a major shareholder, illiquid share trading, board composition with the majority shareholder as Chairman and the significant tenure of certain Board members, absence of a dividend, the capital structure review, and a dilutive equity raising priced at a significant discount to AVJennings' trading price and NTA per share (refer to Section 8.8.1 of this report).

In forming our view as to the value of AVJennings Shares, we have considered a series of factors including:

- AVJennings' position as a residential property developer which develops residential land, houses, and apartments in greenfield growth corridors and infill sites on the Eastern seaboard of Australia, South Australia and New Zealand;
- the timing and status of AVJennings' current development pipeline which consisted of 9,586 lots over 24 projects as at 31 December 2024, with four projects (representing 24.1% of lots) not expected to commence settlements until FY29 and beyond;
- the performance of Pro9 to date including the ramp up of operations at its factory, future capital requirements, and forecast future sales and material and labour costs;
- AVJennings' recent operating and financial performance including the number of lot settlements, return on equity which has been well below its weighted average cost of debt, the Company's negative cash flows from operating activities in FY23 and FY24, and the lack of dividends declared since the interim FY23 dividend;
- the current outlook for the Australian residential property development industry including the current performance of property markets across Australia, the current macroeconomic environment, the impact of government regulations on the timing and cost of development of projects, the potential growth in the prefabricated housing industry, and current land and housing supply shortages in Australia;
- proposed policies by the Federal Labor Government related to the housing industry in Australia including those aimed at addressing the current affordability crisis, particularly for first homebuyers. We, however, note that current proposed policies are primarily geared towards driving first homebuyer demand and fail to address significant supply side challenges. Given uncertainty around policy outcomes and broader industry factors as outlined above, AVJennings' management does not consider there to be sufficient information at this point to believe the policy changes will materially impact earnings over the life of a project; and
- synergies available to a pool of potential acquirers.

It should be noted that a valuation of AVJennings in the current macroeconomic and geopolitical environment is complex and requires judgement as to the outlook for markets and the global economy.

Special Dividend

The total cash consideration of $0.655 will be reduced by any Special Dividend, being a fully-franked dividend of up to $0.167 for each AVJennings Share held as at the Special Dividend Record Date, which if declared and paid will result in franking credits of up to approximately $0.072 per AVJennings Share (provided a favourable class ruling is obtained from the ATO).

In Kroll's opinion, it is not appropriate for the assessment of the Scheme to either factor in the value of AVJennings the value of accumulated franking credits or include in the value of the consideration the value of the credits attached to the Special Dividend since the value of those credits to each shareholder varies depending on their individual circumstances. Nevertheless, it needs to be recognised that, where part of a takeover offer comprises a franked dividend, some shareholders may realise additional value from the franking credits (i.e. they are better off in after tax terms than they would have been had the same amount been paid as part of the acquisition price and been received as a capital gain).

3.3.2 Assessment of fairness

A comparison of our assessed value per AVJennings Share, on a control basis, to the Scheme Consideration is illustrated as follows.

Fairness Assessment

Source: Kroll analysis.

According to RG111, the Scheme should be considered fair if the consideration offered to AVJennings Shareholders is equal to or greater than our assessed value of an AVJennings Share.

As the Scheme Consideration falls above the range of values for an AVJennings Share, the Scheme is fair.

3.4 The Scheme is reasonable

In accordance with RG 111, an offer is reasonable if it is fair. As we have assessed the Scheme to be fair, it is also reasonable. However, irrespective of the requirement to conclude the Scheme is reasonable, we have also considered a range of other factors that are relevant to an assessment of the reasonableness of the Scheme.

3.4.1 The Scheme Consideration represents a significant premium to the undisturbed trading prices of AVJennings Shares

The Scheme Consideration of $0.655 in cash per AVJennings Share represents a significant premium to AVJennings' closing share price and VWAP calculated over a range of periods up until 27 November 2024, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Scheme.

Source: IRESS; Kroll analysis.

Note 1: The premiums illustrated above have been calculated based on AVJennings' closing share price and VWAP up until close on 27 November 2024, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Scheme.

The Scheme Consideration represents significant premiums over recent AVJennings share prices and above the range of premiums typically observed. We note that:

- observations from transaction evidence indicate that control premiums are broadly in the range of 25% to 40% for completed transactions depending on the individual circumstances.⁷ However, in transactions where it was estimated the combined entity would be able to achieve significant synergies, the premium was frequently estimated to be in excess of this range. As set out in the following table, three of the comparable transactions involving property development companies that Kroll has considered occurred at a control premium in excess of this range.

Control Premiums for Property Development Companies

Announcement Date	Target	Acquirer	Premium to Undisturbed Share Price
25 May 2021	Devine Limited	CIMIC Residential Investments Pty Ltd	100.0%
12 March 2019	Villa World Limited	Avid Property Group Australia Pty. Ltd.	16.7%
24 July 2017	Tian An Australia Limited	Oasis Star Limited	47.7%

While FactSet does not include a specific property development industry classification, average premiums to enterprise value for the real estate industry for 2019 to 2023 were in the range of 16.9% to 31.1%, which is equivalent to a premium to equity in the range of 26.0% to 47.8%, assuming 35.0% gearing.

The control premium implied by the Scheme Consideration sits above the range of premiums over enterprise value that are typically observed (25% to 40%) and is above the range of premiums for the overall real estate industry observed by FactSet but is consistent with two transactions in the property development industry (Devine/CIMIC (2021), 100.0% and Payce/Bellawest (2016), 80.0%), noting that:

- similar to AVJennings, trading in these target companies was illiquid with limited free float of 30.5% for Devine and 1.9% for Payce and liquidity of 8.5% for Devine and 7.2% of Payce. Furthermore, at the time of the acquisition announcement, Devine was not covered by any equity brokers, and limited information about the company's ongoing projects was available to the market due to commercial sensitivity. This lack of coverage and information could have contributed to a lower trading price for Devine before the acquisition announcement; and
- it may have been the case given CIMIC's close existing relationship with Devine which was evidenced by numerous joint venture agreements, that CIMIC was able to extract certain other benefits that were unique to CIMIC;
- the Scheme is the outcome of a competitive bidding process between AVID and Ho Bee Land Limited (Ho Bee Land);
- it is likely that the AVJennings share price during this period was adversely impacted by factors such as the presence of a major shareholder, illiquid share trading, board composition with the majority shareholder as Chairman and the significant tenure of certain Board members, absence of a dividend, the capital structure review, and a dilutive equity raising priced at a significant discount to AVJennings' trading price and NTA per share (refer to Section 8.8.1 of this report); and
- AVJennings shares have not traded above $0.655 since March 2018.

3.4.2 Certainty of value

The Transaction offers AVJennings Shareholders an opportunity to exit their investment in AVJennings at a price that is certain and which, as noted above, incorporates a significant premium to AVJennings' undisturbed trading prices over the previous 12 months. Trading in AVJennings Shares is illiquid and consequently, it may not be possible for AVJennings Shareholders to exit their investment at a time of their choosing without putting downward pressure on the AVJennings share price. Furthermore, there is no certainty as to the price at which AVJennings Shareholders would realise their investment at that time, particularly given the current challenging trading conditions for property developers as discussed in Section 7 of this report.

We note also that in order to grow its business, AVJennings requires access to capital. As AVJennings Shares are trading at a substantial discount to NTA, any equity raising would likely result in a further reduction in NTA per share and share price.

Furthermore, any future on-market sale by AVJennings Shareholders would likely incur brokerage costs, which would be avoided if the Scheme is approved.

3.4.3 By exiting their investment in AVJennings, whilst AVJennings Shareholders will not participate in any future growth in the value of AVJennings, they will no longer be exposed to the risks associated with the business

By exiting their investment in AVJennings, shareholders will not participate in any future growth in the value of AVJennings. The Scheme Consideration, however, exceeds Kroll's valuation of AVJennings, which already includes potential benefits from AVJennings current development pipeline. On the other hand, shareholders will no longer be exposed to the risks associated with the business as discussed in Section 7.4 of the Scheme Booklet, including:

- Residential property market risk: including fluctuations in general economic conditions, globally and locally, that result in changes to prevailing market conditions such as a sustained downturn in property markets, changes in consumer sentiment, reduced demand for AVJennings' product, the availability of mortgage finance for customers, and reduction in the value of its land bank;

- Property valuation risk: includes risks which can impact on the realisable value of AVJennings' development stock;
- Project development risk: including risks that planning consents are not obtained, project timelines are delayed, market conditions change throughout the development period, and costs escalate beyond initial budgets;
- Ability to acquire new land sites for developments: there is a risk that AVJennings is not able to secure a sufficient number of desired new land sites to maintain a pipeline of potential property development projects as planned;
- Construction activity risk: including the inability of sub-contractors to perform their work in accordance with their obligations, defective work and latent defects arising from incorrect design or poor workmanship, liquidated damages for late delivery, cost overruns and professional liability claims;
- Regulatory risk: AVJennings is dependent on various State Regulatory Bodies and Councils granting the requisite licenses and approvals required to carry on its business in a timely manner; and
- Financial risk: variations in interest rates and inflation may impact AVJennings' revenues and earnings. There is further risk associated with access to capital and refinancing AVJennings' existing debt facilities on favourable terms. Uncertainty in the capital and credit markets may adversely affect AVJennings' ability to obtain financing on terms which are acceptable to AVJennings. If AVJennings is unable to obtain financing on terms which are acceptable to AVJennings, it may have to curtail its capital expenditure and/or defer its property development projects and/or divest assets.

3.4.4 Risks associated with any Special Dividend

The AVJennings Board will determine (in their absolute discretion) whether to pay any Special Dividend. This determination will depend upon a number of factors, including the availability of funds at the applicable time, the availability of a favourable ATO class ruling and receipt of relevant lender consents or waivers.

3.4.5 AVJennings' share price will likely fall in the absence of the Transaction

AVJennings Shares closed at $0.33 on 27 November 2024, the last trading day before the announcement of the Transaction. Since then, AVJennings Shares have traded in the range of $0.59 to $0.73. The current AVJennings share price reflects the terms of the Transaction and, therefore, includes a significant control premium. As such, in the absence of the Transaction, a superior proposal or speculation concerning a superior proposal, the AVJennings Share price is likely to fall to levels consistent with AVJennings' undisturbed trading prices, with an allowance for:

- subsequent announcements in relation to company specific initiatives which the market may assess as value enhancing or diminishing. In this regard, on 25 February 2025, AVJennings released its 1H25 financial results, which indicated a decline in profit relative to 1H24. Additionally on 5 May 2025, AVJennings released its Q3 FY25 business update which indicated that FY25 revenue was expected to be below FY24;
- any industry developments. In this regard, since 27 November 2024:
 - inflation rates have declined with the annual change in the consumer price index falling to 2.4% in the March 2025 quarter;
 - on 19 February 2025, the Reserve Bank of Australia lowered the official cash rate by 25 bps from 435 bps to 410 bps;
 - house prices increased 0.7% nationally for the quarter to 31 March 2025;⁸
 - housing commencements declined by 6.1% and apartment and townhouse commencements declined 1.5% for the December 2024 quarter;⁹
 - demand driven housing policies announced by the Federal Labor Government. We, however, note that current proposed policies are primarily geared towards driving first homebuyer demand and fail to address significant supply side challenges; and

- the Comparable Company Index¹⁰ has increased by 4.9% until 5 May 2025; and
- the impact of trends in broader equity markets. In this regard, from 27 November 2024 (the last trading day prior to the announcement of the AVID Proposal) until 5 May 2025, the S&P/ASX 200 Index (ASX 200 Index) has decreased by 3.0%.

3.4.6 Alternative solutions

In weighing up the Scheme, AVJennings Shareholders should have regard to the alternatives that are available to AVJennings, including:

- remaining as a listed residential property developer;
- liquidation/wind-up of AVJennings; and
- the likelihood of a superior acquisition proposal.

With regard to each of these alternatives, we note the following:

Remaining as a listed residential property developer

It is open for AVJennings Shareholders to vote against the Scheme and retain their investment in AVJennings in the expectation that the AVJennings share price will increase in the future as a result of demand driven housing policies announced by the Federal Labor Government, however, the impact of these policies is uncertain as the current proposed policies are primarily geared towards driving first homebuyer demand and fail to address significant supply side challenges whereas the consideration under the Transaction effectively de-risks these uncertainties.

AVJennings' growth opportunities are likely to remain limited if it is unable to fund development activities at favourable rates. Without substantial growth to build scale and diversification, AVJennings is likely to continue to be exposed to risks associated with the geographical markets in which it operates. SC Global's 54.02% interest may continue to create an overhang in AVJennings' register, and AVJennings Shares are likely to remain illiquid.

Liquidation/wind-up

A wind up of the portfolio is unlikely to realise a return to AVJennings Shareholders in excess of the consideration under the Proposal and would involve greater risks and costs including:

- any sale of the portfolio would likely take a considerable amount of time given the size of the portfolio (9,586 lots as at 31 December 2024);
- the sale of the portfolio under a liquidation scenario would likely involve the sale of developments on an 'as is' basis;
- there would likely be significant execution risk in the current macroeconomic and geopolitical environment, noting that interest rates currently remain elevated, affordability is at an all-time low in NSW and Victoria where 54.0% of AVJennings' inventories are located and as a result of the uncertain quantum and impact of US tariffs;
- the net proceeds from sale would be reduced by selling costs and taxes:
 - additional selling costs (e.g. legal and agents' fees and broker fees) would likely be incurred; and
 - the sales may result in a capital gain for tax purposes.
- there would likely be a point in time where the proceeds from the sale of the remaining properties are insufficient to cover overheads. Furthermore, AVJennings would incur redundancy costs as it is wound down, which would further reduce the net proceeds from the sale of the portfolio.

¹⁰ Based on the performance of an index which is comprised of Peet Limited, Cedar Woods Properties Ltd, and Finbar Group from 27 November 2024.

Likelihood of a superior proposal emerging from a third party

Whilst there will continue to be an opportunity for a superior proposal, we consider the likelihood of a superior proposal to be impacted by the following:

- the Scheme Consideration represents a significant premium to AVJennings' undisturbed trading prices over the last 12 months, which ranges from 98.5% to 112.0%. In part, this reflects the outcome of a competitive bidding process between AVID and Ho Bee Land. Additionally, AVID appears to have placed significant strategic value on AVJennings and likely expects to generate substantial synergies given that it has an existing Australian development platform. This is likely to limit the range of potential acquirers, given the need for a competing bid to exceed this offer price;
- the Transaction was first announced on 28 November 2024, signalling to the market that AVJennings is 'in play'. There has been ample time for a superior proposal to emerge;
- SC Global currently holds or controls a 54.0% interest in AVJennings Shares and has confirmed its intention to vote in favour of the Scheme. An alternative acquirer would need the support of SC Global. In the event that a superior proposal emerges, AVID has a matching right. Should AVID choose not to match a superior proposal, these shareholders would have the right to vote against the Scheme;
- it is open for AVJennings Shareholders to vote against the Scheme in the hope that the AVJennings Directors will be able to extract a higher offer from AVID. However, the Transaction is a consequence of a period of due diligence and negotiations between the AVJennings Directors and AVID, after which the Scheme Consideration was reduced from $0.67 to $0.655. It is, therefore, unlikely that AVJennings would be able to obtain a higher offer from AVID; and
- in certain circumstances, AVJennings may be required to pay a break fee to AVID. Although these provisions may be influential, we do not consider that they would prevent a superior proposal being made.

3.4.7 Other considerations

In forming our opinion, we have also considered a number of other factors. Whilst we do not necessarily consider these factors to impact our assessment of the reasonableness of the Scheme, we have addressed them as follows.

One-off transaction costs

If the Scheme is implemented, AVID will bear all fees and costs incurred by AVJennings in connection with the Transaction. If the Scheme is not implemented, AVJennings expects that external transaction costs will be approximately $2.0 million (excluding GST), being costs that have already been incurred or will be incurred even if the Scheme is not implemented.

The Scheme is subject to the satisfaction of a number of conditions

There are a number of conditions which, if not satisfied, will result in the Scheme not being implemented including approvals from the FIRB and OIO. If any conditions precedent prevent the Scheme from being implemented, AVJennings Shareholders will continue to hold their existing AVJennings Shares.

Taxation implications for AVJennings Shareholders

A general summary of the Australian income tax, GST and stamp duty consequences of the Scheme (if it becomes Effective) and any Special Dividend (if paid) for AVJennings Shareholders are outlined in Section 8 of the Scheme Booklet.

Section 8.4a of the Scheme Booklet considers the Australian resident taxation implications of the Scheme. In particular, this section indicates that the disposal of AVJennings Shares will trigger a capital gains tax event for Australian tax purposes which may result in a capital gain or capital loss for the AVJennings Shareholder.

Section 8.4a of the Scheme Booklet considers the cost base, capital proceeds, applicable capital gains tax discount and implications for Australian AVJennings Shareholders. The capital proceeds received in respect of the disposal of each AVJennings Share should be the amount of the Scheme Consideration, excluding the Further Dividend (if paid), subject to ATO confirmation.

Section 8.3 of the Scheme Booklet considers the taxation consequences of the Special Dividend. If the AVJennings Directors determine to pay the Special Dividend, and subject to certain requirements, AVJennings Shareholders who are Australian tax residents and who receive the Special Dividend will be required to include the amount of the attached franking credits in their assessable income, and will be entitled to a tax offset equal to the amount of the franking credits attached to the Special Dividend. As the Special Dividend is taken into account in determining the amount of the Scheme Consideration, the 'related payments' rule will apply to AVJennings Shareholders.

Section 8.4b of the Scheme Booklet considers the tax implications for AVJennings Shareholders that are non-residents of Australia.

In accordance with Sections 8.6 and 8.7 of the Scheme Booklet, AVJennings Shareholders should not be liable for GST or stamp duty, however, each AVJennings Shareholder should seek independent advice in relation to their individual circumstances.

We note that AVJennings Shareholders should consider their individual taxation circumstances and review Section 8 of the Scheme Booklet for further information where it applies to their circumstances. AVJennings Shareholders should obtain their own independent professional advice on the tax consequences of disposing of their AVJennings Shares under the Scheme.

