31 October 2025 ASX/Media Release (ASX: KNM)

Quarterly Activities Report & Appendix 4C

KNeoMedia Limited ("KneoMedia", "KNM" or the "Company"), a SaaS and CSP publishing company delivering world-class education and assessment products, provides this update on activities and performance for the quarter ended 30 September 2025. All figures are in AUD unless stated otherwise.

Corporate Update

Progress Toward ASX Reinstatement:
As previously advised in the Company's recent Annual Report, since the Company's shares were suspended from trading on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) on 7 March 2024 the Board has been fully focused on achieving the resumption of trading of KNM shares on the ASX and has been in consultation with ASX regarding this process. The Company has taken, and continues to take, a range of initiatives to address funding requirements and lift the suspension of trading of its shares, including capital raising by share placement and a shareholder entitlement issue, partially sub-underwritten by Directors. Repayment terms of existing convertible notes and loan borrowings were re-negotiated to assist with cash flow management, including the maturity date of those borrowings. Director's and senior management's emoluments have been substantially reduced, deferred and in part, proposed to be converted to equity in converted to equity at the forthcoming Annual general Meeting.

Overall to further assist with improved cash flow the cost of operating activities has also been substantially reduced.

The Company's strategy has been to ensure the best use of available resources in the United States to focus on increased revenue and leverage its partner resources to develop further EdTech products that also deliver resilient recurring revenue. This has been achieved with the development and deployment of the KneoScience CSP with initial order received of USD450,000 (~AUD700,000) at the commencement of the FY 2026 school year in September with payment of this receivable in progress. More sales are anticipated to follow based on the FY 2025 multi-district adoption and the data exhibiting superior science proficiency grades of schools deploying KneoScience. The deployment of KneoScience in FY 2025 did establish a new revenue stream that the Company anticipates it can grow based on the scalability and uniqueness of its new product offering to achieve greater scale in New York, broaden its presence in New York State, and continue the roll-out across the United States into other States and Cities. We are confident that the sales momentum will continue to gather pace with KneoScience CSP.

With the collection of substantial receivables and the securing of the future revenue stream, the Company will attain a sustainable working capital position. The expected finalisation of key contracts is anticipated to further strengthen the Company's financial position and support the lifting of the ASX suspension.
The Directors reaffirm the Going Concern Statement as outlined in the FY2025 Annual Report, with core assumptions either already achieved or progressing in line with expectations.

Operational and Review Update

With the development of the KneoScience CSP well advanced the Company is able to continue the reduction of its ongoing investment on Intellectual Property to $200,000 (June Quarter $232,000 and March quarter $351,000) primarily on the increased functionality of the KneoScience CSP. Part of the development cost was related to the inclusion of the mandated 9 language translations to cater for the wide range of New York City student nationalities and the now requested mandated high school science investigations. The initial Science Investigations included grades 3-8 in Elementary and Middle Schools. At the request of the New York City Department of Education ("NYC DOE"), KNM has now added the Biology Investigations for High School students to its Content Services Platform and envisages deployment to students in February 2025. This is a most significant development and reinforces the unique value the DOE attributes to the KneoScience platform. The inclusion of 530 High Schools increases the potential student deployment by 300,000 students and potential for additional substantial revenue. While the Company has made the necessary investment in this additional content, it will secure contractional arrangements before meeting deployment requests.

Since announcing the Company's original development investment in KneoScience, in October 2024, educators have now had the opportunity use the platform extensively, particularly during the last few months of the FY 2025 academic year which ended June 2025.

Educators consistently report that KneoScience increases student engagement while significantly reducing preparation and grading time.

As previously advised, KneoScience is a secure content Services Platform not available for public viewing and therefore some key features are outlined for better shareholder understanding of its unique benefits:

Developed in partnership with the NYC DOE, KneoScience digitizes the NYSED-mandated Science Investigations for Grades 3–8. Built collaboratively with divisions across NYC DOE and NYSED KneoScience replaces outdated paper processes with a modern, efficient, and inclusive digital platform.
