

Oneview Healthcare launches new revenue channel with Bedside Hub to power Epic MyChart
Bedside TV with a fully managed bedside experience

15 May 2026 – Melbourne, Australia – Oneview Healthcare PLC (ASX:ONE) (Oneview or the Company), a global healthcare technology company, is pleased to announce it has launched a new revenue channel, Bedside Hub, designed to host Epic MyChart Bedside TV on healthcare-grade hardware with cloud-based device management. Built on Oneview’s connected care platform, Bedside Hub was today certified by Epic. The new solution delivers a unified, intuitive bedside experience while reducing IT overhead and operational complexity for Epic-centric health systems.

The new Bedside Hub product offering compliments Oneview’s existing Care Experience Platform which is currently deployed globally and will target customers who are seeking a more focused product offering. This solution meets the ever-changing needs and budgets of cost-conscious customers in the United States, who are looking to further leverage the significant investments they have already made in their clinical ecosystem with Epic.

For hospital teams, the solution streamlines deployment and ongoing operations through remote device provisioning, over-the-air updates, automated patient data clearing, and proactive device health monitoring at scale.

“As we already work with Epic-first hospitals, this solution is a natural extension of our proven capabilities and fills the gaps around hardware, device management, and content services of Epic MyChart Bedside TV,” said Aaron Box, VP Strategy and Innovation Officer at Oneview Healthcare. “Bedside Hub enables Epic MyChart Bedside TV to be deployed quickly and reliably by experienced teams and supported at scale.”

James Fitter, Oneview CEO added “We are already in contract negotiations on an 1,100-bed opportunity and have an active pipeline of other opportunities based on pre-certification inquiries. We see this as a natural extension of our core platform and an important new revenue channel for the Company.”