3.4.8 Consequences if the Scheme does not proceed

In the event that the Scheme is not approved or any conditions precedent prevent the Scheme from being implemented:

- it is the AVJennings Directors' intention to conduct a strategic review of the AVJennings' business to seek to maximise future value for AVJennings Shareholders. In all other respects, the Board of AVJennings intends for AVJennings to continue as a standalone entity with management continuing to implement the business plan and financial and operating strategies it had in place prior to entry into the Scheme Implementation Deed;
- there may be adverse consequences for AVJennings' operating cashflow as a result of implementing the restrictions on AVJennings' business in the ordinary course of business agreed in the Scheme Implementation Deed. These include the deferral of certain phases of new projects and retention of cash on balance sheet to fund any Special Dividend;
- AVJennings Shareholders will continue to be exposed to the risks and opportunities associated with an investment in AVJennings. In particular, AVJennings has limited capital to pursue growth opportunities. Refer to Section 3.4.3 of this report;
- the AVJennings Share price will likely fall. The current price of AVJennings Shares reflects the terms of the Transaction and includes a control premium. As such, in the absence of the Transaction, a superior proposal or speculation concerning a superior proposal, the AVJennings Share price is likely to fall (refer to Section 3.4.5 of this report). The share price will continue to be subject to market volatility and trading is likely to continue to be illiquid;
- AVJennings' ability to grow and pay dividends is likely to be impacted by the company's capital constraints;
- AVJennings Shareholders will not receive the Scheme Consideration or the Special Dividend (if declared);
- AVJennings will incur an estimated $2.0 million (excluding GST) of one-off transaction costs in relation to the Transaction; and
- a break fee of $3.7 million (excluding GST) may be payable by AVJennings to AVID in certain circumstances.

4 Other matters

Our report has been prepared in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Corporations Act and other applicable Australian regulatory requirements and has been prepared solely for the purpose of Section 640 of the Corporations Act. We do not assume any responsibility or liability to any other party as a result of reliance on this report for any other purpose.

This report constitutes general financial product advice and has been prepared without taking into consideration the individual circumstances of AVJennings Shareholders. This advice, therefore, does not consider the financial situation, objectives or needs of individual AVJennings Shareholders.

The decision of AVJennings Shareholders as to approve the Scheme is a matter for individual shareholders who should, therefore, consider the appropriateness of our opinion to their specific circumstances. As an individual's decision to vote in favour of the Scheme Resolution may be influenced by their particular circumstances, we recommend that individual AVJennings Shareholders, including residents of foreign jurisdictions, seek their own independent professional advice.

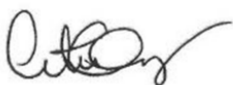

Our opinion is based solely on information available as at the date of this report. This information, and our limitations and reliance on information section, are set out in Appendix 2. We have not undertaken to update our report for events or circumstances arising after the date of this report other than those of a material nature which would impact upon our opinion.

References to financial years have been abbreviated to 'FY', references to half years have been abbreviated to 'H' and references to quarters have been abbreviated to 'Q'. For AVJennings, the financial year is the 12 months to 30 June and half years are the six months to 31 December. All currencies are Australian dollars unless otherwise specified.

Kroll has prepared a Financial Services Guide as required by the Corporations Act. The Financial Services Guide is included at the end of this report.

5 The Scheme

5.1 The AVID Proposal

On 2 August 2024, AVJennings received a confidential non-binding and incomplete preliminary offer from AVID and Proprium to acquire 100% of AVJennings Shares via an agreed scheme of arrangement. Confidentiality was a condition of the preliminary offer.

A sub-committee of the AVJennings Board, in consultation with its financial and legal advisers, carefully assessed the merits of the incomplete preliminary offer and determined to grant AVID an initial period of due diligence to advance the preliminary offer.

Since the initial approach, both parties have held extensive discussions and negotiations, resulting in the improved Indicative Proposal of $0.67 per AVJennings Share received on 27 November 2024.

On 28 November 2024, AVJennings signed an Exclusivity Deed granting AVID the exclusive confirmatory due diligence period to 31 January 2025 and announced that it had received an unsolicited, incomplete and non-binding indicative proposal from Proprium and AVID to acquire all of the AVJennings Shares for cash consideration of $0.67 per share by way of a scheme of arrangement. The Exclusivity Deed included a fiduciary exception from the "no talk" and "no due diligence" provisions to permit AVJennings to engage with a bona fide actual, proposed or potential competing proposal.

AVID also proposed to permit AVJennings to pay a fully franked special dividend on or before the scheme implementation date, allowing eligible AVJennings shareholders to receive additional value of up to approximately $0.06 per share in franking credits. The consideration paid pursuant to the scheme would be reduced by the cash amount of any such special dividend paid to AVJennings shareholders.

5.2 The Ho Bee Land Proposal

On 23 December 2024, Queensgate Investments Pty Ltd (Queensgate), an associate of Ho Bee Land, lodged a substantial shareholder notice, advising that it had acquired a 5.39% interest in AVJennings.

On 15 January 2025, AVJennings announced that it had received an unsolicited, conditional and non-binding indicative proposal from Ho Bee Land to acquire all of the shares in AVJennings that it does not already own for cash consideration of $0.70 per share (less any dividends) by way of a scheme of arrangement (the Ho Bee Land Proposal). As the Ho Bee Land Proposal was determined to be a competing proposal to the AVID Proposal, AVJennings notified AVID of the Ho Bee Land Proposal in accordance with the Exclusivity Deed.

On 17 January 2025, the AVJennings Board announced that following receipt of advice from AVJennings financial and legal advisors, the Board had concluded that the fiduciary exception applied to the Ho Bee Land Proposal and it intended to provide due diligence access to Ho Bee Land.

On 20 January 2025, the AVJennings Board announced that AVJennings had entered into both a Confidentiality Deed and an Exclusivity Deed with Ho Bee Land to facilitate discussions in relation to the Ho Bee Land Proposal. The Directors granted Ho Bee Land exclusivity and access to due diligence through to 21 February 2025.

On 21 January 2025, AVJennings advised that Mr Bobby Chin, who is also a director of Ho Bee Land, had advised the AVJennings Board that he will recuse himself from all discussions and deliberations in relation to the AVID Proposal and Ho Bee Land Proposal.

5.2.1 The Scheme

Following a period of due diligence, on 1 April 2025, AVJennings announced that it had entered into a Scheme Implementation Deed with the Bidder, PM Nominees C Pty Ltd, an investment vehicle of Proprium Capital Partners (Australia) Pty Ltd and AVID Property Group (together, AVID) under which the Bidder would acquire all of the AVJennings Shares by way of the Scheme.

Under the Scheme, Scheme Shareholders will receive the Scheme Consideration, being cash consideration of $0.655 for each AVJennings Share held, less any dividend that is declared or paid before the implementation of the Scheme. The AVJennings Board may declare and pay a fully franked Special Dividend of up to $0.167 per AVJennings Share as at the Special Dividend Record Date. The Special Dividend is expected to result in franking credits of up to approximately $0.072 per AVJennings Share. The AVJennings Board will determine (in their absolute discretion) whether to pay any Special Dividend. This determination will depend upon a number of factors, including the availability of funds at the applicable time, the availability of a favourable ATO class ruling and receipt of relevant lender consents or waivers.

AVJennings confirmed that no binding proposal had been received from Ho Bee Land and that it had terminated all discussions with Ho Bee Land. It also advised that given a binding proposal from Ho Bee Land had not been forthcoming and following careful consideration of the revised AVID proposal, the AVJennings Board determined to formally agree the Scheme with AVID.

The AVJennings Board unanimously recommends that AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal and subject to an independent expert concluding (and continuing to conclude) that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders.

SC Global has confirmed to AVJennings that, based on the disclosed terms of the Scheme, it intends to vote all AVJennings Shares it holds and controls as at the date of the Scheme Meeting in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal and subject to an independent expert concluding (and continuing to conclude) that the Scheme is in the best interest of AVJennings Shareholders.

5.3 Conditions precedent

The Scheme is subject to a number of conditions including:

- AVJennings Shareholder approval;
- approval of the Supreme Court of New South Wales;
- an independent expert concluding (and continuing to conclude) that the Scheme is in the best interests of AVJennings Shareholders;
- receipt of approvals from Australian FIRB and New Zealand OIO;
- AVJennings takes all necessary steps to ensure that no AVJennings Equity Incentives will be on issue before the Scheme Record Date; and
- no prescribed occurrences, no legal restraints, and no material adverse changes.

5.4 Exclusivity provisions

The Scheme Implementation Deed contains customary exclusivity provisions that apply during the Exclusivity Period,¹¹ including 'no existing discussions', 'no shop', 'no talk' and 'no due diligence' ('no talk' and 'no due diligence' are subject to a fiduciary carve out), notification obligations and a matching right. A break fee of approximately $3.7 million will be payable by AVJennings to the Bidder in certain circumstances (Target Break Fee) and a reverse break fee of approximately $3.7 million will be payable by the Bidder to AVJennings in certain circumstances (Bidder Break Fee).

5.5 Transaction costs

AVJennings will incur third party costs and expenses in connection with the Scheme, including fees payable to external advisors. If the Scheme is approved, transaction costs will be borne by AVID. If the Scheme is not approved, the total transaction costs payable by AVJennings are estimated at $2.0 million.

6 Scope of the report

6.1 Purpose

The Transaction will be undertaken by way of a scheme of arrangement which will be subject to AVJennings shareholders' approval in accordance with Section 411 of the Corporations Act. Section 411(3) of the Corporations Act requires that an explanatory statement issued in relation to a proposed scheme of ¹¹ The Exclusivity Period is the period from 31 March 2025 and, subject to regulatory approvals, until the earlier of 17 July 2025, being the date on which the Scheme becomes effective (Effective Date); 30 September 2025, being the date six months after the date of the Scheme Implementation Deed, or such other date as agreed in good between the Bidder and AVJennings (End Date); and the termination of the Scheme Implementation Deed.

arrangement includes information that is material to the making of a decision by a creditor or member as to whether to agree with the relevant proposal.

Part 3 Schedule 8 of the Corporations Regulations specifies that the information to be lodged with ASIC must include a report prepared by an expert:

- if the other party to a reconstruction in a scheme of arrangement holds at least 30% of the company; or
- where the parties to the reconstruction have common Directors.

The report prepared by the expert must state whether, in the expert's opinion, the proposed scheme of arrangement is in the best interests of the members of the body as a whole and set out the expert's reason(s) for forming that opinion.

Even where an independent expert's report is not strictly required by the law, it is not uncommon for directors of a company to commission one to ensure they are providing the information that is material to the making of a decision by a creditor or member.

In this regard, as set out in the Scheme Implementation Deed, a condition of the Scheme becoming Effective is that an independent expert concludes (and continues to conclude) that the Scheme is in the best interest of AVJennings Shareholders.

Our report has also been prepared in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Corporations Act and other applicable Australian regulatory requirements. We do not assume any responsibility or liability to any other party as a result of reliance on this report for any other purpose.

6.2 Basis of assessment

We have referred to guidance provided by ASIC in its Regulatory Guides in particular, RG 111, which outlines the principles and matters which it expects a person preparing an independent expert's report to consider. RG 111 differentiates between the analysis required for control transactions and other transactions. In relation to control transactions, RG 111.10-12 states:

- 'fair and reasonable' is not regarded as a compound phrase;
- an offer is 'fair' if the value of the offer price or consideration is equal to or greater than the value of the securities subject to the offer;
- the comparison should be made assuming 100% ownership of the 'target' and irrespective of whether the consideration is scrip or cash;
- the expert should not consider the percentage holding of the 'bidder' or its associates in the target when making this comparison; and
- an offer is 'reasonable' if it is 'fair'. An offer might be 'reasonable' if, despite being 'not fair', the expert believes that there are sufficient reasons for shareholders to accept the offer in the absence of any higher bid before the close of the offer.

RG 111.18 of the Corporations Act states that where a scheme of arrangement is used as an alternative to a takeover bid (as in the case of the Proposed Transaction), the form of analysis undertaken by the expert should be substantially the same as for a takeover bid. That form of analysis considers whether the transaction is "fair and reasonable" and, as such, incorporates issues as to value.

RG 111.20 states that if an expert would conclude that a proposal was 'fair and reasonable' if it was in the form of a takeover bid, it will also be able to conclude that the scheme is 'in the best interests' of the members of the company.

RG 111.21 states that if an expert would conclude that a proposal was 'not fair but reasonable' if it was in the form of a takeover bid, it is still open to the expert to also conclude that the scheme is 'in the best interests' of the members of the company.

RG 111.11 provides that an offer is fair if the value of the consideration is equal to or greater than the value of the securities subject to the offer. This comparison can be made assuming 100% ownership of the 'target' and irrespective of whether the consideration is scrip or cash and without regard to the percentage holding of the bidder or its associates in the target entity. That is, RG 111.11 requires the value of the target to be assessed as if the bidder was acquiring 100% of the issued equity (i.e. on a controlling interest basis). In addition, any special value of the 'target' to a particular 'bidder' (e.g. synergies that are not available to other bidders) should not be taken into account under the comparison.

Accordingly, when assessing the full underlying value of AVJennings, we have considered those synergies and benefits which would be available to more than one potential purchaser (or a pool of potential purchasers) of AVJennings. As such, we have not included the value of special benefits that may be unique to any particular acquirer.

RG 111.13 sets out the factors an expert might consider in assessing whether an offer is reasonable:

- the bidder's pre-existing voting power in securities in the target;
- other significant shareholding blocks in the target;
- the liquidity of the market in the target's securities;
- taxation losses, cash flow or other benefits through achieving 100% ownership of the target;
- any special value of the target to the bidder, such as particular technology, etc;
- the likely market price if the offer is unsuccessful; and
- the value to an alternative bidder and likelihood of an alternative offer being made.

Kroll has considered the commercial nature of the Scheme, and the likely financial, tax, corporate governance, regulatory and other impacts of the Scheme. In forming our opinion as to whether the Scheme is fair and reasonable to AVJennings Shareholders, we have had regard to the following specific factors:

- the rationale for the Scheme and its terms;
- the share price performance of AVJennings up until the announcement of the Scheme including consideration of the available free float;
- whether AVJennings shareholders are receiving an appropriate premium for control, including consideration of the strategic value of AVJennings;
- any potential taxation risks and/or consequences for existing AVJennings shareholders, including any impact on non-resident shareholders;
- potential regulatory risks;
- likelihood and, if appropriate, comparison of alternative offers;
- likely movement in share price in the absence of the Scheme;
- any other advantages and disadvantages that would have an impact on AVJennings shareholders; and
- implications if the Scheme is not approved.

7 Industry

7.1 Overview

AVJennings operates within three industry segments in the Australian residential property development industry; land development and subdivision, housing construction, and multi-unit and townhouse construction. The following section examines the wider residential property development industry, focusing on the three segments most relevant to AVJennings.

7.1.1 Australian land development and subdivision segment

Land development and subdivision involves amalgamating land into lots, subdividing, and preparing these lots for sale.¹² The process typically includes acquiring large plots of land and dividing them into smaller parcels with individual titles and selling them to individual buyers, such as retail buyers and builders. The process involves preparing development applications, rezoning land, securing development rights, and conducting civil works on the land, including connecting the land to utilities. Land development and subdivision excludes building construction on the subdivided land.¹³

7.1.2 House construction

According to the Australian and New Zealand Standard Industrial Classification (ANZSIC), house construction involves building and selling free-standing residential dwellings, excluding multi-unit apartments and townhouses, as well as carrying out additions, alterations, and renovations to existing residential dwellings.¹⁴ Participants in this segment primarily serve as prime contractors, delivering complete homes to individual owners or property developers. AVJennings only participates in housing construction within its own developments. It does not carry out alterations, additions and renovations, or serve as a contractor to property developers. House construction involves activities such as coordinating and managing subcontractors, material supplies, and regulatory compliance. In FY24, the value of work completed by the segment was estimated to be $50.5 billion,¹⁵ with the industry completing approximately 119,000 dwelling units over the same period.¹⁶ The house construction segment is highly fragmented, with the four largest detached dwelling construction companies accounting for approximately 8.0% of total industry revenues in 2023.¹⁷

7.1.3 Multi-unit apartments

According to ANZSIC, the multi-unit apartment and townhouse construction segment encompasses companies specialising in the construction of residential buildings excluding free-standing houses, and carrying out alterations, additions, and renovations to such buildings.¹⁸ Industry participants primarily serve as principal contractors, delivering completed units to both owner-occupiers and investors. Approximately 30% of Australia's housing stock consists of non-detached dwellings, with this share growing over the previous decade.¹⁹ In FY24, the value of work completed by the segment was estimated to be $25.9 billion,²⁰ with the industry completing approximately 61,000 dwelling units over the same period.²¹ Similar to the housing construction industry, the multi-unit apartment and townhouse construction industry is highly fragmented, with the largest four participants representing 13.0% of total industry revenues in FY23.²²

7.2 Key industry drivers

Key drivers for the residential property development industry include:

- housing prices: Movements in residential housing prices correspond to the underlying demand for housing and influence housing affordability. When the housing market is characterised by high prices, homebuyers, particularly first-home buyers and those with low mortgage affordability, are unable to enter the market reducing demand for construction. Conversely, demand from speculative residential property investors may increase with investors encouraged to construct new properties and capitalise on price growth;²³
- government incentives: Government incentives can directly contribute to demand for housing and multi-unit apartment construction by reducing the cost of housing through subsidies or through taxation initiatives to improve affordability. The Federal Government's HomeBuilder Grant initiative, which provided up to $25,000 for new builds or renovations for owner-occupiers between June 2020 and March 2021, is an example of government incentives that directly increase demand for housing construction by reducing the out-of-pocket cost of construction;

- residential property yields:²⁴ Higher rental yields can make housing investment and home ownership more attractive to investors, increasing demand for housing and multi-unit apartment construction;²⁵
- population growth: Demand for housing and multi-unit apartment construction is heavily influenced by population growth levels. Australia has consistently experienced faster population growth than other advanced economies, particularly driven by high levels of net overseas migration.²⁶ Throughout FY24, Australia experienced strong levels of population growth above long-run averages, with net overseas immigration totalling approximately 446,000 people.²⁷ Interstate migration can also increase demand in certain housing markets; and
- general economic conditions: General economic conditions can influence spending on housing and the ability for buyers to finance housing purchases. Interest rates are a major driver of effective demand for housing, with higher interest rates reducing borrowing capacity and overall mortgage affordability, diminishing the ability to fund housing purchases and construction.²⁸ Higher interest rates also result in higher funding and holding costs for developers. Similarly, high levels of unemployment and low household incomes diminish consumer confidence resulting in lower effective demand for housing and multi-unit apartments.²⁹

7.3 Industry trends

7.3.1 Housing affordability crisis

The housing affordability crisis in Australia has deteriorated further since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. The current Australian housing landscape is characterised by increasing affordability pressures primarily in NSW and Victoria, with Australians experiencing the highest level of household debt³⁰ and the second highest level of rental growth among advanced economies.³¹ The crisis has been driven by rising interest rates and escalating dwelling prices, which have increased 38.6% since March 2020. House prices in Brisbane, Adelaide and Perth have experienced the highest level of growth among capital cities at 67.6%, 71.4%, and 76.8% respectively. In contrast, prices in Victoria experienced the lowest growth at 9.9% over the same period.³² As a consequence, the ratio of dwelling value to income reached its peak in September 2024 at 8.0 times (the 20 year average being 6.7 times) and the percentage of income required to service a mortgage increased to 50.6% (14.0% above the 20 year average). As housing affordability has deteriorated residential developers have reached affordability caps in NSW and Victoria, diminishing margins for residential developers and making projects unviable, in turn reducing supply and increasing affordability pressures.

