

22 June 2026

ASX Release

BIOSECURITY UPDATE

Inghams Group Limited (ASX: ING) (Inghams, Company) notes media reports relating to the detection of the avian influenza virus in Australia.

Australian authorities have confirmed the detection of the H5N1 avian influenza strain in two wild birds found in the Esperance region of Western Australia (WA).

The Company's chicken breeder farms and grower network are located primarily in the Muchea, Gingin and Mogumber regions, north of Perth, which are approximately 690 – 770 kilometres from Esperance.

There has been no detection in commercial poultry, which includes Ingham's operations and its supply chain.

As a precaution, Inghams has moved to a state of heightened biosecurity vigilance to mitigate against any potential risks. This includes the implementation of a complete lock-down, preventing all non-essential access, across all the Company's WA farms and processing operations. These measures are in addition to the already strict standard protocols observed at all times across Inghams' operations. The Company continues to supply the Australian market as usual.

A regional housing order to allow WA free range poultry to be kept indoors is being sought from the Australian Government's Chief Veterinary Officer. Should this be enacted, an exemption order from the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission is in place to protect the continuation of free-range product supply and labelling.

The Company is working closely with the relevant authorities and is receiving updated information as it becomes available, which will continue to inform its response and future actions taken.

- ENDS -

This announcement has been authorised by the Board of Inghams Group Limited.

Marta Kielich
Company Secretary

Investor & Media Enquiries

Brett Ward
brward@ingham.com.au
+61 437 994 451

Inghams Group Limited
ACN 162 709 506
Suite G.01, Building D, Talavera Corporate Centre
12-24 Talavera Road, Macquarie Park, Australia
Locked Bag 2039, North Ryde NSW 1670, Australia
www.ingham.com.au

For personal use only