SunRice launches new contract offer to Riverina Growers

Ricegrowers Limited (ABN 55 007 481 156) (ASX: SGLLV) (SunRice) will today announce a new contract offer for crop year 2026 (CY26) to its Riverina growers, designed to help secure Riverina rice production in the context of current water allocations and seasonal conditions.

The new CY26 contract offer for growers includes a new fixed price contract of $500 per paddy tonne, conditional on meeting a prescribed quality score, and replaces the fixed price contract and pool system previously communicated to growers for the upcoming season.

SunRice will continue to monitor the weather conditions and crop size leading into the upcoming season.

Authorised by Kate Cooper, Group General Counsel and Company Secretary.

About SunRice's structure

The structure of SunRice contains non-standard elements including its dual class share structure comprising A Class Shares and B Class Shares.

A Class Shares confer on their holders the right to vote at general meetings but no right to dividends. A Class Shares are not quoted on ASX and may only be held by rice growers who meet the production quotas prescribed by the SunRice constitution. No person may hold more than 5 A Class Shares. In practical terms the voting rights held by A Class Shareholders give those shareholders the right to control the election of directors and any changes to SunRice's constitution.

B Class Shares are quoted on ASX and confer on their holders the right to receive dividends, as determined by the directors from time to time. Holders of B Class Shares do not generally have the right to vote at general meetings of SunRice. This means B Class Shareholders have no right to vote on the election of directors of SunRice. No person may hold more than 10% of the total number of B Class Shares on issue.