7.3.2 Shifting demand away from single-unit housing

In recent years, the Australian residential property market has experienced a structural shift, with an increasing preference for higher-density apartments and townhouses over detached houses.³³ Traditionally, Australians have favoured detached housing; however, a series of factors, including population growth especially from India and other parts of Asia, limited infrastructure for greenfield projects, and the diminishing availability of land in major cities have heightened the demand for multi-unit apartments. Additionally, the higher prices of single-unit housing compared to multi-unit apartments have been a significant driver of this increased demand.³⁴ Consequently, many urban areas have seen multi-unit developments constitute a growing proportion of total housing developments. For example, multi-unit apartments accounted for 70% of housing delivered between 2016 and 2021 in Greater Sydney.³⁵

7.3.3 Build-to-Rent

Build-to-Rent (BTR) accommodation has gained popularity in recent years as a potential solution to housing supply shortages in major cities. BTR is a large-scale housing model in which multi-unit apartments are built specifically for rental rather than for sale, offering developers long-term stable income. As of 2023, the Australian BTR sector was estimated to be worth $16.9 billion, representing 0.2% of the total value of the residential rental market.³⁶ By 2030, BTR is forecast to grow to represent 1.5% of the total Australian rental market, driving growth in the multi-unit apartment and townhouse construction industry.³⁷

The sector's growth is driven by several key factors, including:

- growing domestic and foreign institutional investment with BTR developments providing stable cash flows and the potential for long term capital gains;³⁸
- economies of scale benefits;
- increased demand for rental housing in major cities; and
- tax concessions introduced by the Australian Government.³⁹

7.3.4 Lack of available land

Land supply shortages in the residential development industry have led to increased land and housing costs and lower housing approvals. Historic shortages of development-ready land supply have been a significant industry challenge, with aggregate annual lot sales in FY23 down approximately 62.0% from peak levels in 2021, reaching 20-year lows.⁴⁰ This decline has been driven by a multitude of factors including increased building and labour costs, complexities in planning and zoning regulations, a lack of government infrastructure, high developer contribution charges, and new land taxes levied.⁴¹ The resulting shortages have pushed up land costs, with unimproved land prices in greater Sydney estimated to be 51.9% higher than in 2019.⁴² Consequently, developers have faced challenges in acquiring land for development as well as obtaining development outcomes for acquired land, contributing to a decline in new home commencements between 2021 to 2024 and exacerbating housing affordability concerns.

7.3.5 Rising building costs

Higher building material and labour costs, paired with declining labour productivity, have resulted in significantly increased development and construction costs since 2021. Due to the impacts of global supply chain issues and reduced raw material supply resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic, the price of house construction inputs has increased by 34.8% since December 2019 as seen in the following.⁴³

House Construction Input Prices Index

Additionally, a domestic shortage of skilled labour and declining construction labour productivity⁴⁴ have contributed to the elevated construction costs. These increasing costs have resulted in an overall slowdown in the residential development industry, diminishing developers' margins and increasing the average completion time for new houses.⁴⁵ The cost blowouts in many projects have led to approximately 3,000 construction companies entering into insolvency in FY24.⁴⁶

7.3.6 Prefabricated construction

Prefabricated construction has garnered significant attention in the house construction industry as a potential solution to increasing housing construction costs and Australia's current housing supply shortages. Prefabricated construction involves the off-site construction of housing components, typically in a factory, which are then delivered on-site for assembly.⁴⁷ This methodology offers several benefits including:

- reduced project time: Build times are estimated to be up to 50% to 60% shorter compared to traditional methods. Additionally, prefabricated housing can reduce schedule risk from weather impacts on on-site works;⁴⁸
- economies of scale: Resulting from streamlined production processes;⁴⁹
- environmental benefits: With modular housing 50% more energy efficient and 40% more efficient in terms of raw material usage compared to conventional builds; and⁵⁰
- safer construction: With elements constructed in a controlled environment⁵¹ and installation requiring lower on-site labour.

The potential for prefabrication to boost housing stock has since been explored by several state governments, with the NSW government committing $10.0 million and the Victorian Government committing $10.1 million to explore and trial the use of prefabricated construction to meet social housing targets.^{52,53} Currently, prefabricated constructed houses represent less than 5.0%⁵⁴ of new residential construction in Australia compared to over 20.0% in Sweden,⁵⁵ indicating significant potential for growth in the sector.

7.3.7 National Housing Accord

The National Housing Accord was announced by the Federal Government in October 2022 with the aim to improve the supply and affordability of housing. The accord introduced targets to build 1.2 million new homes by 2029, as well as 20,000 new affordable homes. Key initiatives of the accord include:

- a $3 billion, New Home Bonus to incentivise states and territories to increase housing supply towards the targets;
- a one-off $2 billion payment to states and territories through the Social Housing Accelerator to deliver a permanent increase in the stock of social housing;
- state government commitments to collaborate with local governments to deliver planning and land-use reforms; and
- expedited zoning, planning and land release to meet social and affordable housing targets.

Despite being already 15,000 homes behind the housing target,⁵⁶ Treasury expects the accord to have several positive impacts on the residential development industry including increasing demand for medium and high-density housing in major cities, reducing the cost impact and timeline delays of zoning and planning regulations, supporting the training of more apprentices to mitigate current skill gaps, and providing industry participants with better access to funding for development projects.⁵⁷

7.4 Regulation

The Australian residential development industry is characterised by significant laws, regulations, and policies as well as bureaucratic delays, requiring participants to navigate a range of federal, state, and local regulations. These policies aim to ensure the quality of construction and the economic efficiency of land use⁵⁸ but have historically operated as barriers to new and diverse housing developments. Key regulations encountered by industry participants include:

- zoning regulations: relates to state and local government policies which determine the types of activities and/or developments allowed or prohibited, on a given site.⁵⁹ The planning system is highly complex with arrangements varying between states and across local councils and the re-zoning process can take many years to conclude;
- development approval: relates to the process for assessing an application to carry out development such as building works, and, in some cases, change in land use and land subdivision. Development approvals aim to ensure land use is consistent with zoning regulations, but as noted above can be subject to delays and approvals can be heavily conditional; and
- National Construction Code (NCC): a uniform set of regulations which set minimum technical designs and construction provisions for buildings. Areas covered include safety, health amenities and sustainability of certain buildings.⁶⁰

Overall, the regulatory burden can be a significant barrier for housing construction projects for the following reasons:

- increasing costs: Regulations can impose additional restrictions to the development and construction processes increasing development costs. Studies have shown that zoning restrictions have a large impact on house prices, with zoning restrictions representing a significant share of the cost of an average house.⁶¹ Additionally, recent changes to minimum environmental efficiency standards in the NCC have been estimated to increase the cost of new detached houses or apartments by $25,000;⁶²
- increased project delays: Developers can encounter frictions in the approval process as well as the development and construction process including delays in processing development applications and delays in receiving relevant approvals before commencing construction, which can extend project timelines. For example, only 52% of NSW councils have achieved their residential assessment processing targets through February 2025 for the financial year ending June 2025⁶³ contributing to a decline in housing approvals and increased project timelines; and
- limiting land supply: Stringent regulations have been a contributor to the decline in land lots released since FY21 compared to previous years, contributing to the reduction in the supply of new houses being built as discussed in Section 7.3.4 along with other factors such as labour shortages.

7.5 Outlook

Demand for residential property development is expected to increase through to 2030, with revenue growth in the land development and subdivision segment forecast to grow at a compound average growth rate (CAGR) of 5.6% from 2025 to 2030, and the house construction segment forecast to grow with a CAGR of 1.4% over 2025 to 2029.^{64,65}

Industry performance is expected to be driven by the following:

- population growth: the population is expected to grow at a CAGR of 1.7% between 2024 and 2030, slightly above the long-run average of 1.5% but slower than previous years due to a slowdown in net overseas migration;⁶⁶
- government incentives: the housing targets set by the National Housing Accord to build 1.2 million homes and 20,000 affordable houses are expected to increase development activity with the federal government allocating federal financial incentives to state governments to support the achievement of the targets. Further, policies proposed by the Federal Labor Government including the lowering of minimum deposits to 5% for first home buyers are likely to increase demand for housing but are unlikely to materially address current supply issues including elevated building costs (refer to Section 7.3.5) and the lack of available land (refer to Section 7.3.4);
- streamlined planning assessments: in line with the goal to increase housing supply as set out in the National Housing Accord, the focus on reducing delays in development planning assessments is set to continue;
- lower interest rates: interest rates are forecast to decline with the RBA commencing its interest rate cutting cycle in February 2025 and with the Big Four Australian banks expecting between one to four further interest rate cuts forecast up to February 2026.⁶⁷ Lower interest rates are expected to stimulate borrowing and investment in development projects, providing relief to mortgage holders and boosting the housing market; and
- house prices: house pricing growth is forecast to differ between states with affordability caps forecast to limit future price growth in NSW and Victoria. In contrast, stronger market conditions are expected in Queensland, Western Australia, and South Australia.

8 Profile of AVJennings

8.1 Background

AVJennings is a residential property development company that acquires, develops and markets residential land, houses and apartments in greenfield growth corridors and infill sites on the Eastern seaboard of Australia, South Australia and New Zealand. It is listed on the ASX, and the SGX through SGX GlobalQuote. As at 27 November 2024, the last trading day before the announcement of the Scheme, AVJennings had a market capitalisation of $184.2 million.⁶⁸ As at 1 April 2025, SC Global holds or controls a 54.02% interest in AVJennings.

AVJennings was founded as a contract home builder in Melbourne in 1932 by Sir Albert Victor Jennings with a vision of creating communities rather than just houses. Mr Jennings believed in the “Australian dream” of a better life through home ownership.

On 1 November 2021, AVJennings announced the appointment of Mr Philip Kearns as Chief Executive Officer. On 15 November 2022, AVJennings announced the appointment of Ms Shanna Souter as Chief Financial Officer. Following the appointment of the new leadership, in April 2023, AVJennings adopted a revised strategy.

On 22 June 2023, AVJennings announced it had entered into a joint venture with Pro9 Global Limited (Pro9 Global) to utilise Pro9 Global’s technology to manufacture the highly durable and energy efficient Pro9 walling system (Pro9 walls) in Australia.

On 28 August 2024, AVJennings announced that, consistent with its objective of modernising the business, the Directors intended to undertake a refresh of the Board over the balance of 2024 and that several departures were planned on a staggered basis including long tenured Directors. The Board refresh was put on hold pending the outcome of the AVID Proposal.

8.2 Revised strategy

AVJennings’ revised strategy is to transform, modernise and grow through disciplined capital management, optimising the project pipeline, focusing on strong markets and leveraging its Pro9 walling system. It is focused on:

- maintaining a flexible product offering: including land, built-form housing and low/mid-rise apartments, which allows AVJennings to appeal to a broad customer base, maintain a diversified revenue stream, reduce exposure to market volatility, and respond to market conditions;
- modernising its foundations: including leveraging technology, modernising its capital structure and building the capability of employees and processes; and
- building annuity income: via Pro9, development services and other living sectors.

As a result of focusing on these initiatives, AVJennings is seeking to drive future growth and enhance shareholder value by improving returns on equity, leading to increased capital growth and dividends.

8.3 Operations

8.3.1 Overview

AVJennings specialises in the development of master-planned communities with products aimed at the more affordable end of the housing market and primarily across fringe urban areas in Australia and New Zealand, and the development of apartments in infill urban areas. AVJennings’ development pipeline as at 31 December 2024, comprised 9,586 lots under control, including 951 lots under development, across 24 communities predominantly located on the east coast of Australia, South Australia, and New Zealand.⁶⁹

8.3.2 Products

AVJennings primarily generates earnings from three main products:

- Land: This involves the acquisition, and subsequent subdivision and development of vacant land, for sale directly to retail customers or other builders and developers. Land is typically located in greenfield growth corridors on the fringes of major Australian urban centres and regional markets near these same urban centres. Sold land is ready to be built on by end customers. Activities undertaken in this segment include; planning, ensuring compliance with local regulations, conducting civil works on the vacant land, and integrating community features such as parks and open spaces, which enhance the residential environment;

- Integrated Housing: Involves the development of housing and land packages which include fixed-price “turnkey” housing packages (houses are developed from a piece of land to completion, being ready for customers to move into immediately) within AVJennings’ communities. Housing options offered include detached, terrace, and townhome houses. Integrated houses sold include an array of fixtures and finishings as standard, including blinds and flyscreens, solar panels, air-conditioning, fencing, and landscaping. The company does not provide contract housing services on individual’s own land, with all houses built within AVJennings’ communities; and
- Apartments: Involves the construction of low and mid-rise apartments, typically in prime locations within inner-city suburbs in the eastern Australian states including developments in Williamstown, Victoria, Brunswick, Victoria, Macarthur, NSW and Kogarah, NSW.

In addition to their three main products, AVJennings generates service-based income from the provision of property development and other services to joint venture arrangements.

8.3.3 Development cycle

AVJennings Typical Project Timeline

Source: AVJennings’ management, Kroll Analysis.

The key development stages for a typical development with traditional construction methods are detailed as follows:

- Planning: This is the longest phase in the development cycle and involves zoning and planning of acquired land. The planning phase can typically take 3 to 5 years but up to ~10 years for unzoned land;
- Land Development: This phase typically takes 9 to 12 months and involves conducting civil works in preparation of land sales and housing construction. Land is typically brought to market between commencement of civil works and ~50% completion of civil works and settlements typically occur four to six weeks after completion; and
- House Construction: This phase typically takes 8 to 11 months and involves the construction and sale of houses. Similar to land sales, housing construction occurs in batches and sales typically commence upon 40% completion of construction. Settlements typically occur four to six weeks after completion of construction.

8.3.4 Development pipeline

AVJennings’ development pipeline as at 31 December 2024 is predominantly located across NSW, Victoria, and Queensland, with the three states accounting for 80.7% of total lots. Of the Company’s current development pipeline, 12% of lots have been activated (lots which are either work in progress or fully completed) with the remainder undeveloped.⁷⁰

In FY24, the termination of the option associated with the Rocksberg project in Queensland reduced lots under control by 3,500. This, in conjunction with no new acquisitions being made during the year, resulted in AVJennings' pipeline of lots under control reducing from 14,094 at 30 June 2023 to 9,871 at 30 June 2024. Lots under control reduced further to 9,586 as at 31 December 2024.

In relation to AVJennings' key developments, we note the following:

- Evergreen, Spring Farm, NSW: a residential community offering land and 3, 4 and 5 bedroom integrated housing packages located in Spring Farm, NSW. The project is currently in the delivery/settlement phase and is not expected to be completed until beyond FY29;
- Rosella Rise, Warnervale, NSW: a residential community offering both land and integrated housing packages located in the Central Coast region of NSW. The project is currently in the delivery/settlement phase, first settlements occurred in FY23;
- Prosper, Kogarah, NSW: a collection of 1, 2, and 3-bedroom boutique apartments located 14 km south of Sydney's central business district (CBD). Construction is currently in progress and is expected to be completed in 1H26, with settlements forecast to begin in FY26;
- Waterline, Williamstown, VIC: a community located in Williamstown, Victoria, 12km from the Melbourne CBD. The project is comprised of 14 residential buildings, offering 1, 2 and 3-bedroom apartments and 3 bedroom townhouses. The project is currently in the delivery/settlement phase with many apartments and townhouses previously delivered. It is not expected to be fully completed until FY27. The Merchant apartment building was previously completed in June 2024 representing the last apartment building to be delivered in the community;
- Lyndarum North, Wollert, VIC: a joint venture in which AVJennings holds a 49% interest, located in Wollert, Victoria, 27km north of the Melbourne CBD. The community offers both land and integrated housing options. The project saw the completion of 140 residential lots throughout FY24;⁷¹
- Cadence 1 and 2, Ripley, QLD: a master planned community located in Ripley, Queensland, 45km west of the Brisbane CBD and 10km from Ipswich. Houses offered in the community are a mix of detached, terraces, and townhouses. As at 31 December 2024, 58 lots remain in Cadence 1. Settlements of lots in Cadence 2 are expected to commence in 1H26; and
- Ara Hills, Orewa, NZ: a village-based community with a combined area of 84.5 hectares, located 3km from Orewa Village and 30km north of the Auckland CBD. The development exclusively offers land packages with titles of 46 lots anticipated to be available in late FY25. A plan change is currently underway seeking to increase the project density from 700 to 900 lots.⁷²

As at 31 December 2024, 8 projects representing 4,179 lots have yet to commence settlements with at least 2,306 lots (representing 24.1% of total lots) not expected to commence settlement until FY29 and beyond.

8.3.5 Work in progress

In response to weaker market conditions, primarily driven by the RBA's interest rate raising cycle which commenced in May 2022, AVJennings scaled back production. Between FY23 and 1H25, lots which were work-in-progress comprised between 9.9% to 10.8% of the Company's pipeline compared to 14.8% in FY22. The number of lots which were work in progress at the end of the financial year between FY21 and 1H25 is illustrated as follows.

8.3.6 Acquisitions

AVJennings typically structures its land acquisitions in two ways:

- on-balance sheet: this typically involves an upfront payment with the remainder paid in staged payments or a single payment on acquisition; and
- project delivery agreements: land is not acquired upfront and is rather paid over the life of the project, with a portion of revenues generated paid to the landowner.

Land acquisitions in FY22 and FY23 totalled 4,080 lots in line with the company's growth strategy. AVJennings paused acquisitions in 1H23, due to market uncertainty and in order to preserve capital.

