Strategic update

Board and Management focused on strategic initiatives to close the discount to Net Asset Value (“NAV”)

  - SYD1 existing capacity is now 100% contracted and broad-based demand has materially exceeded IPO expectations and validated the asset’s strategic value
  - The 88MW Project is expected to deliver a 15% yield on cost and ~$1.50 of additional NAV per security<sup>2</sup>
  - As a result, the 88MW Project has been accelerated and will now be delivered in progressive stages over the next three years
- Aligning funding strategy
  - Existing liquidity to be primarily focused on delivering the 88MW project given the highly accretive return profile
  - Engagement with potential Australian capital partners progressing in lead up to appointing head contractor on the 88MW project and will opportunistically look to partner and recycle capital from

US assets into higher returning projects. Any capital partnering or recycling to be conducted at compelling value for securityholders while maintaining a sustainable level of gearing

Chief Executive Officer, Michael Juniper said, “DGT enters the second half of FY26 with strong momentum and a clear path to unlocking long term value. In the past six months, we have demonstrated the strength of our underlying platform, secured substantial new capacity, executed meaningful steps to simplify our operating model and materially accelerated our capacity expansion at SYD1.

Every action we’re taking is about closing the gap between DGT’s NAV and security price to ensure our market valuation reflects the underlying value of our assets and growing earnings base. We are focused on delivering sustainable, high quality growth for our investors”.