8.3.7 Pro9 Joint Venture

In June 2023, AVJennings entered into a joint venture with Pro9 Global to establish a facility to manufacture the Pro9 structural walling system in Australia. Pro9 walling systems are factory-built steel frame, fully enclosed walls which are delivered to the job site ready for installation. Pro9 walls provide a range of benefits to AVJennings and its customers including:

- faster build times, with Pro9 walls able to be typically installed in a few days, significantly reducing average time to lock up and allowing for increased building efficiency and increased certainty of project delivery;
- reduced material and labour cost risks compared to traditional construction methods;
- significantly reduced on-site trade visits reducing safety risks and community traffic; and
- environmental benefits with Pro9 walls providing significant improvements in energy efficiency, with AVJennings’ Stellar Collection homes incorporating Pro9 walls achieving a minimum 8 star rating under the National House Energy Scheme (NatHers) (a minimum 7 star rating is mandated by the government under the NCC).⁷³ Additionally, the use of Pro9 walling systems has further enabled the reduction of on-site construction waste by approximately 80%.⁷⁴

As part of the joint venture, AVJennings has established a manufacturing facility in NSW, with the capacity to manufacture walls for up to 800 to 1,000 homes annually at full production. The facility began production in August 2024. AVJennings has further utilised Pro9 walls in its Stellar Collection homes which have been rolled out across various communities including in Riverton, Queensland and Spring Farm, NSW with over 90 homes in the pipeline across FY25-FY26.⁷⁵

8.3.8 Customers

AVJennings products are primarily targeted at the more affordable end of the housing market. Owner occupiers typically represent the largest share of sales, accounting for approximately 60% of FY24 sales. First home buyers represent a sizeable share of owner occupier sales with buyers often being eligible to receive First Home Buyer grants. These grants differ on a state-by-state basis. Builders and investors represent a smaller but still significant portion of sales, accounting for 10.0% and 26.0% of FY24 sales respectively. AVJennings is also involved in the building of affordable and social housing in partnership with state governments.

8.3.9 Settlements

The following chart summarises AVJennings total lot settlements and average revenue per lot from FY21 to 1H25.

Total Lot Settlements and Average Revenue per Lot ($) between FY21 and 1H25

Source: AVJennings Annual Reports and Results Presentations, and Kroll analysis.

Note 1: Average revenue per lot is calculated by total revenues from land, integrated housing, and apartments divided by total settlements.

Between FY21 and 1H25, lot settlements peaked in FY21 at 905 lots. This peak was primarily driven by land settlements, which comprised around 70% of the settled contracts in that year.⁷⁶ Additionally, a significant number of apartment settlements, particularly from the completion and substantial settlement of the Empress building at Waterline Place, Williamstown, Victoria further boosted the settlement numbers in FY21.

In FY22, settlements declined by 32.8% to 608 lots. This decrease was due to production and settlement delays caused by weather, supply chain issues, and the COVID-19 pandemic.

In FY23, despite continued wet weather on the east coast in 1H23 and extreme weather events in New Zealand, settlements increased by 24.5%, primarily driven by HomeBuilder land sales from prior periods, with revenue from land sales up 58.4% year on year. Key project contributors included Lyndarum North, Victoria, Ara Hills, New Zealand, Riverton, Queensland, Cadence, Queensland, and Aspect, Victoria.

By FY24, settlements reached 874 lots, marking a 15.5% increase from FY23. This growth was primarily driven by retail settlements in projects such as Waterline Place, Victoria, Lyndarum North, Victoria, and Eyre, South Australia, as well as the disposal of lots related to legacy projects, including 177 lots in the Glenrowan project, Queensland and three remaining sites within the St Clair project, South Australia.

In 1H25, settlements totalled 325 lots, driven by settlements from Waterline Place, Victoria, Evergreen, NSW, Aspect, Victoria, and Rosella Rise, NSW. The greater average revenue per lot over the period was driven by the greater skew of settlements towards higher revenue generating apartment and integrated house sales.

At an annual settlement rate of 874 lots, AVJennings’ 9,586 development pipeline has a remaining life of approximately 11 years.

8.3.10 Revenue

The following chart summarises the share of revenue by product type between FY21 to 1H25.

FY21 to 1H25 Revenue by Product Type ($ million)

Note 1: Numbers may not add due to rounding differences.

The trend in revenue largely mirrored movements in settlements with revenue per lot remaining fairly steady. Land sales have typically represented a majority of sales, with land as a share of total sales ranging from 32.5% to 55.0% between FY21 and 1H25. Integrated housing as a share of total sales ranged from 33.3% to 48.3% of sales over the same period. Integrated housing has represented an increasing share of total sales in recent years as the Company has looked to shift its product mix towards integrated housing. Apartment sales have fluctuated over the period ranging from 1.0% to 26.1% of revenue mainly due to the timing of settlement of apartments within the Waterline development in Victoria.

In relation to the historical financial performance of AVJennings, we note:

- AVJennings operates in the residential property market, which is inherently cyclical and influenced by regional economic conditions. The company's financial performance broadly depends on planning outcomes, fluctuations in interest rates, consumer confidence, weather conditions and the stage of development of land, housing and apartments (refer to Section 7.2 of this report);
- revenue from the sale of land, houses, and apartments is recognised at a point in time when control is transferred to the customer. In most cases, transfer of control occurs at settlement when legal title is transferred to the customer, and an enforceable right to payment is established. In addition, AVJennings provides property development and other services to its joint ventures. The performance obligation is satisfied over time and revenue is progressively recognised based on the service agreement;
- the trend in revenue largely mirrored movements in settlements as described in Section 8.3.9 of this report, with revenue per lot remaining fairly steady;
- gross margin increased from 22.6% in FY21 to 28.8% in FY22, driven by strong pricing growth during the period. Gross profit increased by 41.6% in FY23, followed by a decline of 18.2% in FY24. Gross profit improvement in FY23 was attributed to a heavier skew towards higher margin land projects. In FY24, gross profit declined due to ongoing cost pressures related to labour and some built-form material categories, a significant slowdown in New Zealand and the impact of one-off capital management initiatives. The capital management initiatives included the disposal of all 177 remaining lots within the Glenrowan project, the sale of a large parcel of land (59 lots) at the Elderslie project, and the disposal of three remaining medium density sites within the St Clair project. Gross margin declined to 22.2% in 1H25 (as compared to 25.8% in 1H24) due to a higher number of apartment settlements, cost escalations in built-form housing, and capital recycling initiatives, particularly at St. Clair;
- operating expenses grew from $39.7 million in FY21 to $52.0 million in FY24 driven by a consistent rise in employee expenses, selling and marketing costs, and other operational expenses. Net interest expense was stable and immaterial throughout the period as most interest expenses are capitalised to projects. Operating expenses stood at $25.5 million in 1H25 as compared to $25.0 million in 1H24;
- underlying PBT fluctuated throughout the period presented and mainly reflected the trend in gross profit;
- in FY24, AVJennings recorded a $17.8 million write-off due to the company's decision to terminate its option on the Rocksberg land in Caboolture, Queensland. This termination led to the write-off of capitalised development expenses and the reimbursement of the landowners' transaction costs. The decision to terminate the option was based on a significant increase in expected development and infrastructure costs that had not been matched by increases in forecast revenue;
- lower earnings and the write-off resulted in NPAT declining from $24.0 million in FY23 to $1.0 million in FY24. In 1H25, NPAT declined by 13.2% to $2.4 million compared to 1H24. This decline was driven by higher costs of sales due to the aforementioned cost escalations in built-form housing and capital recycling initiatives;
- return on equity fluctuated in line with the movement in NPAT. Return on equity⁷⁷ declined from 5.8% in FY23 to 0.2% in FY24 due to the decline in NPAT and an increase in the equity base following an equity raising of $30.4 million in November 2023;
- earnings per share (EPS) declined sharply in FY24, reflecting the decline in NPAT and an increase in the number of shares outstanding following the equity raising; and
- in response to softer short-term trading conditions in 2H23, no final FY23 dividend was declared. Similarly, in FY24, no dividends were declared as a result of the decline in earnings. The Board stated at the end of FY24 that it expects to return to its normal dividend declaration cycle in FY25. However, dividends for 1H25 were withheld as the Board was waiting for the outcome of the due diligence process with AVID and Ho Bee Land and the finalisation of proposed offer, terms and structure.

8.4.2 Segment results

Revenue by Geographical Segment¹ ($ millions)

Source: AVJennings Annual Reports and Kroll analysis.

NSW, Victoria and Queensland accounted for the majority of sales from FY21 to FY24. In 1H25, Victoria accounted for more than half of the sales driven by a higher number of apartment settlements. Revenue from Victoria significantly increased in FY24 driven primarily by the growth in sale of apartments (from $0.9 million in FY23 to $59.8 million in FY24) and integrated housing in the region (from $5.4 million in FY23 to $30.3 million in FY24). The revenue contribution from New Zealand decreased in FY24 due to a market slowdown, which led to a decline in land settlements.

Source: AVJennings Annual Reports and Kroll analysis.

Notes:

1. Segment results are revenue less cost of sales, operating expenses, depreciation and amortisation and finance costs. It is essentially EBIT less finance costs.
2. Other segment includes South Australia and others.

NSW was the key contributor to the segment results from FY21 to FY24 and in 1H25, generating consistently high margins across the periods presented. In particular, despite significant revenue contributions from Victoria in FY24 and 1H25, segment results were only $5.2 million and $2.6 million, respectively. Although the revenue contribution from New Zealand is relatively modest, it generated significant segment results in FY21 to FY23. In FY24 and 1H25, the reduction in New Zealand revenue resulted in AVJennings generating a loss in New Zealand.

8.4.3 Outlook

AVJennings has not provided specific earnings guidance, however, on release of the 1H25 results on 25 February 2025, it provided the following outlook:

- FY25 gross margin is expected to be down on FY24 due to greater settlement skew towards apartments and built-form housing;
- revenue and earnings are expected to be heavily skewed to the second half with a sizeable increase in built-form with ongoing risks related to recovery in the Victorian and New Zealand market and achieving timely full production within the Pro9 factory; and
- in the second half of FY25, affordable markets of Queensland and South Australia are expected to continue to do well while price sensitive markets including NSW, Victoria and New Zealand are expected to be impacted due to affordability constraints. However, commencement of the rate cut cycle in New Zealand along with improving consumer confidence had a positive impact on the market.

In addition, Kroll has also considered broker forecasts. As far as Kroll is aware, AVJennings is followed by only one broker. This broker has published a report following the release of AVJennings' 1H25 results. It is not an advisor on the Scheme, however, it was the underwriter for the November 2023 equity raising.

In relation to the financial position of AVJennings as at 31 December 2024, we note:

- the majority of AVJennings' assets are inventories. Inventory is carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost includes acquisition, development, capitalised interest, and all other costs directly related to specific projects prior to the completion of development or construction. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs to complete and sell the inventory. Net realisable value considers average historical and forecast selling prices and sales rates for each project as well as changes in macroeconomic conditions impacting forecast assumptions. It involves a significant degree of judgement and can present a range of alternative outcomes;

- inventories are categorised into undeveloped land, work-in progress (includes houses and apartments under construction, and subdivided land), and completed inventory (includes completed residential land lots, houses and apartments). The allocation of inventory by category is illustrated as follows.

Inventories by category ($ millions)

Source: AVJennings Annual Reports, Investor Presentations, Results Announcements and Kroll analysis.

- growth in inventories from 30 June 2021 to 30 June 2022 mainly reflects land acquisitions and an increase in active projects in response to stronger market activity after pulling back on production at the start of the COVID-19 pandemic in order to preserve cash. Growth in inventories from 30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023 reflects the increased built-form housing and apartment development activity in order to meet demand. No land acquisitions (other than those already contracted) were made since 2H23. In FY24, $17.8 million of capitalised development expenses and reimbursement of landowners' transaction costs were written down as a result of the decision to terminate the option over the Rocksberg project in Queensland;
- AVJennings' inventories are predominantly non-current in nature with current inventories accounting for 24.3% and 26.9% of total inventories as at 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2024, respectively. As at 30 June 2024, current inventories primarily consisted of completed inventory and work-in-progress. Non-current inventories mainly consisted of $480.4 million of undeveloped land and $123.6 million of work-in-progress inventories;
- receivables are relatively minor and mainly include trade receivables, GST receivables and other receivables. The decline in FY24 was primarily due to payments received in relation to New Zealand builder sales;
- as at 31 December 2024, payables amounted to $132.5 million, reflecting a 12.5% decline compared to 30 June 2024, following the Beaudesert land acquisition payment. As at 30 June 2024, payables mainly included land creditors totalling $126.6 million ($205.1 million at 30 June 2023), which related to deferred consideration to purchase land from landowners. Payables declined by 37.1% during FY24 primarily due to land payments for projects located at Beaudesert, Queensland, Clyde, Victoria, and Macarthur, NSW;
- as at 31 December 2024, equity accounted investments include AVJennings' 33.3% interest in a joint venture with Pindan Capital Group Dwelling (building construction business) and a 50.0% interest in Pro9 Australia;

A summary of the AVJennings' joint ventures as at 31 December 2024 are as follows.

Pindan Capital Group Dwelling Trust	Building construction business	33.0%	4.5
Pro9 Australia	Prefabricated walling system manufacturing	50.0%	12.8 ¹

Note 1: AVJennings had provided a total convertible loan of $13.0 million to the Pro9 Joint Venture as at 21 November 2024. The conditions for the conversion of this loan into the Joint Venture equity, which included the successful establishment of the Australian manufacturing plant and the production and delivery of the first AVJ residential home, were met in November 2024. As a result, the full loan amount was subsequently converted into equity, increasing AVJennings' ownership in the Joint Venture to 50% at 31 December 2024 from 5% as at 30 June 2024.

- investment property relates to AVJennings' investment in a retail space asset located at Waterline Place, Victoria, held for long term yield and capital appreciation;
- right of use assets, intangible assets, and property, plant and equipment represent a small portion of total assets. The intangible asset relates to the value of the AVJennings brand name which was acquired as part of a business combination in 1995;
- provisions of $13.9 million as at 31 December 2024 relates to employee entitlements and rectification provisions, which consists of costs of maintenance, completion, and rectification of completed projects;
- gearing increased slightly from 14.5% at 30 June 2022 to 18.1% at 30 June 2023 despite management adopting a disciplined approach to capital management. AVJennings completed an equity raising of $30.4 million in November 2023, the purpose of which was to accelerate the building of its housing product within its developments to meet the increase in demand and shift in customer preferences to built-form housing, upgrade financial and operating systems to support greater business efficiency, and support working capital. Gearing increased to 23.9% at 30 June 2024 and to 24.5% at 31 December 2024;
- borrowings as at 31 December 2024, showed a slight decline relative to 30 June 2024 but remained higher compared to 30 June 2023, due to increased production and committed land acquisition payments; and
- NTA per share declined from $1.04 in FY23 to $0.82 in 1H25 as a consequence of the increase in shares outstanding as a result of the equity raising in November 2023 at a price of $0.20 per share, which represented an 80.8% discount to NTA per share at 30 June 2023 of $1.04.

8.5.1 Net borrowings

As at 31 December 2024, AVJennings had net borrowings of $208.4 million, comprised of $9.9 million of cash and $218.3 million of interest bearing liabilities.

Notes:

1. Minor variances to reported figures may be due to rounding.
2. Greater than ($0.05) million.

In FY21 and FY22, positive cash flow from operating activities were mainly utilised to repay borrowings and pay dividends.

In FY23 and FY24, cash flow from operating activities was negative mainly due to payments for land and an increase in production activities across apartments, built-form housing and large land projects and an increase in interest paid as borrowings and interest rates increased. In 1H25, cash flow from operating activities was slightly positive, reflecting a reduction in payments for land and development expenditure relative to 1H24.

In 2H23 and FY24, management sought to conserve capital given uncertain market conditions. No final FY23 dividend was declared, and no dividends were declared in FY24, the share buyback was suspended on 22 June 2023 and no land acquisitions were undertaken in 2H23 and FY24 (other than payments for committed acquisitions). In 2H23, there was a 20% year-on-year reduction in lots under development and in FY24, there was a 43.8% reduction compared to FY22 mainly due to termination of the Rocksberg project. Dividends were withheld for 1H25, as the Board awaited the results of the due diligence processes with AVID and Ho Bee Land, as well as the finalisation of the proposed offer, terms, and structure.

In FY23, net cash outflows were funded by an increase in borrowings. In FY24, net cash outflows were funded by a further increase in borrowings as well as a deeply discounted equity raising.

8.8 Share price performance

8.8.1 Recent share market trading

The trading price and volume of AVJennings shares and NTA per share since 3 August 2021 are set out as follows.

AVJennings Share Price since 3 August 2021

Source: S&P Capital IQ and Kroll analysis.

Note 1: From 10 October 2023 (the announcement of the equity raising) and 23 February 2024 (the release of AVJennings' FY24 half year results), NTA has been adjusted for the equity raising.

Discount to NTA

In the period presented, AVJennings shares have traded at a substantial discount to NTA. This likely reflects:

- as discussed in Section 8.5 of this report, AVJennings' assets predominantly comprise inventory, which is held at the lower of net realisable value or cost. Net realisable value is assessed on the future margin expected to be attributable to the projects on an undiscounted basis (i.e. not taking into account the timing of when AVJennings may be able to realise this future margin or reflect the risk of achievement). Settlements in FY25 to FY27 are expected to be lower than historical average due to softer market conditions resulting from persistent high interest rates and planning constraints limiting available stock. Furthermore, a large share of AVJennings' inventory balance has an expected completion date of FY29 or beyond. Consequently, AVJennings' share price is likely to reflect the time value of money and risk of achievement and will consequently be lower than the net realisable value;

- AVJennings' net assets do not reflect the impact of the ongoing operating costs required to realise those assets. In FY24, operating costs were $52.0 million;
- the prices at which AVJennings Shares trade reflect trading in minority parcels whereas the book value of net assets reflects 100% ownership;
- SC Global's 54.02% interest in AVJennings is likely to ensure that there is no takeover premium reflected in AVJennings' share price;
- trading in AVJennings Shares is illiquid, with relatively low volumes and a large bid-ask spread (refer to Section 8.8.3 of this report). It has a free float of 25.8%.⁸¹ Furthermore, AVJennings has not provided any specific earnings guidance and it is only followed by one broker;
- board composition, with the majority shareholder as Chairman and the significant tenure of certain Board members;
- AVJennings has not declared a dividend since the interim FY23 dividend;
- AVJennings has undertaken a capital structure review. It has not acquired land (other than under existing contracts) since 2H23. Operating cash flow losses in FY23 and FY24 were funded by borrowings and the deeply discounted November 2023 equity raising (at an 80.8% discount to NTA). Gearing has increased to 24.5% at 31 December 2024, although it remains within the target range. AVJennings has terminated an option and recognised a material impairment for a large project (Caboolture) in order to conserve capital; and
- AVJennings' return on equity is relatively low. In the last three years, return on equity has been well below the weighted average cost of debt (including fees and charges) as illustrated in the following.

Return on Equity¹ vs Weighted Average Cost of Debt²

Source: AVJennings Annual Reports and Kroll analysis.

Notes:

1. Return on equity is provided by AVJennings management for FY22 and FY23. For FY21 and FY24, return on equity is calculated as NPAT divided by the average of the equity balance at the beginning of the period and at the end of the period.
2. At 30 June 2024, weighted average cost of debt is 12-month period to date and includes base rate, margin, line fees and other miscellaneous facility fees. At 30 June 2023, weighted average cost of debt excluded line fees.

Share price trend

From 3 August 2021 until 8 November 2022, the AVJennings share price declined by 38.2%, from a close of $0.615 to close at $0.380, while the discount to NTA widened from 38.5% to 62.0%. This reflects an industry-wide decline following cyclical highs reached over the previous 12 months in response to strong government stimulus, as affordability indices once again exhibited pressure and lenders tightened portfolio controls, individual loan-to-value ratios and servicing thresholds. From May 2022 until November 2022, the Reserve Bank of Australia raised the official cash rate from 0.1% to 2.85%. Furthermore, COVID-19 pandemic-induced supply chain constraints on key material and labour inputs were expected to increase development timeframes.⁸² Also during this time:

- on 4 March 2022, it was announced that AVJennings would be removed from the S&P/ASX All Ordinaries Index effective 21 March 2022;
- on 27 June 2022, AVJennings announced that Chief Financial Officer, Mr. Larry Mahaffy had passed away; and
- on 1 July 2022, AVJennings advised that it expected profit before tax for FY22 to fall within $16 million and $18 million, a significant decline from $26.7 million for FY21, as several factors caused approximately 250 sale contracts, which were expected to settle in 2H22, to fall into 1H23, including persistent wet weather on the east coast of Australia and Auckland, New Zealand, production delays due to supply chain blockages, materials shortages and labour shortages as well as lingering COVID-19 pandemic related interruptions delaying the timing of settlements.

From 11 November 2022 until 26 March 2023, the AVJ share price stabilised, closing in the range of $0.37 to $0.43, potentially as the market had already priced in the impact of further increases in the official cash rate as well as the impact on earnings of the previously advised supply chain disruptions and the shortage of skilled labour. In addition, on 15 November 2022, AVJennings announced the appointment of Ms Shanna Souter as Chief Financial Officer. Over this period, the discount to NTA ranged from 57.0% to 64.1%.

On 28 March 2023, AVJennings announced a buyback of up to 7,500,000 shares.⁸³ The AVJennings share price increased from $0.38 to a high of $0.47 on 3 May 2023, before declining to $0.405 on 21 June 2023. The buyback was suspended on 22 June 2023 in order to preserve capital.⁸⁴ The share price then closed in the range of $0.385 to $0.440 until 10 October 2023. From 21 June 2023 until 10 October 2023, the discount to NTA ranged from 50.7% to 63.1%.

On 11 October 2023, AVJennings announced a fully underwritten, 1 for 2.67 pro rata accelerated renounceable entitlement offer for approximately $30.4 million equity at an issue price of $0.20 per AVJennings Share, a 50.0% discount to the last closing price of $0.40 on 10 October 2023 and a 42.1% discount to the theoretical ex-rights price of $0.346. After a two-day trading halt, the AVJennings share price declined by 30.0% on 13 October 2023 to close at $0.28 then from 30 October 2023 until 5 December 2023, closed in the range of $0.24 to $0.26, a discount to pro forma NTA⁸⁵ in the range of 68.0% to 70.4%.

From the close of $0.245 on 5 December 2023, the AVJennings share price then increased by 46.9% to close at a high of $0.360 on 2 April 2024, a 56.1% discount to NTA. During this time, on 26 February 2024, AVJennings announced 1H24 results. Despite revenue being down by 14%, a number of lead indicators pointed to a recovery, including a 26% increase in enquiries and a 75% increase in contract signing volumes as a result of improved consumer confidence following periods of interest rate stabilisation.

On 20 May 2024, AVJennings announced the write-off of $17.2 million of capitalised development expenses as a result of the termination of the option at Rocksberg land in Caboolture, Queensland. The share price declined by 9.0% in the following two days.

In the month to 27 November 2024, the last trading day before the announcement of the Indicative Proposal, AVJennings shares closed in the range of $0.30 to $0.36, at a VWAP of $0.33, a discount to NTA of 59.5%.

8.8.2 Relative share price performance

AVJennings is not a member of any indices. Kroll has compared AVJennings' share price to a capitalisation weighted index of residential property developers, including Peet Limited (Peet), Finbar Group (Finbar), and Cedar Woods Properties Ltd (Cedar Woods) (Comparable Company Index) as well as the All Ordinaries Index.

The performance of AVJennings relative to the Comparable Company Index since 3 August 2021 is illustrated as follows.

AVJennings' Relative Share Price Performance from 3 August 2021

From 3 August 2021 until late 2022, the AVJennings' share price and the Comparable Company Index declined, underperforming the All Ordinaries Index, reflecting the industry-wide decline described in Section 8.8.1 of this report. The AVJennings share price and the indices then remained relatively flat until October 2023, when the AVJennings share price declined steeply as a result of the dilutive equity raising, underperforming both indices. Subsequently, the AVJennings share price broadly tracked the indices until the announcement of the Indicative Proposal.

AVJennings has consistently traded at a greater discount to NTA than the peers, likely reflecting:

- AVJennings' project pipeline has a large number of projects for which settlements are expected to commence in FY29 and beyond. As of 31 December 2024, only 12% of AVJennings' pipeline had been completed or were work in progress. In contrast, Cedar Woods has a smaller portion of its pipeline in the planning phase, with most new projects set to commence settlements in FY25 and FY26. Similarly, Peet's land bank development projects have a lower proportion (33%) in the planning phase, with settlements for eight new projects expected to commence by FY27. Finbar, which focuses on developing apartments and commercial units in Western Australia, has a balanced mix of completed projects, projects under construction, and projects in the planning phase in its portfolio;
- AVJennings has a relatively low four-year average (FY21 to FY24) return on equity of 3.5%, compared to Cedar Woods 8.5%, Peet 8.3% and Finbar 4.0% (refer to Appendix 3 of this report), reflecting lower profitability and efficiency of AVJennings' operations as compared to peers;
- AVJennings' significantly lower four-year average return on equity of 3.5% relative to its weighted average cost of debt, which reached 8.1% as at 31 December 2024.⁸⁶ In contrast, Cedar Woods' return on equity of 8.5% exceeds its cost of debt of 5.6% while Peet's return on equity of 8.3% is slightly lower than its cost of debt of 8.6%. Finbar's return on equity stood at 4.0% relative to its cost of debt which is based on BBSY+2.2% (refer to Appendix 3 of this report);
- AVJennings had a negative cash conversion ratio in FY23 and FY24 as it generated negative cash flow from operations. This contrasts with Cedar Woods, which had a positive cash conversion ratio in both FY23 and FY24. Peet's cash conversion ratio was positive in FY23 but turned negative in FY24, while Finbar had a negative cash conversion ratio in both years;
- AVJennings has not declared a dividend since 2H23 in line with its capital management policy to preserve capital (and currently as a result of the Transaction), whereas Cedar Woods and Peet have declared dividends with respect to FY23 and FY24. Finbar declared a dividend in FY24, although no dividend was declared in FY23;
- AVJennings' significantly lower liquidity (one year, as % of total share outstanding) of 4.3% as compared to Cedar Woods (26.5%), Peet (20.8%) and Finbar (16.9%) (refer to Appendix 3 of this report); and
- AVJennings' low free float of 25.8% of AVJennings stock as compared to Cedar Woods (73.8%), Peet (62.3%) and Finbar (40.0%).⁸⁷

Kroll has further considered the average bid-ask spread for the 1-year period up until 27 November 2024. We note the historical average bid-ask spread ranged from 1.4% to 16.4%, and the average bid-ask spread was relatively wide at 4.7%, indicating there are relatively few buyers and sellers of AVJennings Shares and supporting our view that AVJennings Shares are illiquid.

9 Valuation of AVJennings

9.1 Overview

Kroll has assessed the value of AVJennings' equity in the range of $304.1 million to $347.7 million, which corresponds with a value per AVJennings Share in the range of $0.54 to $0.61 on a fully diluted basis.⁸⁸

Kroll has valued AVJennings' development projects under a Run-off Scenario. That is, it is assumed that AVJennings' existing development projects run-off and are not replaced with future projects. Kroll has considered a Development Platform Scenario whereby AVJennings' existing development projects run-off and are replaced with future projects into perpetuity. However, as a result of AVJennings' relatively low return on equity, relatively high funding costs and long development cycle, we do not consider that a hypothetical acquirer would attribute value to the Development Platform Scenario greater than that which is assessed under our Run-Off Scenario, particularly given that there are a number of potential acquirers that already have their own development platform.

Our ranges of assessed values reflect 100% ownership of AVJennings and, therefore, incorporate a control premium. As our valuation includes a control premium, our ranges of assessed values per share exceed the price at which we expect AVJennings Shares would trade on the ASX in the absence of the Scheme.

The value of AVJennings' equity has been determined by estimating the fair value of AVJennings' development projects, Pro9 and capitalised corporate overheads (net of synergies available to a pool of potential acquirers), together with consideration of AVJennings' net tax liability and non-operating assets/liabilities and adjusted net debt (including lease liabilities) to determine the value of AVJennings' equity on a stand-alone basis.

In assessing the value of AVJennings' development projects, Kroll has adopted a DCF methodology as the primary methodology (refer to Section 9.3.1 of this report). The value derived from the DCF methodology has been cross-checked using a market approach (refer to Section 9.3.2 of this report).

Comparison of Kroll's valuation to NTA

Kroll's primary valuation of AVJennings results in a value that is less than AVJennings' net asset value. A reconciliation of AVJennings' diluted NTA per share as at 31 December 2024 to Kroll's mid-point valuation of AVJennings is illustrated as follows.

Reconciliation of AVJennings Diluted NTA per share to Kroll's Mid-point Valuation as at 31 December 2024

The assessed range of values of $0.54 to $0.61 per AVJennings Share represents:

- a discount to diluted NTA⁸⁹ as at 31 December 2024 ($0.81) in the range of $0.19 to $0.27, or 23.6% to 33.2%, which is within the range of discounts to NTA observed for comparable property development companies (from a discount of 39.5% to a premium of 27.6%). Premiums/(discounts) to NTA are impacted by the point in the cycle at which the transaction occurs (refer to Appendix 3 of this report). In this regard, the most recent transaction identified, the acquisition of Devine in 2021, occurred at a discount to NTA of 39.5%, and four of the eight publicly listed residential property developers identified are currently trading at a discount to NTA (refer to Section 9.3.2 of this report);
- in the month to 27 November 2024, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Scheme, AVJennings Shares traded at a VWAP of $0.33, which represents a 59.5% discount to NTA as at 30 June 2024 of $0.81;
- the discount to NTA implied by our assessed range of values can be accounted for by the following offsetting factors;
 - AVJennings' assets mainly comprise inventory that is carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value whereas Kroll's valuation of the development assets reflects our assessment of fair value. A significant portion of AVJennings' inventory is carried at cost. Net realisable value does not represent fair value as it is assessed on the future margin expected to be attributable to the projects on an undiscounted basis (i.e. not considering the timing of when AVJennings may be able to realise this future margin or reflect the risk of achievement) and excluding any tax. In this regard, many of AVJennings' current projects are yet to commence settlement (eight projects representing 43.6% of lots) and a further four projects representing 24.1% of lots at 31 December 2024 are not expected to commence settlement until beyond FY29. Overall, Kroll's discounted cash flow analysis results in a value of the development projects that is (1.4)% to 6.3% greater than their book value as at 31 December 2024 of $660.3 million;⁹⁰

⁹⁰ Calculated as the sum of NTA less net debt, Pro9, equity accounted investments and net tax liability as at 31 December 2024.

- AVJennings' inventory balance does not reflect the impact of the ongoing operating costs required to realise those assets. Kroll has assessed the value of AVJennings' remaining operating costs (net of synergies) in the range of $134.4 million to $141.6 million, or $0.24 to $0.25 per share; and
- the change in net debt to 31 March 2025 which increased by $7.7 million resulting in a decrease in value by $0.01 per share.

Comparison of Kroll's valuation to recent share trading

The assessed range of values of $0.54 to $0.61 per AVJennings Share represents a premium to the one-month VWAP to 27 November 2024 ($0.33) in the range of 63.0% to 86.3%. The significant premium for AVJennings likely reflects:

- that Kroll's valuation is inclusive of a control premium whereas the prices at which AVJennings Shares are traded on the share market reflect trading in minority (and fairly illiquid) parcels. Premiums observed in control transactions are typically in the range of 25% to 40%;
- premiums paid in transactions involving Australian residential property developers are in a wide range ((4.8%) to 100%). There are a number of transactions where significant premiums were observed e.g. Devine/CIMIC (2021), 100.0%, Payce/Bellawest (2016), 80.0%, and Tian An/Oasis Star (2017), 47.7%, noting that trading in these target companies was also illiquid with limited free float (free float of 30.5% for Devine, 1.9% for Payce and 13.6% for Tian An and percentage of shares traded in the preceding 12 months of 8.5% for Devine, 7.2% of Payce and 20.6% for Tian An). Furthermore, at the time of the acquisition announcement, Devine was not covered by any equity brokers, and limited information about the company's ongoing projects was available to the market due to commercial sensitivity. This lack of coverage and information could have contributed to a lower trading price for Devine before the acquisition announcement (refer to Appendix 3 of this report); and
- it is likely that the AVJennings share price during this period was adversely impacted by factors such as the presence of a major shareholder, illiquid share trading, board composition with the majority shareholder as Chairman and the significant tenure of certain Board members, absence of a dividend, the capital structure review, and a dilutive equity raising priced at a significant discount to AVJennings' trading price and NTA per share (refer to Section 8.8.1 of this report).

In forming our view as to the value of AVJennings Shares, we have considered a series of factors including:

- AVJennings' position as a residential property developer which develops residential land, houses, and apartments in greenfield growth corridors and infill sites on the Eastern seaboard of Australia, South Australia and New Zealand;
- the timing and status of AVJennings' current development pipeline which consists of 9,586 lots over 24 projects as at 31 December 2024, with 24.1% of projects not expected to commence settlement until FY29 and beyond;
- the performance of Pro9 to date including the ramp up of operations at its factory, future capital requirements, and forecast future sales and material and labour costs;
- AVJennings' recent operating and financial performance including the number of lot settlements, return on equity which has been well below its weighted average cost of debt, the Company's negative cash flows from operating activities in FY23 and FY24, and the lack of dividends declared since the interim FY23 dividend;
- the current outlook for the Australian property development industry including the current performance of property markets across Australia, the current macroeconomic environment, the impact of government regulations on the timing and cost of development of projects, current land shortages in Australia, the potential growth in the prefabricated housing industry, and the current housing supply shortage in Australia;
- Federal Labor Government policies related to the housing industry in Australia including those aimed at addressing the current affordability crisis, particularly for first homebuyers. We, however, note that current proposed policies are primarily geared towards driving first homebuyer demand and fail to address significant supply side challenges. Given uncertainty around policy outcomes and broader industry factors outlined above, AVJennings' management does not consider there to be sufficient information at this point to believe the policy changes will materially impact earnings over the life of a project; and

- synergies available to a pool of potential acquirers.

Special Dividend

The total cash consideration of $0.655 will be reduced by any Special Dividend, being a fully-franked dividend of up to $0.167 for each AVJennings Share held as at the Special Dividend Record Date, which if declared and paid will result in franking credits of up to approximately $0.072 per AVJennings Share (provided a favourable class ruling is obtained from the ATO).

In Kroll's opinion, it is not appropriate for the assessment of the Scheme to either factor into the value of AVJennings, the value of accumulated franking credits or include in the value of the consideration the value of the credits attached to the Special Dividend since the value of those credits to each shareholder varies depending on their individual circumstances. Nevertheless, it needs to be recognised that, where part of a takeover offer comprises a franked dividend, some shareholders may realise additional value from the franking credits (i.e. they are better off in after tax terms than they would have been had the same amount been paid as part of the acquisition price and been received as a capital gain).

9.2 Approach

9.2.1 Overview

Our valuation of AVJennings has been prepared on the basis of 'fair value'. The generally accepted definition of fair value (and that applied by us in forming our opinion) is the value agreed in a hypothetical transaction between a knowledgeable, willing, but not anxious buyer and a knowledgeable, willing, but not anxious seller, acting at arm's length. Fair value excludes 'special value', which is the value over and above the value that a particular buyer, which can achieve synergistic or other benefits from the acquisition, may be prepared to pay.

In the absence of direct market evidence, fair value is commonly derived by applying one or more of the following valuation approaches:

- income approach;
- the market approach; or
- cost approach.

These approaches are discussed in further detail in Appendix 4 of this report. The decision as to which approach to adopt will depend on various factors including the availability and quality of information, the maturity of the business and the actual practice adopted by purchasers of the type of asset or business involved. A secondary methodology is often adopted as a cross-check to ensure the reasonableness of the outcome, with the valuation conclusion ultimately being a judgement derived through an iterative process.

For profitable businesses, the market approach and income approach are commonly used as they reflect 'going concern' values, which typically incorporate some element of goodwill over and above the value of the underlying assets. For businesses that are either non-profitable, non-tradeable or asset rich (e.g. real estate investment trusts), a cost approach is often adopted as there tends to be minimal goodwill, if any.

Income approach

Under an income approach, the value of an asset is determined by converting future cash flows to a current value. It is commonly adopted when:

- the income producing ability is the critical element affecting value from a market participant perspective;
- future cash flows can be estimated on a reasonable basis; and

- there is not a substantial operating history, there is a variable pattern of cash flow, or the asset has a finite life.

The most common application of the income approach is the DCF methodology. This methodology allows for cash flows to reflect a range of risks and opportunities, allows for a range of scenarios to be modelled, and allows for AVJennings' variable pattern of cash flows to be accounted for. In addition, a DCF methodology allows for a run-off scenario to be modelled.

A DCF methodology can be applied to cash flows to the whole asset or business or cash flows to equity. Cash flows to the whole asset or business is most commonly used because an asset or business should theoretically have a single value that is independent of how it is financed or whether income is paid as dividends or reinvested.

Utilising the DCF methodology requires estimation of cash flows for a number of years and discounting those cash flows back to present value. AVJennings has provided a 14 year forecast to FY2039 (Financial Model).

Kroll has prepared a DCF analysis that uses the Financial Model as its starting point. Kroll has undertaken various enquiries and independent analysis in relation to AVJennings' assumptions underlying the Financial Model, including holding discussions with AVJennings management and reviewing key assumptions in the context of current economic, financial and other conditions.

Following our enquiries and independent analysis, Kroll is of the view that the Financial Model has been prepared on a reasonable basis and is, therefore, suitable as a basis for our DCF analysis. In making this assessment, we have taken the following into account:

- the financial model is a sum of the parts model which is comprised of individual feasibility models for each of AVJennings' projects and capitalised corporate overheads;
- the financial model for AVJennings' development projects is a consolidated run-off model based on individual feasibility models for each of AVJennings' current projects. The individual feasibility models are used for planning purposes including as part of the annual budget setting process, to compare forecast performance against funding covenants, and to observe development performance against projections;
- each individual feasibility model is managed by each project's individual manager and is updated on a monthly basis. Each model runs for the forecast life of the development but only assumptions for the next three years are examined for consolidated planning purposes;
- revenue assumptions are forecast on a project level with prices based on the sales performance from previous phases, advice from external experts and from market evidence on a corridor and state basis;
- project costs are based on contracted rates, tendered rates for previous stages, or pricing suggested by external experts; and
- the assumptions in each feasibility model are reviewed by the Chief Operating Officer (COO) annually as part of the annual budget setting process. The annual budget is reviewed and approved by the Board.

Kroll has also considered cash flow forecasts for Pro9, however, given that Pro9 is effectively a start-up business, we are unable to establish a reasonable basis for those cash flow forecasts.

We have not tested individual assumptions or attempted to substantiate the veracity or integrity of such assumptions in relation to any forward-looking financial information. However, we have made sufficient enquiries and, where considered necessary, have adjusted certain assumptions to reflect our judgement.

The cash flows within our DCF analysis do not constitute a forecast or projection by Kroll of the future performance of AVJennings, and no assurance or warranty is provided that future performance will align with the assumptions adopted in the model. These assumptions do not, and do not purport to, represent the range of potential outcomes for AVJennings' business operations.

Regarding the valuation of AVJennings' development portfolio, Kroll has considered risk at a portfolio level rather than at an individual project level. We note that risk is diversified across AVJennings' development portfolio with projects currently at varying stages in the development cycle. This is in-line with other companies in the residential development industry from which Kroll has derived betas.

Market approach

The market approach is based on comparing the asset or business to identical or comparable assets or businesses for which there is available price information. Application of this approach involves the capitalisation of the cash flows or earnings (or revenue) of a business at a multiple that reflects both the risks of the business and the future growth prospects of the income it generates. It is commonly adopted where:

- the asset or business or similar assets or businesses are actively publicly traded (market comparable methodology);
- there are frequent and/or observable transactions in comparable assets or businesses (comparable transactions methodology); and
- there is substantial operating history and a consistent earnings trend.

AVJennings operates in the residential housing market, which is inherently cyclical and influenced by both national and regional economic conditions. The company's financial performance broadly depends on the fluctuations in interest rates, consumer confidence and the stage of development of land, housings and apartments (refer to Section 7 of this report). Where companies have cyclical earnings, valuers typically have regard to an average of the earnings over the cycle, rather than earnings in any particular year.

In addition, there are a number of publicly traded Australian residential property developers, as well as transactions involving Australian residential property developers from which to calculate meaningful multiples. Consequently, a market approach has been used as a cross-check.

Application of this approach involves the capitalisation of the cash flows or earnings of a business at a multiple that reflects both the risks of the business and the future growth prospects of the income it generates. This methodology requires an element of professional judgement as to:

- the level of earnings or cash flows that are expected to be maintainable indefinitely, adjusted for non-recurring items and other known factors likely to impact on future operating performance; and
- an appropriate capitalisation multiple that reflects the risk and growth prospects associated with the level of earnings being capitalised. The capitalisation multiple is usually determined having regard to market evidence derived from comparable transactions and share market prices for comparable companies, whilst also considering the specific characteristics of the business being valued.

The earnings base to which a multiple is commonly applied include revenue, EBITDA, EBIT and net profit after tax. The choice between parameters is usually not critical and should give a similar result.

In considering the appropriate earnings period of the asset or business being valued from which to calculate multiples, factors to consider include whether the historical performance of the asset or business reflects the expected level of future operating performance, such as whether the underlying business is cyclical and at what stage of the cycle the performance is being measured. Kroll has considered these issues as part of its analysis of market evidence.

Companies within the land development and wider property development industry are commonly valued with reference to their underlying tangible asset base given the capital intensity of the business models.

AVJennings has not announced specific earnings guidance and there is only one broker covering AVJennings and that broker was the underwriter in AVJennings' recent equity raising. Kroll has considered premiums/(discounts) to historical NTA as well as historical multiples of average EBITDA over the cycle.

Rule-of-thumb valuation benchmarks are sometimes considered to be an application of the market approach. They generally should not be given substantial weight unless market participants place particular reliance on them. Kroll is not aware of any rules-of-thumb that are utilised in valuing property development companies.

Cost approach

A cost-based approach is most appropriate for businesses where the value lies in the underlying assets and not the ongoing operations of the business, such as real estate holding companies which record their portfolio on the balance sheet at fair value. For property development companies, however, assets mainly reflect inventories, which are recorded at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Net realisable value is assessed on the future margin expected to be attributable to the projects on an undiscounted basis (i.e. not taking into account the timing of when AVJennings may be able to realise this future margin or reflect the risk of achievement). A large share of AVJennings' inventory balance has an expected completion date of FY29 or beyond. Consequently, a cost approach has not been utilised to value AVJennings' projects.

Kroll has adopted the cost approach to assess the value of AVJennings' 50% stake in Pro9. We note that Pro9 does not have a substantial operating history and we are unable to establish a reasonable basis for forecast future cash flows to apply the income approach. We further note the limited comparability of multiples and the inability to establish a level of through-the-cycle maintainable earnings for the purposes of adopting a market approach.

9.2.3 Control premium

Consistent with the requirements of RG 111, we have assumed 100% ownership of AVJennings and, therefore, our valuation includes a control premium.

Successful transactions are commonly completed with an implied acquisition premium to the pre-trading equity price of the target in the order of 25% to 40% depending on the individual circumstances.⁹¹ In considering the evidence provided by actual transactions, it is important to recognise that the observed premium for control is an outcome of the valuation process, not a determinant of value, and that each transaction will reflect to varying degrees the outcome of a unique combination of factors, including:

- the acquirer's capacity to realise full control over the strategy and cash flows of the target entity;
- the magnitude of synergies available to all acquirers, for example, the rationalisation of costs related to duplicated functions, or the removal of costs associated with the target being a listed entity;
- uncertainties related to the timing of full realisation of target synergies;
- the expected costs to migrate and integrate the business;
- the nature of the acquirer (i.e. whether the acquirer is a financial investor or a trade participant);
- synergistic or special value that may be unique to a particular acquirer;
- the interest acquired in the transaction with consideration to the acquirer's pre-existing shareholding in the target;
- the prevailing conditions of the economy and capital markets at the time of the transaction with consideration to the position in the overall market cycle;
- desire (or anxiety) for the acquirer to complete the transaction;
- whether the acquisition is competitive; and
- the extent the target company's share price already reflects a degree of takeover speculation.

The premium that is ultimately applied must have regard to the circumstances of each case. In some situations, it may be appropriate to apply no premium for control, for example, there are transactions where no corporate buyer is prepared to pay a price in excess of the prices paid by institutional investors through an initial public offering. Accordingly, an assessment as to an appropriate control premium, if any, is essentially a matter of judgement.

The multiples derived for listed comparable companies generally reflect prices at which portfolio interests (i.e. minority interests) are traded and consequently, do not include a control premium. They may also be impacted by the level of liquidity in trading of the particular security. Accordingly, when valuing a business as a whole (i.e. AVJennings on a 100% basis), or when valuing the main undertaking of a business, it is appropriate to reference the multiples achieved in recent transactions, where a control premium and breadth of purchaser interest are more fully reflected.

There are a number of potential strategic acquirers of AVJennings that have an existing development platform and a substantial Australian presence and are of significant scale.

Any acquirer of AVJennings (financial or strategic) is likely to be able to derive savings from listed public company costs. A strategic acquirer is also likely to be able to save a portion of corporate overheads. In addition, property development companies with a substantial presence in Australia are likely to also be able to save a portion of overheads associated with site/land, marketing, sales and workflow.

Cost synergies available to a potential acquirer have been estimated at 40.0% of overheads. Kroll has assumed that an acquirer could reduce overheads as a percentage of revenue in line with Cedar Woods and Finbar which had the lowest overheads as a percentage of revenue among listed comparable residential property development companies. Kroll notes, however, that some developers capitalise a material portion of overheads rather than including them in overheads. Whilst the approach undertaken by Finbar is unclear, Cedar Woods does not appear to capitalise a significant portion of overheads into COGS and is, therefore, a relevant benchmark. Refer to Appendix 6 of our report.

Additionally, it is expected that an acquirer could achieve further synergies through the elimination of listed public company costs including board fees, remuneration of key management personnel, and audit fees. These costs accounted for approximately 8.2% of overheads in FY24.

The estimate of synergies available to a potential acquirer is presented as follows.

Assumed Synergies ($ millions)

Comparable companies overhead percentage of revenue ¹	12.0%
AVJennings' overhead percentage of revenue ¹	17.7%
Difference	5.7%
Implied % of total overheads²	32.2%
Additional listed public company costs	8.2%
Total overhead synergies available (rounded)	40.0%

Source: S&P Capital IQ, Company financial statements; Kroll analysis.

Notes:

1. Calculated using average revenue in FY23 and FY24.

2. Calculated as difference/ AVJennings' overhead percentage of revenue.

In cross-checking the implied value of AVJennings utilising a market approach, potential synergy benefits have been included by incorporating a multiple that is based on recent transaction evidence and includes a control premium. Adding both an adjustment to earnings to reflect synergies and a control multiple in the valuation would result in an overstatement of the benefits of a transaction.

9.3 Valuation of development projects

9.3.1 Discounted cash flow analysis

Kroll has assessed the value of AVJennings' operating business in the range of $515.5 million to $559.1 million.

As discussed, the DCF analysis was based on a long-term financial model developed by Kroll on the basis of a financial model provided by AVJennings. The DCF analysis uses as a starting point the financial position of AVJennings as at 31 March 2025 and projects nominal, unlevered, after tax cash flows to FY39 a period of 14.25 years. Unlevered, after tax cash flows are discounted by a weighted average cost of capital (WACC) in the range of 9.50% to 11.00% (refer to Appendix 5). No terminal value has been included.

The key assumptions underlying the forecast cash flows are:

- residential lot/unit sales rates: Management forecasts residential sales considering the latest expected completion dates of various phases including construction programs and time frames within its communities and development projects. In addition to historical evidence, Management considers market research and advice from external experts and revises settlement forecasts within the feasibility models to reflect current market dynamics and are directly linked to sales rates. In addition to sales rates, management monitors for trends in customer cancellation rates, typically driven by financing availability when determining settlement forecasts;

- land acquisition costs: Land acquisition costs are based on the contractual agreements with the original landowners. For land acquisitions under project delivery agreements this cost is funded by revenue flows from the project;
- development costs: Largely consist of site-wide infrastructure, land holding costs (including rates and land tax), civil works, housing construction costs, statutory fees and contributions, professional fees, and development management costs (for certain JVs). The various costs are forecast based on current contracted rates, tendered rates for previous stages and external pricing suggested by consultants and civil engineers;
- escalation rate: Costs and revenue escalations are project specific and vary depending on the latest macroeconomic data available to Management in addition to consultation from relevant project managers who will advise on observable historical trends;
- ownership structure: For any projects that are part of a JV, we have taken AVJennings' pro-rata share of the total cash flows of the JV;
- capitalised overheads: Overheads have been forecast based on budgeted overheads for FY25 increased by forecast CPI throughout the Forecast Period. Kroll has assumed a fixed overhead cost base of $15.0 million which is forecast to increase annually in line with forecast CPI throughout the forecast period. The remainder of forecast overheads have been assumed to be variable, and are forecast to decline in proportion to the roll-off of the development portfolio;
- corporate tax rate of 30% in line with the Australian corporate tax rate; and
- synergies have been forecast at 40.0% of forecast overheads as discussed in Section 9.2.3

9.3.2 Valuation cross-check

In order to cross-check our selected valuation range for AVJennings Shares, Kroll has compared the implied valuation metrics from the DCF analysis to market evidence derived from transactions involving Australian residential property developers and multiples at which Australian residential property developers trade.

Our assessed value of AVJennings' operating business implies the following discount to NTA per share and EBITDA multiples.

AVJennings Implied Multiples Cross-check

	Parameter	Low	High
Value of AVJennings' equity		304.1	347.7
Discount to NTA at 31 December 2024	$0.82	(34.1%)	(24.6%)
Value of AVJennings' operating business		515.5	559.1
Adjusted EBITDA multiple (FY24) ¹	$39.1 million	13.2	14.3
Adjusted EBITDA multiple (4-year average) ¹	$38.2 million	13.5	14.6

Transactions evidence

A comparison of AVJennings' implied premium/(discount) to NTA with those observed in comparable transactions involving Australian residential property developers is presented as follows.

Premium/(Discount) to NTA

In relation to the premium/(discount) to NTA of the comparable transactions we note:

- the extent of any premium / discount to NTA depends on a range of factors, such as the anticipated strategic value and cost synergies, the anticipated development margins (as indicated by the difference between a developer's anticipated return on equity relative to its funding costs) and the quantum of overhead costs required to deliver the projects. If, for example, a developer's funding costs are equivalent to its return on equity, to the extent that an overhead platform is required to deliver the projects, this will reduce the value to below NTA. If, on the other hand, a developer is able to generate significant returns above its cost of capital, this will narrow the gap to NTA or may result in a value that is greater than NTA;
- each of these transactions occurred in a different operating environment to today. Building costs have increased significantly in recent years (refer to Section 7.3.5 of this report). The current macroeconomic environment is also more challenging, with interest rates at their highest levels since April 2012 and affordability at all-time lows (refer to Section 7.3.1 of this report), reducing demand. These factors make it more challenging to generate a significant return on equity. At the same time, funding costs as well as planning delays have increased (refer to Section 7.4 of this report) meaning that developers have to hold inventory for longer before generating any returns on projects. Consequently, we would expect that had these transactions occurred in the current macroeconomic and operating environment, they may have attracted lower premiums / greater discounts to NTA;
- the most recent transaction was the acquisition of Devine in 2021, which occurred at a significant discount to NTA of 39.5%. This likely reflects that most of Devine's inventory was tied to the Riverstone Rise project in Gladstone, which was not expected to be completed until 2046. This long timeline likely resulted in a lower assessed market value for Devine due to the time value of money compared to the book value of the project (the lower of cost and net realisable value). Additionally, the transaction's significant discount to NTA was likely also driven by Devine's weak financial performance, with the company registering losses for three years prior to the announcement of the offer and generating a negative return on equity of (9.0%) in the last financial year and a negative four-year average return on equity of (10.1%). Although AVJennings also has a long timeline for much of its development projects, its return on equity is higher (four-year average of 3.5%, last financial year of 0.2%), suggesting a lower discount to NTA is appropriate for AVJennings. On the other hand, AVJennings is currently operating in a more challenging macroeconomic environment, with significantly higher interest rates currently than in 2021, reduced affordability and weaker demand. Furthermore, building costs have increased substantially since 2021 (refer to Section 7.3.5 of this report) and planning delays have increased further (refer to Section 7.4 of this report). Immediately prior to the announcement of the transaction, Devine was trading at a discount to NTA of 69.8%;

- the acquisition of CIC Australia Limited (CIC) occurred at a discount to NTA of 16.5%. The discount was likely driven by CIC's relatively low return on equity (four-year average of 4.3%) compared to its cost of debt (7.1%) and relatively small operating scale, however, the return on equity in the financial year preceding the transaction was relatively strong at 7.4%. In comparison, AVJennings' four-year average return on equity is lower at 3.5%, the return on equity for the last financial year was substantially lower (0.2%) and its cost of debt is higher (8.1%).⁹² The transaction occurred in 2013, in a very different macroeconomic environment to today. Immediately prior to the announcement of the transaction, CIC was trading at a discount to NTA of 13.0%, compared to AVJennings which closed at a discount to NTA of 59.5% on 27 November 2024;
- Payce and Villa World Group (Villa World) have operations of similar scale to AVJennings, however, differences in their business models and product offerings make Payce not directly comparable to AVJennings. Payce focused mainly on developing residential apartments and retail areas in the Sydney market. Additionally, Payce primarily operated as an off-the-plan developer meaning it had sold its properties prior to construction and hence had a lower risk profile in comparison to AVJennings. Villa World's business is comparable to AVJennings, as it operated as a residential property developer with development and construction operations across NSW, Queensland, and Victoria;
- the acquisitions of Payce and Villa World were completed at premiums to NTA of 27.6% and 3.1% respectively. These premiums to NTA likely reflect that both companies had a relatively high four-year average return on equity (27.8% and 12.6%, respectively), and a relatively low cost of debt (6.4% for Villa World). Immediately prior to the announcement of the transactions, Payce and Villa World were trading at a discount to NTA of 29.1% and 11.9%, and
- the acquisition of Tian An occurred at a discount to NTA of 9.2%. Although it had a relatively low four-year average return on equity of (3.8%), its return on equity in the year prior to the transaction was 6.5%, which was above its cost of debt of 5.7%. Immediately prior to the announcement of the transaction, Tian An was trading at a discount to NTA of 38.5%.

A comparison of AVJennings' implied EBITDA multiples with those observed in comparable transactions involving Australian residential property developers is presented as follows.

EBITDA multiple¹

Source: S&P Capital IQ, Company financial statements, Kroll analysis.

Notes:

- Multiples presented are based on four-year average EBITDA prior to the date of announcement of the transaction. EBITDA has been adjusted to exclude capitalised interest within COGS.
- Multiples for Devine, Tian An and CIC are not meaningful as they were loss making and consequently, they have not been included in the chart.

The EBITDA multiples implied by Kroll's valuation of AVJennings substantially exceed the multiples for Payce and Villa World.

Share market evidence

A comparison of AVJennings' discount to NTA with the multiples of listed residential property developers and diversified real estate companies are presented as follows.

Premium/(Discount) to NTA

The discount to NTA implied by Kroll's valuation of AVJennings is greater than those for all of the comparable companies except for Tian An. Kroll's valuation includes a premium for control whereas the prices at which comparable companies trade do not, however, Kroll considers that a higher discount is appropriate for AVJennings compared to most of the comparable companies since:

- we have included residential property developers and diversified real estate companies operating in Australia and New Zealand in our analysis. However, we note that diversified real estate companies are less comparable to AVJennings as a result of their large scale of operations, diverse product offerings (such as fund and investment management, construction, and development services), and different economies of scale. In particular, they are able to utilise earnings from their substantial investment portfolios to fund developments;
- certain companies have activities for which value is not fully reflected in NTA. For example, Peet undertakes development activities on behalf of third parties and also generates earnings from funds management activities. These activities represented 33.6% and 27.9% of Peet's EBITDA for FY24. As a result of these activities, it is trading at a premium to NTA;
- certain companies generate earnings from other sources which likely provide more stable income through the cycle, with Winton Land Limited (Winton) owning and operating retirement villages and a commercial portfolio and Finbar generating rental earnings through its portfolio of commercial investment properties (rental income contributed 27.8% of net profit before tax in FY24). Furthermore, these companies are able to fund development activities from these more stable earnings;
- AVJennings has a relatively low return on equity (four-year average of 3.5% and 0.2% in the last financial year) compared to its cost of debt (8.1% at 31 December 2024). In comparison:
 - Peet is trading at a premium to NTA of 26.3% and has a relatively high four-year average return on equity of 8.3% and a cost of debt of 8.6% as at 31 December 2024;
 - Winton is trading at a premium to NTA of 17.4% and has a relatively high four-year average return on equity of 9.4% and a cost of debt of 9.1% as at 31 December 2024;
 - Cedar Woods is trading at a premium to NTA of 13.0% and it has a relatively high four-year average return on equity of 8.5% and a relatively low cost of debt at 5.6% as at 31 December 2024;
 - Finbar is trading at a discount to its NTA of 11.4%. Its four-year average return on equity of 4.0% is similar to that of AVJennings, however, its cost of debt is lower (BBSY+2.2%) than for AVJennings; and
 - Tian An is trading at a greater discount to NTA of 80.3%. Its four-year average return on equity of (11.2%) is substantially lower than for AVJennings;
- many of AVJennings' current projects are yet to commence settlements (eight projects representing 43.6% of lots) and a further four projects representing 24.1% of lots at 31 December 2024 are not expected to commence settlement until beyond FY29. In comparison:
 - as at 30 June 2024, Peet's land bank development projects have a lower proportion (33%) in the planning phase, with eight new projects expected to start settlements by FY27;
 - Winton is primarily focused on residential lots which comprise of 78% of its portfolio, however, it also owns retirement villages and a commercial portfolio, which likely provide more stable income;
 - Cedar Woods has a lower portion of its pipeline in the planning phase, with most new projects set to commence settlements in FY25 and FY26; and
 - Finbar, which focuses on developing apartments and commercial units in Western Australia, has a balanced mix of completed projects, projects under construction, and projects in the planning phase in its portfolio;
- Peet and Cedar Woods both released updated profit guidance in April 2025 and May 2025 respectively, with Cedar Woods upgrading profit guidance for FY25 and FY26 and Peet increasing profit guidance and projecting a higher dividend for FY25. In contrast, AVJennings in its Q3 FY25 update released in May 2025, indicated that FY25 revenue would be below FY24.

A comparison of AVJennings' implied EBITDA multiple with the multiples of listed residential property developers and diversified real estate companies are presented as follows.

EBITDA multiple

Note 1: The multiples presented are based on the average EBITDA of the latest four financial years. EBITDA has been adjusted to exclude capitalised interest within COGS.

The implied EBITDA multiples for AVJennings are reasonable since:

- the presented multiples are based on share market prices and do not include a control premium whereas Kroll's valuation of AVJennings includes a control premium;
- as discussed, diversified real estate companies are less comparable to AVJennings as a result of their large scale of operations, diverse product offerings (such as fund and investment management, construction, and development services), and different economies of scale. In particular, they are able to utilise earnings from their substantial investment portfolios to fund developments. As such, they could be expected to trade at higher multiples than residential property development companies;
- the residential property development companies are more comparable to AVJennings as they are of a broadly similar scale and are primarily engaged in the development of land, apartments, townhouses, and communities, similar to AVJennings;
- as discussed, Peet and Finbar's earnings are more diversified and more stable than AVJennings' making them less risky and contributing to higher trading multiples. Peet derives income from its development activities on behalf of third parties and from its funds management activities. Alternatively, Finbar generates rental income from its portfolio of investment properties;
- Tian An is not included in the above chart as its four-year average earnings are negative;
- Winton operates similarly to AVJennings in terms of business operations and product offerings, and it is trading at a four-year average EBITDA multiple of 9.8 times. We note, however, that Winton primarily operates in New Zealand and as such, it is subject to different macroeconomic and regulatory conditions than for AVJennings;
- compared to AVJennings, Peet and Cedar Woods have a greater share of their development pipelines in the settlement phase, with only 33% of Peet's land bank in the planning phase and with the majority of Cedar Woods' projects expected to commence settlements in FY25 and FY26. This results in a stronger near term growth outlook for Peet and Cedar Woods, relatively to AVJennings, and suggests a lower multiple (excluding a control premium) is appropriate for AVJennings;
- a greater portion of Peet and Cedar Woods' current development pipelines are located in faster growing regions including South Australia, Queensland, and Western Australia, with more than half of Peet's developments located in Western Australia and Queensland and 76.0% of Cedar Woods' lots located across South Australia, Queensland, and Western Australia. Similarly, the entirety of Finbar's pipeline is located in Western Australia which was the fastest growing market among Australian capital cities. Alternatively, a greater share of AVJennings' development pipeline is located in underperforming regions with 54.0% of lots located in Victoria and NSW which have reached affordability caps. These factors also result in a higher growth outlook for Peet, Cedar Woods and Finbar, relative to AVJennings, suggesting a lower multiple (excluding a control premium) is appropriate for AVJennings; and

- Peet and Cedar Woods both increased profit guidance in April 2025 and May 2025 respectively whereas, AVJennings indicated that FY25 revenue would be below FY24 in its Q3 FY25 update released in May 2025.

The relevant market evidence is provided in detail in Appendix 3.

9.4 Valuation of Pro9

Kroll has assessed the value of AVJennings' share in Pro9 to be $12.8 million based on a cost approach as at 31 December 2024. As discussed in Section 9.2.2, Pro9 is effectively a start-up business and Kroll is unable to establish a reasonable basis for the cash flow forecasts provided.

9.5 Net deferred tax liability

Kroll has valued AVJennings' net deferred tax liabilities at its book value as at 31 December 2024 of $14.1 million.

9.6 Other assets and liabilities

In order to arrive at the enterprise value of AVJennings', it is necessary to adjust for any assets and liabilities not required to sustain the adopted level of maintainable earnings. Kroll has assessed the value of AVJennings' surplus net assets for the purpose of this valuation to be $10.0 million. Kroll has valued these other assets and liabilities based on the cost approach as at 31 December 2024. These assets include:

- St Clair: Kroll has valued the remaining lots from AVJennings' legacy project at St Clair at $5.5 million; and
- equity accounted investments: Kroll has valued AVJennings' 33.3% equity accounted interest in Pindan Capital Group Dwelling Trust at $4.5 million.

9.7 Adjusted net debt

In order to arrive at the value of equity, it is necessary to deduct the net debt from the unlevered value of AVJennings. Kroll has assessed AVJennings adjusted net debt position for the purpose of this valuation to be $221.4 million. This amount is based on AVJennings' balances for external borrowings, lease liabilities and cash balance as at 31 March 2025.

AVJennings' Adjusted Net Debt ($ millions)

	Unaudited
Cash and cash equivalents as at 31 March 2025	19.9
Total external borrowings as at 31 March 2025	(236.4)
Lease liabilities as at 31 March 2025	(5.0)
Adjusted net debt	(221.4)

Appendix 4 – Valuation methodologies

The purpose of the valuation methodology adopted is, in the absence of direct market evidence, to provide an estimate of value using methodologies that rely on other sources of evidence. Consistent with International Valuation Standards, valuation methodologies applicable to assets or businesses can be categorised under three approaches: market approach, income approach and cost approach.

These approaches have application in different circumstances. The decision as to which approach to adopt will depend on various factors including the availability and quality of information, the maturity of the business and the actual practice adopted by purchasers of the type of asset or business involved.

Market approach

The market approach is based on comparing the asset or business to identical or comparable assets or businesses for which there is available price information. It is commonly adopted where:

- the asset or business or similar assets or businesses are actively publicly traded (market comparable methodology);
- there are frequent and/or observable transactions in comparable assets or businesses (comparable transactions methodology); and
- there is substantial operating history and a consistent earnings trend.

The market comparable methodology indicates the value of a business by comparing it to publicly traded companies in similar lines of business. An analysis of the trading multiples of comparable companies yields insight into investor perceptions and, therefore, the value of the subject company. The multiples are evaluated and compared based on the relative growth potential and risk profile of the subject company vis-a-vis the publicly traded comparable companies. The multiples derived for comparable quoted companies are generally based on security prices reflective of the trades of small parcels of securities. As such, multiples are generally reflective of the prices at which portfolio interests change hands.

The comparable transaction methodology indicates value based on exchange prices in actual transactions. This process essentially involves the comparison and correlation of the subject company with other similar businesses recently sold or currently offered for sale. Considerations such as timeframe of transaction, premiums, and conditions of sale are analysed, and the observed transaction multiples are subjectively adjusted to indicate a value for the subject company.

A key step in both methods is determining the appropriate unit of comparison. In a business valuation common units of comparison include, revenue, EBITDA, EBIT, net profit after tax and book values. The choice will typically depend on the industry and characteristics of the subject asset.

Rule-of-thumb valuation benchmarks are sometimes considered to be an application of the market approach. They generally should not be given substantial weight unless market participants place particular reliance on them.

Income approach

Under an income approach the value of an asset is determined by converting future cash flows to a current value. It is commonly adopted when:

- the income producing ability is the critical element affecting value from a market participant perspective;
- future cash flows can be estimated on a reasonable basis; and
- there is not a substantial operating history or there is a variable pattern of cash flow, or the asset has a finite life.

The most common methodology adopted is the DCF methodology. It has a strong theoretical basis and benefits by explicitly estimating future cash flows, allowing it to be used in a variety of circumstances, whether that be a start-up or an established business. It also allows for various scenarios and/or sensitivities to be modelled. Under a DCF methodology, forecast cash flows are discounted back to the valuation date resulting in a present value for the asset. Where there is an explicit forecast period a terminal value will typically be included, representing the value of the asset at the end of this period, which is also discounted back to the valuation date to give an overall value for the business. The rate at which the future cash flows are discounted (the discount rate) should reflect not only the time value of money, but also the risk associated with the asset or business' future operations. Whilst discount rates are generally determined from observable data, substantial judgement is required in their determination. Further, the cash flows themselves also require considerable judgement in their preparation, placing significant importance on the quality of the underlying cash flow forecasts and the determination of an appropriate discount rate in order for a DCF methodology to produce a sensible valuation figure.

DCF's can also be extremely sensitive to what may be considered small changes in various assumptions and the longer the forecast period the more difficult it is in general to forecast cash flows with sufficient reliability. As such, it is important to adequately understand the basis and risks associated with the various assumptions used to derive the cash flow forecasts and recognise the impact it can have on resulting values including the value range. Notwithstanding, DCF methodologies are widely used and benefit from the rigour associated with the preparation of future cash flows.

Cost approach

Under a cost approach the value of an asset is determined having regard to the cost to replace or reproduce the asset. The most common methodologies include:

- the replacement cost;
- the reproduction cost method; and
- the summation method.

A cost based approach is most appropriate for businesses where the value lies in the underlying assets and not the ongoing operations of the business (e.g. real estate holding companies).

A premium is added, if appropriate, to the marked-to-market net asset value, reflecting the profitability, market position and the overall attractiveness of the business. The net asset value, including any premium, can be matched to the 'book' net asset value, to give a price to net assets, which can then be compared to that of similar transactions or quoted companies.

A net asset approach is also useful as a cross-check to assess the relative riskiness of the business (e.g. through measures such as levels of tangible asset backing).

Appendix 5 – Discount rate

Kroll has selected a WACC in the range of 9.50% to 11.00% for AVJennings based on the selected parameters presented in the following table. To calculate the WACC, a cost of equity has been calculated using the capital asset pricing model (CAPM), and the cost of debt. The WACC is commonly employed as the basis for determining an appropriate discount rate where cash flow forecasts consist of free cash flows to both debt and equity holders. Whilst we have utilised the WACC, we recognise that market participants often use less precise methods for determining a discount rate, including target internal rates of return or hurdle rates. They also often do not distinguish between investment types or regions.

We have utilised the following parameters in deriving our base discount rate for the Australian market.

Selected WACC Parameters for AVJennings

Parameter	Symbol	Low	High
Risk free rate	R_f	4.00%	4.00%
Equity risk premium	ERP	6.00%	6.00%
Unlevered Beta		1.00	1.20
Tax rate	t	30.00%	30.00%
Gearing (Net Debt / (Net Debt + Equity))	D/(D+E)	40.00%	30.00%
Debt/ Equity	D/E	66.67%	42.86%
Levered Beta	β	1.47	1.56
Cost of Equity (Post-Tax)	K_e	12.80%	13.36%
Pre-tax cost of debt	K_d	7.00%	7.00%
AVJennings WACC (Rounded)		9.60%	10.80%
AVJennings Selected WACC		9.50%	11.00%

Source: Kroll analysis.

The objective of the discount rate is to appropriately reflect the expected return of a hypothetical prudent purchaser, based upon the perceived risks associated with AVJennings. In this respect, it is relevant to recognise that the selection of an appropriate discount rate to apply to the forecast cash flows of any asset or business operation is a matter of judgement and that the individual components should not be considered in isolation but rather as components of an overall discount rate. As a result of this subjectivity, the calculated discount rate should be treated as guidance rather than objective truth.

Furthermore, our discount rate reflects an assessment at a point in time as to both current market conditions and future expectations. To the extent that there are any changes in conditions and expectations over time, it is likely that an adjustment to the discount rate may be warranted.

Cost of equity

The cost of equity has been derived from the application of a modified CAPM.⁹³ The CAPM has been empirically tested and is widely accepted for the purpose of estimating a company's required return on equity. In applying the CAPM, the rate of return on equity is estimated as the current risk-free rate of return on a long-term government bond plus a market risk premium, multiplied by the "beta" for the shares. Beta is defined as a risk measure that reflects the sensitivity of a company's share price to the movements of the stock market as a whole and is a measure of systematic risk.

The modified CAPM rate of return on equity capital is calculated using the formula:

$$K_e = R_f + \beta * (R_m - R_f) + \alpha$$

Where:

K_e = Rate of return on equity capital;

R_f = Risk-free rate of return (normalised long-term Australian sovereign risk);

β = Beta or systematic risk for this type of equity investment, re-levered to reflect the debt-to-equity profile of the Investment;

⁹³ CAPM is modified by the inclusion of an alpha.

$R_m - R_f$ = Equity risk premium (ERP); the expected return on a broad portfolio of stocks in the market (R_m) less the risk-free rate (R_f); and α = Alpha including where relevant, size or other company specific risk.

Risk-free rate

The risk-free rate is a key input in the CAPM. It is the return available, as of a valuation date, on a security that the market generally regards as free of the risk of default. When valuing a going-concern business, the risk-free rate is typically measured over a long-term period. In practice, long-dated bonds issued by governments considered to be generally safe have traditionally been accepted as a proxy for a risk-free security. As AVJennings' forecast cash flows are denominated in Australian dollars, we have used the 10-year Australian Government Treasury yield as a proxy for the risk-free security. As at 30 April 2025, the spot 10-year yield was 4.15%.⁹⁴

Sovereign yields in many developed countries, including Australia, had been at (or near) historical lows in recent times. Periods of high uncertainty are often accompanied by flights to quality, which means investors shift significant capital to liquid assets considered "safe", such as government securities of major advantaged economies, lowering yields on these securities. Australia is one of the very few countries in the world carrying a AAA sovereign debt rating and is therefore considered a safe haven by global investors.

More recently, continued high inflation globally and in Australia prompted central banks to repeatedly increase interest rates from 2022 until late 2023. This has caused an increase in the spot 10-year Australian Commonwealth Government bond yield from 3.0% on 2 August 2022 to reach a peak of 4.9% on 1 November 2023, before declining throughout the remainder of 2023. Since the end of 2023, we have seen the 10-year bond yield fluctuate between 3.8% and 4.7%, with the yield fluctuating in the range of 4.1% and 4.6% in 2025. Similar movements in the yields of government securities can be seen globally.

During these periods of massive central bank interventions, where risk-free rates appear to be volatile, Kroll recommends the use of normalised risk-free rates. A normalised risk-free rate is an estimate of a risk-free security that would prevail in the absence of non-market factors affecting rates. A normalised risk-free can be accomplished in a number of ways, including:

- (i) simple averaging; and
- (ii) various "build-up" methods.

The first method of estimating a normalised risk-free rate entails calculating averages of yields-to-maturity on long-term government securities over various periods. This method's implied assumption is that government bond yields will revert to the mean. As of 5 May 2025, the 10-year trailing average of the 10-year Australian Commonwealth Government bond yield was 2.6%.

The second method is to normalise risk-free rates relied on build-up models based on the "Fisher equation", which consists of adding a country's projected real rate based on stabilised medium-to-long-term economic conditions to the long-term expected inflation.⁹⁵ The long-term real rate cannot be observed directly in the market but there are academic papers that provide attempt to estimate such rate. In the case of Australia, we found that these estimates ranged between (0.3)% to 1.3%.⁹⁶ For the second component of the equation, we use a number of well-established surveys and economic forecasting providers, to arrive at consensus estimates for long-term expected inflation in Australia. As of May 2025,⁹⁷ Kroll's analysis of the long-term Australian estimates of inflation produced estimates of 2.3% to 2.7%. Based on this approach we arrived at a normalised risk-free rate of 3.5% for Australia.

⁹⁴ Risk free rate data is the latest data as at 5 May 2025.

Bulletin, (September); McCrick, Rachael, and Daniel Rees, 2017 "The Neutral Interest Rate", RBA Bulletin, September Quarter 2017.

⁹⁷ Data is the latest available as at 5 May 2025.

In determining an appropriate risk-free rate, in addition to the normalised risk-free rate, we have considered:

- the current spot 10-year yield on the Australian Commonwealth Government bond (4.1% as at 30 April 2025);⁹⁸
- the average 10-year yields on the Australian Commonwealth Government bond over the 3 and 6 months until 30 April 2025 which were both 4.4%; and
- that the RBA lowered the cash rate target to 4.1% in February 2025, which indicates recent yields could represent a peak in the cycle.

On this basis we have arrived at a risk-free rate of 4.0% which we have used to derive a cost of equity.

Equity risk premium

The ERP represents the required return for bearing the incremental risk of investing in a diversified portfolio of equities rather than investing in a risk-free asset (such as a government bond of a government considered safe of default). A forward-looking ERP is not directly observable in the market. Accordingly, valuation practitioners typically utilise historical data to estimate ERP. However, it is important to understand the level of risk-free rates used to measure the historical ERP and whether the resulting combination of risk-free rate and ERP result in a reasonable proxy for a forward-looking base cost of equity.

To the extent that the realised (i.e., historical) ERP equates on average to expected premiums in prior periods, the historical average ERP may be a useful starting point in developing a current forward-looking ERP estimate. A reason one might look to the historical ERP is that the expectations of investors will be framed from their experiences, and the average historical ERP might be expected to have an influence on investors' expectations about the future. Hence there is usually at least some reliance on average historical ERPs when developing current forward-looking ERP estimates.

However, this does not mean that the ERP estimate should be static over time. Periods of market stability (low volatility) likely indicate that the current forward-looking ERP estimate is below the historical average, and periods of heightened volatility likely indicate that the current forward-looking ERP estimate is above the historical average.

The historical ERP has been estimated from an Australian investor perspective over different periods by various researchers and regulatory authorities. In forming our view we have had particular regard to the work of Dr Bishop,⁹⁹ as summarised and updated in "Appendix 3B: Additional Sources of Equity Risk Premium Data – Australia" in the 2021 Valuation Handbook – International Guide to the Cost of Capital, published by Duff & Phelps (a Kroll business).¹⁰⁰ Dr. Bishop estimated the historical Australian ERP for the period of 1900–2020 under different investor perspectives: (i) an Australian investor (in Australian Dollars, or AUD) with access to (i.e., eligible to receive) imputation tax benefits; (ii) an investor in AUD without access to imputation tax benefits.

The geometric average and the arithmetic average realised ERP were both calculated relative to Australian long-term government bonds. Both the geometric and arithmetic average ERP indications were estimated directly from the underlying data. We consider the arithmetic average to be more relevant for the valuation of businesses. The analysis indicated an arithmetic average ERP of 6.8% for an investor with access to imputation benefits and 6.4% for an investor without access to imputation benefits.

In order to be consistent with the approach we adopted to estimate the risk-free rate (based on a normalised estimate), we have applied a long-term view in determining the ERP. On this basis we consider an ERP of 6.0% as appropriate for the long-term investment climate in Australia. Furthermore, an ERP of 6.0% is also within the range determined in various other academic studies and adopted by independent experts in comparable independent expert reports.

Beta

Beta (β) is a statistical measure of the volatility of the price of a specific stock relative to the movement of a general group. Generally, beta is considered to be indicative of the market's perception of the relative risk of the specific stock. For unlisted firms, practical application of the CAPM is dependent upon the ability to

Notes:

1. S&P Capital IQ (Local Index) two-year and five-year levered betas are based on each of the comparable companies' correlation with a relevant local index. Two-year and five-year unlevered betas are calculated using the respective company's average two and five-year debt to equity (D/E) ratio. D/E is defined as net debt divided by the summation of market capitalisation and minority interests.
2. The presented market capitalisations have been sourced from S&P Capital IQ using their recorded shares on issue.
3. AVJennings' market capitalisation and S&P Capital IQ betas are calculated as at 27 November 2024, the last undisturbed trading day.
4. Shaded cells indicate statistically insignificant results.
5. Medians and averages exclude AVJennings.

With regards to the observed betas of comparable companies as at 5 May 2025 we note that:

- Kroll has primarily considered five-year monthly betas as residential property development companies typically have long working capital cycles with full completion of projects typically taking more than two years;
- share prices have been regressed against a local rather than a global index, since property development companies typically operate within a single geographical market;
- overall, betas are broadly comparable when calculated over a two-year period and a five-year period;
- trading in shares of a number of the comparable companies is illiquid, which results in data points not being statistically significant (and those data points have been excluded) or displaying relatively low statistical significance:
 - AVJennings has a two-year weekly unlevered beta of 0.45 and a five-year monthly unlevered beta of 0.51. AVJennings shares are illiquid, which impacts the statistical significance of its betas;
 - Cedar Woods has a two-year and a five-year unlevered beta of 0.52 and 0.80 respectively. Its two year beta is relatively low, likely reflecting operational stability in FY23 and FY24 with the company's net profit improving by 28.1% and 30.6%, respectively. We note that Cedar Woods has similar operations to AVJennings but is relatively larger and its shares are more liquid (Cedar Woods has a free float of 73.8% compared to AVJennings at 25.8%);

- the calculated five-year betas for Winton and Tian An, yielded r-squares less than 0.05 indicating that they were less statistically significant than the other comparable companies; and
- we note that relative to other listed residential property development companies, AVJennings has a greater share of its development pipeline settling in later years and as a result its future cash flows would have greater sensitivity to market conditions. Due to this we would expect AVJennings to have a higher beta.
- trading in the shares of Stockland, Mirvac, and Lendlease are liquid. However, each is more diversified and larger than AVJennings with all three companies having significant property investments and each company participating in commercial and high-rise property development. Their 5-year unlevered betas range between 0.98 and 1.05. In comparison, we would expect AVJennings to have a higher unlevered beta, reflecting its greater volatility resulting from its lower diversification and greater share of earnings subject to the cyclical residential property market.

Intuitively, as the residential property development industry is cyclical, Kroll would expect the unlevered beta for a residential building company in Australia, such as AVJennings, to be around 1.0. Having regard to the factors discussed above, Kroll has selected an unlevered beta for AVJennings in the range of 1.00 to 1.20. Based on our selected market gearing of 30.0% to 40.0%, as discussed in the following section, this results in a levered beta in the range of 1.47 to 1.56.

Gearing

In selecting an appropriate gearing ratio for AVJennings for the purpose of re-leveraging our selected asset beta, we have considered the gearing levels of comparable companies.

The gearing ratios for the selected comparable companies are set out as follows.

Notes:

1. The presented market capitalisations and gearings have been sourced from S&P Capital IQ as at 5 May 2025, except for AVJennings which is calculated as at 27 November 2024, the last undisturbed trading day.
2. Gearing has been calculated as total net debt/(total net debt plus market capitalisation).
3. Medians and averages exclude AVJennings.
4. Shaded cells indicate outliers.

For any company, there is likely to be a level of gearing that represents the optimal capital structure for that company. In estimating a discount rate, the gearing assumption should reflect this optimal or target capital structure, however, "optimal" as opposed to "actual" capital structures are not readily observable. In practice, both the existing capital structure and those of comparable businesses are used as a guide considering the specific circumstances of the relevant entity.

The majority of comparable companies considered have a gearing ratio between 25.0% to 40.0% with a median gearing ratio of 35.4% and 29.0% (on a two and five-year period, respectively).

Tian An carries a significant amount of leverage, but over 85% of its debt consists of a loan from its parent company, Oasis Star. This loan is interest-free from 23 May 2024, until the facility expires on 31 December 2027.

AVJennings' target gearing ratio is 15.0% to 35.0% based on the book value of equity,¹⁰¹ which is equivalent to 40.9% to 61.8% based on AVJennings' market value of equity as at 27 November 2024.¹⁰²

Having regard to these factors, we have selected a gearing ratio of 30.0% to 40.0% for AVJennings.

Pre-tax cost of debt

For the purposes of assessing fair value, we estimated the cost of debt from the perspective of the likely debt rate that would apply to AVJennings if acquired by an external market participant. We have approximated the long term, pre-tax cost of debt with the following methodology:

- using our long-term risk-free rate (4.00%) as a base; and
- applying a spread of 3.00%, which is based on input from banks reflecting the standard debt margin for the property development sector at a neutral risk rating.

Based on the above, a long-term pre-tax cost of debt of 7.0% is considered to be appropriate.

We note that our selected cost of debt is below the reported weighted average cost of debt of 8.1% as at 31 December 2024 as we note that AVJennings' current cost of debt is reflective of the Company's capital constraints and is not reflective of a likely cost of debt under a scenario where AVJennings is acquired by an external market participant.

Tax rate

We have adopted the effective tax rate of 30% for Australia.

Company specific risk premium (alpha)

Under CAPM theory, it is assumed that diversified investors require no additional returns to compensate for specific risks because across a diversified portfolio the net effect of specific risks will on average, be zero. In practice, many investors include an additional risk premium to reflect company specific factors or risks which may not otherwise be captured in financial forecasts, and it is common for companies to set hurdle rates for investments above their own estimates of the cost of capital to deal with these issues. Such adjustments are, however, not able to be observed and are inherently subjective.

We have not applied an alpha factor in the current valuation of AVJennings as we currently consider that other company specific risks are sufficiently reflected in the forecast cash flows.

Cross-check

As a cross-check to our WACC we have considered analysis of recent reports by the single broker following AVJennings which utilise a WACC of 11.40% in their valuation models. This is above the range of WACC selected by Kroll. We note that there are significant limitations in this evidence as AVJennings is only followed by a single broker. We have further considered WACC's adopted by brokers following AVJennings' most comparable peers. However, we note that coverage for AVJennings peers are similarly limited, and the analysts do not disclose their adopted WACC's.

¹⁰² Based on AVJennings' market capitalisation as at 27 November 2024.

D Notice of Scheme Meeting

AVJennings (ABN 44 004 327 771)

Notice of Scheme Meeting

Notice is given that, by an order of the Supreme Court of New South Wales (Court) made on 8 May 2025 pursuant to section 411(1) of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act), a meeting of AVJennings Limited (ASX:AVJ) (AVJennings) will be held on Friday, 11 July 2025 at 3:00pm (AEST), at The Hyde Park Room, Sheraton Grand Sydney Hyde Park, 161 Elizabeth Street, Sydney 2000 and through an online platform at <https://meetings.openbriefing.com/AVJScheme25>. Capitalised terms used, but not defined, in this notice have the meanings given to them in the Scheme Booklet, of which this notice forms a part.

Purpose of the Scheme Meeting

The purpose of the Scheme Meeting to be held pursuant to this notice is to consider, and if thought fit, to agree (with or without modification) to a scheme of arrangement proposed to be made between AVJennings and AVJennings Shareholders (Scheme Resolution).

A copy of the Scheme and a copy of the explanatory statement (required by section 412 of the Corporations Act in relation to the Scheme) are contained in this Scheme Booklet, of which this notice forms part.

Business

Resolutions of holders of AVJennings Shares

Resolution – Scheme Resolution

To consider and, if thought fit, to pass the following resolution in accordance with section 411(4)(a)(ii) of the Corporations Act:

That pursuant to, and in accordance with, section 411 of the Corporations Act, the Scheme, the terms of which are contained in and more particularly described in the Scheme Booklet (of which this Notice of Scheme Meeting forms part) is approved (with or without alterations and/or conditions as approved by the Court and agreed to by AVJennings Limited).

AVJennings Board Recommendation

For the reasons set out in the Scheme Booklet, the AVJennings Board unanimously recommends that eligible AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme Resolution in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of the AVJennings Shareholders.

SC Global Voting Intention

The largest shareholder in AVJennings, SC Global, who through its wholly owned Subsidiaries holds and controls shares in AVJennings representing approximately 54.02% of the issued share capital, has confirmed that it intends to vote all AVJennings Shares it holds and controls as at the date of the Scheme Meeting in favour of the Scheme Resolution.

Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting

E Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting

AVJennings (ABN 44 004 327 771)

Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting

Notice is given that an Extraordinary General Meeting of AVJennings Limited (ASX: AVJ) (AVJennings) will be held on Friday, 11 July 2025, as soon as practicable following the conclusion of the Scheme Meeting at The Hyde Park Room, Sheraton Grand Sydney Hyde Park, 161 Elizabeth Street, Sydney 2000 and through an online platform at <https://meetings.openbriefing.com/AVJEGM25>. Capitalised terms used, but not defined, in this notice have the meanings given to them in the Scheme Booklet, of which this notice forms a part.

Purpose of the Extraordinary General Meeting

As set out in the Scheme Booklet, AVJennings proposes to hold an Extraordinary General Meeting to vote on the Share Issue Resolution to approve, by way of an ordinary resolution, the issuance of new AVJennings Shares to Mr Philip Kearns AM in connection with the acceleration of his entitlement to Performance Rights in connection with the Scheme for nil cash consideration.

Approval is required for Mr Kearns as he is a related party of AVJennings as a result of his role as a director of AVJennings.

This resolution is required as AVJennings, in the usual course, has satisfied the vesting of Performance Rights by way of purchase of AVJennings Shares on market and therefore has not sought AVJennings Shareholder approval to each issuance.

However, as the AVJennings Board has determined to accelerate and vest, in aggregate, 93.9% of the Performance Rights the AVJennings Board has also determined to issue new AVJennings Shares to avoid potential liquidity concerns.

Subject to receipt of approval of the Share Issue Resolution and the Scheme becoming Effective, AVJennings intends to issue the AVJennings Shares in the period after the Scheme Effective Date and before the Scheme Record Date.

A copy of the explanatory statement in relation to the Share Issue Resolution and the proposed Scheme are contained in this Scheme Booklet, of which this notice forms part.

Additional information about the Extraordinary General Meeting is set out in the explanatory notes for the notices of meeting that accompany and form part of this notice.

Business

Resolutions of holders of AVJennings Shares

Resolution – Share Issue Resolution

To consider and if thought fit, to pass the following resolution as an ordinary resolution:

To approve for all purposes, including ASX Listing Rule 10.11, the issue to Philip Kearns of 3,285,750 AVJennings Shares as satisfaction for the accelerating, exercise and vesting of 3,285,750 Performance Rights on the terms set out in the Explanatory Memorandum to the Notice of Meeting.

AVJennings Board Recommendation

For the reasons set out in the Scheme Booklet, the AVJennings Board, other than Mr Philip Kearns AM who has recused himself, unanimously recommends that eligible AVJennings Shareholders vote in favour of the Share Issue Resolution.

For personal use only

Voting exclusion statement

AVJennings will disregard any votes cast on Resolution 1:

- in favour of the resolution by or on behalf of Philip Kearns AM or any of his associates, regardless of the capacity in which the vote is cast; or
- as a proxy by a person who is the holder of AVJennings Equity Incentives (as disclosed in section 9.11 of the Scheme Booklet), at the date of the EGM, or their closely related parties.

However, votes will not be disregarded if they are cast on Resolution 1 by:

- a person as proxy or attorney for a shareholder entitled to vote on Resolution 1, in accordance with a direction given to the proxy or attorney to vote on Resolution 1 in that way; or
- the Chair of the Meeting as proxy for a shareholder entitled to vote on Resolution 1 under an express authorisation in the proxy appointment to exercise the proxy as the Chair of the Meeting decides, even though Resolution 1 is connected with the total remuneration of a member of the AVJennings' KMP; or
- a holder acting solely in a nominee, trustee, custodial or other fiduciary capacity on behalf of a beneficiary provided the following conditions are met:
 - the beneficiary provides written confirmation to the holder that the beneficiary is not excluded from voting, and is not an associate of a person excluded from voting, on Resolution 1; and
 - the holder votes on Resolution 1 in accordance with directions given by the beneficiary to the holder to vote in that way.

By Order of the Board

Carl Thompson
Company Secretary, AVJennings Limited

HOW TO COMPLETE THIS SHAREHOLDER VOTING/PROXY FORM

YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS

This is your name and address as it appears on the Company's share register. If this information is incorrect, please make the correction on the form. Shareholders sponsored by a broker should advise their broker of any changes. Please note: you cannot change ownership of your shares using this form.

VOTING UNDER BOX A

If you ticked the box under Box A you are indicating that you wish to vote directly. Please only mark either "for" or "against" for the item.

If no direction is given on the item, or if you complete both Box A and Box B, your vote may be passed to the Chairman of the Meeting as your proxy.

Custodians and nominees may, with the Share Registrar's consent, identify on the Voting/Proxy Form the total number of votes in each of the categories "for" and "against" and their votes will be valid.

If you have lodged a direct vote, and then you attend the Meeting, your attendance will cancel your direct vote.

The Chairman's decision as to whether a direct vote is valid is conclusive.

VOTING UNDER BOX B – APPOINTMENT OF PROXY

If you wish to appoint the Chairman of the Meeting as your proxy, mark the box in Step 1. If you wish to appoint someone other than the Chairman of the Meeting as your proxy, please write the name and email of that individual or body corporate in Step 1. A proxy need not be a shareholder of the Company.

DEFAULT TO CHAIRMAN OF THE MEETING

Any directed proxies that are not voted on a poll at the Meeting will default to the Chairman of the Meeting, who is required to vote those proxies as directed. Any undirected proxies that default to the Chairman of the Meeting will be voted according to the instructions set out in this Proxy Form, including where the Resolution is connected directly or indirectly with the remuneration of KMP.

VOTES ON ITEMS OF BUSINESS – PROXY APPOINTMENT

You may direct your proxy how to vote by placing a mark in one of the boxes opposite the item of business. All your shares will be voted in accordance with such a direction unless you indicate only a portion of voting rights are to be voted on any item by inserting the percentage or number of shares you wish to vote in the appropriate box or boxes. If you do not mark any of the boxes on the item of business, your proxy may vote as he or she chooses. If you mark more than one box on the item your vote on that item will be invalid.

APPOINTMENT OF A SECOND PROXY

You are entitled to appoint up to two persons as proxies to attend the Meeting and vote on a poll. If you wish to appoint a second proxy, an additional Voting/Proxy Form may be obtained by telephoning the Company's share registry or you may copy this form and return them both together.

To appoint a second proxy you must:

- on each of the first Voting/Proxy Form and the second Voting/Proxy Form state the percentage of your voting rights or number of shares applicable to that form. If the appointments do not specify the percentage or number of votes that each proxy may exercise, each proxy may exercise half your votes. Fractions of votes will be disregarded; and
- return both forms together.
